Pistol Shots Feature Man Hunt In Middle Of Weston

William Waldron Is Not A Candidate For Moderator

WAYLAND -- William A. Waldron, retiring member of the School Committee, who has been talked about by a number of persons as a possible candidate for Town Moderator at the next election, says he has thought it over and decided not to run. His reason:
"Each of the announced candidates is well qualified and would, I am sure, conduct the meetings conscientiously; each has lived in Wayland longer than I, has served the Town faithfully and desires the office; and each is a friend of mine. In these circumstances, though I am honored by and grateful for the sentiments of those who have suggested that I enter the contest, I can see no worthy reason for me to do so."

WESTON -- A Wild West episode, involving pistol shots, a chase and some dangerous possibilities, occurred right in the middle of the street in Weston Center early on the evening of Dec. 20.

As Chief Frank O. Shaw tells the story, a local 15-year-old girl had been receiving telephone calls, over a period of a week or so, from a "woman". The woman wanted the girl to go out with a man. The story was the man wanted to engage the girl as a model.

"Don't tell your parents," said the voice.

But she did. The parents didn't like it a bit. They went to see Chief Shaw, and as a result a trap was set.

Three State police officers and a State police woman were called on for help, besides five Weston officers.

The girl made a date to meet the man in front of the Village Bookstore. Officers were stationed at both ends of the business section, in the drugstore, in the fire station, (Please turn to Page 8)

Mystery--Witnesses In Accident Case Wanted

Attention is called to the advertisement on Page 3 of this week's Crier. It bears upon a mystery.

As the ad relates, Mrs. Barbara Leach Simpson, daughter of W. Barton Leach of Meadowbrook Road, Weston, was driving eastward on Old Connecticut Path, Wayland, not far from Red Coach Grill, at 9:15 p.m. Dec. 21, alone in a Volkswagen, when she had an accident.

The front of the vehicle hit a big elm on the left, or north side, of the road. But the damage to the front was not nearly as severe as the damage to the rear. The engine, in the rear, was knocked forward, off its mounting.

Mrs. Simpson, badly injured, can't remember what happened. Her father, sure that the accident didn't happen without cause, would like to hear from anybody, at or near the scene at the time, who may be able to shed any light on it.

Skating For Weston Public At The Country Club Pond

WESTON -- For the first time, the skating pond of the Weston Country Club, near the Meadowbrook School, will be open for use by all residents of the town this year, on an experimental basis.

The charge will be 50 cents a day for those under 21 and $1 a day for adults. Bills will be sent at the end of the month and the skating privilege will be withdrawn unless the bills are paid.

Special groups, which must number at least 20 persons, wishing to schedule skating parties, may call Mr. Brainerd, club manager.

The pond covers an area equivalent to that of three full sized hockey rinks. Skaters going to the pond should report to attendants who will be on hand, it is said.

The pond will be sprayed and scraped regularly by Phil Cassidy and the Weston Country Club crew, it is announced, and added supervision will be provided to make evening skating safer. The pond is said to be not deep, anyway.

WAYLAND -- David C. Stewart of Rice Spring Lane, Co-chairman of this year's March of Dimes Campaign for Middlesex County, heads the firm of David C. Stewart Associates, Consultants in Industrial Engineering and Construction Planning. Mrs. Stewart is Mother's March Chairman for the Wayland March of Dimes. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart have four girls; Carol, 9; Susan, 6; Nancy, 4; Joan 2, and one boy, David, 3 months.

Mr. Stewart and the associate chairman, Dean Powers of Concord, have been holding meetings in all parts of Middlesex County preparatory to the January campaign.

"During the last 21 years," says Mr. Stewart, "The March of Dimes has raised $300 million to aid over 300,000 polio victims. As much as $40,000 has been spent for the care of victims."

"The March of Dimes has spent $30 million to develop the Salk vaccine and make other discoveries. Another $30 million has been spent to train nurses, medical social workers, physical therapists, and occupational therapists."

"In Middlesex County in recent years, the National Foundation has

The Hymn Manuscript Is Now In Weston Bank Vault

WAYLAND -- The manuscript copy of the Christmas hymn, "It Came Upon The Midnight Clear", recently discovered, has been placed for safe keeping in the vault of the Newton-Waltham bank in Weston, says Mrs. Mabel S. Draper, Wayland Historical Society curator.

The problem was what to do with it. A safe deposit box big enough to hold it without folding would have been pretty expensive, so Mr. Richard F. Lincoln of the Society, manager of the bank in Weston, agreed to keep it in the vault there until further notice.

Two photostats were made and one, framed, has been hung in the assembly room at the Heard House.

Has Role Of "Amahl"

Peter

COCHITUATE -- Peter Neuendorfer, 12 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Neuendorfer of 10 Holbrook Road, had the role of "Amahl" in "Amahl and the Night Visitors", presented at the First Parish Church in Waltham on Dec. 28 under the sponsorship of the First Parish Choristers. Peter is in the 7th grade at Wayland Junior High School.

Weston Civil Defense Will Take An Experience Census

WESTON -- In connection with the annual Weston resident listing to be made during January, 1959, Weston Civil Defense will conduct what it calls an Experience Census. So far as is known, this is the first time that such a census has been attempted in this area. Each adult and each minor over the age of 15 years will be asked to fill out a sheet listing all sorts of practical experience.

Using the information obtained in the Census, a card index will be prepared from which it will be possible to locate and contact the individuals capable of helping meet the problems of any given emergency. For example, should Weston suffer great damage to its roads from a hurricane - beyond the normal resources of the Town to meet the Census and index will make it possible to locate persons to help who have had some experience with road clearing equipment.

Four census forms are being mailed this week to each household in Weston. The police officers who take the annual resident listing will pick up the census forms when they visit each house in the Town. It will help the police officer and save money for the Town, if the census forms are filled out and ready to be handed to the officer when he calls.

Mr. Hoblitzell is an associate manager with the Juvenile Stores of America,

Morgan Memorial Appeal

To the Editor:

Morgan Memorial faces a crucial problem this time of year and we humbly seek your cooperation.

Our problem is this: It takes 900 Goodwill Bags filled with clothing and other articles each day to keep 325 handicapped employees fully employed. January and February are always critical months because normally folks do not house-clean and contributions of useable discarded material drops off about 50 percent.

If we are to keep all of our 325 handicapped people employed, we must try harder to keep up the flow of useable discards.

Right after the holidays, we hope people will please make a special effort to gather up materials they will no longer use and call Morgan Memorial, Hubbard 2-1894, or drop us a post card.

Thank you for your assistance.

Sincerely,
Howard A. Patterson
Public Relations Director.

Happy New Year

1959 Will Resemble 1958, Says Crystal Ball Gazer

Adults At Cocktail Parties

Will Go "Tsk!" About

Adolescents Who Sip Beer

At the New Year, naturally, everybody in his right mind wants to make a few predictions, always supposing the bomb doesn't land, and here are some guesses as to what 1959 will be like around here:

The League of Women Voters will hold a good many coffee hours considering what we should do to be saved and we won't be saved, but it won't be the League's fault. Not many organizations will be even trying.

Come April, a woman will be seen with spade in hand, digging in real dirt, and she will be blackballed by the Dibble Garden Club.

Weston will vote to build a new high school to eclipse Wayland's, and from both towns a good many kids will be sent to private preparatory schools.

Observant persons will note that the dinner hour on Sunday is a good time to go to the dump. Nobody around then to see what's taken away.

Men left alone in houses in the evening while their wives are out running the government will get scared by strange noises. Things were different when man was boss and it was a word and a blow. . .

Building permits will be numerous. More people will be building $8,000 houses for $44,000. . .

The high school baseball teams will play before crowds of 25.

Scores of local residents will be transferred to Ashtabula, Sapulpa and San Diego, cursing the home office and trying to sell the local home at a $10,000 profit.

Taxes will go up. In no case will taxes amount to as much as taxpayers spend for tobacco, alcohol, gasoline and travel.

A new crop of juvenile hellions will appear and their names and offenses will be known to all concerned in about 24 hours. It's pretty hard to keep secrets around here. Think the police and the other kids don't know?

Meanwhile, the better juvenile element will be producing boys and girls rotten with genius, so smart their teachers turn pale.

Trucks loaded with gravel will pound over the local roads, coming from nobody knows where and going to the Lord only knows where, spilling rocks and gravel all over the streets. The only mineral abundant around here is gravel. Why couldn't it have been gold or oil?

Adults will get loaded at cocktail parties, boast about their own children and discuss those other juveniles who are said to be occasional beer drinkers.

Cobwebs will grow over the door of the Wayland police station.

Quite a few young people will make what their parents consider ill advised marriages. Chances are they'll be happy, nevertheless. Whose marriage is it, anyway?

Compulsory automobile insurance will take a horrible bite out of the family income. Isn't there a William Tell or a Nathan Hale in the house?

Neither Wayland nor Weston will vote for a Democratic Senator. No election.

Many new residents will move in. At first they'll be suspicious of older inhabitants and of municipal government. Before they know it they'll be on civic committees and doing their share of the dirty work. Why should they be excused, just because they're carpet baggers? Let them get elected to office and find out what the natives have been putting up with. There's no Egyptian dynasty around here.

Some few, let us hope, with our hands folded and our eyeballs rolled upward, will change their ways and, in 1959, walk with the angels, as indeed we all should and as we hope particularly that others will. --- D.B.W.

First Organ Recital In St. Peter's New Church

WESTON -- Announcement has been made in Weston that the first public recital on the new organ in St. Peter's Church is to be given by Virgil Fox, on Monday, Jan. 12, at 8:30 p.m.

Mr. Fox, organist of Riverside Church, in New York City, said to be the most outstanding organist in the United States. It is expected that large numbers of people will want to attend this recital. The church's first concern, however, is to ensure seating for its parishioners. With this in mind, special tickets have been printed for use of the parish, and will be distributed on request after each of the services this Sunday.

A further limited number of seats is available for friends of music, as well as for neighbors of the church in Weston and surrounding towns, and will be held at the church on Tuesday, Jan. 6. Persons wishing to obtain them on that day are asked to call between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Since admission to the church is at all times free, no charge will be made for tickets to this recital. It is hoped, however, that those who enjoy the event may at some later time feel able to contribute to the church's Music Fund, and thus help provide for music in the future on this great new organ.

On The Use Of Drink

WESTON -- Rev. John C. Ford, S.J., professor of moral and pastoral theology at Weston College, says in a recent article on the use of alcohol:

"It is a fallacy to think that there is any necessity of learning to drink at all. It is entirely in the luxury class. Nobody needs to learn in order to be successful and happy in this life, or prepared for the next."

AUTO ACCIDENT

ON OLD CONNECTICUT PATH

WAYLAND

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 21, 9:15 P.M.

This is an appeal for information.

My daughter,

Mrs. Barbara Leach Simpson

was seriously injured when her Volkswagen was wrecked about 9:15 p.m. on the Sunday before Christmas. She was driving alone toward Weston on Old Connecticut Path. The accident happened about 200 yards before reaching Red Coach Grill, in front of the big white house owned by the Cincottas.

Barbara and her two little boys live with my wife and me on Meadowbrook Road, Weston. She has a fractured skull and probably will have no memory of the event. (For Barbara's friends: she appears to be out of danger at Leonard Morse Hospital, Natick, but cannot have visitors for some time.)

We badly need help in finding out what happened. If you were at the scene of the accident at the time, or arrived shortly afterwards -- or if you have heard of anyone else who was there -- please let us know. Any scrap of information will help.

Our phone is TWinbrook 4-0030. My business phone is UNiversity 8-7600, extension 365; if I am out, talk to my secretary.

The bride's dress was a ballerina taffeta, with a short veil of taffeta and white pearls, and she carried chrysanthemums and carnations. Her attendant was her sister, Miss Ann Baxter, who wore a mist blue brocade dress, ballerina style, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and roses.

Disabled Vets' Notice

Approximately 23,000 disabled veterans and widow of veterans in Massachusetts who receive monthly pension payments are being reminded by the Veterans Administration to report their annual income promptly and thus avoid the risk of having their payments stopped.

William J. Blake, manager of the VA regional office at Boston, says that VA is now mailing to all pension recipients a tabulating card upon which the income report may be made. Pensions cease if the income of a single individual exceeds $1400, or $2700 if the recipient has dependents. Regulations require payment to be stopped if the income report is not received within 30 days.

He warned that the tabulating card will be processed mechanically when it is returned and that cutting, folding or otherwise mutilating it will delay the recording of the information and risk a cutoff in payments.

No income questionnaire is sent to veterans or dependents receiving service-connection compensation.

2.1 The owner or occupant of every dwelling, dwelling unit and lodging unit, or the person in charge or its authorized agent, shall give access to such dwelling or dwelling unit, at all reasonable times for the purpose of inspection, examination or survey.

2.2 Every occupant of a dwelling or dwelling unit shall give the owner, or his agent or employee, access to any part of such dwelling, or dwelling unit at all reasonable times for the purpose of making such repairs or alterations as are necessary to effect compliance with the provisions of these minimum standards or with an order issued pursuant to the provisions of these minimum standards.

SECTION 3. PLUMBING

No privy shall be located less than twenty (20) feet from any building used for sleeping or eating, or from any lot line or street. No privy shall be a source of pollution of any water supply or stream.

3.8 Where connection to a public sewer is not practicable, a dwelling shall be served by cesspools, septic tanks or other means of subsurface disposal of sewage, which shall be approved by the board of health and maintained by the owner to the satisfaction of the board of health.

3.9 All plumbing shall be properly installed and maintained in good sanitary working condition, free from defects, leaks and obstruction.

3.10 Every sink, tub, shower, toilet, or other plumbing fixture in a building used for habitation shall be provided with a proper and unobstructed drain which discharges into a sewerage system outside the building, and said fixtures and drains shall be maintained by the owner in a sanitary working condition at all times.

Whenever walls or other portions of structures face a window of any such room and such light-obstruction structures are located less than 3 feet from the window and extend to a level above that of the ceiling of the room, such a window shall not be deemed to face directly to the outdoors and shall not be included as contributing to the required minimum total window area.

5.2 Every habitable room shall have at least one window or skylight which can be easily opened. The total openable window area in every habitable room shall be equal to at least 45 per cent of the minimum window area or minimum skylight area, as required in Subsection 5.1 of Section 5 of these minimum standards, except where there is supplied some other device affording adequate ventilation and approved by the board of health.

5.3 Every bathroom and water closet compartment shall be well lighted and ventilated. 5.4 Where there is electric service available from power lines which are not more than 300 feet away from a dwelling, every habitable room shall contain at least two separate wall type electric convenience outlets, or one such convenience outlet and one ceiling or wall type electric light fixture. 6.2 Every inside and outside stair, every porch and every appurtenance thereto shall be so constructed as to be safe to use and capable of supporting the load that normal use may cause to be placed thereon; and shall be kept in sound condition and good repair. Every stairway having three or more steps shall be properly bannistered and safely balustraded.

6.3 Railings or parapets shall be provided around porches that are higher than thirty inches above ground level, balconies, roofs used for egress or tenancy purposes and/or similar places. Such protective railings or parapets shall be properly balustraded and be not less than three feet in height.

6.4 Every roof, wall, window, exterior door and hatchway shall be free from holes or leaks that would permit the entrance of water within a dwelling and be a cause of dampness.

6.5 Every foundation, floor and wall shall be free from chronic dampness.

6.6 Every dwelling shall be free from rodents or vermin. Rodent proofing and vermin proofing may be required by the board of health. Rodent and vermin extermination shall be carried out in accordance with Subsection 8.9 of Section 8 of these minimum standards.

6.7 Every dwelling shall be clean and free from garbage or rubbish. When a dwelling or dwelling unit is not reasonably clean or free from garbage or rubbish, the board of health may cause the responsible person in accordance with the provisions of Subsections 8.3 through 8.9 inclusive of Section 8 of these minimum standards to put the dwelling or dwelling unit in a cleanly condition.

6.8 When a wall or ceiling within a dwelling has deteriorated so as to provide a harborage for rodents or vermin, or such wall or ceiling has become seriously stained or soiled, the board of health may order the owner to clean, repair, paint, white-wash or paper such walls or ceilings. Nothing in this standard shall be so construed as to place upon the non-resident owner responsibilities for cleanliness contained in Subsection 8.5 of these minimum standards.

6.9 Every water closet compartment floor and bathroom floor shall be constructed and maintained so as to be reasonably impervious to water and so as to permit such floor to be kept in a clean and sanitary condition.

SECTION 7. SPACE, USE AND OCCUPANCY

7.2 In every dwelling unit of two or more rooms, every room occupied for sleeping purposes by one occupant shall contain at least 70 square feet of floor space, and every room occupied for sleeping purposes by more than one occupant shall contain at least 50 square feet of floor space for each occupant thereof. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in every lodging unit every room occupied for sleeping purposes by one occupant shall contain at least 80 square feet of floor space, and every room occupied for sleeping purposes by more than one occupant shall contain at least 60 square feet of floor space for each occupant thereof.

7.3 At least one-half of the floor area of every habitable room shall have a ceiling height of at least 7 feet; and the floor area of that part of any room where the ceiling height is less than 5 feet shall not be considered as part of the floor area in computing the total floor area of the room for the purpose of determining the maximum permissible occupancy thereof.

7.4 No room in a dwelling may be used for sleeping if the floor level of the room is lower than three and one-half feet below the average grade of the ground adjacent to and within 15 feet of the exterior walls of the room.

7.5 A room located below the level of the ground but with the floor level less than three and one-half feet below the average grade of the ground adjacent to and within 15 feet of the exterior walls of the room may be used for sleeping upon the written permission of the board of health and provided that the walls and floor thereof in contact with the earth have been damp-proofed in accordance with a method approved by the board of health; and provided that the windows thereof are at least 15 feet from the nearest building or wall.

Mr. Larsen Wins $100 Award For "Tenderizing" Cereal

WESTON -- Mr. Robert F. Larsen of 47 Fairview Road, with Arthur D. Little, Inc., of Cambridge, has received a $100 award for patenting a method of treating hot wheat cereals so that they can be cooked in 30 seconds instead of half an hour.

In this process, says Mr. Larsen, the cereal is treated with "proteolytic enzymes", which changes its character, although not its taste or qualities. The process may be roughly compared, he says, with the tenderizing of meat.

The girl started walking towards the bookstall from the drugstore.

When she reached the store, the man appeared in an automobile, headed towards Wayland. In front of the bookstall he made a U turn, opened the door and called to the girl.

She started into the street. Before she reached the car, however, a State police officer stepped to the open door, aimed a gun at the suspect and said:

"I'm a State police officer. Stay where you are."

The man didn't stay. He slammed the car door and took off.

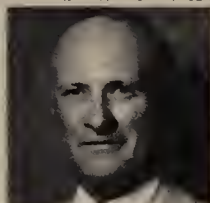

The officer fired two shots in the air. Police cars from all over the area started after the man, nearly getting run into. As he flew past the drugstore the fellow turned his lights off.

He took the left turn, opposite the Library, into Church Street. But he didn't know the road. At Weston railroad station he drove down into the station yard, a dead end, and he drove 600 feet down the railroad tracks before he finally gave up.

He turned out to be a 29-year-old salesman from Lexington, married and father of four children. And there wasn't any woman on the telephone. It was the man, who showed a remarkable ability to disguise his voice.

He was charged with failing to stop for an officer, driving to endanger and with a morals offense, and he was out on $2000 bail last week.

All Conservationists Are Invited To Hear Dr. Drury

Dr. William H. Drury Jr.

WESTON -- The Garden Interest Group of the Women's Community League of Weston will hold its meeting on Monday, Jan. 12, at 3 o'clock at The Country School Auditorium, when Dr. William H. Drury Jr., Director of Educational for the Massachusetts Audubon Society and Director of Drumlin Farm in South Lincoln, will speak on "Modern Problems in Conservation and Flood Control".

Dr. Drury grew up on the coast of Rhode Island, where his interest in natural history developed. As a student at St. George's School, he was sometimes excused from athletics because, instead, he took a seven-mile walk along the shore to look for birds. A year of study in England at Halesbury College expanded his interests.

After graduating from Harvard College, where he majored in biology, he served in the Navy for four years and then returned to Harvard for graduate studies in botany. He later became Assistant Professor of Biology and General Education at Harvard.

In the summer of 1954, as leader in the field for the expedition to Bylot Island in the Canadian Eastern Arctic, Dr. Drury and his wife had the unusual experience of living with an Eskimo family. In the summer of 1956, traveling with his family in Europe, he visited important ornithological field stations in England and on the Continent. In the spring of 1958 he carried on field studies in Finnish Lapland and attended the XIIth International Ornithological Congress in Helsinki.

The Garden Clubs of Waltham, Wayland and Sudbury as well as The Country Garden Club and the Weston Garden Club have been invited to attend this meeting. Also the League of Women Voters and the Weston Girl Scouts. In fact, anyone interested in conservation is invited to attend.

Mrs. Richard Albrecht and Mrs. Francis Dailey are chairmen for the day. Mrs. Dailey will introduce Dr. Drury.

Sparrow Hawk Perches On Town House Weather Vane

WESTON -- Several reports of hawks and owls have been received during the last week or two.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stimpson saw a Sparrow Hawk perched on the weather vane of the Weston Town House; Mrs. Charles Gorely watched a Red-shouldered Hawk sit quietly for 20 minutes on a tree in her yard; Mr. and Mrs. J. Ward Carter saw another Red-shoulder fly to the ground near their home to catch what was probably a mouse -- this bird's principal food; Miss Eva Warren and her niece saw a hawk perched on a tree behind the Weston Nursing Home (this could be the same bird seen by the Carters); and Mrs. Frank Lewis watched a Great Horned Owl carry off a gray squirrel from her feeding station in broad daylight.

A Hawk Owl, extremely rare in this State, has been seen by many people for over a month in our neighboring town of Concord. Mrs. Ruth P. Emery, Massachusetts Audubon Society, says there have been only four authentic records of this owl here in the twentieth century. All hawks and owls are now fully protected by law.

WESTON -- It was so cold here on Jan. 6 that a Siberian sled dog, owned by a local resident, went into the comparative warmth of the postoffice and refused to come out.

One Man's Suggestion

WAYLAND -- Norman E. Taylor, Executive Secretary of the town, ventures the personal suggestion that if the railroad should be required to end its freight business on the Central Massachusetts at the same time it ends its passenger service, it wouldn't be in any hurry to give up passenger service.

Vokes Players Try Out For March Production

WAYLAND -- The Vokes Players held try-outs for their winter play, "The Rainmaker," at the Vokes Theatre on Jan. 6. The play, to be directed by Mercedes Bassett of 647 Boston Post Road, Weston, calls for six men and a girl to dramatize the amusing situation of a drought-stricken Western family short on both rain and romance.

The forthcoming production is scheduled to be performed at the Vokes Theatre on March 13, 14, 20 and 21. The Play and Casting Committee, headed by Joyce Bertelsen, chairman, includes Warren Eriksen, Frank Hatch and Paul Moorhead, all of Wayland, and Carter Bottjer of Weston.

University Of Life Will Consider Modern Problems

WESTON -- "The Church Faces Current Issues" is the main theme of this year's University of Life, and its four simultaneous interest groups will explore many aspects of Christian life and its problems in the 20th century.

The meetings are scheduled for Jan. 18 and 25, Feb. 1 and 8 at the First Parish Unitarian Church. A buffet supper at 5 p.m. will precede the 5:50 to 6:55 p.m. hymn sing and chapel worship, with music by the combined choirs of the four participating churches and a chapel address of general appeal. From 7 to 8 p.m. the four special

2 Towns Plan Meetings To Protest Train Cuts

Officials of both Wayland and Weston are planning action in an effort to prevent total discontinuance of passenger service on the Central Massachusetts branch, which the Boston & Maine has asked for.

The line, originally from Boston to Northampton, was first opened back around 1885. A few now living in town can remember when the trains first ran over it. At one time there were 10 trains a day each way. The late Calvin Coolidge used to use the line, and at one time the Federal Express to New York ran over these rails.

Now the service is down to two trains a day each way, and the railroad has petitioned to be allowed to stop those.

The Wayland Selectmen, at their meeting on Jan. 5, voted to petition the Department of Public Utilities for an open hearing on the question, to be held in Wayland.

The Weston Selectmen have called a public meeting of Weston residents for Jan. 12 at 8 p.m., to see what action they want to take. Letters containing announcement of the meeting have gone out to all families in town.

Robert M. Morgan Wins "Man Of Year" Award

WAYLAND -- Robert M. Morgan of Sudbury Road, chairman of the Wayland Town Finance Committee, was named "Man of the Year" by members of the Parker Hill Commission at their meeting in Boston on Jan. 6. The award was given for his leadership in interesting private capital and the Urban Renewal Authority in the proposed $8 million apartment project for a sub-standard area of Parker Hill, Boston.

Mr. Morgan, who is chairman of the commission planning the construction of Boston's new City Hall in the proposed governmental center in the Scollay Square district, was also honored for his work in piloting this project.

WAYLAND -- John Quinn of Claypit Hill Road, who is not to be confused with his father of the same name, reports that he saw 10 evening grosbeaks in the back yard of his home on Jan. 4.

Cookies Were Delivered

WAYLAND -- From a Wayland cookie maker who'd rather not be named came a contribution, the other day, of eight handsomely made cookie clusters, each wrapped in a plastic cover, with a request that they be passed on to children.

A few days later, the cookies were accordingly distributed to a class of youngsters at the Parmenter Health Center. By good arithmetical fortune, there were just eight children in the group, so there was one cookie cluster apiece.

Car In The Water

WESTON -- A young man from Wellesley and a girl he was taking home to Lincoln had a narrow escape at 12:35 a.m. on Jan. 3 when the automobile in which they were riding went off Ash Street and into the reservoir. Both jumped from the car before it left the dry land.

Police Chief Frank O. Shaw says the automobile went right out into the water, floated long enough to turn around and than sank 10 feet to the bottom, its headlights still burning.

Lieut. Emmet MacLeod of the Fire Department went out in a boat and dropped a hook on the front bumper, after which Allan Wheeler's wrecker pulled the car out. At the scene with Chief Shaw were officers Robert Millen and Edward Barbetti.

15,000 People Around Here Support 2,000,000 Actors

And Squirrels
Outnumber Humans
By 20 Per Cent

A local resident stepped outside his house the other day and perceived, playing on the snow, five gray squirrels.

As there were only four human members of his household, he came immediately to the conclusion that around here the gray squirrels outnumber people by 20 per cent, and here is birdfood (the kind the squirrels live on) for thought.

Now the combined human population of two towns is around 15,000 and this makes the squirrel population 18,000. Some may doubt this figure, but not those who have watched the squirrels getting fat on sunflower seeds put out for chickadees.

Nor are gray squirrels the only animals around here. Every garden attracts at least two woodchucks, for a total of 10,000 woodchucks, because there must be at least 5000 gardens of various sizes.

There aren't so many racoons. Probably only one for each garbage pail. Say 5000.

The deer aren't numerous enough to matter. Say 40 in all. Probably there are no beaver and no buffalo.

Snakes in the grass don't count. Now the bird population is enormous. Allow 200 birds to each bird feeder and one bird feeder to each house and we get 1,000,000 birds in Winter. In Summer there are twice as many, and there's 2,000,000.

When it comes to insects, the imagination boggles. "Boggle" is a word meaning the mind reels, which in turn means one is dizzy, generally from some regrettable but understandable cause. And there wouldn't be so many insects if people would stop feeding the birds and the Audubon Society would stop putting out all that propaganda in favor of cracked corn.

What bird feeding does is to destroy the character of our feathered friends and turn them into moochers. They've all gone into the entertainment racket. They know they're being looked at, so they just pose all day long and never do any work. Cut off their free meals and maybe they'd go back on the job and eat a few weed seeds and noxious bugs.

Feeding birds only cuts down the farm surplus and puts chickadees into vaudeville.

Included in the list of wild creatures around here should be that mysterious beast which makes just one track across the snow. He's either on a pogo stick or he has only two legs, one mounted behind the other. He has a cloven hoof, enough to make some fear the worst.

Anyway, after every snowstorm this creature leaves the first track. Daniel Boone himself couldn't read his trail. It's the oddest thing in nature.

Well, besides all this wild life there are the domestic animals. There is one cat to vex each bird watcher, and there go 10,000 cats. Count one dog per household, at least, some with licenses, and there are 15,000 dogs. Puthorses, cows, sheep, goats, mules and hamsters altogether, and here are 500 more local residents.

These figures do not, of course, include mosquitoes, which have been reduced in number by control measures to one per resident, or only 15,000 a year.

Anyway, when we add this all up it does not spell "Mother", but a total of 2,073,554, creatures, surrounding a mere 15,000 human beings.

It's a wonder there's room for us to walk around, and after we get through feeding the animal kingdom it's a wonder we have enough moola left to pay the tax collector, who nevertheless will not take no for an answer.

The more houses get built, the more trees, shrubbery, hen pheasants, blue jays and starlings there are. All these birds and beasts are living off us, without thrift, trousers, responsibility or, in some cases, good habits.

Is this bad, or should everybody start raising his own sunflowers?

Famous actress Helen Hayes will head a list of stars of movies and television who have offered their services.

The Mother's March to collect funds for the National Foundation will be held in Wayland on Sunday, Jan. 25.

There is a major change in the March of Dimes this year. The scope has been greatly expanded to include arthritis, birth defects and virus diseases, in addition to polio. This expanded program will aid the 11 million Americans afflicted with rheumatic diseases, the 250,000 children born each year with birth defects and the millions who are stricken each year by the mysterious viruses.

Every woman interested in helping this great cause is urged to contact local chairman Mrs. David Stewart, ELMwood 8-2128, and make arrangements to attend the big rally in Boston on Jan. 11.

RACKET WARNING

Citizens of Metropolitan Boston as well as throughout the United States are receiving unordered merchandise through the mails. For example, a veritable deluge of unordered neckties has been flooding the community under the name of a certain blind man. In this and in other cases, shrewd promoters have engaged the services of blind and crippled persons to carry on an unordered merchandise scheme by featuring pictures and stories of the handicaps of those behind whose names they hide. Thus, many people who would not part with their money if they knew the truth are induced to spend money for merchandise of questionable value because of an indirect charity appeal. Many of those whose names are used because of their afflictions are themselves better off financially than the persons whose dollars are sought.

You are under no obligation either to pay for unordered merchandise or to return it even if return postage is enclosed. If you don't want the merchandise do not use it, but lay it away in a safe place for a reasonable time in case the shipper should send his agent for it. The best way to break up this annoying practice is to make it unprofitable by not patronizing it. — From the Boston Better Business Bureau.

Some Second Thoughts On Redistricting

Rep. DeNormandie Reports

While the Democratic victory in the state as a whole was overwhelming and the redistricting of both Senate and House seats appeared to be certain, it is interesting to note that sober second thoughts raise the question among Democrats, "Why disturb a situation that already gives us such strong control?"

On top of this obvious situation, redistricting will inevitably reduce the number of Boston's representatives in the House. How happy will the Boston men be at the prospect of being eliminated? How happy will Democratic legislators be who know their present districts well but may now be faced with getting acquainted with new areas and building up new organizations? This situation particularly applies to the House where the Democrats hold an edge of more than 40 votes and are in an extremely strong position.

The Senate presents a somewhat different problem. In the first place, a majority of four or five, while ample for most purposes, could be overturned by strong candidates or unusual conditions in a particular district. Secondly, there could in some districts, especially where the lines cut through the larger cities, be more homogeneous districts. This would then avoid the situation where, for instance, a city like Lowell is not directly represented in the Senate.

How this interesting situation develops will show clearly where power lies in the Democratic party. Will the strength of the Boston organization and its desire to maintain its own power prevent any change, or will the hungry politicians of the outlying areas be considered? No one can tell at this early date. If any redistricting of House seats takes place, the 10th Middlesex District will be certain to change.

For myself, I have naturally enjoyed the 10th Middlesex District as it is. I think of it as a true cross section of the Commonwealth, presenting within its bounds most of the problems that the state as a whole must face. Because of strong support by the District's voters, I have been able to call the shots as I saw them.

This is not easy for a Representative from a really close district where a few hundred votes may spell victory or defeat at the next election. So I take no credit in this regard, but rather am grateful that, even when we disagree, my reasons are listened to and fairly considered.

Whatever the future may hold both for the District and for me personally, I hope during the next two years to help present a constructive point of view as far as the Republican party in the House is concerned and to continue to point out the many shortcomings and failures in the Governor's activities.

WESTON -- Miss Jayne D. Floyd and Miss Nancy L. White, students in the physical education course at Bouve-Boston School, were at home for the Christmas vacation. Miss Floyd, a junior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Paul Floyd of 217 Newton Street, and Miss White, a sophomore, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. White of 211 Conant Road. This year Miss Floyd is president of the Physical Education Club, and Miss White is secretary-treasurer of the Athletic Association.

Women have had the vote since 1920.

 How prayer and watchfulness bring freshness and newness into human experience will be a topic presented at Christian Science services Sunday.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (4:17-22): "Simply asking that we may love God will never make us love Him; but the longing to be better and holier, expressed in daily watchfulness and in striving to assimilate more of the divine character, will mould and fashion us anew, until we awake in His likeness."

The Golden Text is from Hebrews (13:16): "To do good and to communicate forget not; for with such sacrifices God is well pleased."

Discipline Gets Discussed At The Loker School PTA

COCHITUATE -- Parents and teachers at Loker School PTA had a lively argument the other night. The subject was, "Discipline." Of course there was a panel of experts and a moderator, but the parents in the audience felt they qualified as experts, too, so the fur flew.

First, Moderator Gregory Wolfe, president of PTA, tried to get a fancy definition of "discipline." Someone even looked in the dictionary to see what it meant. But the parents were much more interested in what you do when you're staging a party, you've told Johnnie in advance to scram at 8:30, 8:30 arrives, and he won't go to bed.

Ralph Garry, an educational psychologist at B.U., said "Tell him to come into the kitchen, you have something for him to do."

Janet Kilburn, a parent, said she'd make sure she had a firm agreement with the lad first. "When 8:30 comes, I give him the nod, and he scatters."

Ann Terrio, a teacher, said you've got to give him some freedom of choice in such a situation. Chris Stergis was for firmness and enforcement. "Children feel lost when they don't know what their parents want of them."

Ralph Garry thought there'd be no harm in letting him throw a tantrum. If the guests were parents, they'd be delighted and relieved to find that other people's children misbehave too.

Then the debate moved from the living room to the supermarket. Harriet Michelson described a scene that some of the audience seem to have encountered. You're shopping and dragging the kid around with you. He keeps begging for a cookie. You keep saying, "No." In the end, he gets the cookie.

"What are you teaching him by this process?" Mrs. Michelson asked.

"You're teaching him how to get around you," someone put in. Ann Hocking was for appeasement and avoiding a public scene. "But when you get home, beat him."

When 10 o'clock came, no one wanted to stop talking, so Gregory Wolfe ordered them to stop. Nobody threw a tantrum.

The Christmas tree should be safely disposed of out of doors.

Skating On The Sudbury

WAYLAND -- Because of the prolonged cold of December and January this year, the Sudbury River, as shown above, froze solidly enough to bear skaters. In the background is the old Stone Bridge, now preserved as an historical monument. (McCann Photo)

Weston School Committee Meetings Were Always Open

WESTON -- Weston School Committee meetings always have been public. According to state law they now legally must be so, the Committee says.

The legislature of 1958 enacted a law effective, Jan. 6, making it mandatory to file with the Town Clerk at least 24 hours beforehand a notice of any School Committee meeting. It so happened that the School Committee held its first meeting of 1959 on the effective date of the law, Jan. 6. Notice for the meeting was formally filed more than 24 hours ahead of time.

Meetings of the School Committee are all open to the public although customarily few citizens avail themselves of the opportunity to be present.

Members of the committee wish to stress the fact that Weston citizens will be welcome in the future just as they have been in the past and that the new law changes nothing except that now an official notice of the meeting will be registered in the Town Hall.

Scientists To Be Asked To Help Weston High Students

WESTON -- Members of the newly organized Science Club of Weston High school are going to send out a postcard questionnaire, within a week or two, to try to discover what persons of scientific talent may be willing to consult with students on various scientific and mathematical problems.

Peter Borrelli is president of the Science Club, and the appeal is supported by I. G. Marsden, advisor of the Club, and W. W. Sawyer, chairman of the Science Department at the school.

Etiquette Problem

WAYLAND -- A surprise assembly was called at the High School on Jan. 12 for grades 10, 11 and 12, to hear Mr. Russell D. Curry of the Curry Dance School in Boston talk on "It's A Date!". The program was arranged by Mrs. Francis W. Bartol of Old Connecticut Path as part of the PTA recreation program.

The students were eager to get Mr. Curry's answers to some of their special etiquette problems and he had an answer for all of them.

To a hypothetical query about whether a girl should be kissed on the first date, Mr. Curry said simply, "The choice is not yours!"

Television Reception

WAYLAND -- One of the high-powered gusts that buffeted Wayland during last week's cold wave knocked the television aerial from the roof of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Bova's home into their front yard on Glezen Lane.

The resulting lack of picture, Mr. Bova soon found, was not because the aerial was resting on the lawn instead of on the roof. As soon as he pointed the antenna in the direction in which it should have been heading, the reception came back almost as good as ever.

WESTON -- "Gateways to the Mind", a science movie issued by the telephone company, was scheduled to be the entertainment at the Jan. 14 meeting of the Weston Men's Club at the High School cafeteria.

Firewood For St. Peter's

WESTON -- Forty cords of good hard wood, donated by F. C. Dumaine and A. B. Hunt, are being cut up by members and friends of St. Peter's Church and sold for the benefit of the church building fund. The wood is on the grounds of the Acres Fishing Club, off Lexington Street, and volunteers have already been at work on the project. The three in the picture above, left to right, John Marsh, Granton H. Dowse Jr. and Kimball A. McMullin, are cutting bolts of fireplace length with a power saw. (Bullock Photo)

Weston High School Bldg. Committee Gives A Report

WESTON -- The High School Building Committee wishes to report its progress since the selection of an architect. A complete topographical map of the site has been completed by Schofield Brothers, surveyors. A copy of this map is in the hands of the architect who is making preliminary plot plans for location of the building and the playing fields.

Prior to the Christmas holidays, the Committee held individual conferences with all the departments and faculty of the High School in order to benefit from their suggestions.

Information received during these conferences, plus a study of the report from the High School Survey Group, will aid the Building Committee in formulating the educational specifications which are required by the State Building Assistance Commission. Completion of this work will be a major step towards the ultimate goal.

Mr. and Mrs. Regan Have 18th Child, 10th Girl

WAYLAND -- Mr. and Mrs. John F. Regan of 16 Willard Street, Cochituate, announce the birth of their 18th child, a 7-pound, 7-ounce girl, at Leonard Morse Hospital, Natick, at 11 a.m. on Jan. 12. Mr. Regan thinks the name will be Gloria.

Sixteen of the 18 children are living - 10 girls and six boys. It's by far the biggest family in town.

The girls are Barbara, 23, Catherine, 20, Mary, 15, Leona, 10, Patricia, 8, Sheila, 6, Pamela, 5, Rebecca, 3, and Anna, 15 months.

The boys include Thomas, 24, John, 21, Robert, 18 (captain of the Wayland High School basketball team), Edward 14, Philip, 12, and Joseph, 11.

Mr. McEnroy Will Not Run, Says The Framingham News

WAYLAND -- The Framingham News of Jan. 14 carried the announcement that Mr. John R. McEnroy, for the past three years a member of the Wayland Board of Selectmen, will not be a candidate for reelection this year.

Winter Record Hop

WAYLAND -- Explorer Post 1, Wayland, will sponsor a Winter Record Hop at the High School gym at 8 p.m. Jan. 24, with disk jockey Milt Kray of Station WORC and special guests, "The Cupids".

Committee members are James Bradford, Jeffrey Weeks, Gerald Dicks, Edward Shalik and Edward Rigney. Everybody welcome.

Down Goes Old Town Hall

WAYLAND -- The old Town Hall, now being taken down by wreckers after 80 years of service, turns out to have been in surprisingly good condition. Much of the wood is said to be in excellent shape. Photo above shows the job of demolition, due to be completed by the middle of February, about half done. (McCann Photo)

Letters to the EDITOR

Thanks Water Dept.

To the Editor:

My wife and I would like to take this opportunity to express our thanks to Mr. George P. Richardson, Superintendent of Water and his men. On Dec. 27 they worked through the night and well into the morning in a successful effort to unfreeze our water pipes.
We appreciated their diligence and zeal in our behalf.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Herbert

About Freight

To the Editor:

Mr. Taylor's suggestion last week that the patient might be encouraged to continue his sickly ways if we threaten to kill him is hardly a cure to our railroad problems. I'm sure the proposal was well-intentioned, but it's loaded and I urge everyone to think twice about the consequences.

Less than five per cent of the people in our town use - directly benefit - from B & M commuter service. On the other hand, everybody - 100 per cent - benefits in some manner from the railroad's freight movement of bulk foodstuffs, building materials and other necessaries.

It would help no one - not even competitors - to eliminate the railroad completely in this area. And if it isn't too late, I think we'd all serve ourselves better by immediately considering what positive action is needed to help our patient recover and live usefully.

Sincerely,
Robert W. Schuette

ALL ABOUT CARS

THE LOUDEST NOISE IN AN ENGLISH FORD . . .

Not long ago, we saw an excellent ad for Rolls-Royce cars.
Perhaps you saw it, too. The headline told how, at 60 miles an hour, the loudest noise in the car was the electric clock.

At any speed, the loudest noise in one of our English Fords is the owner's voice, singing its praises. Well, perhaps that's an exaggeration — but there's no doubt that these handsome, spirited little cars turn ordinary drivers into — enthusiasts!

If you would like to put enjoyment back into your daily driving, add joy to your junkets and fun to your forays (even to the corner store), there's no better prescription than an English Ford. Imagine yourself behind the wheel of a taut, trim little car that responds instantly to every touch on the wheel or the throttle, obeys every command as fast as you can give it.
Imagine light, precise, accurate steering that guides you smoothly around the tightest corners, glides you safely through the thickest traffic. Imagine parking in a pint-size space with only one hand on the wheel.

And that's not all English Ford owners have to shout about.
They like the double economy of 35 miles to a gallon on regular gas; the heavyweight carrying capacity of English Fords (6 people and three suitcases in a Consul, for instance); the bulldog durability that has made English Ford as famous in its class as the mighty Rolls itself.

All this for a price that makes you smile. Anglias start at $1631. Come in and become an English Ford enthusiast yourself . . . real soon!

Do We Have Scenery Around Here, Or Just Landscape?

And Is The Sudbury Valley
Meadow Or Mud?

Sooner or later, everybody who travels, and travel is a loose word except in basketball, where it means doing something illegal, comes to wonder what is scenery, is it something they only have in Europe or Africa or Yellowstone Park, or is there some of it around here?

An accurate examination of what's to be seen in the Middlesex countryside reveals these items:

Scrub oak trees. Thin soil on top of vast subterranean deposits of gravel and sand. Occasional outcroppings of rock. Here and there a pond, here and there a swamp, now and again a brook without quite enough water in it.

The question is, when anybody looks out of his window, does he see scenery or just outdoors?

Is that area around the Sudbury River meadow or mud?

Does the dying elm tree rate in interest with the mahogany of the Central American jungle, and does the clump of birch have the appeal of an Italian cathedral?

Now these questions aren't so silly, because on the answers to them depend the answer to the next question, "Should we stay here or should we go where it's better?" And if we decide to move, what becomes of this community? Will it be filled up by people who think the scenery of Tierra Del Fuego isn't as attractive as this?

Now just what is scenery? The dictionary says it is "The general appearance of a landscape."

This landscape around us has a general appearance, all right, and in Winter it tends to be crummy. A little snow covers it up, of course, but snow also leads to collisions between vehicles and utility poles, and all those heaps of old iron add only wrinkles to the face of Nature.

General appearance, around here, is featured by paved and winding roads, stone walls, grass, bushes, abandoned railroad tracks and Nature lovers out prowling around in an effort to find some scenery on which to lavish their affections.

Take the trees. It is estimated that in all New England there is not one perfectly shaped tree more than two feet tall. The storms have twisted trunks, ripped off limbs, lifted root systems and in general raised the dickens. In Winter all the imperfections are visible. In Summer the trees are covered with leaves, so that their deformities are hidden, and naturally Summer is the time when people go away and stop looking at them.

Rocks are scenery, in the Alps. Around here, they are just something encountered when one wants to dig a cellar.

Gravel is scenery, in the Sahara Desert. Here, it's just a mineral which trucks are always carrying around, to and from where nobody ever discovers. But they certainly move a lot of it.

Ice is scenery, in an Alaskan glacier. Here, it's something one has to be careful not to slip on, lest he fall and fracture his bill fold.

Hills are scenery if they're high enough, as in the Rocky Mountains. But does a low hill count? Ask the local resident with an inclined slippery driveway.

Are birds and squirrels scenery? For that matter, are people? If people are scenery, should they wear more picturesque costumes, or are Bermuda shorts as picturesque as any garments ought to be?

If we had real scenery in this corner of Middlesex County, maybe tourists would flock here from all over to look at it. (Tourists are not to be confused with new residents. A significant fact is that Wayland and Weston are the only two communities in the world where carpet baggers are made welcome and put to work immediately doing the dirty work on civic committees.) Any anyway, where would a tourist stay if he wanted to spend some time looking at what passes for scenery around here?

With relatives, that's where. He couldn't bring enough money with him, in one automobile, to buy a house lot, and the Zoning Board wouldn't let him put up a tent. Besides, if he wanted to walk around there's no place where he could buy a pair of shoes, unless he happened to be able to get a fit at a rummage sale. --- D.B.W.

The apostle John's inspiring account of the raising of Lazarus by Christ Jesus is featured in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Life" which will be heard at Christian Science services Sunday.

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (7:13): "Jesus restored Lazarus by the understanding that Lazarus had never died, not by an admission that his body had died and then lived again. Had Jesus believed that Lazarus had lived or died in his body, the Master would have stood on the same plane of belief as those who hurried the body, and he could not have resuscitated it."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (118: 14, 17): "The Lord is my strength and song, and is become my salvation . . . I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord."

4-H Horse Club Hears Talk On Riding Safety Rules

Chief Damon, in the background, with members of the 4-H Horse Club.

WAYLAND -- A new safety project was recently launched by the Wayland 4-H Horse Club when Police Chief Ernest H. Damon addressed four leaders and 12 members at the home of Mrs. Archibald Cox. 4-H Club work of all kinds has long stressed safety but this is the largest safety program undertaken by a 4-H Horse Club.

The rapid growth of Wayland has forced riders to use the roads increasingly as trails were dug up or blocked by new developments. The aim of the safety program is to train riders to look out for the safety of themselves and their horses and to avoid inconveniencing motorists. With cooperation the motorists can avoid endangering both horses and riders.

Chief Damon, drawing on his past experience for illustrations, gave 10 rules for safe and lawful riding:

1. Know your horse.
2. Ride on the left side of the road.
3. Do not race.
4. Ride single file.
5. Do not ride on the sidewalk. A town law forbids it.
6. Stop and look both ways before crossing a road.
7. Do not ride on private property without the owner's permission.

Motorists, the Police Chief agreed, could help the club, by observing three precautions:

1. Slow down when approaching a horse and then pass with caution.
2. Do not blow your horn as a friendly greeting when passing a horse.
3. Do not throw tin cans and bottles out the car window. Horses have been injured by this carelessness.

WAYLAND -- Rich Valley Road couples took advantage of the well-frozen ice on Millbrook Pond on Saturday evening, Jan. 10, to stage some informal ice games and skaters' waltzes.

The party, which began with a "potluck" supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Flood and went on to dessert and coffee at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Harris, also included Mr. and Mrs. William Sullivan Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wightman, all of Rich Valley Road, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Buchanan of Bedford, week-end guests of the Floods, joined the skaters.

Community Chorus Asks More Singers To Join

The Community Chorus began rehearsals for the Spring concert on Jan. 12. An exciting program of contemporary music is being prepared for an April 12 concert.

The major work will be The Song of Affirmation by Norman Dello Joio which has never been performed on the East Coast, and it is expected that music circles in the New England area will be very interested in this forthcoming presentation.

Mr. M. E. Berrett, president of the Chorus, strongly urges members, old and new, to attend rehearsals regularly as there is a great deal of work to be done in a rather short time. Mr. Berrett and the Chorus extend to all others interested in choral music a warm invitation to join them at the next rehearsal. No tryouts are required. Rehearsals are held each Monday evening at the Wayland High School at 8 p.m.

The New England Conservatory Opera Department, under the direction of Boris Goldovsky, will present a recital of opera scenes on Tuesday, Jan. 20, in the Recital Hall, at 8:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend and no tickets are required. The program will include excerpts from The Marriage of Figaro, Don Giovanni, The Magic Flute, Aida, Madame Butterfly and Cavalleria Rusticana.

James Frye Of Wayland Escaped Syracuse Fire

WAYLAND -- James "Skip" Frye, son of Captain and Mrs. James Frye of 3 Simpson Road, was one of the lucky airmen to escape the tragic fire which leveled a barracks at Syracuse University and killed seven of his fellow airmen on the night of Jan. 6. Airman Second Class Frye had returned to the University only the night before after a Christmas leave with his parents in Wayland.

On the morning after the fire, Mrs. Frye was listening to the WBZ newscast and heard a report that several Air Force students taking the Russian language course had been killed. She called Leo Egan, the newscaster, to say that her son was in that course and to ask for any more news that he could give her.

"He was so nice," says Mrs. Frye. "I certainly appreciate all the trouble he went to."

Egan contacted the authorities and, although names of the victims were not yet being released, was able to ascertain that her son was safe and called back with the good news.

Mr. Frye was able to get a call through to his family that evening and reported that the high winds which were blowing at the time of the fire had carried the flames up from the burning structure and away from his and other nearby barracks.

"Skip", who was 20 years old on Jan. 8, joined the Air Force after his graduation from Dedham High School. He was stationed on St. Lawrence Island in the Bering Sea before being assigned to Syracuse University last October for a nine months course in advanced Russian.

Capt. Frye, who is a Boston Harbor pilot, moved to Wayland with his family in July, 1957. The two younger Frye children are attending school in Wayland, Mary Louise as a High School sophomore and son John in the seventh grade.

the Olympic operator, in Natick, at 8:38 a.m. by the record. She said there was a fire at Sunset Road. Since there is also a Sunset Road in Natick, the Natick operator understandably sent the Natick fire department to Sunset Road, Natick.

David Lamont, two minutes later, corrected the situation by calling and asking for the Wayland Fire Department.

Chief Hartin notes that in Wayland there are telephones in the Elmwood, Olympic, Trinity and Clearwater exchanges. Therefore, he says, it is important that anyone calling to report a fire should specify that he wants the WAYLAND Fire Department.

Wayland LWV Units Will Study Recreation Problem

WAYLAND -- The Wayland League of Women Voters meets Jan. 20 and 21 in units to continue its study, "Improvement and coordination of local recreation facilities."

In 1955, after a year of study of recreation, the League had an article inserted in the Warrant for the appointment of a lay committee to give further study to this matter. This committee recommended that a professional group make a study. The result was the Harris report which was reprinted in the Town Crier last Spring.

Last year at Town Meeting it was voted to appoint a committee to study the Harris report, the results of which will be presented at the March Town Meeting.

One of the items to be considered at units will be to what extent the community is responsible in providing facilities and leadership.

Mrs. Paul Pontecorvo is chairman. Her committee includes Mrs. James Burgess, Mrs. David Bidle, Mrs. Lewis Billig, Mrs. Richard Howard, Mrs. William Lewis, Mrs. George Little and Mrs. Howard Rounsefell.

Hostesses at Units are:

Tuesday, Jan. 20: 9:30 a.m. Mrs. Albert Hughes, Glezen Lane, 8 p.m. Mrs. Richard Lincoln, Lincoln Lane, and Mrs. Watts Humphrey, 13 Bald Rock Road.

Wednesday, Jan. 21: 9:30 a.m. Mrs. Paul Lunt, 26 Orchard Lane, 8 p.m. Mrs. James Flanagan, 14 Pinebrook Road, and Mrs. Orville Bean, 15 Timber Lane.

WAYLAND -- Mr. Harold E. Belles of Westway Road has been hospitalized at the Hanneman Hospital in Worcester since Jan. 10. Mrs. Belles is staying with friends in Shrewsbury until her husband is able to return home.

Dr. Kirtley Mather Will Speak At Univ. Of Life

Dr. Kirtley F. Mather

Carlhein Ahlemeyer

WESTON -- The first in the Weston Council of Churches' four-week University of Life series is scheduled for Sunday, Jan. 18, at the First Parish Unitarian Church.

Following a 5 p.m. buffet supper which is under the direction of Mrs. Joseph E. O'Donnell, Jr., the group will assemble at 5:50 for an hour of chapel worship and hymn singing. Organist Reginald Eastman and song leader Robert Stuart will provide musical direction.

Dr. Kirtley Mather, Professor of Geology, Emeritus, at Harvard University and President of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, will be featured chapel speaker at the Sunday meeting. His subject is to be "Religion and Science in the Atomic Age."

Internationally known as a geologist, author and lecturer, Professor Mather is not only interested in the geologic history and mineral resources of the earth, but also in the people whose lives are inevitably influenced by the structure of the planet and by the way its resources are used.

Following the chapel service four simultaneous interest groups will assemble from 7 to 8 p.m. for a lecture and discussion period. Dr. Mather is planning to address Interest Group I at the First Parish Church on "The U.S., the U.S.S.R. and the U.N. and Armament Controls."

"Family Life and the Christian Faith" is the subject under discussion for Interest Group II, also meeting at the First Parish Church. "A Christian Looks at His Home" is the title of Mrs. Robert Spicer's talk Sunday evening. Well known to Weston mothers, Mrs. Spicer is a teacher in the kindergarten department of the Weston school system.

John Reissner is chairman of Senior High Interest Group III

which will meet at St. Peter's Church to spend their four Sunday evenings "Viewing Our World." This Sunday's speaker will be Carlhein Ahlemeyer, a 22-year-old German student at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration whose topic is "The German Teenager: His Education and Social Life." Educated in German schools near Frankfurt from 1942 to 1952, Mr. Ahlemeyer came to this country in 1952-53 to attend and graduate from the Franklin, N. H. High School as an American Field Service International Scholarship Student. From 1953 to 1956 he attended a German Realgymnasium in Rueselheim and received his Abitur (German equivalent of Bachelor of Arts and Sciences). In 1958 he received a B. A. degree in Economics from City College of New York, and since September has been in Cambridge at the Harvard Business School.

Junior High students in Interest Group IV are also meeting at St. Peter's for "Adventures in Living." "Youth Looks at Law Enforcement" is the subject of Chaplain Robert Burt's address. A graduate of the Boston University School of Theology where he is currently working for his Master's Degree in Pastoral Psychology, Mr. Burt served eight years as chaplain of Concord Reformatory.

"Business Climate" To Be Discussed At LWV Meeting

WESTON -- The Weston League of Women Voters will hold an open meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 21, at 8 p.m. in the Jones House, when the speaker will be Mr. Norman J. Randell, Manager, Public Affairs, for the General Electric Company of Massachusetts. He will speak on the topic, "Business Climate in Massachusetts", discussing the present business climate, the contributing factors, and the possible changes.

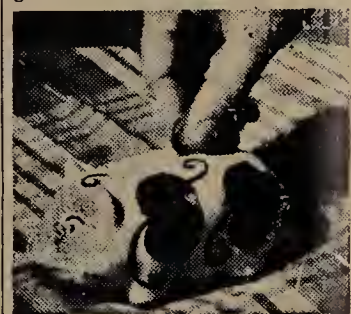

Before his present position as Manager, Public Affairs, Mr. Randell was Manager, Community Relations and Communications, for the Lynn plant of General Electric. He is a native of Amesbury and a graduate of the University of New Hampshire. He also studied at Harvard and Columbia Universities and was graduated from the Northeastern Institute for Commercial Executives at Yale.

This meeting has been arranged by Mrs. William Bogle, 285 Winter Street. Invitations have been sent to several other Weston organizations and town officials, and all interested persons are invited to attend.

The praying mantis eats destructive field and garden insects.

and has been chaplain at the Massachusetts Correctional Institution at Walpole since it opened several years ago. Mr. Burt is pastor of the South Congregational Church in Acton.

Tickets to the 1959 University of Life are available for $1 at any of the churches or through any delegate to the Council.

WESTON -- in a real hair-raiser of a basketball game, Wayland just barely beat Weston, 43 to 42, in a three-minute overtime period, on Jan. 20 at Weston High gym.

The regulation game ended 38-38. In the overtime, Capt. Bobby Regan of Wayland made two field goals and Jerry Whelchel sank one foul shot, while Weston could score only four points.

Capt. Regan was high man, with 24 points. Terry Dunn had 22 for Weston, and Jerry Whelchel had nine for Wayland.

It was the first defeat of the season for Weston. Wayland has lost two, both to teams in a bigger class.

Nominations Will Close At 5 O'Clock On Jan. 26

WAYLAND -- The Registrars of Voters announce that they will receive nomination papers for town offices on Monday, Jan. 26, between 2 and 5 p.m., and that day will be the last moment for filing nomination papers.

The Registrars of Voters will hold two sessions for the purpose of registering new voters, on Feb. 5 from 8 to 10 p.m. at the Town Clerk's office in Wayland and on Feb. 10, from 12 noon to 10 p.m., at the Cochituate Branch Library. Those who wish to register must bring birth certificates, naturalization papers or other proof of citizenship, the Registrars say. Feb. 10 will be the last day to register for the town election and town meeting.

Registrars of Voters are Grace I. Courchine, William R. Gallagher, Waldo H. Russell and Leila Sears, Town Clerk.

Wayland, Weston Free Chest X-Rays, Jan. 27

"January marks the free chest X-ray month for Wayland and Weston adult residents," announce Mrs. Rexford Moss and Mrs. Albert Cross, local Christmas Seal Committee chairmen, Tuesday evening, Jan. 27, is the special night reserved for local residents at the Parmenter Health Center, Route 27, in Wayland. Wayland and Weston adults may call Olympic 3-5111 for their appointments now.

This free chest X-ray screening clinic is sponsored through Christmas Seal funds from local committees in affiliation with the Middlesex Health Association, and in cooperation with the Parmenter Health Center and local boards of health.

Call Men Now Man Wayland Fire Station Every Night

WAYLAND -- A plan whereby the Wayland Fire Station is manned all night every night by call men, thus providing quicker fire protection, at a cost two-thirds less than that of hiring three new full-time men, has been worked out by Chief Francis J. Hartin and approved by the committee on town government, the Selectmen and the Finance Committee.

Under this plan, an appropriation of $4200 in the Fire Department budget will be submitted at the annual town meeting, says the Chief.

The plan has actually been in operation since last August. What happens is that 14 call men sign up to take regularly scheduled nights of duty in the station, from 6 p.m. to 7 a.m., two men at a time. For this they get $6 a night, apiece, plus the hourly rate for actually fighting whatever fires may occur.

There are also enough men to fill in whenever the assigned call men are unable to keep their schedules.

The advantage of this to the town, says Chief Hartin, is that the apparatus can get to a fire in the night minutes quicker, because the men start from the station instead of from their homes.

Two Candidates Will Seek Nomination For Selectman At The Weston Caucus

Edward R. Langenbach

Victor C. Harnish (Bachrach)

WESTON -- Two men - Victor C. Harnish of Boston Post Road and Edward R. Langenbach of Meadowbrook Road - have announced that they will be candidates for Selectman this year.

William R. Dewey Jr. of Pigeon Hill Road, who has been a Selectman for many years, is not a candidate. He wanted to retire last year, but was persuaded to fill out the one-year unexpired term of Richard H. Field, who affairs made it necessary for him to resign from the board. Therefore there is no incumbent to run.

As is the practice in Weston, candidates come up for nomination at the Caucus, which is to be held in Town Hall on Feb. 9. Only one candidate receives the endorsement of the Caucus. But candidates who do not get the Caucus endorsement may run on nomination papers.

The Caucus system, an old New England custom, is different from that used in Wayland, where all candidates take out nomination papers.

2 Candidates For Board Of Health In Wayland

Letters to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

I believe that Weston has a great future, and I believe that the Selectmen have a big part to play in bringing this about. It will not happen from a do-nothing policy; a program of action is called for. To this end I pledge myself to the following program of action.

1. To preserve the character of the town even if it means investing money;
2. To maintain safe driving conditions by the maintenance of good roads and the enforcement of strict traffic regulations;
3. To maintain an adequate wage scale that will attract competent,
high-grade employees;
4. To adopt the strictest economy in the administration of town affairs consistent with long range planning, and

5. To stir up action on the town's many pressing problems. In this connection, it would be my policy, first, to gather all the facts and then to seek an imaginative solution consistent with the long-range interests of the town.

A town, like a business, must either go forward or backward.
We cannot stand still without being passed by.

Yours very truly,
Victor C. Harnish

WOULD YOU LIKE TO HAVE A $56 A MONTH RAISE?

IF YOU DRIVE 10,000 miles a year in your present car your gasoline bill alone will come to over $200. (if you get 15 miles per gallon.)

IF YOU CHANGE your oil every 1,000 miles, your oil bill will be at least $36.

IF YOU TRADE-UP every year for a new model it will cost you at least $700 to $1000 — average cost is $850.

NOW — Let's add up the bill: $200 gasoline (at 30¢ a gallon) 36 oil
850 depreciation 1086*

$1,086 for 10,000 miles = 10.8 cents per mile.
NOW — to drive the same distance in an ENGLISH FORD ANGLIA let's see what the score is:

at 30 miles per gallon	$100 gasoline (at 30¢ a gallon)
at 2 1/2 quarts per change	15 oil
first year depreciation	300 trade-up cost for new model
	415*

$415 for 10,000 miles 4.1 cents per mile.
ANNUAL COST of Present Car $1,086
ANNUAL COST of English Ford ANGLIA -415

ANNUAL SAVINGS 671

IN ANY MAN'S LANGUAGE $671 a year, or about $56 a month, is a lot of money — and it's clear cash with no income tax to deduct.

There are MANY OTHER REASONS for driving an ANGLIA too,
IT'S easy to park — fun to drive — always in style.

THE ANGLIA, which delivers at $1,631, is one of TWELVE

A Civic Suggestion For Making Everybody Happy

Why Not Revive The Ancient And Honorable Office Of Hog Reeve?

As the town election season approaches, with candidates campaigning for this office and that, a civic suggestion may be in order.

Practically everybody who lives in a town and sees who does get elected, sooner or later, if only deep in his secret heart, nourishes the notion that he, too, might serve in a public capacity and probably do pretty well at it.

Most people suppress such feelings, not so much from humility as from bashfulness. Also, there is the fact that certain specific qualifications seem to be preferred for some offices. And there is often a reluctance to assume the attitude of conflict which goes with entering a contest against somebody else.

Yet in a free country, one which approaches the best possible in so many ways, it seems too bad that everybody can't have what he wants, within reason. If a person wants to have it on his record that he was once an elected public official, so that he can boast about it to his grandchildren, why shouldn't he be indulged?

Here's where the constructive suggestion comes in.

Fallen into disuse nowadays, since the Middle West became the pork center of America, is the noble old office of hog reeve.

In early days, around here, the hog reeve was a pretty important character. He was, in plainer English, the hog catcher. When people depended on their gardens and cornfields, it was a serious matter when the pigs got loose, because both their appetites and their hooves were ruinous to planted crops. Somebody had to come in a hurry and put the pigs back in their poke, or wherever they were supposed to be.

Just how the hog reeve got his results seems to have been forgotten. It is suspected, by those who have some knowledge of modern agricultural methods, that he stirred up a batch of tempting pig food in a bucket and swung it under the pig's long nose, then lured him to captivity by walking backwards with the bucket as bait. (Like lobster bait, to the human nose, but pigs are different.)

Now, perhaps this position of hog reeve, so rich in tradition and aroma, could be revived. At the present day, thanks to the decline of the local pig population, the job would be a sinecure, another advantage in a political office. Probably the hog reeve wouldn't be called out on active duty more than once a term, and if he had a dutiful wife she wouldn't mind mixing up the bucket of fruitcake and, possibly, if she also happened to be an animal lover, going out with it herself to lead the wandering hog home.

The best part of this proposition is that there could be as many hog reeves as desired, to give everybody a chance. Say 100, or even 500.

The town with 500 hog reeves would be about the best cared for community, hog-wise, in the world. A pig couldn't stick his nose out from under a pair of bars without having some zealous and responsible official see him and sound the alarm. Never would the Garden Club be forced to make complaints that hogs were in the hollyhocks, or pigs in the petunias. Trouble just would never get a chance to start.

With 100 or 500 candidates, moreover, there'd be a chance for just about anybody to get elected. It may be admitted that pigs, like sweet drinks containing alcohol, are not everybody's dish. Of course, if more candidates wanted to run, the election officials could alter the count, to make sure everybody got in. In a kindly society, it should not be said of anybody that he couldn't get elected hog catcher.

Naturally, nobody will get paid for being hog reeve, except in satisfaction and, if it's not too strong a word, glory. One hog reeve would be entitled to greet another by opening his mouth and inhaling vigorously through his nose, thus producing a love call familiar to all connoisseurs of stys. The emblem might be a gold sausage and the menu at the annual banquet of the Brotherhood of Hog Reeves would feature, naturally, the ham sandwich.

Adoption of this proposal, in this crazy, mixed-up age, might also go far towards bringing back a rich whiff of sentiment from those good old days when men were farmers and the pitchfork was an object of veneration. -- D.B.W.

Dr. M. Geneva Gray

WAYLAND -- Unfortunately omitted from the list of local women in "Who's Who of American Women", published in last week's Crier, was the name of Dr. M. Geneva Gray of 4 Lake Road Terrace, Cohituate, a Ph. D. in physiology who is working on special projects, involving use of the solar furnace, at the Quartermaster Laboratory in Natick.

Dr. Gray studied at Boston University and Radcliffe and has worked at Harvard Medical School and with Arthur D. Little Company of Cambridge. Before coming to Cohituate two years ago she lived in Boston.

Football Dinner

WAYLAND -- A post-victory dinner will be given by the Kiwanis Club for the coaches and squad of last fall's High School football team at the Red Coach Grill on Jan. 27. This year's team completed the third successive undefeated season in Wayland High football.

Wayland, Weston LWVs Interested In Annual Int. Relations School

WAYLAND -- The annual School of International Relations held by the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts will be held Feb. 3 at Kresge Auditorium, M.I.T., Cambridge.

This year's challenging problem will be "Facing the new China: What is involved for the U.S.?" Six capable speakers will discuss the question and present their views on the course we should take.

Starting at 10:30 a.m. the four morning speakers, John K. Fairbank of Harvard, Harold M. Isaacs of M.I.T., Blair Fraser, Ottawa Editor of MacLean's Magazine, and LaRue R. Lutkins, Deputy Director for Chinese Affairs, U.S. State Department, will provide extensive background on the China of today and yesterday.

In the afternoon, starting at 2 p.m., Congressman Walter Judd of Minnesota long a spokesman for the "pro-Nationalist" point of view, and newly-elected Senator Gale McGee of Wyoming, an experienced internationalist, will discuss "What is involved for the U.S.?" Questions from the audience will be welcomed at both sessions.

Participation is not limited to League membership. Registrations, $2 for the full day and $1.25 for a single session, are being taken in Weston by Mrs. Lawrence Davis, 97 Meadowbrook Road, TW 3-3558, and in Wayland by Mrs. Kenneth LeBaron, Davelin Road, EL 8-4852.

LWV Members Hear Talk On Regional Planning

WAYLAND -- Members of the League of Women Voters Regional Planning Committee, other League members, and husbands met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Howard of Concord Road on Jan. 15 to discuss the impact of a proposed state Regional Planning Council on the town of Wayland.

A panel of experts who also happen to be local citizens, Mr. Gregory Wolfe, Director of the Greater Boston Economic Study Committee, Mr. John T. Howard, City Planner, M.I.T., and Mr. L. William Bertelsen, representative of the Wayland Planning Board, led the discussion. Debate centered on the problems of securing and maintaining the economic stability of the Greater Boston area with the expansion of industry toward the suburbs and the desirability of maintaining a kind of "green belt" for the future in such towns as Weston, Wayland and Lincoln.

The meeting was arranged by Mrs. Robert M. Page, Jeffrey Road, League chairman of the Regional Planning study.

WAYLAND -- Seventeen members of the Shore Acres Club met on the evening of Jan. 13 at the home of Mrs. Fern A. Taylor, 73 Edgewood Road, for a business meeting, refreshments and games. A whist party is planned for the next meeting, to be held on Jan. 27, at the home of Mrs. Joseph L. Straffuss of 8 Park Ridge Road.

Cub Scout Pack 53

WESTON -- Cub Scout Pack 53 held its regular monthly meeting at St. Peter's Church on Thursday, Jan. 8.

The theme of the meeting was "See and Do It". Dens 4 and 5 had displays which were inspired by visits made by the Dens. Den 4 had taken a trip to the Blue Hills Weather Station. Their project consisted of weather posters and a real working barometer. Two of the boys explained how they made the barometer and how it works.

Den 5 had taken a trip to the Children's Museum and saw an Indian display. Their exhibit was a book on Indian lore.

After a few songs and a clothes-pin game, Cubmaster Jock McGillivray gave out the awards of the evening. Ned Healey and Richard Clare received Wolf badges, while Dens 4 and 8 earned the inspection awards.

Nieman Fellows Panel

WESTON -- A panel discussion on a subject of immediate interest by Nieman Fellows at Harvard will be the program at the meeting of the Women's Community League at the Town Hall at 12:45 p.m., Feb. 2.

The panelists will be Mr. Amrit Baruah, correspondent of the Hindustan Standard of Calcutta, and Mr. John Patrick Kelly, telegraph editor of the Atlanta Journal. The discussion will be led by Mr. Martin Forest, and there will be a question period.

The program is sponsored by the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company.

WAYLAND -- Mrs. Stephen E. Hodges, Cohituate Road, and Mr. L. William Bertelsen, Claypit Hill Road, announce their candidacies for re-election to five-year-terms on the Planning Board. Two of the six Planning Board seats come up for election this year.

CONCORD -- The next meeting of the Rose Hawthorne Guild will be held on Monday, Jan. 26, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. Sister Mary Grace of the Marist Missions will be the guest speaker for the evening and will give a discourse on her experiences in the Jamaica Islands.

Installation Of Baptist Women's Guild Officers

WESTON -- A very moving and beautiful solo of Harker's "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains", sung by retiring president Mrs. Joseph O'Donnell, highlighted an inspiring installation of officers of the Women's Guild of the First Baptist Church, on Tuesday, Jan. 13.

The theme for the installation centered around the 121st Psalm and the American Baptist Women's Convention theme of "Mountains of the Lord". Officers installed proceeded around the church with lighted candles to the altar, where the service took place, and the charge was given by Mrs. O'Donnell.

Officers installed: President, Mrs. John Akers; First Vice-president, Mrs. Carlton Allen; Vice-president, Missionary Education and Stewardship, Mrs. Gordon Littlehale; Secretary, Mrs. Norman Stockellburg; Treasurer, Mrs. C. Wayland 61, Ashland 28

Although coach Buzz Bowers was missing because of illness, his team breezed to its first Dual County League victory by downing Ashland 61 to 28. Wayland jumped off to an early lead and held a 31 to 8 edge at halftime. Joe Devine was forced out of action in the first period when he received a cut over the eye that required 5 stitches. Wheelchel scored 17 points and Bob Regan 12. The J.V.'s won 33 to 17.

Wayland 60, Lynnfield 40

JAN. 16

A 29 point output by Jerry Wheelchel and some tremendous rebounding by John Wesley and Dick Braganti more than made up for the temporary absence of Ed Marsh and Joe Devine from the starting team. Wayland led all the way and coasted to its second league victory and sixth win in eight games this season. Bob Regan's 12 points were second highest for the winners. The J.V.'s won their seventh game of the year, paced by Ron Paradis.

Weston 46, Ashland 43

JAN. 16

Weston had to ward off a last period rally by Ashland to win 46 to 43, after they had led by as much as 11 points earlier in the game. Terry Dunn topped the scorers with 24 points and Buzz Granholm tossed in 10. The win was the fifth for the undefeated Carini-men and their second league victory of the year. The J.V.'s bowed, 28 to 34 score.

WAYLAND -- Mr. and Mrs. Addison L. Sanford of Lincoln Road are spending a Winter vacation in the Virgin Islands. The Sandfords flew to Miami on Jan. 11 where they planned to spend a few days before flying to St. Thomas Island. They will return home Jan. 28.

Frederic A. Crafts Jr.
(Winn Studios)

Mr. Crafts was born in Weston and was graduated from Weston High in 1946. In school he was captain of the 1945-46 basketball team which won 39 straight before losing in the finals of the Eastern Massachusetts Tournament in Boston Garden. He was fullback on the undefeated football team of 1945.

Mr. Crafts was graduated from Harvard in 1950 and obtained his LLB degree from Boston University in 1953, and he is now a candidate for an LLM at Suffolk University night school, in the field of taxation and estate planning. He was in the Army from 1953 to 1955 and has been practicing law since.

The Association, 60 years old, lists six members in Wayland and 10 in Weston.

WAYLAND — A meet-the-new-neighbor coffee was given by Mrs. H.V.S. Brewer of 5 Nob Hill on Jan. 15 to meet Mrs. Karl Gelger and Mrs. Daniel E. Kennedy Jr. of Nob Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Gelger moved to Wayland recently and the Kennedys, formerly of Training Field Road, are new residents of Nob Hill. Guests included Mrs. Howard S. Russell of Nob Hill, Mrs. Douglas M. Surgenor of Millbrook Road, Mrs. Hugh F. Colliton Jr., Mrs. Richard O. Knox and Mrs. Alan H. Woodcock, all of Brackett Road.

New Haven Firm To Make Wayland Traffic Survey

WAYLAND — Wilbur Smith & Associates, a traffic consulting firm of New Haven, Conn., has been engaged to conduct a survey of traffic conditions in and around the center of Wayland. L. William Bertelsen, chairman of the Wayland Planning Board, has announced.

The survey, to be a joint project of the town of Wayland and Raytheon Manufacturing Co., will be under the direction of the Planning Board and will be sponsored by Raytheon.

Following its investigations in the field, Wilbur Smith & Associates will make recommendations designed to relieve traffic congestion in the center of Wayland, particularly during the morning and evening rush hours.

Although it is generally felt that the only real solution is a Route 20 by-pass around Wayland Center, it is recognized that it is going to take time, perhaps two years, to effect this. The by-pass would be built by the state out of state funds, and the big problem is to obtain approval of the Massachusetts Legislature. At a recent town meeting, a committee of 10 was authorized to urge construction of the by-pass. On several occasions, Raytheon officials have expressed their willingness to work with the committee on this project.

In the meantime, the current study is to be directed at remedies which can be achieved quickly, with minimum expense to the town.

Primary attention will be given in the study to the Wayland Center area, including Raytheon's entrance on Route 20. A study will be made of traffic flow on routes leading to the center and recommendations will be made for the best use of signals, signs, markings, application of one-way traffic, peak hour regulations, pedestrian controls and parking regulations. The study will also cover the possibility of making minor street improvements, the relation between vehicular and pedestrian traffic and parking problems.

The Wilbur Smith firm will begin its survey the week of Jan. 19, and will complete the assignment in about five weeks. Following its study, it will submit written reports to the Planning Board.

Medical science knows much more about the heart, and how to help it, than it did even a generation ago.

STOP
RACE!

We said, "In God we trust," but we put our faith in H-bombs and missiles. Now we know that Russia too has H-bombs, missiles, and satellites.

We assumed that the way to peace is through superior military strength . . . to deter our "enemy" and back up our negotiators. The Russians have acted on the same assumption. So the frantic competition proceeds. The balance of fear swings between nation and nation. This is no climate for negotiation.

Every man knows in his heart and from experience that peace is not made by terror, nor security by might. Fear builds no homes, and panic plows no fields.

The race for military superiority is futile. The finish line is mutual extermination, and there is no other end.

Let us stop this fatal race. Let us have faith in the strength of freedom and the power of righteousness. This new approach would involve enormous risks. But they are not as great as those involved in continuing to balance on the knife edge of terror. Recognizing man's capacity for evil, we must seek to reinforce his God-given capacity for good.

We could:

- 1  Cancel our nuclear weapons tests, because they are hurting men now and may warp the bodies of our grandchildren and because our souls are betrayed when we use our minds to plan the destruction of God's creation.
- 2  Start disarmament—by steps WE can take, because there will be no real peace without world disarmament, and no disarmament unless some nation starts and because it is wrong to prepare to kill other men.
- 3  Share our resources more fully, because helping people help themselves is a genuine answer to the appeal of Communism and because it is wrong to keep so much when two-thirds of the world is sick and hungry.
- 4  Consider the problems of men more important than the promotion of alliances, because a solution in Algeria is more important than NATO; settling refugees in the Middle East is more important than sending arms; and because we are men and we know that men should live in peace and love one another.
- 5  Strengthen the United Nations as an inclusive and responsible agency for peace, because nations in conflict need a common meeting ground and because mankind is indivisible.
- 6  Seek ways to bring men together across iron and bamboo curtains, because everyone would gain from commercial, scientific, cultural and religious contacts and because the major foes of understanding are ignorance and bigotry.

We could. Will we?

Stewart-Kressy

WESTON -- The engagement of Miss Edith M. Stewart of New York City, daughter of Mrs. Harry D. Stewart of 88 Boston Post Road and the late Mr. Stewart, to Private Christopher Kressy of the U. S. Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund F. Kressy of South Salem, N. Y., has been announced.

Miss Edith M. Stewart
(Eileen McClure Photo)

Both Miss Stewart and Mr. Kressy were graduated from the Rhode Island School of Design, class of 1958. Miss Stewart received a degree of Bachelor of Fine arts in apparel design and Mr. Kressy a Bachelor of Fine Arts in painting.

Mr. Kressy, now stationed at Fort Monmouth, N. J., is the grandson of Mrs. Turner Newcomb of Washington, Conn., and the late Mr. and Mrs. F. Kressy of Cleveland, Ohio.

WESTON CANDIDATES

Mansfield, Marsh and Macdonald, has lived in Weston since 1951.

His activities: Founder and president of the Boys Club of Waltham; president of the Waltham Community Fund; advance gifts chairman for the United Fund last year in Weston; lay reader and former vestryman at St. Peter's Church; president of the Weston PTA last year and chairman of the Weston Education Committee this year; past master of Monitor Lodge, A. F. and A. M.; director of the Weston Boosters Club, director of the Forest and Trail Association, member of the Rotary Club and member of the Weston Men's Club.

His children are Robert L., a senior at Trinity College; Stuart C., a sophomore at University of Chicago; Deborah R. and John V., both in Weston High School.

Mr. Langenbach, Dartmouth '31 Harvard Law School '34, a trial lawyer who is a partner with Brickley, Sears and Cole, Boston, has lived in Weston since 1940.

He served on the Veterans Housing Board, which built six homes for veterans in Weston. He was director and president of the Taxpayers Association, now inactive, which started the campaign which resulted in the revaluation of the town and its present assessment system. He was appointed to the Finance Committee and later served as its chairman, resigning to go into Boy Scout work. He was chairman of the troop committee for Troop 51, then was vice chairman of Westwell District for a year. He was the first public member of what is now called the Human Relations Service, to assist the schools in handling the problems of children, and he has been a legal advisor to the School Committee.

He has three sons: Edward Read Jr., an Eagle Scout; Richard Randolph, a 1st class Scout, and William Ray, all in Weston schools.

WAYLAND FIRE STATION

vice, he says, comes to around $4200 a year, whereas the cost of three regular men to perform a comparable service would be

The present arrangement is possible, he says, because of the hearty cooperation of the men of the Department. The latter, he says, actually put in more time in training than do men of larger departments. Because the Wayland Department is small, the local men also train in all phases of fire fighting instead of specializing.

In the full-time force there are now six men and a Chief. In all, including the call men and the auxiliaries, there are 50.

Included among the auxiliaries, says the Chief, are a number of Wayland High School athletes, including Jerry Whelchel, Bob Regan, Joe DePaolo, Paul Tierney and others, and even a High School teacher, Mr. Robert Thurston.

The call men are now manning the Wayland station because it is centrally located. It is hoped that next year the plan can be extended to the Cochituate station. In both houses, it is said, there are suitable accommodations for the men.

The Wayland Fire Department, in the past few years, has been improved almost out of recognition, with new apparatus, permanent men, new fire stations, a town fire alarm system and a general sprucing up, as the town has grown. One statistic: In 1951 there were 32 fire alarm boxes, now there are 146. There are now 352 hydrants, and the water pressure is described as good.

Weston Golf Club Plans Annual Winter Carnival

WESTON -- The Weston Golf Club Winter Sports Committee is planning to hold its annual Winter Carnival on Jan. 24, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m., if ice skating conditions permit. Should the weather be uncooperative, the event will be postponed to Jan. 31, and canceled thereafter, if conditions should again be undesirable.

Various races and sprints for boys and girls of the different age groups are scheduled, and a 15-minute adult hockey game. Some exhibition figure skating is planned. Light refreshments will be served by members of the Committee.

Before you can score you must first have a goal.

Waltham Hospital Gets $10,000 Raytheon Check

Charles Francis Adams Jr., left, presents the $10,000 check to Nathan I. Greene, chairman of the board of trustees of Waltham Hospital, as Walter L. Amesbury, hospital administrator and treasurer, looks on.

WALTHAM -- Charles Francis Adams Jr., President of the Raytheon Manufacturing Company of Waltham, presented a check recently to the Waltham Hospital in the amount of $10,000, which represents the Company's first payment on its five-year pledge. The check was accepted by Nathan I. Greene, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Waltham Hospital and Senior Vice President of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, and by Mr. Walter L. Amesbury, administrator and treasurer of the hospital.

The presentation was made in the Children's Nursery of the Hospital which is to be named for the Raytheon Manufacturing Company as a Memorial.

The gift brought the total raised in the current campaign of the Waltham Hospital's Building Fund to $150,000. The goal of the drive is to raise $300,000, to complete the W. H. Nichols Memorial Wing which was opened last month and will also enable the Hospital to make renovations in its old building.

In accepting the Raytheon check from Mr. Adams, Mr. Greene said: "The Waltham Hospital is

Children Old Enough To Do A Thing Are Old Enough To Stop, Says Mr. Regan

COCHITUATE -- The "Voice of experience" spoke out at the Cochituate P.T.A. meeting last Thursday, and the 80-odd parents present appeared to find it worth listening to. A panel of six experts—three parents, three teachers—talked about discipline, at school and at home.

The panel itself could have filled a classroom with its own children: five of them, together, are parents of 33 boys and girls. The sixth panelist, Ethelyn Morrill, has been teaching primary grades in Wayland for 40 years, or 1200 children.

John Regan, father of 16, Ruth Harris (Mrs. George Harris) mother of 10; and Eleanor (Mrs. Daniel) Harmon, mother of four, represented parents. Mrs. Mary Neal, fourth-grade teacher and mother of two, and Warren Chafe, fifth-grade teacher and father of a 10-months' old daughter, flanked Miss Morrill in the teachers' corner. Principal Walter Doucette was moderator.

Typical of the wise and witty observations made during the profoundly grateful to Mr. Adams and to the Raytheon Manufacturing Company for this very substantial gift. In the years ahead, there will be literally thousands of residents of Waltham and its surrounding communities who will benefit directly from Raytheon's generosity."

evening were some comments on the question, "How early should discipline start?"

Too many No's, too early, tend to stifle curiosity and slow down development, said Mrs. Harmon. The earlier the better, said Mr. Regan, adding that if they are old enough to start doing something, they are old enough to stop doing it.

Some other suggestions: Treat the child as an individual. Make the punishment fit the crime and the child. Don't pay for household chores, but it is all right to pay a child if you would have to pay someone else for the same thing. Try separating the primary, or perhaps the first three grades, at recess, but let older boys and girls learn how to get along together. Have high standards of dress and behaviour for school. Continue the Friday afternoon detention hour. Corporal punishment is forbidden by Wayland School Committee so discussion was academic, but parents present seemed to feel that it would do no harm.

A brief business meeting preceded the panel discussion and afterwards refreshments were provided by a group of mothers under hospitality chairman Mrs. Stephen Ahern.

Girl Scouts Run Parties

One of the parties which the Girl Scouts ran was that marking the eighth birthday of Vicky Charnock of Orchard Lane, on Jan. 24. In the first row, left to right, Linda Weiss, a Girl Scout, and Robin Charnock giving a birthday present to Vicky. Back row: Marcia Bandelin, Pam Lewis, Priscilla Bush, Betsy Sullivan, a Girl Scout; Melissa Paine, Jennifer Ryder and Hannah Gregory.

WAYLAND -- The terrors of the birthday party for small children, which used to reduce mothers to heaps of wilted rags and homes to shambles, may be eliminated by a simple little Girl Scout service, now in its second year, which is both unique and wildly successful.

What the girls do is take over the whole management of the party, for a small fee, while the mother may disappear, if she wants to.

Mrs. James Sullivan, who's the leader of Troop 27, says the inventor of this scheme was Mrs. Robert Clark of Glezen Lane. It was tried last year and worked. This year it is going even better.

Girls of this troop are 13 and 14 years old, in the 8th grade. There are 19 of them, living all over town, which cuts down on transportation.

When a mother wants to have a party for small children, say 4 to

WESTON -- Two High School seniors, Susan Bump, 17, and John Eric Reissner, 17, are among the 427 talented students in the country who have qualified in the first phase of the national Westinghouse Science Talent Search.

Miss Bump, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boardman Bump of 229 Ash Street, entered a project entitled "Purification and Electron Microscope Study of Fibrinogen of Some Lower Animal Species."

Mr. Reissner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Reissner of 15 Dogwood Road, submitted research on the "Effects of Tranquilizers on Conditioned Behavior Patterns in Mice."

All 427 qualifying students will be recommended for scholarships to colleges and universities and 40 of them will go on an all-expense trip to Washington, D. C., for a five-day national scholarship competition at the Science Talent Institute beginning Feb. 26.

WAYLAND -- Report cards covering the first half year for Junior and Senior High School students will be mailed Feb. 4, says W. M. Griffin, principal.

Insurance Rates In Wayland Reduced After Fire Survey

WAYLAND -- As of Jan. 20, fire insurance rates on private and public buildings in Wayland were reduced. This followed a survey of the town's fire protection facilities by the New England Fire Rating Association.

Previously Wayland was in Classification "7D". It is now in "6C".

Brokers were notified on Jan. 20 and householders who have fire insurance will get the benefit of lower rates, says Fire Chief Francis J. Hartin, as their insurance bills come due.

Local residents will benefit in two ways, he says, once as direct payers of insurance rates and also as taxpayers. The town owns properties worth several millions -- schools, Town Building, Cochituate fire station, library, etc. -- which will benefit by reductions. Just what the reduction will mean to individuals, in dollars and cents, he doesn't know yet, says the Chief.

Some months ago the needs of the Fire Department were studied by the Town Government Committee, which recommended to the Selectmen that the survey be made. The Selectmen then requested the survey.

The experts spent days in town, checking the water system, the apparatus, the training of fire fighters, the records, the fire alarm system and the inspection of buildings.

Aubrey Jones Is Director; Rules By Students and PTA

WESTON -- After four years of study, planning and cooperation by most of the organizations in town, the "Weston Teen Canteen" will open at the High School gymnasium on Saturday night, Jan. 31, with high hopes on the part of all concerned that the venture, first of its kind in the community, will be a big success.

The canteen, to feature dancing, games and refreshments, has been planned largely by students themselves, in cooperation with a PTA committee of which Mr. Ralph W. Child of 26 Valley View Road is chairman.

The rules are interesting:

A Meadowlark was seen Jan. 20 in the Case Field across from the High School by C. E. Smith; the Oregon Junco is still present (Gates); and Evening Grosbeaks are getting more plentiful every day! -- C.E.S.

House In Maiden Lane Wins Parents' Magazine Award

There are five houses, all much like the prize-winner, above, in a row on Maiden Lane. The Harris house is the
before the family moved in. (Harvey Studio)

WAYLAND — The Nicholas Harris residence at 54 Maiden Lane, near the Happy Hollow School, has been selected as a national award-winner in Parents' Magazine's competition for the "Best Home for Families with Children."

It was the only house east of the Mississippi so honored. Built by Edward Green and Harmon White of Newton from plans by Compton & Pierce, Cambridge Architects, the house was given special honors for its distinctive architectural treatment.

It is similar to those built at Peacock Farms and Peacock Hill, Lexington. It received the only first award given in the 1957
"Homes for Better Living" competition sponsored by the American Institute of Architects: and was honored by the American Home Magazine in its "Best House for the Money" citations and by House and Home Magazine in its "Housing Hall of Fame" selections.

In the detailed announcement of the awards in the February issue of Parents' Magazine, the jury notes that . . . "Indoors and out, the different levels follow the contour of the land, affording well related indoor and outdoor living areas. The family room, living room and sleeping areas are separated from one another on different levels, but by only six or seven steps. Each area enjoys privacy without losing a feeling of openness within the house."

The Harris house has three bedrooms, one and one-half baths and a large family room. Four other prize winning houses have been built on Maiden Lane in Wayland, some with minor variations.
"This house was planned for family living" says Harmon White plans and research director of the building corporation.

"We used personal interviews to find just what these families wanted. Some of their 'musts' were that the house should feel spacious, have a family room, provide private outdoor living, have plenty of storage, and be good looking. Flexibility in use was also very important: needs change when toddlers become teen-agers.
By omitting the garage we can modify the house to have five bedrooms and two baths for less than $25,000."

Mr. and Mrs. Harris moved to their new house last July 1. Their two children, Sandra Joy, 10, and John Nicholas, 7, go to the Happy Hollow School. Mrs. Harris says she likes the house.

Children's Exchange

WESTON — The Children's Exchange at the Jones House will be open on Tuesday, Feb. 3, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and every Tuesday, for the business of entering and selling good, used up-to-date clothing and tasty home-cooked food by Weston residents.

In order to make space for incoming Spring apparel, a clearance sale of heavy winter clothing on Feb. 10 will offer tremendous bargains, with proceeds going to the Exchange. Heavy winter garments not withdrawn on Feb. 3 will become the property of the Exchange.

All Weston residents are eligible for an account with the Exchange, and all profits made by the Exchange go into the Community Service and Scholarship Fund of The Community League.

cil. The banquet will feature Dr.
Herbert Gezork, President of Andover Newton Theological School, as speaker. Following the supper there will be square and modern dancing and a splash party. Tickets ing Rev. O'Donnell, TW 4-1143 or

Letters to the EDITOR

Rail Line For By-Pass?

To the Editor:

A recent letter to the Crier from Mr. Robert Schuette stirred the interest of an older Wayland resident who is a former employee of the Central Massachusetts Branch of the Boston & Maine Railroad. Years ago this branch carried 11 trains daily, each way, with seats enough for all passengers and courteous, efficient service. Fare was 31 cents from Wayland to Boston and the line made money.
Originally the line was built to serve passengers. The freight business came afterwards.

It would make interesting reading to dig into the dusty old files and find out just what obligations were assumed by the Central Massachusetts when it obtained its franchise, to see what land titles it obtained and how it was given the right to run its rails through farm land.

But if service is to be abandoned, there is a suggestion that the line might make a good right of way for the proposed Route 20 bypass.
Waltham wants to get rid of its Main Street traffic. The Central Massachusetts line might be followed from just northwest of Route
20 overpass over the Fitchburg Division lines, on the Watertown side of Waltham, through Weston, Wayland and Sudbury to the West.

Now that the railroad wants to abandon passenger service, let it make the abandonment complete by giving up the right of way, so that the State D. P. W., County Commissioners and city and town officials may use the roadbed for a more useful purpose, to relieve traffic congestion on the old Post Road.

Respectfully,
An Old Brass Pounder (James J. Bolton Sr., Wayland)

The Sunday Afternoon Walk Went Out With High Shoes

A young father, on a recent Sunday, was seen pushing a baby carriage, containing a baby, along one of the excellent motor highways in this neighborhood. It was a pleasant afternoon, the sun was shining, the noted clean suburban air was present and the landscape wasn't bad, considering that around here nothing looks good between Nov. 1 and April 15.

Yet people who saw the fellow passing by rushed to the telephones to report his presence.

"A pedestrian!" they told their friends.

Before long a busybody went out in his automobile and stopped the baby carriage pusher.

"Don't you know," said Long Nose, "that nobody pushes a baby carriage, or even walks, on these roads? In the first place, do you want to get mangled by a motor vehicle, and in the second place, haven't you heard the news? The Sunday afternoon walk went out of fashion back in 1899. Get yourself up to date, Buster."

So the father turned around and went home, thankful that the child was not old enough to realize that its parent had committed a social error.

This little incident, showing the shame which comes upon those who violate taboos, brings us squarely up against recreation, which has become as big a civic problem as the tax rate.

Recreation is a need which becomes apparent when a community gets so big and comfortable its inhabitants don't know what to do with themselves or their children.

Old Time Recreation Programs Featured Thumb Twiddling For Girls

It brings up a question which almost everybody finally gets around to asking himself.

"After I have worked 40 hours and earned a living, what do I do them?"

The old answer to that used to be. "Get a hobby. Collect stamps."

Collecting stamps is not everybody's dish. Neither is making furniture in the basement and cutting the thumb on a power saw.

Seventy-five or 100 years ago, in a rural community, recreation was no problem. Everybody had to work so hard 60 hours a week that just sitting down was a big treat. Always available were the simple country pleasures provided by woods and water, for boys and men, and thumb twiddling for girls, in whose entertainment nobody ever took much interest, except when they were between the ages of maybe 16 and 25, when a good many young men were always eager to ply them with recreation.

So now everybody lives on a lot not quite big enough to practise archery on, does just enough physical work to keep up his appetite, and has leisure. Moreover, his wife and children also have leisure. This is a three-point problem. 1. How to keep the old man occupied other than with glassware. 2. How to get his wife home from the League of Women Voters in time to cook dinner. 3. How to get somebody else to take care of the children.

The burden of this civic concern is mainly for young folks. What is Junior going to do after dark? Sit around home and discuss science

Mrs. Evelyn W. Nolte

WESTON -- Mrs. Evelyn W. Nolte of 16 Love Lane passed away Jan. 25 in the apartment of her son, George F. Nolte, in New York City, where she was spending the winter. She was in her 92nd year, and had been a resident and property owner in Weston since 1897, although of recent years she had occupied her home here principally in the summer. In addition to her son George, she leaves a son, Whitney R. Nolte of 88 Lexington Street, Weston; a grandson, Whitney R. Nolte Jr., of North Billerica; two daughters, Dorothea Nolte Kelley of Dallas, Texas, and Virginia Nolte Iverson of New York City, and three grandsons in Dallas, Texas.

WAYLAND -- The annual meeting of the Sudbury Valley Trustees, Inc., was scheduled to be held on Thursday evening, Jan. 29, 1959 at 8 p.m. at the new Nature Center Building, at Drumlin Farm Sanctuary of the Massachusetts Audubon Society.

with his elders, who don't know enough about the subject? Go for a nice brisk walk on an unlighted street and get knocked down by an adult coming home from a cocktail party? Read a book? (This latter suggestion has been ruled out as preposterous.) Or get a $150 jalopy and go roaming, probably in the direction of trouble?

Adult concern for juvenile recreation is based firmly on the parental conscience, which doesn't want the young to acquire adult habits until they are 21, at least.

Once upon a time people didn't even know they needed recreation, just as they never knew they needed bulbs until they got electricity. Now they have spare time and they have to find some way to fill it, other than with misbehavior. How this is done may some day become a measure of a community's quality.

Of course, after a program of ice cream has been planned for somebody else, it may turn out that he prefers fried clams. -- D.B.W.

Recently married to Ensign William D. Stratton, U.S.N.R., her home is temporarily in Athens, Georgia.

FIRE INSURANCE

The reduction in rates, says Chief Hartin, reflects the improvements which the town has provided in the Fire Department.

Chief Hartin says Wayland town property is insured for $3,800,000, although its replacement value is more than that. The newer schools and the Town Building are practically fireproof.

French For 4th Graders

WESTON -- Experimental courses in French for fourth graders, started for the first time in Weston at this level, began at Building B after regular school hours on Jan. 26, under the direction of Mrs. Warren Brecht. Attendance is voluntary and parents have to take care of transportation home. In the old days, pupils never had French until they reached the ninth grade. If this experiment works, says Supt. Anthony Brackett, the course will be expanded. Above, three of the first fourth-grade French pupils in Weston history. Left to right: Linda Dairiki, Jo Ann Castillo and Elaine Gowell. (McCann Photo)

WAYLAND -- Mr. John T. Howard of Concord Road, head of the department of city and regional planning at M.I.T., addressed a public meeting at Drumlin Farm, Lincoln, on Jan. 22, sponsored by the Lincoln League of Women Voters. The topic of Professor Howard's talk was "The Relationship of Lincoln to the Metropolitan Area."

A MESSAGE TO THE CITIZENS OF WESTON

Weston is one of the finest towns we know. But Weston is experiencing 'growing pains', so that unless we anticipate and act upon the needs and problems now facing the town, we shall soon find ourselves in the position of other towns which are paying heavily for their shortsightedness.

We have had excellent plans and proposals made concerning the development of Weston. They demand action now. This is the time when we must give full consideration and support to our long range plans for education; for recreation; for adequate police and fire protection for the whole town; and for safe driving conditions.

Let us seek an imaginative solution consistent with the long range interests of the town. I have confidence that if we townspeople are shown the need and given the facts, we will accept our responsibilities and move forward to better Weston.

Charles H. Wheelock Jr. Is Running For Selectman

WAYLAND -- Charles H. Wheelock Jr., opposing Archibald Cox for Selectman, was graduated from Weston High School. He operated the Colonial Garage in Weston from 1925 until 1957. He moved to Wayland in 1947.

The famous spring of Edmund Rice, one of the first settlers of the town, is on his property in Wayland.

In Mr. Wheelock's family are Charles Kelsey, who was graduated from Wayland High School in 1950;

Judith Kelsey, graduated from Wayland in 1952; Lynda Wheelock, now a senior at Wayland; Charles H. Wheelock 3d, who went to Wayland High before going into the Marines, and Paul A. Wheelock, who went to school in Waltham. Mr. Wheelock is a contractor and builder.

Re-Appraisal Is An Issue

WAYLAND -- George V. Deverell, former member of the Town Finance Committee who is now a candidate for Assessor, says he is in favor of a re-appraisal of town real estate by outside experts.

This is what was done in Weston some years ago, Mr. Deverell says he thinks Wayland would be better off with such a system.

Mr. William S. Lewis, running for reelection, says:

"As an assessor, I could not go before the town and ask for money to be spent on an outside appraisal firm when I feel that the present Board of Assessors is able to do the job relatively well. However, if the townspeople wish to employ such a firm, I would not oppose it."

Library Trustees Contest

WAYLAND -- There is only one contest for the three openings on the Board of Library Trustees -- that for the one-year term. Mrs. Charles T. Morgan (Helen C. Morgan) is unopposed for re-election to a three-year term and Mr. William Waldron is the only candidate for the other three-year term.

Candidates for the one-year term are Mrs. Frederick H. Newton (Ruth K. Newton) of Haven Lane, Cochituate, and Mr. Lawrence W.

Jones of Bow Road.

Mrs. Newton has been a resident of Wayland since 1950 and was employed at the Framingham Public Library for 2 1/2 years in a number of administrative and other capacities. She has three children.

Mr. Jones is a graduate of Harvard, class of '41. He served with the U. S. Cavalry from 1942-45 and is presently employed by General Composition Company, Boston, as a supervisor of editorial proofreading. He is secretary of the Shareholders Advisory Board for the Magnolia (Mass.) Public Library and has been a resident of Wayland since 1951.

TEEN CANTEEN

private school, in the grades 9-12 bracket, are eligible.

Membership card, $1.

Admission to the canteen, 25 cents. If anybody goes out and comes in again, another quarter. No parking lot activities.

A member may bring a guest, for $1. But the guest must sign in and the member will be responsible for him or her.

The Canteen is sort of out of bounds to members of the Weston High faculty.

A director, a police officer and a janitor will be on hand.

No cards, no gambling.

Appropriate school clothes will be worn. No leather jackets, no jeans.

Three sets of PTA parents are also expected to be present each evening the canteen is open. No youngster with alcohol on his breath will be admitted, and the parents who attend will also be expected to sustain themselves through the evening with only their natural fortitude.

Mr. Child says the plan is to have the Canteen open each Saturday evening, from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m., when there is no other general social activity on Friday or Saturday evening. Thus, a basketball game and dance Friday night, no Saturday canteen. This, says Mr. Child, is by request of the students themselves, who want only one general social evening a week.

Director of the Canteen will be Aubrey Jones of Merrim Street. Mr. Jones, once a noted athlete at Weston High School, is a graduate of Colby College and now a student at Boston University Law School. He has had experience as a Y.M.C.A. director and boys' coach at Waterville, Maine.

Three dates are planned for the February vacation: Feb. 21, 25 and 28. Variations of program are contemplated, with perhaps a disk jockey some night, or movies.

The Recreation Commission and practically all of the groups in town which have any concern about young people have had a hand in planning the Canteen. Last year Rev. Joseph E. O'Donnell of the Weston Baptist Church was chairman of a study committee, and he consulted everybody. This year the request for the Canteen came to the PTA. Mr. Child and principal Willard Smith of the High School were nominated from the PTA Executive Board. The High School Student Council was consulted, and it chose six students to be on a joint committee with PTA parents.

The students themselves set the fees and most of the rules, says Mr. Child, and Student Council members explained the Canteen to the whole school. Somewhere between 400 and 500 boys and girls are eligible for membership, and as of last Sunday 100 or more had already signed up. Somebody suggested that the Recreation Commission might find some money for the project, but the students said they'd rather make it self-supporting.

Parents on the committee:

Mrs. John Duffy, Mrs. Charles Chynoweth, Mr. Alan Johnson, Mr. Robert McIntosh, Mr. Gerard DeNapoli, Mr. and Mrs. David Greenlie and Mr. Ralph W. Child.

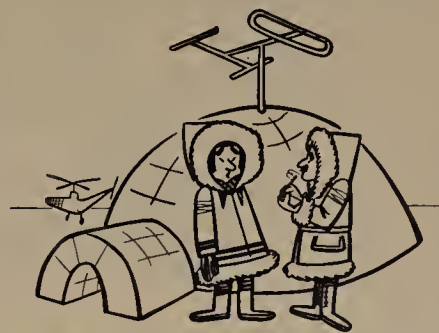

Students on the committee:

taken in this environment. The study includes information on temperature and wind profiles recorded at various heights up to 26 feet above snow surface and to depths of 26 feet below snow surface and air, a condition which influences larger scale weather patterns.

During his stay in Antarctica, Mr. Dalrymple was associated with many world famous scientists and explorers, including Sir Edmund Hillary, Sir Vivian Fuchs; Dr. Paul Siple, the late Sir Hubert Wilkins and others representing the many countries participating and cooperating in IGY.

Mr. Dalrymple received his BA degree in geography from Clark University and his MA degree from Syracuse University. Prior to his departure for the Antarctic, he was studying for his Ph.D. at Boston University. His interest in meteorology led him to work at various times at the Mt. Washington Observatory, the Harvard Blue Hill Meteorological Observatory and the North Atlantic Weather Patrol, so that he had already experienced some of the world's worst weather before going to the South Pole.

Mr. Dalrymple, 35 years old, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles O. Dalrymple, Port Clyde, Maine. He is married to the former Virginia Frith, Bermuda, B.W.I. and has a daughter, Ann, age 4. They reside at 7 Jennison Road.

7 years old, she may call Mrs. Arthur Weiss of Moore Road, who's in charge of this service.

The girls show up in uniform, one Scout for each five children. They serve the refreshments, direct the games and maintain order. The little ones are impressed by the uniforms and there's no trouble, and the Scouts themselves are young enough to get into the spirit of the party.

Since October, 1958, says Mrs. Sullivan, the Scouts have handled 20 parties, often two a week. The charge is 10 cents per hour per child, or $2 for 10 children for two hours. All the money, more than $60 since October, goes into the Troop's treasury and will be used for the April trip to Washington.

So far as Mrs. Sullivan knows, this party service is original in Wayland. A Scout leader from Hartford heard about it and asked if she could borrow the idea.

It is planned to continue the service indefinitely, with a new crop of 8th grade girls.

Stuart McGillivray Saw A Robin The Other Day

WESTON -- Stuart F. McGillivray, son of Mr. and Mrs. John O. McGillivray of 74 Loring Road, who has been making bird feeders and learning bird identification with Cub Scouts of Den 8, Pack 53, reports that he saw a robin near his feeder on Jan. 22.

Mrs. Charles L. Smith says

there are always a few robins around here in the Winter. They are the same as other robins but hardier. They go North from here in the Spring to breed, and this is South to them in Winter. She says she has had six reports of robins in Weston this season, but the Winter robins are not so often seen because they tend to live in sheltered places. As long as they get enough to eat they can stand the weather.

W. E. Bartel Scholarship Established In Weston

WESTON -- Ralph Child, new PTA president, opened the Jan. 22 meeting with an announcement of the William E. Bartel scholarship, to be given to the outstanding citizen of the High School senior class in memory of Mr. Bartel, this year's PTA president, who died in December. Contributions to the scholarship may be sent to Charles E. Applegate, PTA treasurer.

Principal Philip Wye outlined the changes in next year's Junior High program: seven periods of English instead of five (reading and language); three periods of French for everyone in grade 8; algebra for those in grade 8 who qualify; guidance for grade 7 as well as 8 with each parent receiving a progress report; an extended activity program; music to be elective; a new report card which will be made up by a committee working next month.

The Junior High orchestra played, under the direction of Robert Corley.

Court Of Honor Is Held At Wayland High School

WAYLAND -- The annual Court of Honor of Boy Scout Troop 1 was held at the High School on the evening of Jan. 21 with a large number of parents and friends attending. Ten boys were given their Tenderfoot badges at the traditional candle-lighting ceremony. Seven Second Class badges, five First Class badges, and ten merit badges for various achievements were also awarded.

Scoutmaster Robert Evans of Sherman Bridge Road reports that five boys, Don Fye, Eric Kather, Greg Keary, Bill McNally and Jeffrey Weeks, received enough merit badges that evening to make them eligible for the Star Scout Award.

Assistant Scoutmaster Lloyd Martin of Claypit Hill Road helped with the arrangements.

Mr. Williams served with the U. S. Navy in World War II and was a member of the Wayland Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He leaves his wife, Frances (Frazer) Williams and three sons, Philip of Waltham and Ralph and Richard of Lebanon, N. H.

Funeral services were held at the Wentworth Chapel in Waltham on Jan. 25 with burial in the family lot in the Lakeview Cemetery, Wayland.

Badminton Players Wanted

WAYLAND -- More badminton enthusiasts are wanted to join the group of players which meets at the High School gymnasium every Tuesday evening from 8 to 10, according to Mrs. William H. Wightman of Rich Valley Road, one of the organizers of the badminton evenings.

The only equipment needed is a racquet, a pair of sneakers (to protect the gym floor), and 10 cents per evening to cover the costs of the birds which are provided. The group is open only to adults but all adults are welcome even if they've never had a whack at a bird before.

Mrs. Wightman would be happy to be called (EL 8-2208) if further information is desired.

Wayland Postoffice Will Be In Village Shopper

WAYLAND -- Edward A. Veno, owner and builder of "The Village Shopper", new Wayland Shopping Center, announces that the lease with the U. S. Post Office was completed and signed on Jan. 30.

To date, leases have been signed with The Village Pharmacy, Finest Cleansers, Wayland T.V. Center, Newton-Waltham Bank & Trust Co., The Co-op Supermarket and U. S. Post Office. Negotiations are expected to be completed soon with a bakery. Also contained within the Center will be a beauty shop and a barber shop. There still remains one store space which Mr. Veno has not yet leased. He is at present undecided as to the most desirable type of store.

Despite adverse weather, construction has proceeded through the winter. Although the bitter cold has caused some delay, Mr. Veno states that the opening is still planned for spring. The roof trusses are expected to start arriving soon and immediate erection is expected to start on the large wing portion of the center.

A large plastic-covered enclosure 25 feet high has been constructed (18 ft. long) as a temporary shelter to enclose the exterior wall, within which the masons may continue to work despite the weather. This enclosure will be moved along on skids as the work progresses.

Stolen Goods Recovered Before They Were Missed

WESTON -- Police Chief Frank O. Shaw reports that articles worth $625, stolen by burglars at 1 a.m. on Jan. 13, were returned to their owner, Mrs. Harriet E. Colpitts of Colpitts Road, on the afternoon of Jan. 14, before she even knew they had been taken.

"But it doesn't always happen this way," says Chief Shaw, who urges people to put such valuables as silver, furs and jewelry in some safe place before they go away on vacations and leave their homes empty. Any guns they have may be stored in the safe at the police station, he says.

In this case Mrs. Colpitts was away when the burglars made their entry. They got in by breaking glass in the front door.

Next day, Weston officers Robert Millen and Harold Lingley, investigated. (Please turn to Page 6)

Town. Our children enjoy certain advantages in Weston which they may one day pass on to another community. It is our duty to train them in the role of leadership in community living so that our way of life may be perpetuated in the years ahead for the benefit of every town in these United States. Building young citizens of sound character to take their respective places in Town and government affairs is a major concern of every person."

Mr. Reilly is married to the former Mary Kathryn Mallers. They have six children; Russell L. 14, H. Garfield Jr., 13, Donald M. 11, Deborah A. 10, Barbara Sue 6, and Robert M. 3. All attend Weston schools.

WESTON -- Three Weston women have announced that they will be candidates at the Caucus of Feb. 9 for two positions on the School Committee. Mrs. Harry C. As J. Ward Carter, Town Executive Secretary, explains it, the Caucus will nominate only two. The one not nominated may of course run on nomination papers in the election. The two getting the most votes at the Caucus will receive the Caucus endorsement for the two positions.

Friends Plan Memorial To The Late Lawrence Collins

The geography corner of the new High School will be on the left as one enters the main lobby. The architect's sketch, above, gives an idea of how the alcove will look. The proposed globe is at the rear.

WAYLAND -- Friends of the late Lawrence F. Collins of Glezen Lane, who died last November, are planning to raise money to buy, in his memory, a big globe, to be placed in the geography corner of the library in the new Wayland High School.

The committee members have met with Mr. Edward J. Anderson, superintendent of schools, and discussed the project. Near the globe, which would be identical with the one in President Eisenhower's office, would be a plaque, stating that this is The Lawrence F. Collins Memorial.

Committee members think it appropriate that a memorial should be something to be used constantly by the young people of the town.

Those who would like to contribute may send contributions to the Lawrence F. Collins Memorial Fund, c/o Mrs. Kimball C. Powning, Wayland.

Dick Crouch To Run Again For Weston Welfare Board

WESTON -- Mr. Herbert (Dick) Crouch of 29 Hidden Road, now completing his fifth three-year term on the Weston Board of Public Welfare, announces that he will again seek reelection.

Mr. Crouch has lived in Weston since 1928 and has engaged in many civic activities. He was Red Cross fund chairman for eight years, has been active in Community Fund and March of Dimes drives and has been a member of the Friendly Society for 25 years and its president for seven years.

He is a charter member and past president of the Weston Rotary Club. He was CD transportation officer during World War II and he is a member of the Weston Post, American Legion. Through his business affiliation he has provided the car for the Weston High School Driver Training Program. He says he feels he is qualified to offer his services to the town of Weston again.

Letters to the EDITOR

Evening Grosbeaks

To the Editor:

Seven male evening grosbeaks
on my little window-sill feeder;
five crowded on the glass top,
two squeezed inside, all gorging avidly on sunflower seeds and fighting to stay on! Quite a sight!
Mrs. Leopold Gruener
Weston

For Mr. Langenbach

To the Editor:

From the newest family to arrive in Weston to the town's oldest settler we all have selected our town for what it is. We naturally want to entrust its future to experienced people. To the important office of selectman we must elect citizens of outstanding accomplishment who have shown their ability to solve town problems and to hold responsible positions in town government.

Edward R. Langenbach meets Weston's highest standards in these respects. As a six-year member and former chairman of the Finance Committee he instituted its long-range planning of capital expenditures and became familiar with the needs and operations of all town departments.

He was a leader in securing the impartial real estate revaluation which made the assessment system equitable for all residents.
He was a leader in developing our very successful Veterans' Housing system. He worked for improved job classification and salary policies for town employees. He provided valuable liaison work for the timely construction of two elementary schools.

Ed Langenbach has proved his ability for the office of selectman beyond doubt. We are indeed fortunate that such a capable and experienced person is willing to serve us.

We hope that Weston's voters will help to continue Weston's pattern of good government by attending the Citizen's Caucus Feb.
9 and voting for Edward R. Langen-bach.

Yours very truly,
Harry C. Crawford Jr.

Mrs. Corman Says

To the Editor:

To achieve and maintain excellence in education Weston must continually evaluate and search for ways to improve its system.

Excellent education requires excellent teaching. If one takes into account the critical shortage of teachers, it becomes apparent that Weston must always be on the alert to do everything possible to attract and keep the best qualified and most talented teachers. Such factors as salary schedule, work load, teacher housing, teacher-administration relationships, and teacher-parent relationships have a direct bearing upon the number of teachers who wish to teach in Weston.
The more Weston improves these factors the larger will be the pool of teacher applicants. This in turn will enable the school committee to be more selective. The end result will be better teachers for Weston.

Some questions that should be repeatedly asked are:

Does Weston need to raise its academic standards?

Are the schools doing everything possible to help every student realize his fullest potential?

While seeking answers to these and other vital educational matters, the school committee should provide a variety of ways to communicate with the citizens frequently and directly. Through a two-way communication system the school committee can interpret its thinking to the public, the citizens can express their ideas; and from this interaction will grow greater mutual understanding and unity of purpose.

Mrs. Smith Will Give Bird Talk To WCL Garden Group

about 10 years ago. It shows Mrs. Smith feeding a baby Baltimore oriole with a pair of tweezers. Looking on are two of her neighbors. Taller one is Martha Gross and the shorter one is Susan Gross, both of whom have grown up a good deal since this picture was made. The bird had fallen from its nest and had been taken to Mrs. Smith for care. She fed it until it learned the use of its wings, when it flew away.

WESTON -- The Garden Interest

tracting Birds To Your Garden".

been helping Scouts for many years with bird badge work.

Squirrels Steal Birdseed, The Furry Little Rodents

And If They Should Ever Decide To Eat
People, We're Done

The Russians are far away but the gray squirrels, equally furry, are nearer at hand and thus seem to many a more immediate local menace. In some cases the war between people and squirrels has replaced the war between men and women in the center arena. In other cases, the squirrel situation has merely intensified the conflict between spouse and spouse, the wife maintaining, naturally, that the squirrels are the husband's fault and that he ought to do something.

Now it should be established by this time that no husband is going to do anything, when ordered, in the voice once used by sturdy pioneer women to call the cows, to "Do something!"

Is there a man in the community with the sheer nerve to yell at his wife:

"Don't just stand there! Do something!"

It just goes to show how man has sold his birthright for a mess of women voters, but to get back to squirrels, of which there are more around here than Daniel Boone ever saw in the whole primeval state of Kentucky.

Some allege that gray squirrels are ornamental and even entertaining to watch. It is said that they are better looking than people, because they're never too fat or too thin and they're always graceful and they never pick their teeth in public.

But bird feeders hate 'em, because what the speckled pine grim-set likes the gray squirrel likes. This Winter alone, it is estimated, squirrels have eaten 11 tons of sunflower seeds put out for topaz egrets and ruffed least pigrets, and this irritates all except those who raise their own sunflower seeds and thus hang the expense.

The gray squirrel can climb and he can jump and he has hands and feet and a brain like a racket king, because he is a born thief. Rather, he knows nothing of mine and thine, but just takes his fun where he finds it, like those old troopers in Kipling who didn't know empires were going out of fashion, and where is Queen Victoria now? Why, hats like hers aren't even seen on Beacon Street any more.

the birds and nobody else can get in. This also, it is said, puts the squirrels into a thwarted fury. It has worked everywhere, they say, except at one place where the taxpayer of the home, a careless type, left a pair of wire cutters lying around out of doors.

Some years ago, when all this region was cleared and farming was in flower, squirrels were almost extinct. Now the country has grown back to trees and split levels, and squirrels have returned. They are already bold and indifferent to the presence of man. Perhaps it is just as well that they are able to steal so much birdfood. Let 'em get hungry and they might turn on people. Remember, they outnumber us. -- D.B.W.

TO: THE CITIZENS OF WESTON

From: Victor C. Harnish Candidate for Selectman

I would like to share with you my understanding of the main areas of responsibilities of the Selectmen in Weston. If you understand the full scope and nature of the job, you can make a more intelligent choice of candidates for selectmen.

The Selectmen have direct responsibility for fire and police protection and the maintenance of good roads throughout the whole town.

By virtue of their control of the budget they have cooperative responsibility with all other town committees for the scope and direction of town government in all its phases, including education, recreation, and planning.

The Selectmen have many special responsibilities such as prosecution and defense of court actions, purchase of land, purchase of all basic commodities used by the town, attendance at public hearings on the state level, making traffic rules and regulations, setting wage and personnel policies.

Finally, your Selectmen have certain areas of general responsibility such as (a) the establishment of sound financial policies, (b) the economical administration of town functions, (c) the establishment of healthy employee relationships, and (d) long range planning.

Because I am oriented by past experience toward serving my community, --25 years of active administration of community projects; and because I believe in meeting responsibility by constructive action, I solicit your support at the town Caucus on February 9 and at the town election in March for the office of SELECTMAN in Weston.

Boy And Girl Scouts Will Hold Joint Meeting Feb. 8

WESTON -- Sunday, Feb. 8, will be Scout Sunday in Weston for both Boy and Girl Scouts. Traditionally this patriotic observance comes at separate times for the two groups. However, the fourth law of both Boy and Girl Scouts reads in part "a friend to all". This is only one small parallel and Sunday will be symbolic of the friendly spirit shown by both as they meet together.

Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, Brownies and Cub Scouts will convene in the Town Hall at 9:30. Father Graf of Saint Julia's will give the invocation. The presentation of colors will be led by an Eagle Scout accompanied by color guards from both groups. The Lord's Prayer, led by Rev. Miles Hanson of the First Parish will be followed by recitation of the Brownie promise and the Girl Scout laws. The Scripture will be read by Rev. Alan Moore of the Methodist Church and prayer offered by Rev. Joseph O'Donnell of the First Baptist Church.

Cub Scouts will give their Cub-Scout promise and the Boy Scout oath and laws will be presented.

The speaker for the service will be Dr. Neil W. Swinton who has long been associated with the Norumbega Boy Scout Council. The benediction will be given by Rev. Dr. Chauncey of St. Peter's. Mrs. David G. Colt will be at the piano. Parents are invited.

Five Wayland High School Pupils On Radio Program

Seated, left to right: Roland R. Darling, moderator; William T. Shea, drugstore owner; Miss Helen Glynn, Wayland High Guidance Counselor, and Dr. Leroy C. Keagle, Dean of the New England College of Pharmacy. Standing, Dana Walston, Mac Perkins, Charlie Roehrig, James Sullivan, Meredith Hatch and John T. Fay Jr., instructor at Massachusetts College of Pharmacy. (Fay Photo)

WAYLAND — Two Wayland High School students, a freshman, Meredith Hatch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Hatch of 33 Amey Road, and a junior, James Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Sullivan of Orchard Lane, joined Miss Helen Glynn, the High School guidance director, on the radio program, "Careers For Teenagers," heard over WEEI on Sunday evening, Feb. 1.

The "Careers" program, one of a series, was on the subject, "Should I Become a Pharmacist?" The students questioned pharmaceutical experts on such topics as the kinds of college courses and lengths of training needed, aptitudes required, and the kinds of career possibilities and other advantages to be gained in this profession.

Dana Walston, Charlie Roehrig and Mac Perkins, 8th grade students, were guests on the program.

JAN. 27, 1959

League-leading Wayland had to come from behind in the last minute of play. Behind 28 to 34 at halftime, Wayland fought back, and with a minute left in the game was still behind, 43 to 44. Bruce Waldman then sank a basket and a foul shot to put Wayland ahead, and Jerry Wheelchel added two foul shots to insure the victory. The final score was 48 to 46, the visitors scoring as the final buzzer sounded. The Wayland JV's handed the Lincoln Sudbury JV's their first loss in 25 games.

Weston 64, Bedford 61

JAN. 27, 1959

Weston managed to down Bedford 64 to 61 all in the last minute of the game and then, with six seconds left, tallied the three winning points. Dunn swished 39 points, a career high for him and a league record this year. Jim Robbins was second high with 8 points, most of them in the last half.

Regional 75, Weston 45

JAN. 30, 1959

Weston had an off night while Lincoln-Sudbury couldn't miss. As a result Weston lost its second game of the season, 75 to 45. Terry Dunn, who has been averaging 27 points per game, was held to 12. In addition, Weston was hampered by fouls. The win put the fast moving Sudbury team in a second-place tie with Weston, each having won 4 and lost 2 in league competition.

Wayland 46, Ashland 33

JAN. 30, 1959

Wayland racked up its sixth straight league win and tenth victory of the season. Bob Regan was top scorer in a ruggedly played game. He collected 16 and Ed Marsh hit for 11. Lee Paton and Jerry Joyce each scored 12 points as the Wayland JV's also won, 52 to 28.

send flowers to mother

Among the resolutions you've made for the New Year, add a frankly sentimental one. Resolve to remember your mother on your birthday with a fragrant gift of fresh flowers. Whether she's near or far, this is a gesture that will strike a warm chord in her heart. It's a way to recall to her the wonderful feelings she had when she first held you in her arms. It's a way to express your thanks for all the love she showers on you, for the sacrifices she may have made. It's the unbeatable way to tell her again that you love her on this very special day.

Weston Cub Scouts Appear On Television

WESTON -- Den Four of the Weston Cub Scouts appeared on Big Brother Bob Emery's television program on Jan. 31. The smiles say the boys had a good time.

Mr. And Mrs. Bob Schultz Win Sports Car Event Cup

WAYLAND -- Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Schultz of 261 Cochituate Road placed first in a rally race for sports cars sponsored by The Touring Club of New England on Jan. 25. The obstacle was finding the shortest distance from check point to check point through six small towns in the Concord area. The Schultz's won with the minimum distance of 75.8 miles. "I do the driving," says Mrs. Schultz, "because I'm no good at mathematics. It takes real figuring to plot the distances and Bob is good at that. So he's the navigator. We never know what the route will be until we get the instructions at the start of the race. Then speed doesn't count, it's just a matter of figuring the distances. The miles are registered in tenths on the car's odometer and checked at every check point."

This kind of mathematical obstacle race is nothing new to Bob and Harriet Schultz. They drive a Volkswagon and race in the Touring Club events every month year round. Last year they came in 9th out of the top 10 for the best cumulative scores in 1958.

Another Wayland couple, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Wilson of Old Connecticut Path, also raced on Jan. 25 in their Mercedes, as did John W. Williams of Spring Hill Road in his Volkswagon.

Caucus Nominates Edward Langenbach For Selectman

WESTON -- The Weston Caucus, one of the largest and liveliest in several years, held Feb. 9 in Town Hall, gave its nomination for Selectman to Edward R. Langenbach, by 29 to 122 over Victor C. Harnish, the only other candidate named.

For School Committee, the nominations for two places went to Mrs. Boardman Bump and Mrs. Robert A. Weaver Jr., the latter up for reelection. The vote: Mrs. Bump, 337, Mrs. Weaver, 331 and Mrs. Harry Corman, 130.

For Public Welfare Board, Mr. A. Paul Hare, a sociologist, was given the nomination over Herbert "Dick" Crouch, who has been a member of the board for 15 years, by 235 to 134.

For Recreation Commission, there were four contestants for two places. John H. Underhill Jr. was given the second nomination by just one vote. The vote: J. Manton Bradley, incumbent, 250; Mr. Underhill, 184; Robert A. Townsend, incumbent, 183, and Robert J. MacMillan, 158.

Henry Wheeler 3d was chairman of the Caucus and J. Ward Carter was secretary.

All the balloting was conducted at the end of the meeting, in order not to have long delays in the middle of the proceedings.

WAYLAND -- Thirty-seven articles, many of interest but few likely to be controversial, and appropriations, highest ever, of $1,962,000, are to be considered at the annual Town Meeting of Wednesday, March 4.

The budget comes to $1,874,000 up $230,000 from last year. Articles recommended by the Finance Committee would add $27,000 more, and about $25,000 voted at a special Town Meeting, last December, would bring the total well over $1,900,000.

Chairman Robert M. Morgan of the Finance Committee provides the following pre-view of the Town Meeting agenda. Items:

A recommended increase of five per cent for all town employees, plus reclassification of some.

A proposal to wipe out the bad curves on Route 30 between Oak Street and the Natick line by rebuilding Route 30 south of its present line, across the land of Alexander and Martin Holmes. This would be a Chapter 90, two-year job, total cost $40,000, and would wipe out what has been called the "new Dead Man's Curve".

End Of Passenger Service Opposed By Local People

Back in 1885, when the railroad was new, commuters used to ride to Boston behind the steam locomotive. Now they have the pretty vehicle pictured above. Next on the schedule, no trains at all.

WAYLAND -- Town officials from Wayland, Weston and Sudbury, together with about 40 commuters who regularly use train service, registered their unqualified opposition to the Boston & Maine's current petition to close down all passenger service on the Central Massachusetts branch at a hearing in Wayland on Feb. 4. Service was severely curtailed about a year ago, with the number of trains to and from Boston cut from four a day to two.

D.P.U. Commissioner Roy C. Papalia presided at the hearing, which was called to order at 10 a.m. and declared closed at 1:30 p.m. Robert G. Bleakney Jr., counsel for the B. & M. railroad, said that the curtailment of all passenger service on this line is necessary in order to help reduce the railroad's 1958 deficit of $3,000,000.

Reduction in passenger service which the D.P.U. granted some months ago reduced losses from between 12 and 13 million dollars to 9 million, he said. The railroad is now seeking to reduce passen-

The Decay Of Love, Or Why Man Is On The Space Ship

Like Farming Around Here,
L'Amour Is Withering Away

In a nearby institution which shall be nameless it is reported that certain youngsters who have been holding hands in the corridors have been sentenced to remain 18 inches apart hereafter, a ruling which, at the valentine season, is a blow at love, which has been in a decline lately anyway. Connoisseurs of human behavior are nevertheless charmed and bemused by this measurement of decorum. More than one veteran of matrimony says, "Why didn't they have a rule like this when I was young?" Once upon a time the measurement was the proverbial ten-foot pole. Some others, less inhibited, have considered that the distance should be measured in millimeters, which maybe we're all coming to in this age of scientific exactitude.

The fact is, that although everybody preaches love, in practice love has stones thrown at it. Let Susie come home and say, "I think Joe is wonderful" and her mother promptly starts telephoning around to find out who is this Joe and are his parents solvent and does he get good marks and is it true that he has six toes on his left foot. In short, Ma in this instance is down on love.

But suppose Susie comes home and says, "Joe is a beast."

In this case Ma beams. She takes this statement as an indication that her daughter is a pretty level headed youngster, not a juvenile addlepate like so many of her contemporaries.

Yet look at the thing. To call a human being a beast is unfriendly, to say the least, even if he is a beast in the sense in which the word is now used by the young.

So the moral leaders of the community preach love but when the young folks take it seriously, there's the dickens to pay around the house. Never mind that life is much more agreeable when everybody is on wonderfully amiable terms with everybody else. It is understood that there is a limit to all good things, including love, and that it's better to be on snarling terms with some people.

As Ma says, when she hears a little gossip, "Now if that were my child..."

Some blame the decline of love on the League of Women Voters. Since women got the vote, it is alleged, they have become more interested in public affairs, such as who's running for town office and who does he think he is, than in l'amour. Besides, women have been educated to a point where they have opinions of their own, and nothing kills romance quicker than expression of a totally erroneous view on foreign policy.

No wife around here has said to her husband, "You're so right, dear," since Dec. 24, 1932, when one came home and said to her, "Here it is Christmas Eve and I'm flat broke."

Besides that, women now wear glasses and are thus able to perceive clay feet as far as they can see shoes.

This state of affairs, in which women have become filled with opinions on impersonal matters, has completely altered human relationships. Instead of fishing around for an invitation to take her glass in her hand, at a social affair, and stroll out to the conservatory to smell the flowers, the woman of today just sits there and whistles opinions on modern education or why we should love the natives of Tierra Del Fuego.

That's one reason all the men at the party are out in the kitchen. In fact, this sort of thing is practically shoving man off the earth. It may be noted that it's not an ever loving woman who's going to take the first ride in that space ship.

Love conquers all? Many a person, this week, will send out 50 valentines and not get a single bite. -- D.B.W.

Junior Town House Gym Class Has Trampoline

WAYLAND -- Popular added attraction at the Junior Town House Saturday morning gym class this Feb. 14 and every Saturday thereafter will be the new trampoline which was donated to the High School last week.

The trampoline, a gift of Mr. Robert C. Codman of Rich Valley Road in memory of his late wife, Anne Bullard Codman, was presented on Thursday evening, Feb. 5, with a demonstration by the University of Connecticut's trampoline team before an audience of students, parents and teachers. Mr. Abbott Reed of the Sudbury-Lincoln Regional High School, instructor for the Town House classes and a trampoline expert himself, was one of the performers.

The Town House gym program is held from 9 to 12 on Saturday mornings at the High School gym and is open to boys and girls of the 7th and 8th grades. Besides the new trampoline specialty, skills in high bar, side horse, tumbling, and hand-balancing are taught. Instruction is also given in both girls' and boys' basketball, volleyball, badminton and bowling.

Miss Betsy Lundy, who helped with the Arts and Crafts summer program, is assisting Mr. Reed with the sports and games. The entire program is supervised by Mr. Walter B. Parker Jr., of Old Connecticut Path, assisted by Mrs. James E. Sullivan of Orchard Lane.

WAYLAND BUDGET

Finishing installation of sprinklers in the high school by using $15,000 saved by school building committees and adding $1500 of new money.

Article 14 calls for re-appraisal and continuing appraisal of property in town by outside experts. This is the system Weston has. The proposal came up last year and was beaten, 399 to 109. It would cost about $24,000, says Mr. Morgan, and the Finance Committee is against it, on the ground that the present Assessors are doing a good job. A leading advocate of the change is Mr. George V. Devorell, a former member of the Finance Committee.

A proposal to reconstruct half of Moore Road, now a gravel road. A proposal to make a new layout of Pelham Island Road from the Center to beyond the bridge over the river, including particularly rebuilding (and raising three feet) of a section which will be carrying heavy traffic when The Village Shopper is completed.

A proposal to appropriate an unspecified sum of money for rubbish disposal. The Finance Committee is against it on the grounds of probable cost. Besides, says Mr. Morgan, "This proposal would wipe out a notable social institution." A note in here somewhere is that "Rubbish has no appreciable salvage value, as in the case of garbage."

A proposal to change from 30,000 square feet to 20,000 square feet the zoning requirement for lots in a large area lying roughly between Loker Street and Rice Road.

An article asks the town to accept as public ways, at no cost, these streets: Bayfield Road, Marshall Terrace, Highrock Road, Reservoir Road, Black Oak Road, Highgate Road, Holbrook Road, Red Barn Road, Gray Birch Lane, Tally Ho Lane, Orchard Lane, Mellden Lane and Three Ponds Road. This article represents something new, in that the Planning Board initiates it, instead of leaving it up to the abutters to make the move. Several miles of new road would be added to the town at one stroke by this proposal.

An article would have the town accept the new piece of road from Stonebridge Road to the new bridge over the Sudbury River, and name it Potter Road, to match the name of the street on the Framingham side of the river.

A proposal to authorize the Selectmen to set a speed limit of five miles an hour on the Sudbury River.

ger losses by $1,000,000. The proposed elimination of all passenger service on the Central Massachusetts line would mean an annual net saving of about $87,000.

Three witnesses for the railroad were questioned and cross-examined by attorneys representing Wayland, Weston, Sudbury and other interested groups. Frank Kilburn and Roger Stokely represented Wayland; Grant Palmer Jr., a commuter of 40 years' standing, spoke in opposition as town counsel for Weston; and Judge Edward T. Simoneau, town counsel for Sudbury, made a strong plea for continuing passenger service. Judge Simoneau also criticized the manner in which such petitions are filed and heard, with the towns concerned having no opportunity to have expert surveys of their own made to refute the railroad's testimony.

Wayland town counsel Frank Kilburn argued that the railroad had failed to show that there is comparable alternate bus service for users of the train.

Representative James DeNormandie of Lincoln made a strong plea for "keeping what we have left". Commuters beyond Waltham have no comparable or adequate transportation into Boston, he said, and while he realized that the railroads needed help and that it would be forthcoming somehow, he does not feel that any further curtailment should be permitted at this time.

J. Ward Carter, Weston executive secretary, offered for the record sentiments expressed at a meeting in Weston on Jan. 12, concerning both the elimination of all service for passengers from the Weston station and some proposed changes for Silver Hill, Stony Brook and Kendal Green. Strong objections were made to taking off the 8:45 a.m. train from Kendal Green, he said, and he submitted a long list of names of regular commuters who would be affected by the change.

Among those expressing opposition to the curtailment were the following: Sudbury Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Harvey Fairbanks; Wayland residents Charles James, George I. Emery, John C. Bennett, Paul Foskett, Warren Moulton, Fred Heinrich, Jean Koe, Richard Potter and William Tolman.

versity in 1926. Following graduation, he became a special agent dealing in fire insurance in Arkansas and Mississippi.

In 1931 he joined the John Hancock as office manager of the Little Rock General Agency. In 1934, he became a special agent of the company, and later joined the home-office general agency department as an agency assistant. In 1941, he became general agent in Cincinnati, where he served until 1950 when he returned to the home office of the John Hancock as manager of the general agencies. In February, 1951, he was elected a second vice president.

He has been a member of the finance committee of the Town of Wayland and is a past president of the Vokes Players, Inc. He is active in the Duxbury Yacht Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Vinsonhaler have three children. Jane Boyd Koch, Nancy Rea and Emily Meade.

All Phones In Wayland Are To Be Listed In One Book

WAYLAND -- Archibald Cox, Chairman of the Wayland Committee on Town Government, announces that the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company has agreed to list all residential telephones within the geographical limits of Wayland under the name of Wayland in the next directory without specific request or an additional charge. Commercial users will be required to pay for any double listing as in the past.

Residents who have Olympic numbers will also continue to be listed under Natick. Those who have Trinity numbers will continue also to be listed under Framingham. Thus the residential phones of people falling in these groups will receive a double listing under both Wayland and Natick or Wayland and Framingham without additional expense. Those who have Elmwood numbers will be listed only under Wayland, as in the past.

This problem was referred to the Committee on Town Government at (Please turn to Page 11)

Dick Crouch Will Run

WESTON -- Herbert "Dick" Crouch says he wants to thank all his friends who supported him at the recent Caucus for reelection to the Weston Welfare Board. Although the result was unfavorable, he says, he has taken out nomination papers and his name will be on the ballot as a candidate at the election in March.

Committee On Highways Hears Bypass Proponents

WAYLAND -- A forceful and favorably-received presentation of arguments by officials of Wayland and Sudbury in favor of Senate bill 137 for a Wayland-Sudbury bypass and weak opposition by the representative of the State Department of Public Works were features of the hour-long hearing at the State House on Feb. 10 before the legislative Committee on Highways and Motor Vehicles.

The bill, co-sponsored by Senator Charles Olson of Ashland, Senator William Hays of Waltham and Representative James DeNormandie of Lincoln, instructs the State DPW to construct a bypass from Wayland to Sudbury.

Senator Olson, who is chairman of the Senate Committee on Highways, sat in on the proceedings and asked a number of questions. There was pointed interrogation and comment from some other committee members, one of whom interrupted Wayland Selectman Frank Tarr to declare outright that he was planning to vote favorably on the proposal.

Rep. DeNormandie was the first speaker in favor of the bill. He then introduced Wayland Town Counsel Frank Kilburn and other Wayland and Sudbury officials. Selectman Tarr outlined the history of the town's efforts since 1945 to press for a bypass and the promises and excuses with which they had been met although, as he pointed out, several study routes

Parmelee Hill Gets Plaque At Blue And Gold Dinner

WAYLAND -- A plaque was presented as a surprise award to Mr. Parmelee C. Hill of Sedgemoor Road at the Blue and Gold Dinner held at the Congregational-Trinitarian Church by Cub Scout Pack #1 on Feb. 18 for his "outstanding work as Cubmaster during the last two years." Mr. and Mrs. Hill had been invited to attend as guests representing the Junior Town House with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Merrell of Red Barn Road who represented the Boy Scouts.

Prizes were given to the four boys who had been the best salesmen of Cub Christmas wreaths in December: Jack Hewitt, Keith Lehman, Kennedy Richardson and Scott Rossborough.

Many awards were made to individual Cubs and entertainment was provided by Mr. Edward Goulet, a member of the Amateur Magician's Society.

Boy Scout Troop #1 celebrated National Boy Scout Week the previous Monday, Feb. 9, with a Father and Son Banquet attended by 91. Colonel Joseph R. Waterman of the U. S. Air Force, chief of the Lincoln Project Office of the Cambridge Research Center, spoke on "S.A.G.E. - The Continental Air Defense System Against Enemy Attack."

Papers, pencils and books were thrown down from the interior of a supply closet. (McCann Photo)

WAYLAND -- A good deal of malicious mischief, which stopped short of outright destruction, was done by vandals inside the Trinitarian Congregational Church on the afternoon of Sunday, Feb. 15.

Police Chief Ernest H. Damon says he is looking for boys about 12 or 13 years old.

So far as anybody could remember, no such case of desecration of a church had ever before occurred in town.

Hymnals were flung the length of the main church. The aisle was almost completely covered with sheets of choir music, thrown every which way. The wooden cross on the table under the pulpit was laid flat. Two flags which stand beside the pulpit were placed in leaning positions in the pulpit. A tall stool which usually stands inside the pulpit was placed on top

Victor Harnish Will Not File Nomination Papers

WESTON -- Mr. Victor C. Harnish of 327 Boston Post Road, who lost the nomination for Selectman to Mr. Edward R. Langenbach at the Caucus by a vote of 294 to 122, has announced that he will not file nomination papers. He says:

"I think the citizens' Caucus at which 500 were present on Feb. 9 was a representative group of those who cared enough about town government to come out and express themselves.

"I think that meeting gave a very strong vote of confidence to Mr. Langenbach and I think that if I were to extend the contest by filing nomination papers it would tend to accentuate differences between groups in Weston, and that would not be in the best interest of the town."

WAYLAND -- The newly formed Lions Club of Wayland held its dinner meeting on Monday, Feb. 16, at Lobster Haven, with A. C. Urbinati, a Connecticut State Senator and Special Representative Lions International, presiding.

Sen. Urbinati explained the aims and purposes of the Lions, "primarily a service organization". Those interested in becoming members, it was announced, may call Dr. Alfred A. Sharpe, the president. Next dinner meeting will be Monday, March 2, at 6:30 p.m. at Lobster Haven.

Among those present were Dr. Sharpe, Lee Covington, 1st vice president; Dan DiSenso, secretary; Bill O'Connell, treasurer; Herbery Holroyd, tail twister; Herman A. Cleval, Ken Throckmorton, James D'Amato, district governor, Edward Marshall, deputy district governor; Paul Saint, deputy district governor; Dr. Reno Orsi, president of the Maynard Club, and Paul Badger of Maynard.

Letters to the EDITOR

Thank You Note

To the Editor:

Many thanks to the staff of the Town Crier for their full support in the recent Weston Council of Churches University of Life program. The publicity which was given helped us reach a registration of 400, the largest since the first year of this program in 1951.

Our committee is grateful to everybody who purchased tickets, to those who worked in and for the program, and to those who are asking questions about next year's program.

Sincerely yours,
Joseph E. O'Donnell Jr., Chairman, University of Life Committee.

The Railroad Again

To the Editor:

I read with great interest the letter written by James J. Bolton, Sr., which appeared in the Jan. 29 issue of the Town Crier. I think that serious consideration should be given to improve traffic conditions by the utilization of the right of way of the Central Massachusetts Branch of the Boston & Maine Railroad running through Weston, Wayland, Sudbury, et cetera, for the proposed Route 20 By-Pass.

I have been interested in the traffic problem for some time, as is evidenced by my letter printed in the Town Crier on Jan. 30, 1957. My suggestion at that time was to help relieve traffic on Route 20 by running a special rail service from Waltham to the Wayland Raytheon laboratory. The Raytheon executives were sufficiently interested in my letter to take up my suggestion with the Railroad and wrote me subsequently that the Railroad would not consider this suggestion as they did not want to make any change in their service.

Weston station, 1906

If the Railroad does not want to keep passenger service in any form and observation shows freight service is very infrequent, it would appear that they will abandon all use of this line.

I think that Mr. Bolton's suggestion of using the right of way of the Railroad should be considered by the proper authorities. I have been entangled personally in the very bad traffic conditions in Wayland center and along the Post Road in Weston and I feel very strongly that the solution of this problem involves more than Wayland center as I pointed out in my letter of Jan. 30, 1957. Relief is urgently needed all along the Post Road through Weston and Wayland.

I realize there are several desirable grade separations but they may be less expensive than grade-separations on some other By-Pass locations. I believe this Railroad right of way should become a limited access highway designed for through traffic from Waltham or Route 128 to Wayland and beyond leaving Route 20 for local traffic.

Sincerely yours,
Charles P. Gorely, Jr.

Hoggerel About Hog Reeve

"Constant Reader", the editor's delight, sends in a pleasant note and some verse, called "hoggerel", inspired by a recent piece in the Crier about the honorable and ancient position of hog reeve. It follows the rhythm of "In Days of Old, When Knights Were Bold", and it is entitled, "The Hog Reeve". It goes like this:

In days of old, when men were bold,
And hog reeves held their sway,
One hog reeve rude with bag of food,
Sang lustily his lay,
Sang lustily his lay -

"That hog is old and fat, but what cares he for that?
With snout so long and hooves so strong,

He's agile as a cat,
He's agile as a cat.

"He tramples flowers and fruit;
he hogs both corn and root.
While on the loose he beats the moose

At ruining crops. The brutal
The brutal The brutal The brutal

"My office is noble and high; I must lure that pig to his sty.
With a bucket of hogwash and mish-mash and pie -

I'll catch that hog or die,
I'll catch that hog or die.

"Come swine, with me; the food you see

Will make a tasty tea.

Come on, old soak; this is no joke."
The pig is back in his poke,
The pig is back in his poke.

Horsing Around With Baby, Or Why Vaudeville Is Dead

Child Care Is OK, But Not The Quality Of Child Entertainment

Some critics say that the kind of adult coming through nowadays is pretty odd, and there are suggestions that child raising isn't being done in just the way it should be, and that's pretty easy to say because everybody thinks he knows how to raise children, just as everybody knows how to run the government or the baseball team or the railroad or especially a newspaper.

But there's a dissenter who says it isn't so much the raising of children which makes them grow up strange as it is the entertainment of children.

In the presence of babies and small children, says this observer, the ham in the average adult appears as prominently as a 12-pound roast of pork on a saucer.

Seeing a child, the adult is seized with a desire to entertain it. This urge grabs parents, grandparents, uncles, aunts, friends and in-laws. It is an amiable variation of the compulsion of the hawk to pounce on a chicken, just because the latter is defenseless and looks good enough to eat.

In the simplest form, this entertainment takes the form of physical violence. For some reason, a year-old baby will laugh madly when butted in the stomach by a bald head. And small ones, when in good health, seem to enjoy being rolled on the floor. Or whirled end over end, or captured when they try to run.

Certain adults like to practise the good old chuck under the chin. In fact, some think this is still pretty entertaining when the babe gets to be 25 years old and attractive in a different way. Unfortunately, the Supreme Court has not yet clarified the law on this activity, so it's not determined whether the chuckee is entitled to bat the chin chucker with the heel of a shoe.

Another phase of this matter is that children absolutely refuse to use playthings in the way in which they're supposed to be used. They won't follow the directions, which say, for example, that a handsome tower can be built with blocks. Baby, the little square, will build nothing with the blocks. He will use them as hammers to break Christmas tree ornaments, and that's all.

The lesson to be learned from this is that it's pretty silly to buy toys costing $14.98 for a child who'd rather bang two cooking dishes together. Put the money in the bank until the tot is about 17 and then buy him something big he can misuse, such as a convertible.

Peculiar facial expressions are another device of adults for entertaining babies. These might do the business - they are funny enough - but they are more likely to evoke screams.

In fact, babies don't mind noise and seem to enjoy yelling. Perhaps they secretly enjoy being frightened, as their elders do by ghost stories. But in general funny faces and Halloween masks are not advised as entertainment props.

Feeding is another way to entertain babies. Give them lollipops, bites of ice cream, scraps of hot dog, slices of pickle, bits of cake or pie . . . This is all right unless the child's mother happens to be a crank on diet.

Babies are said to be growing up bigger and healthier than ever before, but educators and others continue to express concern about their personalities and attitudes. It's just possible that they are all suffering as a result of shocks administered to their nervous systems by well meaning adults who have been trying to entertain them. A juvenile delinquent may be a child who was the target of goo-goo talk from gurgling female relatives, and the slow reader may be a boy whose uncles rolled him around on his head on a floor in the name of amusement.

When they say vaudeville is dead, they mean it's dead everywhere except on Sunday evening TV shows and in homes where there are babies to be horsed with. - - - D.B.W.

Wayland 39, Regional 35

FEB. 13, 1959

In a well-played defensive game, Wayland beat Lincoln-Sudbury 39 to 35. Bob Regan was not only top scorer but he stood out on defense as he was all over the court, blocking shots and grabbing rebounds. Joe Devine and Ed Marsh also stood out in the rebounding department, and each chipped in 5 points, as Wayland closed out the league season with a perfect 10 wins, no loss record. It was a nip and tuck battle that was not decided until the last minute of play when Bill Haywood dropped in a basket and foul shot. The Regional J.V.'s handed the Wayland Jayvees their first league loss, 25 to 20.

Rombas Affiliation Notes

WESTON -- Miss Susan Toner, Weston's scholarship student spending the year in Rombas, France, and attending the College de Rombas, lived with the family of Monsieur Armand Nass, Mayor of the town, until Christmas. During the Christmas holidays, Susan visited an aunt in Hamburg, Germany, and since her return to Rombas, she has been living with the family of our Rombas scholarship student in Weston, Mlle. Francette Cilly, where she will remain for the greater part of her stay in France.

One of the highlights of Susan's visit to France was the kind invitation by the Nass family to spend about a month with them at their Villa at St. Aygulf on the Riviera.

On Jan. 2, Mlle. Francette Cilly left the family of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Murphy, with whom she had been living since her arrival here, to go to live for some weeks with the family of Mr. and Mrs. Boardman Bump on Ash Street.

Grateful appreciation is expressed to all persons and organizations who helped to make the sale of Affiliation Christmas cards such a great success and to Mrs. John L. Kronenberg who designed them, as well as to Miss Emma F. Ripley who supplied the historical notes. More were sold than ever heretofore; more than 7,400 out of the 8,000 printed.

At a recent meeting of the Weston Affiliation Committee, Mr. L. Whitman Smith was named chairman to replace former co-chairmen, Mrs. Frederick D. Bonner and Mrs. Albert R. Speare. Mrs. Bonner was made recording secretary, and Mr. Winslow Cobb III was named to continue as treasurer. New members of the Committee are Mrs. Robert S. Shaw and Mrs. George H. Blackwell.

FIRST PARISH MEMBERS

WAYLAND -- Welcomed into membership at the First Parish Church on Feb. 1 were Miss Martha Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Smith of Parmenter Road; Mrs. Richard W. Luce Jr., of Snake Brook Road, Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Hanson of Highgate Road and Mr. and Mrs. George P. Little of Rice Spring Lane.

Local Water Resources Are Discussed At Jones House

WESTON -- Two prominent figures in state and regional planning spoke to a filled Jones House ballroom, at a meeting sponsored by the Weston League of Women Voters and the Weston Forest and Trail Association on the evening of Feb. 11.

Mr. Charles H. W. Foster, one of the candidates for the post of Commissioner of Natural Resources recently vacated by Francis W. Sargent, spoke of water problems in Massachusetts.

Flood control is at last recognizing the value of taking building developments away from flood levels, rather than in concentrating on taking floods out of buildings. He cited the Town of Wayland as being one of the first towns in the metropolitan area to recognize and act on this principle by appropriate zoning.

Prof. Charles W. Eliot named Weston as one of the towns in the Commonwealth, recognized in planning circles, as providing leadership in municipal land use and open space preservation. It had been demonstrated, he said, at the time he had charge of planning the environs of the national capital Washington, that river, brook and pond preservations provided the maximum addition to the amenities of a neighborhood, at the minimum cost to developers and taxpayers.

In Weston, he pointed out, three main brooks, Paine's Brook, Cherry Brook and Stony Brook, were almost ideally situated for such preservation purposes, and that the preservation of Stony Brook throughout its course in Lincoln was being given serious study there.

Mr. Foster in reply to a question on mosquito control, pointed out that the work being done by Dr. Robert J. MacMillan of Wellesley Street in Weston, and his associates in Wildlife Conservation Inc., on a demonstration marsh management area in Wayland, with help of funds from the Carling Brewery, was already yielding know-how and techniques by which preservation of wetlands and mosquito control could work together and supplement each other with considerable saving of chemicals, time and money.

Chairman Morgan, who thinks that, although municipal costs will remain high for a while yet, the end of the financial transition of Wayland from country town to big modern suburb is in sight.

The Community Chorus announces that Mr. and Mrs. William Moyer of Wayland will assist in two newly created positions. Mr. Moyer will serve as head of the scholarship committee which will select a promising student of music from the local area to receive the first such scholarship given by the Chorus. Mrs. Moyer has been named assistant-director and has already assumed her duties under Mr. Chester W. Williams, director of the Chorus.

Mr. Moyer, second trombonist with the Boston Symphony since 1952, was born in Oberlin, Ohio. He started his musical career at the age of 12, and entered Oberlin College and Conservatory in 1947. His studies interrupted by a year of service with the U. S. Army, Mr. Moyer returned to Oberlin and completed his studies in 1952. He was appointed to his present position with the Boston Symphony Orchestra later the same year.

Betsy Moyer was born in Chapel Hill, N. C. She attended the University of North Carolina and Oberlin Conservatory and College from which institution she holds both a Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Music degrees. Mrs. Moyer is currently co-director of the children's choirs of the First Parish Church in Wayland.

New names have also been added to the membership roster since the Spring term of the Chorus year began on Jan. 12. The Chorus welcomes as new members Mrs. Blanche McLane of Weston, Mrs. Robert Hitchcock of Wayland and Miss Constance Crook of South Lincoln. The Chorus also welcomes Mr. and Mrs. John Gregory, Wayland, and Mr. Albert Hughes, Wayland, as former members returned.

Members continue to extend to all those interested in joining them, without tryouts, an invitation to come to rehearsals each Monday evening at 8 p.m. at the High School, Wayland.

WAYLAND -- Mr. William L. Maini, 107 Woodridge Road, a partner in the architectural-engineering firm of Symmes, Maini & Hryniewicz of Cambridge, lectured on Feb. 12 and 17 to Winchester High School juniors and seniors interested in building engineering.

Mr. Maini, who received his S.B. and S.M. in Building & Engineering Construction from M.I.T., is also a former member of the teaching staff of M.I.T. Besides his present practice, he is an instructor at the Boston Architectural Center.

Man's God-given dominion over the bondage of materialism will be emphasized at Christian Science Services Sunday.

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (307:25): "The divine Mind is the Soul of man, and gives man dominion over all things, Man was not created from a material basis, nor bidden to obey material laws which Spirit never made; his province is in spiritual statutes, in the higher law of Mind."

The Golden Text is from Romans (11:34, 36): "Who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? . . . For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever."

He has two sisters, Sandra, a student at Wayland Junior High, and Joanne, a student at Happy Hollow, Nita Barker's Dance Studio and Natick Art Association. Peter is expected home soon for another leave.

WESTON -- John P. Pooler, Class of '62, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Pooler of 88 Church Street, has recently been named to Brown University's Dean's List for his high scholastic standing. A graduate of Weston High School he is a candidate for the Bachelor of Science degree in physics. He is also a member of the Concert Band at Brown.

Weston Cooks Use Exotic Recipes For WCL Bazaar

WESTON -- Foreign cooking will be the feature of the Food Bazaar preceding the March 2 meeting of the Women's Community League of Weston. Good cooks, working enthusiastically with Mrs. Raymond Coburn as chairman, are tracking down every possible exotic foreign food specialty in Weston and persuading gourmets to donate recipes and examples of their art to be sold for the benefit of the Foreign Student Hospitality Committee.

The Bazaar, complete with costumes and a actual cooking demonstrations, will take place before and after the open meeting of the League. The purpose of the meeting is to acquaint the public with the foreign student programs in Weston and nearby communities as well as in Europe.

Everyone in town is invited to be a guest of the League at the Bazaar and meeting and to stay for the tea and reception which will follow. At this time there will be opportunities to speak with five global students and two Weston girls who will have presented at the meeting first hand accounts of their experiences as foreign students.

Country Garden Club Makes Gift To School Group

WESTON -- The Country Garden Club of Weston has donated a sum to the Weston High School Biology Club, whose teacher and director is Mr. Irving C. Keene, "to further conservation education in Weston". In a letter of thanks, the Biology Club reports it plans to build a Nature Trail on the town land side of the Arnold Arboretum property. They plan "to label trees, shrubs, wild flowers, soil groups and animal habitats," and the Trail will serve both the elementary schools and the High School.

WAYLAND -- Mr. Harold E. Belles of Westway Road returned home on Feb. 11 after a hospital stay of nearly five weeks. Although much recovered, he will still be confined to his home for another few weeks.

WESTON -- Barbara Farnsworth, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Farnsworth of 169 Ridgeway Road, has been awarded Dean's List honors at Lasell College for outstanding scholastic achievement during the first semester of the current academic year.

Wayland Committee Favors Direction Of Recreation By Unpaid Volunteers

WAYLAND -- The Recreation Advisory Committee, authorized by the March Town Meeting a year ago and appointed by Moderator Howard S. Russell, has prepared its report, which contains these points:

"... At the present time the recreational needs of Wayland are being met in a satisfactory manner. . .

"We . . . recommend that the direction of recreation by the present unpaid volunteers is by far the best plan for the town now. . .

"The only difficulty with the recreation program in the past has been a matter of scheduling. To avoid this in the future, we recommend that all organizations and groups clear their schedules with the Park Department Secretary. . .

"... Playground and recreational areas. . . should continue to be developed on the decentralized school sites as well as the other town facilities. . ."

A rifle training course is now an existing function under the School Department.

"At least one volunteer group" is now investigating the need for a teen canteen.

No more land should be purchased for beach use. The existing bathing area at Lake Cochituate could be tripled on town land, if necessary.

No "Tot lots". Cost too much, and mothers interviewed said they wouldn't let their small children go so far from home to play.

"It is of the utmost importance to preserve the rural aspects of Wayland. . . zoning plan as now supported by the townspeople should be continued without change. . .

"... We believe that it is important to promote the gifts to Wayland or to private groups like the Sudbury Valley Trustees of marsh lands and town forestlands. Especially important, we feel, is the necessity of preserving a 'green belt' along the Sudbury River Valley. . . We do not recommend that the town purchase such lands at the present time. . .

"It is recommended that this committee be continued for further study."

Membership of the committee, as appointed by Mr. Russell last April: Theodore R. Magoun, chairman; Joseph J. Joyce, Harvey C. Newton, Mrs. Edward A. Veno and Mrs. Donald B. Willard.

William M. Cahill Jr. and Robert S. Patton have been elected assistant treasurers of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, while Louis A. Attardo has been elected assistant auditor, according to an announcement made recently by George L. White, president of the bank.

One of the common pleas of the one-call, high-pressure salesmen in selling questionable or fraudulent promotions or schemes, is "get in early"; "get in on the ground floor"; "take it before it's all gone," etc.
Very often the salesman is the "early bird" after the worm, but remember it's often true that "the early worm gets caught." Get the facts -- Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Boston.

VANDALS

of the reading desk of the pulpit. In the nursery, crayons, papers and draperies were strewn on the floor.

In the kitchen, the floor was streaked with gobs of mustard. Shreds of lettuce were on the floor. The stove was covered with salt.

Fellowship Hall, which has windows facing on Cochituate Road, was not disturbed. Papers and books were thrown down from the Sunday School supply closet. A tall floor lamp was laid on its side on the floor, but not broken. In the Stone Chapel, a music rack was broken.

The damage occurred sometime between 1:50 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

At the earlier hour the premises were checked by the sexton, Mr. Harry Dermott of Sudbury.

At 3:30, Dr. Donald S. Ewing, the minister, came over to the church to get a record player. His 5-year-old son, John, had some new records, and he persuaded his father to go over to the church to get the player. It was thought that this accidental visit to the church might have frightened the vandals away.

Entrance was made through a basement window in the rear, on the High School side. A pane of glass was broken so a hand could reach inside and turn the catch.

Sergt. Arthur W. O'Leary of the State Police took fingerprints at many places inside the building. Other State Police officers were at the scene, as well as Chief Damon of Wayland and Wayland officers. Evening activities at the church were cancelled, and volunteers came in to clean up.

Members of the church were much upset by the outrage.

have been on file at the DPW office.

L. William Bertelsen, chairman of the Planning Board, outlined the present and future need for the bypass and Robert M. Morgan, Chairman of the Finance Committee, scored a sound hit with the legislators when he said that the town was so anxious to have the bypass constructed that it would be happy to assume the land-taking operation. Police Chief Ernest H. Damon and Executive Secretary Norman Taylor also spoke in favor of the bill.

Mr. Charles H. Peters of Highgate Road testified both as a highway engineer and as unopposed candidate for Wayland Road Commissioner and a number of other local citizens, including Mr. Frederick Perry of the Planning Board, also recorded themselves in favor.

Legislative Counsel for Raytheon, Mr. Robert G. Hennemuth, spoke for the company and its desire to have the bypass constructed and Chairman of Selectmen Harvey M. Fairbank, Chairman of the Planning Board Truman C. Jackson, and Fire Chief and Planning Board member Albert St. Germaine all testified for Sudbury's backing of the proposal.

The legislative committee expressed its disappointment that neither the Commissioner nor the Assistant Commissioner of the DPW had seen fit to attend and that the representative not only had brought no facts with him but seemed merely to be repeating "the same old story" of lack of funds and pressure of other jobs.

"This is one of the most-needed pieces of highway work in the state, one committee member stated. "Here is Raytheon, obviously intending to stay in the state - even some of my people in East Boston work out there - and a town that's willing to secure the land."

Mr. Bertelsen was asked to send

Backstage Jobs Are Filled For Vokes Players Western

WAYLAND -- Backstage and productions jobs have all been filled for the March production of Vokes Players, "The Rainmaker." It is reported by the co-chairmen of production, Bill Grey of Sudbury and Paul Moorhead of Bow Road. Assisting them in the construction of the single set are Kemp Reade, Bob Paine, Dick Foster, and John Harder. Hoddy Gray of Woodridge Road is responsible for the art work which will make the set a realistic reproduction of a western farmhouse interior.

Buff Paine of Bow Road is in charge of hand props, assisted by Liz Fisher, Joan Moorhead, Betty Dickey, Barbara Jones and Kay Bourne. Stage props are being handled by Dean and Ann Hocking, assisted by Jeannie Macmillan. Costumes with a real Western flavor are being assembled by the committee the Planning Board's map of the proposed bypass they foresee as meeting long-range needs. He was also asked to send them a report of local commercial activity and the traffic count recently completed by the firm of Wilbur Smith and Associates.

According to Mr. Bertelsen, a bypass extending south of Wayland Center from near Ten Acres to the Sudbury River would be sufficient to meet short-range needs but probably a longer route, by-passing South Sudbury, would be a better long-range plan. Mr. Tarr, in his testimony, estimated the cost of a bypass at about $1 million.

Local officials are optimistic about a favorable Committee report. This would then send the bill to Ways and Means, traditionally a tougher hurdle. However, there is always the possibility that the DPW might be jolted into putting the bypass on its priority list without formal instruction from the legislature.

parents are Mr. John A. Willard and the late Mrs. John A. Willard of Needham. Her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Francesco L. Cusumano of St. Petersburg, Florida.

Sgt. Humphrey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Humphrey of Wayland. He entered the Marine Corps in February of 1955 and has recently returned from duty with the American Embassy in Yugoslavia. His maternal grandparents are the late Mr. Zepherin Luedee and Mrs. Luedee of Sydney, Nova Scotia. His paternal grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Humphry of Waltham.

A summer wedding is planned.

Newcomers Get Help

WAYLAND--Newcomers of only a week, Mr. and Mrs. Jack T. Hale of Dudley Road, found themselves in a desperate situation at 3:30 in the morning of Feb. 9 when their 9-months-old son, Jackie, suddenly developed a high fever and breathing difficulty.

After trying in vain to locate an all-night drug store which could supply a vaporizer, Mr. Hale called the Framingham Police Station and was answered by the one man who could easily solve his problem. Officer Chiccarelli, on night duty, had a vaporizer at home and had it delivered at the station by the time father arrived to pick it up. In a few hours, all was serene and Mr. and Mrs. Hale had made the transition from York, Pennsylvania, to New England under the friendliest auspices.

Nearly all fires are traceable to carelessness.

A. in Religion and Sociology from Linfield College in 1949, his B. D. from Andover Newton Theological School in 1953, and his Ph. D. from Yale University in the field of New Testament, 1957.

He received a grant from the World Council of Churches for a year's study in Germany, at the Universities at Kiel and Goettingen. In addition, he was awarded the Two Brothers fellowship from Yale for study in the Near East, where he spent six weeks at the American School of Oriental Research. WAYLAND -- George V. Deverell, candidate for Assessor, surprised the audience at the League of Women Voters' Candidates Meeting at the High School on Feb. 19 when he announced that he is no longer running on a platform of outside appraisal.

Mr. Deverell admitted that this was "a complete about-face" on his part but that personal surveys he had made in three neighboring towns which employed outside appraisers - Weston, Natick, and Framingham - had convinced him within the last few days that professional appraisal was not only unnecessary in Wayland but that it would very likely be detrimental.

Mr. Deverell, who, has been a strong proponent of professional appraisal, declared that the comparisons he had made in the other towns between appraisal values and actual sales prices showed them to be farther out of line than in Wayland.

The margin of difference in Wayland runs around 10%, Mr. Deverell stated, and he has come to the conclusion that if the town hired an outside firm it would (Please turn to page 6)

Estimates Give Wayland 9200, Weston 7000

Latest estimates of town populations, made at two Town Halls, give Wayland around 9200 residents and Weston more than 7000. Weston has had 67 new voters registered since the November election and Wayland has had 85 in the same period.

In Wayland, there are now 2171 voters in Precinct 1 and 2271 in Precinct 2, for a total of 4442.

Weston has a total of 3779 voters.

These population estimates reflect a frantic growth, of which taxpayers have been made aware. The 1940 Federal census gave Weston 3590 residents, that of 1950, 5026. In 1940 Wayland had 3505 and the count in 1950 was 4407.

Planning Board studies, assuming continuance of present zoning rules, give Weston a probable maximum population of 14,000 and Wayland of 17,000.

Letters to the EDITOR

About Wayland Recreation

To the Editor:

At its January unit meetings, the League of Women Voters of Wayland presented a survey of Wayland's present recreational facilities in relation to the town's immediate and future recreational needs. At these meetings we reviewed and discussed the "Harris Report" (the 1957 town authorized professional recreation study). The League has had a continuing interest in recreation since 1954, when it was the subject of a local study item. Since that time, the Wayland LWV has supported all efforts to coordinate and improve local recreational facilities.

We feel that the opinions voiced through the answers to a questionnaire, distributed at our January units, are of general interest. Our membership is in favor of the following approaches to recreation in Wayland:

1. Continuation of the present town and school policy of developing recreation at the school sites.
2. The employment of a recreation director, part-time at first, but working into full-time, who would be paid by the town. Fees charged to users of the program would partially defray costs. The director, responsible to the town, would coordinate, improve and publicize facilities and opportunities.
3. The establishment of a canteen for teenagers, perhaps only for those in senior high school.
4. The acquisition of land by the town for recreation and conservation purposes. If this were done in accordance with a long-range, comprehensive plan for acquisition, our members would be willing to pay a small increase in the tax rate for the next few years.

Copies of this letter have been sent to the Recreation Advisory Committee and to the Junior Town House because of their special concern with Wayland's recreational facilities.

Sincerely yours,
League of Women Voters of Wayland

About Assessments

To the Editor:

During the past four months the undersigned have conducted an impartial survey to determine the extent of the alleged unfairness in Wayland assessments. The study was concerned principally with the 100 residences fully assessed as of Jan. 1, 1958, which were sold during that year. Our conclusions are as follows:

1. The average Wayland residential assessment is 35.5% of fair market value.
2. During 1958 the assessors were attempting to assess newly constructed residences at 40% of their estimate of fair market value.
3. On many newly constructed homes during 1958 the assessors applied assessments of 40% to 50% of prices paid by owners.
4. A substantial number of Wayland properties have been assessed for less than 30% of the prices for which they sold in 1958. One such property was assessed for less than 20%.

These disparities in assessment practices mean that many property owners are carrying a disproportionate share of the tax burden. This appears to be especially true of those who have purchased property in recent years.

In the not-so-long ago, when the average Wayland assessment was $2000 and the tax rate was $25, an error of 10% in assessment was not too burdensome and tended to be ignored. Today, when the average assessment on residences is $7029 and the tax rate will exceed $70, a 10% error in the assessment can really hurt the victim!

The undersigned, with the splendid cooperation of the Town of Weston officials, have just recently completed a study of 1958 residence sales in that Town, to determine whether the "professional" assessment there was superior. A partial study of the same sort has been made of Natick sales. Our conclusion is that the reappraisal as experienced in these town offers no assurance that Wayland would be benefitted by it. We therefore agree with the Finance Committee that the expenditure of $25,000 for this purpose is unwarranted at this time.

The inequities, however, persist and are very real. That is why the reassessment issue keeps coming up year after year. In the interest of maintaining a community which continues to attract a desirable type of growth and improvement, it is essential that assessments be more equitably distributed.

We have talked at considerable length with both of the assessor candidates. We have attempted to evaluate their professional skills, their assessment philosophies, their objectivity and the assessment policies that each of them is likely to apply in the future. While each of the candidates has some uniquely superior strengths, it is our belief that the overall interests of the Town will best be served by the election of George V. Deverell.

Very truly yours,

Chase Squirrels , Be Knife Thrower, Be Beachcomber

Even In Home Surroundings,
One Can Always Find Something Big To Do

At this deplorable season, somewhat too late for Winter to be any fun and much too early for Spring, the human mind, such as it is, begins to wander. A person looks at a gray sky and asks himself what's his excuse for living and is it maybe really true that there's no Santa Claus.

And then, perhaps, he resolves to turn over a new leaf, give his live a new and more interesting direction. In short, he may determine that he will do something big.

Fortunately, opportunities for doing something big exist. They are present even in this homely suburban environment. For example:

Get hold of a bolt of elm, say two feet in diameter and a couple of feet long. Be sure it's nice and green. Assemble wedges, sledges and axes. Then split the piece of elm. This will be a big job, all right.

Or, decide that this nonsense has gone on long enough. Here you are working along in this old rut, getting nowhere, freezing and frying in this climate, with a family which doesn't appreciate you properly and no prospect of getting elected president of the civic association. Now's the time to take a big step. Chuck everything, go to Tahiti or the farther coast of Mexico and become a beachcomber. Sleep on the warm sand, drink cocoanut juice in the morning if you want to...

Another big project is to try to persuade the adolescents of the community that they ought to be eager to get home by 11 p.m. Especially, find out where is this mysterious place known generally as "out". It must be a delightful locality, because the young love to go there and hate to leave it. Perhaps there's no need to try to find out what goes on there. It would be enough, a great satisfaction, just to know, at any given moment, where "out" is.

Simplest big deal is to give up some bad habit, such as cigarettes. The effort will change one's life, all right. If he has few friends now, he will have fewer, because he will become the all American bore as he recites the story of his sufferings and his strength of character.

Try to balance a checkbook, bearing in mind those little deductions marked service charge or something like that, which can run up into hundreds of dollars in the course of years and easily account for the radiant smiles on the faces of bankers.

Go to the dump and hunt for enough pieces of glass, of the right size, shape and quality, to be glued together to make a mirror.

Chase squirrels. Now at first this seems a preposterous suggestion, because squirrels can climb trees so fast. But they also travel along the ground, and here is the place to get them. Put on track shoes and Bermuda shorts (there has to be a legitimate use for those garments) and race out every morning, while the squirrels are rifling the bird box. You won't catch a squirrel the first day nor even the second, but as you develop agility there's no telling what may happen. At last may come the great day when, with a burst of newly acquired speed, you seize the little rodent in your hand and he turns and bites it.

Take up knife-throwing as a hobby. In vaudeville this always used to be impressive. There was suspense, as the thrower stood the beautiful blonde assistant up against a narrow plank and outlined her with quivering knives which he threw from 20 feet away.

Of course, the beginner should be careful what girl or woman he uses for an assistant. He wouldn't

Mr. Lewis Writes

To the Voters of Wayland:
Even though the Board of Assessors must be elective, it must not be tainted with politics or vested interests. The recent "eleventh hour" change by my opposition clearly indicates their approval of the quality and character of the performance of the present Board since its first meeting in October, 1954. The opposition now ranks Wayland 9th and Weston 17th in a survey of 60 cities and towns by the Massachusetts Taxpayers Associations as to the quality and equity of results.

The qualifications of the three members are diversified with respect to background, age, experience and geographical location so that we have been able to function without prejudice towards any group or area. It has been scrupulously aloof from any political influence. It has worked hard to be as fair as humanly possible.

My own qualifications to ask for a third term in office are my engineering and analytical training, my deep interest in improving our town, and my interest and study in better assessing practices as evidenced by my graduation from the State School for Assessors at the University of Massachusetts and the improvements inaugurated in the routine office procedures. The recent surveys by our "best critics" have ably demonstrated that the present Board of Assessors have equaled and surpassed the results obtained by "Outside Professionals".

The continuance of the present Board will help in the stabilization of our fiscal stature and the equitable distribution of our increasing tax burden. I would respectfully solicit and appreciate your support in this sensitive office.

William S. Lewis, Assessor, Candidate for Re-Election

probably increase rather than reduce that margin.

All the questions during the question period were on that topic. Candidate and present assessor, William S. Lewis, did the explaining, with Mr. Deverell concurring in his answers. In reply to a query by Mr. Anthony Alesi of Glezen Lane concerning 100 houses which had retained the same assessment from 1945 to 1958, Mr. Lewis explained that before the war all Wayland property was assessed at 100%. In spite of higher real estate prices, the relative value of these houses had remained constant as the assessment rate slid downward to its present 38%.

In reply to another question Mr. Lewis announced that families whose homes are assessed for $10,000 or more can expect a personal property assessment of $500.

Nearly all the candidates appeared at the meeting with those who were running for contested office having 4 minutes in which to present their qualifications to the audience of about 200. Uncontested candidates had a minute in which to introduce themselves. L. William Bertelsen, uncontested candidate for Planning Board, sparked a wave of applause and amusement when he apologized to the voters because there was no alternate candidate and pulled out a pocketful of stickers for the use of anyone who would like to make a different choice.

considered remarkable because his vision had been impaired by two eye operations in the previous three days for removal of a steel splinter.

Mr. Tyler, a physicist and vice-president of Itek Corporation of Boston and Waltham, took his first bobsled ride as recently as 1951 when he was at Lake Placid on a family vacation. In 1956, he designed and built his own sled and since then has gone on to win every major U.S. championship and to place third in the 1957 Olympics.

Mrs. Tyler accompanied her husband to Switzerland for the races but she was admittedly crossing her fingers at every run. After winning the title, Tyler was reported as saying that he was ready to sign a written promise to her not to do any more racing.

Their 16-year-old son, Douglas, a junior at Weston High and No. 2 man on his father's team when they won the 1958 National Championship, has been hoping to be a member of the crew again for the next Olympics scheduled to be held at Lake Placid in 1960.

Dr. Tyler was moving last week, from 125 Byron Road to a home in the new King's Grant section of Weston, at King's Grant Road and Bradford Road.

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (131:26-30): "The mission of Jesus confirmed prophecy, and explained the so-called miracles of olden time as natural demonstrations which were not understood. Weston Brownie Activities

WESTON -- Troops 26 and 27 have been busy with projects for the Metropolitan State Hospital children's unit. They have purchased loose leaf notebooks and are cutting out pictures from magazines. The patients can paste in these pictures, thus creating their own scrapbooks. The Brownies are also going to bake Valentine cookies and take them to the hospital. Mrs. J. W. Hanney Jr. and Mrs. W. F. Seiler are the leaders.

Mrs. W. T. VanHuysen's Troop 32 gave a Valentine tea for mothers and little brothers and sisters. They set the table, arranged the decorations, poured the tea and punch and passed the cookies.

This troop recently enjoyed a skating party.

Not long ago a fireman gave them an interesting talk and at a subsequent meeting it was decided to give a sum of money to the Pension Fund.

Mrs. Gordon Littlehale's Troop 10 washed the windows in the main hall of the Scout House. But first they had loads of fun playing tic-tac-toe on the panes of glass.

The girls are making plastic tray mats in the shape of pigs. Colored fringed napkins are attached to the pigs, which will go to the Kennedy Hospital.

Wayland 69, Marlboro 47

Wayland wound up its season with a solid 69 to 47 win over Marlboro. Senior forward Joe Devine topped all scorers with 20 points as Wayland led throughout. Ed Marsh and Sophomore Rick Greene chipped in 17 and 10 points respectively.

The Dual County League will be well represented in post season Tournaments this year. Wayland and Weston are in the Tech Tournament, while Lincoln-Sudbury, Ashland and Bedford are entered in the Bay State Tourney.

Wayland met Littleton (10 wins 4 losses) in the opening round of the Tourney. Weston (10 wins 3 losses) met Bourne (10 wins 3 losses).

Wayland Discussion Group

WAYLAND--A discussion group is being formed for the second half of the "Decisions - 1959" series beginning on March 5. The group will meet on Thursday evenings from 7:45 to 10 and will view the TV "Decisions" program carried over Channel 2 from 8 to 9.

On these programs, sets of panelists spend the first half-hour discussing a key issue of foreign policy, then take the last half-hour to answer questions which have been phoned in by the viewing audience. At the end of each TV program, the Wayland group will spend an hour discussing their own views on the topic.

The first meeting on March 5 will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory B. Wolfe, Country Corners Road, Mr. Wolfe will be one of the TV panelists for that evening discussing "A 'Better Neighbor' Policy for Latin America."

The remaining three meetings will be as follows: March 12, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. John G. Freymann, Country Corners Road, "What U. S. Policies in the World Economic Revolution?"; March 19, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Karnig A. Berberian, 58 Pequot Road, "The New Technology - For Destruction or Plenty?"; March 26, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtiss M. Bury, 10 Parmenter Road, "What Kind Of World Is Possible?"

Anyone interested in joining the group or obtaining more information may contact Mrs. John Freymann, EL 8-4560, Mrs. Max Grif-fin, EL 8-4870, or Mrs. Rudolph Bruce, EL 8-4354.

Gray Lady Instruction

WESTON -- The Weston Chapter of the American Red Cross announces a course of instruction in Gray Lady Service to be given at the Wellesley Chapter hall beginning March 10. Such service, it says, is urgently needed in the Federal hospitals in the Boston area. For information, call CE 5-2469.

Mrs. Raynor M. Gardiner

WESTON -- Students and alumni of the Cambridge School were saddened by the recent death of Mrs. Raynor M. Gardiner of Needham. Mrs. Gardiner, the former Alice Cushing Underwood, had been affiliated with the school for many years. An author of two books for children, "Father's Gone A-Whaling," and "Good Wind and Good Water," Mrs. Gardiner had taught English to students in the lower school as well as working individually with older students. Affectionately and warmly respected by students and teachers, Mrs. Gardiner will be greatly missed.

WESTON -- Mrs. Paul Herrick of 190 Summer Street recently attended the second annual alumnae council at Pine Manor Junior College, Wellesley.

Wayland Man Will Serve On Atomic Submarine

WAYLAND -- William B. Archer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Archer of 132 West Plain Street, has been selected by the U. S. Navy to train for duty in the new atomic-powered submarines.

Mr. Archer, a graduate of Wayland High School, was graduated on Jan. 24 as honor man of his company at the Great Lakes Naval Center, Illinois. He is presently studying at the Electronics Technical School at Great Lakes and will go for specialized training to the Navy's Nuclear School at Farragut, Idaho.

Willaby Lyford

WAYLAND -- Willaby Lyford, 55, vice president and claims manager of the Rhode Island Mutual Insurance Co. of Providence and a former resident of Wayland, died suddenly at his home in Cranston, R. I., Feb. 15.

A native of Littleton, Colorado, he was born Dec. 21, 1903, a son of the late Henry T. Lyford and Mrs. Jennie (Putnam) Lyford of Wayland. Mr. Lyford had been associated with the Rhode Island Mutual Ins. Co., for 20 years, having made his home in Providence and Cranston during that time.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Drusilla (Goodwin) Lyford, a daughter, Miss Deborah Lyford of Sturbridge; a brother, Howard Trask of Wayland, and his mother, also of Wayland.

The services were conducted in the Gibbs Memorial Funeral Home on Thursday, Feb. 19, at 2 p.m. Interment followed in the family lot in North Cemetery, Wayland.

WAYLAND -- Nathaniel Hamlen, investment real estate broker and consultant of Old Connecticut Path, has also been elected to the Board of Directors of the United Fund.

To the VOTERS of WAYLAND

A very recent impartial study has shown that "professional" reassessment as practiced in some of our neighboring towns does not make assessments any more equitable than do our elected assessors. It is for this reason that I am no longer supporting the expenditure of Town funds for this purpose.

However, there are still many inequities in our present assessments. Our high tax burden is not being distributed as fairly as it could be and should be. I believe that my experience in real estate, my knowledge of Wayland values and my attitude concerning proper assessment practices can improve the skill and fairness with which this important Town function is performed. I solicit your support in the Town elections Monday, March 2nd.

Inflation Was Caused By Invention Of The Wheel

Whence The Supermarket Pushcart, Which Makes Shopping Too Easy

While pondering, the other day, over the fact that his income was twice while his expenses were triple, a local thinker came to the conclusion that inflation may really be blamed on the invention of the wheel.

Living costs never got really out of hand, he reasoned, until the invention of the supermarket and the wire pushcart.

Before the pushcart, the housewife would buy only what she thought she could carry comfortably.

Now she buys all the pushcart will hold, because it's easy.

Storekeepers know this, and startling innovations are promised in the store architecture of the future. Aisles are to be as wide as the westbound lane of the Massachusetts Turnpike, it is said, and the pushcarts are to be enlarged correspondingly. In fact, the pushcarts are to be motorized and given number plates, so that the housewife will be able to buy up to a ton or so of groceries at every trip.

Instead of having a boy carry the stuff out to the automobile, the shopper will drive the pushcart down the back ramp and right home.

This is a logical extension of the present system, because a pushcart is really only a truck without a motor. People who live near the store sometimes push the cart home anyway. What easier than to drive it home, then bring it back on the next trip?

This will eliminate a good deal of handling of goods and speed the transfer of frozen stuff from one refrigerator to another, and involve only a certain amount of negotiation with the Registry of Motor Vehicles about registrations, inspections, insurance and licenses for, say, 1000 pushcarts to the store.

With this service, the housewife wouldn't have any excuse for having a regular automobile. She isn't supposed to go anywhere except to the store and to church, and church services are held on Sunday.

But the reason the pushcart contributes to inflation is that it puts temptation in the way of the push-over.

All those goods are spread out there like beads and knives in front of the savages, not to be resisted. Those silly price tags are all in odd cents, anyway, which makes it seem that cost is no object. All one has to do is reach out an arm and take whatever looks attractive.

So, the shopper fills the pushcart to the brim, stopping only when it won't hold another dollar's worth. In fact, the woman who stops before the basket is full tends to think that she's probably chicken.

Nor is woman the only one. When she sends a husband to the store for five pounds of sugar, his eye falls on this and that and before he knows it he has bought three pounds of steak, six cans of sardines, a quart jar of stuffed olives, a two-pound box of chocolates and a coil of rope, with which he might as well hang himself when he gets home and reports that he forgot the sugar.

Here's why the cost of living goes up. It's not that it costs more but that there's more of it. It's too easy. When the family bought a barrel of flour and half a hog in the Fall shopping was rugged. Now it's hard to buy more than 10 pounds of anything, except maybe birdfood for the squirrels, so the shopper has to go back time after time and load up.

They say that some housewives have so much trick dish powder on hand they'll still be using it when the brand name is changed again.

If the Department of Agriculture were smart, it would put up the farm surplus in red, white and blue five-pound bags and unload it on the supermarkets. The customers in their little pushcarts would have it all bought in three months. -- D.B.W.

4 Speakers Will Discuss Recreation At Weston LWN Town Affairs Night

WESTON -- "Recreation for Youth in our Growing Community" will be the title of a panel discussion to be presented at the League of Women Voters Annual Town Affairs night on Friday, March 13, at the High School cafeteria.

Members of the panel will be C. Evan Johnson, chairman of the New England District Advisory Committee of the National Recreation Association and also Recreation Commissioner in Newton, who will present the general concepts of recreation; Joseph O'Donnell, pastor of the First Baptist Church, who will discuss the social side of recreation; Willard Smith, Weston High School principal, who will describe after school activity connected with the school; and Frank Hitchcock of the Weston Recreation Commission.

The meeting will begin with a pot luck supper at 7 p.m. Anyone wishing further information or to make a reservation is urged to call Mrs. Robert Haydock Jr., TW 4-6560. Everyone is welcome to attend the program beginning at 8, if unable to come for the supper.

Housing Committee Formed To Help Town Employees

WESTON -- Announcement has been made of the formation of a Weston Housing Committee to aid teachers and other town employees in finding homes in Weston. It was organized under the sponsorship of the Weston P.T.A. and the Weston Education Committee at the request of the School Committee, the superintendent of schools and the teacher's club, who stated that only 10 out of 90 teachers in Weston live in the community, and that all new town employees report great difficulty in finding housing at prices they can afford.

Victor C. Harnish, chairman of the committee, announces that the following have consented to serve as members of the committee: Florence E. Freeman, Weston attorney; Edward M. Dickson, investor and selectman; Alexander Day Mackintosh, architect and member of the Planning Board; Hector J. Osmond, builder; Robert G. Guest, business executive; and Irving Marsden and Lawrence Bramhall, teachers.

Mr. Harnish says that the committee will first find out and list the present requests for housing by teachers, firemen, policemen and other town employees who wish to live in Weston. The committee will then undertake to discover, through real estate brokers and other residents of the town who are willing to help, what resources are available in the community to meet this need. In addition to this, the committee has been assured of the assistance of local banks in making mortgage financing available on the best possible terms.

The big need is for houses selling in the $15 - $20,000 range and for houses or apartments renting for $75 to $125 per month. Citizens interested in helping the committee are requested to write Miss Florence E. Freeman at 462 Boston Post Road, Weston, giving her the details of housing or rentals

Community Chorus To Give The Song Of Affirmation

Musicians in the Boston area await with keen interest the spring concert of the Community Chorus, when The Song of Affirmation by Norman Dello Joio will be presented for the first time on the East coast.

A symphonic cantata based on the text of Western Star by Stephen Vincent Benet, the work was commissioned by Cornell College in the Summer of 1951 for a performance at its centennial year festival, held at Mt. Vernon, Iowa. An excellent technician, the composer makes use of the old classical forms, but adapts them to twentieth century use of percussive, dissonant and richly colored music, readily accessible to the ear. Accompanied by an orchestra and narrator, the Chorus both sings and speaks the stirring story of the birth of America.

Norman Dello Joio, American organist, pianist and composer, was born in New York City on Jan. 24, 1913. He received his education at City College of New York and Juilliard Institute of Musical Art, followed by graduate study at Juilliard and Yale University School of Music. He studied piano and organ with Gaston Dethier and composition with Paul Hindemith both at Tanglewood and Yale.

His early works show the influence of his teacher, Paul Hindemith, whereas his later compositions become more lyrical. Mr. Dello Joio has composed in many forms, including chamber pieces, choral music, ballet and opera, as well as several compositions for symphony orchestra.

Both Wayland and Weston basketball teams came to the end of the road, for this season, when they were knocked out in the first-round eliminations of the Tech Tournament on Feb. 25.

BOURNE 70, WESTON 44
Fouls decided Weston's fate. What had been a very close game in the first half blew wide open when Terry Dunn and Buzz Granholm fouled out in the third period and Bourne went on to connect on 17 of 22 foul attempts in the last half of the game. Weston led 16 to 11 at the end of the first period and was only behind by a 27-25 count at halftime. Although he played less than three periods, Terry Dunn was the game's top scorer with 18 points. Granholm hit for 11.

LITTLETON 56, WAYLAND 54
It was a frustrating night for the Bowersmen. They missed several good scoring opportunities and when it seemed they were finally clicking the offense would sputter and a fast Littleton team managed to hang on to win 56 to 54. Capt. Bob Regan came up with four fouls and was forced to sit out most of the second half. It was a tight contest all the way but a six point spurt by Littleton in the final period sewed it up. Little Rick Greene scored 13 points. Ed Marsh was top man for Wayland with 16 points.

WAYLAND -- At an executive meeting of the Natick Art Association, Dr. Kornblum resigned his position as Exhibit and Festival Chairman due to other commitments. Plans for the coming Spring Festival are under way and members who would like to work on this committee should contact Mrs. Hayner, EL 8-4821.

New Weston Standpipe

The 1,000,000-gallon reservoir.
(Garabedian Photo)

WESTON -- The Water Department, which served two-thirds of the Town, has enough water in storage to last two or three days in case of power failure, with the recent completion of the million-gallon Paine's Hill standpipe. The new standpipe brought the public water supply and fire protection up to 2,600,000 gallons when added to the Doublet Hill and Cat Rock standpipes.

The new standpipe cost $64,000, but the one-third of Weston that uses private wells need not worry. The Water Department is completely supported by water consumers, and anyone desiring town water has to pay for the extension of a water main. Not until the water system is fully developed and construction loans paid off will the Department be able to lower the present water rate.

However, construction of the standpipe required a vote of the Town at the annual March, 1958, town meeting. The Natgun Corporation of Boston was picked to do the construction job, with Thomas and Lichtner Company as engineers.

The standpipe (which is technically a reservoir) is 80 feet in diameter and 27 1/2 feet high inside. Its construction is prestressed concrete, a technique developed during World War II and used by oil companies. Concrete is sprayed onto thin sheet metal with piano wire wound round and round and round under tension. The theory is that the wire is tight enough to remain under tension as the tank contracts, and the wire prevents cracking as the tank expands. The standpipe walls are thus only four or five inches thick, and are far stronger and more durable than much thicker standard or reinforced concrete.

At present the new standpipe operates at two-thirds capacity. There is only an 8-inch water main from the watering trough (at the Library) to halfway up Highland Street. It must be replaced by a 12-inch main before the standpipe can be used most efficiently.

The southeast corner of Town supplies the three standpipes with water. The Nickerson Field Well, dug in 1941, pumps 1100 gallons a minute, and the 1954 Fitzgerald Well pumps 450 gallons. In the Summer, when additional water is needed for lawns and other purposes, wells at Kendal Green supply 500 gallons a minute, but the water is not considered as good and the pumps are older and more expensive to run.

The Doublet Hill reservoir, built in 1931, holds 775,000 gallons and the Cat Rock reservoir, built in 1946, holds 846,000 gallons. The newest standpipe, on a hill 340 feet above sea level, contains 1,000,000 gallons.

long illness. Funeral services were held at the Wentworth Chapel, Waltham, on March 2, with Rev. Philip Krug and Rev. E. F. Chauncey of St. Peter's Church, Weston, officiating. Burial was in the family lot in Linwood Cemetery.

He was born in Weston on May 18, 1908, and was graduated from Weston High School in 1926. He was a call fireman for 10 years before he became a permanent member of the Department on April 1, 1945. He was appointed Captain on June 12, 1953, and he retired June 1, 1958.

Since retirement his home had been at 38 Eddy Street, Waltham. He was a member of the Fire Warden's Association of Massachusetts.

Surviving are his wife, M. Irene (Kane) Compton; two daughters, Judith Ann and Sandra Jean, and a son, John E., all of Waltham; a sister, Mrs. Edith Schofield of Weston; two brothers, Daniel E. Compton of Weston and William C. of Stow.

Massachusetts added 19 new chemical plants in 1958.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

3. Strengthening of laboratory instruction in Science, mathematics and languages, where new developments make possible improved instruction.

4. Analysis and planning to determine ways by which the library can most effectively exert a strong influence in the curriculum.

5. Improvement of guidance services in the direction of wise scheduling and continual appraisal of a student's progress.

This grant to the Wayland schools is in no small way a reflection of the demonstrated support of the town for its schools, over the last several years, culminating most recently in the decision to proceed with the construction of the new school which will, we hope, incorporate the best that is known about curriculum needs, the utilization of educational resources and design of facilities. Funds under the grant are for use in the period between now and September 30, 1959, at which time a report of progress will be drawn up.

Respectfully submitted,

THE RAINMAKER

Theatre, Boston Post Road, on Friday evening, March 13 to continue for two weekends, March 13, 14, 20 and 21.

The play, a romantic comedy, directed by Mrs. Philip Bassett of Weston, concerns the humorous plight of a Western farm family at a low ebb in fortune. The only daughter, seemingly destined for spinsterhood, is thirsty for romance. The family cattle are thirsty for rain. Everyone is thirsty for a miracle. And then The Rainmaker arrives.

Bob Stuart, science and math teacher at Weston High School, displays some improbable "scientific" skills as The Rainmaker. Judy Wallace, a newcomer to Vokes, handles the only feminine role with assurance based on professional experience in summer stock. The remainder of the cast, Jack Hyland, Dick Eckler, Chris Crowell, Win Naylor and Howard Weeks, contribute substantially to a balanced blend of humor and romance with an occasional tug at the heart strings.

In court on March 9, they were ordered held in bail of $70,000 for the grand jury on charges of armed robbery.

WAYLAND -- A big and confusing argument over whether to spend $14,000 to move a house from the front yard of the Trinitarian Congregational Church and set it up as a school administration building featured the first session of the Town Meeting on March 4.

Eventually the item was stricken from the budget.

Gravel Case Against The Wayland Board Of Appeals Is On Docket For Monday

WAYLAND -- The suit of Louis W. Dean of 834 Boston Post Road against the Town of Wayland Zoning Board of Appeals, will be heard in Middlesex Superior Court, Civil Session, East Cambridge, before a judge, at 10 a.m. next Monday, March 16.

The case involves 800,000 cubic yards of gravel on 30 acres of land in Wayland, next to the Weston line. Mr. Dean went to the Wayland Zoning Board some months ago and asked to be permitted to sell the gravel, over a period of five years.

After a hearing, the Wayland Zoning Board denied his petition. The present suit is to ask the court to compel the Wayland Board to change its decision.

The case is also of considerable interest to Weston. Mr. Dean did not ask the Weston Board to permit him to take gravel from his Weston land, but he told the Wayland Board that if Wayland gave him permission he would also seek permission of Weston.

The Wayland case will be handled by Town Counsel Frank Kilburn, of the Boston firm of Murray, Hennessy, Earle and Kilburn, with the aid of William J. McCluskey of the same firm. Mr. Dean's counsel are Nutter, McClennen and Fish of Boston.

Many items in the budget, which was announced as coming to a total of $1,864,890.37, by far the biggest ever, were questioned from the floor. But the fur really began to fly when somebody asked about an item marked "Other Expense", under "Superintendent" in the school budget.

This expense item called for $18,907 for next year, up from $14,096.84. The question was why the large increase. Douglas Surgenor, for the School Committee, explained that it included $3000 for three months salary, beginning next Fall, for a new business assistant to the Superintendent, a man to make out specifications for new

Note From Marcel

To the Editor:

I am doing now something I should have done a long time ago for I want to thank you sincerely for the numerous copies of the "Town Crier" supplied by you and sent to me regularly by Mr. Henry M. Fiske.

I spent a wonderful year in Weston thanks to the Weston-Rombas committee and I went back to France August 6. During these last seven months I received every copy of the "Town Crier" and so I know almost as well as the Westons themselves what is going on in their lovely town where I spent my most happy year.

I beg you to accept my deepest gratitude and hope that you will always give me good news from Weston.

Sincerely yours,
M. Megel
Rombas, France

Thank You Note

To the Editor:

I would like to thank everyone who helped support me in my campaign for Library Trustee. Sincerely,

For Seeing Candidates

To the Editor:

Since the recent Town Caucus many citizens, including members of the Weston League of Women Voters, have expressed disappointment that the various candidates had not been asked to stand up and be seen and perhaps even say a few words. In this way, citizens would have known just who they were voting for or against. This was not the case in several instances.

The League believes this would be a valuable addition to the activities of the Caucus, and hopes that the candidates will be introduced at the Caucus in 1960. Sincerely,
Mrs. Joseph Markell
Voters Service Chairman, Weston League of Women Voters.

We Don't Want Any Of Your Old Home Grown Cucumbers

But Now Is Time To Plan What To Do When Energy Builds Up, If It Ever Does

"As early in spring as the ground can be worked," say the seed catalogues and the books of directions on how to raise peas, but even earlier than that is the season for planning what's to be done around the premises, including gardening. When the snow goes, the world stands revealed in all its barrenness.

Without leaves the trees stand naked, and it may be seen that not a single large tree in the whole countryside stands straight and perfect. Every one has been storm twisted, and it's no wonder that people, subject to even worse stresses, are as oddly shaped as they are.

The lawn stands out like a mud pie with hair uncombed. This is grass? Why so much green moss in it? Of course, moss is greener than grass and stands up better in dry seasons. But why doesn't grass grow where it's supposed to? And who emptied the automobile ash-tray on the lawn?

Now is the time to walk around and think of the projects to be done when conditions, time and energy permit.

Here's the row of beans from last year, unharvested. Enough beans in those blackened pods to feed a family of Asiatics for two weeks. To mind comes the idea that vegetables are the wrong stuff to raise in a garden. They aren't popular enough.

In the restaurant they serve the carrots as a sort of desirable evil. Therefore at home nobody looks on carrots as anything special except the character who raised them and unwound them from each other when they were planted too close together and thus appreciates their unusual qualities. Hardly a family is now alive which will consume the products of a dozen pepper plants and half the tomatoes always get left to be spoiled by the first frost.

What the garden needs is a new kind of crop. Ice cream, maybe, or filter tip cigarettes, or chewing gum, or no-burp beer. Man has been tilling the soil for 10,000 years and he's still raising the same old corn and cabbages. He's in a deeper rut than he could dig with a $5 shovel.

Even the amateur can raise more than he can use. Let him produce 100 Summer squash, which he can easily do by just waving the hoe at the patch on Saturdays, and his family won't speak to him. Trying to give the stuff away makes him a nuisance to the neighbors. In fact, in recent years a new social problem has arisen. It's how to say, politely, "I don't want any of your watery cucumbers."

Apple-tree pruning is a nice project to plan, too. Of course, only the expert knows how to prune properly. And once the tree gets fairly big, one can hack off branches for two weeks without getting anywhere. On top of that, it says in the book the apple tree should be sprayed with wonder drugs at 11 a.m. every Tuesday for 10 weeks, to kill off the bugs which like apples.

So let somebody fix up his scraggly old trees and come September he'll have a crop of apples somebody will have to pick and get rid of, and if he has a good arm the best use he can make of them is to hurl them at gray squirrels.

One can also examine the grounds carefully and decide just where he'll start to rake, once the constellations are in a favorable aspect. It's obvious that last Fall's cleaning was sloppily done. Now the back lawn is littered with pine cones, twigs, rags blown from the clothes line and a number of grapefruit rinds, souvenir of the experiment of burying garbage in deep snow. (It doesn't work very well, in the long run.)

This planning is good work for a wife, too. Looking comparatively womanly in dungarees, she may figure out the jobs she'll have her husband do and if he won't she'll pay to have them done and take the money out of his beer allowance. And the husband might as well enjoy the occasion, because by next week she'll be in Bermuda shorts again and her knees will be knocking in public until December. -- D.B.W.

Short Section Of Concord Road, Weston, To Be Fixed

WESTON -- Many residents are asking why Concord Road is being widened and how extensive the work will be.

The answer is that immediate plans call only for the widening of the short section between the Boston Post Road and Fiske Lane, with an island at the Post Road, and improvement of a blind corner close to Weston College. Further change will depend on the wishes of residents living in the area, and a hearing will be called.

The section of Concord Road being widened looks wider than it is because of a sidewalk, level with the road, which has been the scene of minor incidents. The island at the Post Road will facilitate cars turning around as they do now, instead of making U-turns in the center of town.

The layout and land-taking for this enterprise were made in 1913. The Selectmen approved money from the highway maintenance account in 1958. As for the trees cut down, several were marked for removal anyway because of Dutch elm disease.

James Parker of Weston and Mrs. Philip Donham and Mrs. Richard W. Foster of Wayland.

Lectures By Mrs. Crooks

WAYLAND -- The February issue of "Boston Bar Journal", a publication of the Boston Bar Association, carries an announcement to Boston and vicinity lawyers of an eight-week series of lectures being presented by attorney Kathleen M. Crooks (Mrs. John A. Crooks) of 21 High Rock Road on the new Massachusetts Uniform Commercial Code at Boston Teachers College.

WAYLAND -- George and Helen Deverell celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on Feb. 28 with many friends and relatives attending. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Deverell from Rochester N. Y., their daughter Carol and her friend, Mr. Tom Albrecht from Lawrence, Kansas.

WAYLAND -- Mr. Robert M. Morgan of Old Sudbury Road, executive vice-president of the Boston Five Cents Savings Bank, will be a panelist on the "City In Crisis" program to be televised over Channel 2 at 8:30 p.m. on March 13 and repeated at 2:30 p.m. on March 15.

How far from Toad Lane?

Co-ops have come a long way since 1844. That was the year in which the Rochdale Society opened its first co-op, a store on Toad Lane in Rochdale, England.

This first co-op had 28 members. Today, in contrast, a single cooperative may have several thousand members and own a complete oil refinery worth millions of dollars.

How far from Toad Lane? In growth, thousands of miles to all parts of the earth. In size, millions of members. But in the principles of organization . . . democratic control, patronage refunds, universal membership and education . . . co-ops have remained faithful to those laid down by the weavers of Rochdale.

These principles must have been right at that time or the co-op idea would not have spread. They must be right today to enlist the support of growing millions of American men and women.

THE CO-OP INC.

"Owned by the people it serves"

Will soon become Wayland's Supermarket of Distinction

* A LOCALLY OWNED STORE

In 1947 a small group of Natick citizens formed the Natick Consumers' Cooperative Society to bring to the community the advantages offered by a Co-op store. By 1949 they had aroused enough interest to acquire the money necessary to build and stock a modern food store. They offered quality goods, friendly and courteous service at competitive prices. The CO-OP INC. is now a thriving business enterprise owned by over 4900 members who consider the Co-op a better way to meet their grocery and fuel oil needs.

* RUN FOR ITS CUSTOMERS

Since the customer owns The Co-op, the Co-op employee knows that when he satisfies the customer he satisfies the "boss". The Co-op is proud of its reputation of giving friendly and courteous service and is determined to live up to it in its "Village Shopper" location.

* FOR FRIENDLY SERVICE

Since the customers own the Co-op it is run for them. The Co-op selects its merchandise in the interest of its customers, maintains high quality standards and minimum prices. At the end of the year, any net savings after paying taxes and interest on shares and setting up reserves to protect The Co-op, are returned to the customers as patronage refunds.

* A SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY

The Co-op's new store will feature a public meeting hall for use of any civic, religious or other organizations. There will also be featured modern food preparation and demonstration equipment, a play area for children and parking for 300 cars.

The Co-op, being a sizeable business enterprise, will help relieve the Town's tax burden, thereby benefiting not only members of the Co-op but also the entire community.

THE CO-OP INC.

This is the first of a series of twelve weekly advertisements sponsored by THE CO-OP INC. and designed to explain what the Co-op will mean to the town of Wayland.

school materials, to be purchasing agent and in general to be an administrator for non-educational work. It was explained that this would be a $10,000 job.

It was explained further that the School Committee has broad powers and can have almost any appropriation it asks for, willy nilly. Mr. Surgenor said that the Committee didn't mean to be high-handed and use its powers to override the town.

Finally this item got by.

Then came the items for $6500 to buy the house and $7500 to move it and renovate it.

A motion was made to cut the $6500 item to $100. Then this motion was amended, to cut out both appropriations completely. Somebody objected that the amendment would wipe out the original motion. After debate, Moderator Roger P. Stokely called for a vote on whether the amendment should be considered.

This carried, 262 to 138. Thinking this settled the matter, somebody moved to adjourn and people started to leave. The meeting was admonished by the Moderator that the motion to adjourn might not carry. It didn't. Then there was another vote on the motion to wipe out the two items, and this carried 186 to 161.

Then the meeting adjourned, to meet again the next Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. and on subsequent Wednesdays if necessary.

Among guests were a student from Texas and one from Canada. The meeting voted a testimonial to Howard S. Russell, moderator for 20 years who retired this year, for his "wisdom, patience, good humor, integrity and common sense" . . . The Recreation Advisory Committee filed its report and Mrs. Warren Eriksen, for the League of Women Voters, filed a dissent, asking for more than the Committee recommended. The Committee will be continued. . . Chairman Surgenor of the School Committee announced the $15,000 Ford Foundation grant. . . Allan Finlay, for the School Building Committee, announced that it should have bids for the new

High School within a few weeks. The project will probably have no effect on the tax rate this year, he said. . . The Committee will take money left over, not used, from building the Loker and Claypit Hill Schools and use it to install sprinklers in the rest of the present High School. . . The Selectmen were elected surveyors of wood and bark and field drivers. Mrs. C. William Cheney asked, "Just what does a surveyor of wood and bark do?" Thomas F. Linnehan, selectman, said, "I haven't measured any wood or bark since elected." These are traditional jobs . . . Somebody asked what the tax rate would be and Chairman Robert M. Morgan of the Finance Committee said he didn't know what the increase in valuation would be, but he thought the tax increase would be in the neighborhood of $3 . . . An item in the budget calls for blasting away the ledge in Rice Road, which has caused many accidents. . .

Chief Ernest H. Damon and officer Fred H. Perry, was forced by a careless motorist into a minor collision with a hydrant on Pine Street.
Roche was captured by Natick police near the Pine Oaks Club, hiding in the brush. A loaded revolver and a bag containing the stolen money, $1200, were found abandoned in a woodpile outside the club.
Curran was arrested an hour or so later on the Worcester Turnpike by a Wellesley police officer. Events occurred in about this order, as the Hoblitzells and the police tell the story:
Mr. Hoblitzell, manager of the Boston Baby Carriage Company of Natick, drove with Mrs. Hoblitzell around 6 p.m. Saturday to the branch of the Natick Trust Company at Route 9 and Weathersfield Road to deposit money.

Mrs. Hoblitzell sat in the car. Roche approached her husband, showed the gun and said, "Give me the money and start walking."
"Here it is," said Mr. Hoblitzell, "just don't shoot."
Mrs. Hoblitzell, watching, thought for a moment her husband had met a friend. Then the two kept walking and, at Roche's order, turned into an alley. Mrs. Hoblitzell tooted the horn once, but realized something was wrong and stopped quickly.
In the alley, not knowing whether he was going to be shot, Mr. Hoblitzell took a chance and ran. He got away and went into a nearby bowling alley, whence he telephoned police.

The man with the gun ran back and got into an automobile which was parked behind the Hoblitzells'. As it drove away, Mrs. Hoblitzell took down its number.
Natick police arrived in a few moments. Mrs. Hoblitzell gave them the registration and it went out on the radio immediately.
Chief Damon and officer Perry were in the center of Cohasset when they heard the broadcast. They drove immediately to the corner of Pine Street and North Main Street. Soon the wanted car came along. They followed it up Pine Street.

On the way an innocent motorist got in front, between the police cruiser and the fugitives. Then the man bore left, getting ready to turn into his own drive, and the cruiser, forced to turn left with him, ran up a bank and whacked a hydrant.

Then it had to back up before resuming the chase.

The fugitives' car was in the Pine Oaks parking lot. Natick police, who had set up a roadblock on Oaks Street, were around the place. Here Roche was captured.

An hour or so later, according to the police, Curran arrived back on foot at the same bowling alley on the Turnpike from which Mr. Hoblitzell had telephoned police. He called a taxi to take him home.

Over on the Wellesley section of the Turnpike was another roadblock. The Wellesley officer stopped the cab, looked inside at the passenger, recognized him and said, "Hello, John."

"What's the idea?" said John. "There's been a holdup up the road. Didn't you know?"

"They're having 'em all the time," said John.

But his clothes were muddy and his face was scratched, so the Wellesley officer arrested him.

The Hoblitzells live next door to Mr. Hoblitzell's mother, Mrs. W. Woodside Hoblitzell Jr. of 81 Woodchester Drive. After the arrest, says Mrs. Hoblitzell Jr., she realized that Curran had been in both the family homes a number of times to service electrical appliances, and had talked about sports with her son.

Membership Of St. Peter's Church Now Numbers 1716

WESTON -- St. Peter's Episcopal Church, 320 Boston Post Road, reports a record membership for 1958, according to figures just released in a parochial report to the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts. Total membership is now 1760 men, women and children. 35 families affiliated with St. Peter's last year, bringing the total to 415 families. Of this number, 80 families are resident in Wayland and Cochituate.

The largest increase came in enrollment figures for the Church School. There are now 635 pupils, with 45 teachers and officers. The Rev. Philip S. Krug, Rector, announced that this represents a 57% increase over the previous year. Two complete sessions of Church School have been held each Sunday morning for several years. Confirmed persons now total 735, and this is 84 more persons than were listed for 1957. The annual budget for 1959 has been set at $41,810 by the Vestry, and has been approved by the parish at its annual meeting. St. Peter's has occupied its new church and parish house since November, 1958.

State Tax Money

"Cherry Sheet" estimates of the 1959 state disbursements to cities and towns have been received by local officials from State Tax Commissioner Robert T. Capeless. Under these estimates, Wayland can expect to receive $124,821 and Weston $130,064 as their share of this year's state income, corporation, and meals taxes. The cherry sheet sum is one of the figures used by towns in calculating the 1959 local property tax. The institution of the withholding tax system is expected to increase by an additional $10 million the total amount of money which can be disbursed.

The cherry sheet is so called because that's its color.

Good Friday Services By Weston Church Council

Toulouse Goose Is Still Missing From N. Wayland

WAYLAND -- Mrs. Richard E. Woodman of 17 Waltham Road is still looking for her 15-pound Toulouse goose, lost near Moore Road on March 8 and not seen since the evening of March 9. She's afraid the snow cover left by the storm may have kept him from living off the country successfully.

A Toulouse goose.

Mrs. Woodman says she had 24 gray geese, all hatched out last June. She now has six left. On the 8th, she sold half a dozen to a man who was to take them to Framingham. When he reached Framingham, he had only five.

Somebody reported seeing a goose strutting along Glezen Lane, talking back to a dog. Mrs. Woodman thinks the missing goose is probably a male, because this is the goose season for l'amour, and when l'amour rises in the bosom of a he goose he'll talk back to anybody.

Anyway, a Concord Road family found him and, well aware that a Toulouse goose walking the streets

Rebuilding Of Pelham Island Road Is Voted Down $600 Items For Veterans' Posts Are Cut From Budget

WAYLAND -- By two separate votes, one in the motion and the other on a motion to reconsider, the town voted at the adjourned meeting of March 11 to cut from the budget two sums of $600 each towards quarters for the posts of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Mrs. Samuel A. Cutler, left, and Mr. Paul J. Pontecorvo.

Sums for this purpose have been appropriated annually for many years. At a town meeting several years ago there was a motion to end the grant, but it was beaten. Since then, the items have gone into the budget without question.

At this meeting the motion to cut the items was made by Richard Durant, who argued that there are many worthy organizations in town which are self-supporting, and that these two should not be singled out. He said that many towns do provide quarters for veterans' organizations and many do not.

Somebody said it was mandatory on the town. Frank Kilburn, town counsel, said the legislation was only permissive. Ronald Campbell and Martin Hall spoke in favor of keeping the items in the budget.

On a standing vote, it was 143 for the motion, 128 against.

Then there was a motion to reconsider. After considerable debate, this was also beaten on a standing vote, 192 to 143.

The budget, as finally approved, came to $1,845,190.37.

Another argument came on Article 22, which involved a motion for spending $13,000 to raise the grade of Pelham Island Road, from the State Road westerly to the end of the shopping center, by three feet, and widen and resurface it.

A committee has been studying for two years to see what can be

The cake stood eight feet high at the tip of the graceful four-tiered Christopher Wren spire. The cake, made of 680 eggs and 470 pounds of fruit, was donated by Jamie's grandfather, Herbert Marshall, president of Marshall's Food Shop in Lexington. Assisting his father, vice president of the firm, in designing the cake were W. Russell Crosby Jr., (Cohasset), and Raymond Mercer (Brighton), cake decoration specialist. OF SWIMMING POOLS AND SALARIES

When queried once by a young bystander, as to how high an income one needed in order to own a yacht, one of the financial greats of the past answered, "If you have to ask you can't afford one!"

Up until just recently swimming pools were in the same category. But not true now! Yachts still command a high price, but with the advent of Fiberglass, you can now have a completely equipped, maintenance free, fully guaranteed swimming pool installed on your property in less than a week, usually for under $2500.

Low cost, long term financing can be conveniently arranged to suit your individual requirements.

Over In Concord They Have A Civic Recruiting System

But Here, The Lazy Man Has A Fair Chance To Dodge Committee Service

Things are bad enough in the committee department around here, but over in Concord they are worse.

In that town, which is otherwise of excellent repute, they give each new resident a card to fill out. It asks what his interests are -- sports, engineering, Scouts, music, dramatics -- and in what activities, public or civic, he participated in his previous abode.

In Wayland and Weston, hunting for recruits to carry the load is done with more finesse. The nominating committee goes through the telephone book looking for palsies, then applies flattery and, if necessary, the thumbscrew, until the candidate agrees to take the job. They don't take the poor fellow's serial number and fingerprints.

And this brings up the subject of how to get out of membership on committees while still remaining on speaking terms with everybody.

One Wayland couple, it is reported, recently moved away from town because they were civicked out of the place. They were careless enough to answer the telephone one day and before they knew it they were elected to this, chosen to run that and being groomed to run for public office. They held meetings at home three nights a week and the other four they went out to meetings. It got so their children became strangers to them, and began to cry every time the baby sitter appeared.

The dishes were unwashed and the floors unswept. The husband woke hollow-eyed each morning and his boss began to get sick of him. Minutes of the previous meeting cluttered all the tables in the house and the babysitter was taking $20 a week out of the house, and this used up all the beer money.

So the couple sold their house and moved to, of all places, Concord, but they had learned their lesson. They had no telephone installed, they refused to answer their doorbell, they filled out no cards, they ignored the Welcome Wagon and they spoke to nobody. At last accounts they were living happily ever after.

In some towns the oldtimers put the freeze on newcomers. Not so in these friendly, man-eating communities. Around here, new residents are taken in at once, just as the cannibals welcome the missionaries.

Let word get out that the fellow whose furniture is being moved in today can play the harmonica, and he'll be entertaining at the P.T.A. meeting tonight.

Some try to avoid this sort of thing by making acquaintance only with the drinking classes, but this doesn't work. Under the influence of cocktails one is likely to confess that he once played shortstop for a high school in Nebraska, and next morning he'll be signed up for the Little League. After that it will be Boy Scouts and after that, with sweet but irresistible pressure, he will be taken into a church, and everybody knows how much church work has to be done. Before he knows it, he'll have no time left for drinking.

After a year or two, when it has become well proven that he doesn't know how to say no, he will be tapped for public office, and that will be the end.

Of course, there are ways to avoid this sea of troubles, but they must be taken in the beginning. It helps to say to the Welcome Wagon woman, "No spik Angless." To church people, one announces that he's a convert to Islam. To callers interested in sports, he points out the cane which he always carries when answering the doorbell. First time politics is mentioned, he says he's a secret agent of Moscow. Confronted with Boy Scouts, he says he likes those uniforms because they remind him of the Brown Shirts with whom he grew up.

It helps not to have any children, too. Children are always making friends with other kids who are likely to get into the house and discover that Pa has a repertory of magic tricks, and blab the news all over town.

At least, this is better than Concord. Here, nobody is asked to hang himself in writing.

Cooperatives are people

All kinds of people belong to cooperatives.
They live in cities, towns, and on farms.
They are businessmen, laborers, professional men, farmers.
They have organized cooperatives because it is a way of working together to get a big job done.
They supply the money that's necessary, they share ownership, they control the business themselves . . . and they share the benefits.
Cooperatives are the people's own businesses . . . lock, stock and barrel.
And they work well . . . fulfilling the need for which they were organized . . . with dividends in better living, happiness and security.

Spring Housecleaning For Nature Trail On March 21

WESTON -- A call for assistance is being made by the Weston Forest & Trail Association and the New England Wild Flower Preservation Society to tidy up the winter damage along the Hubbard Trail before the wildflowers make their appearance. Members and interested friends will report on Saturday, March 21, between the hours of 10 and 4 at the Oak Street end of Weston's nature trail, near the corner of Glen Road. Each year at this time, volunteers help to clear fallen branches and other debris from the forest floor for burning. It's BYOA (Bring your own axe, or saw). If weather interferes, the work-day will be postponed one week, to March 28. Call TW 3-7853 for information.
In three weeks the marsh marigolds will be in bloom along the brook, soon to be followed in rapid succession in the woods by trilliums, dozens of violet varieties, hepaticas and trailing arbutus. By mid-May, there will be hundreds of varieties of wildflowers to be seen along the many paths through the woods.

This is the third season of the two organizations' joint project, and will be its first really exciting one, as the planting activities have been intensive. Two bluebird houses and a wood-duck box were recently installed through the generosity of the Women's Community League's Garden Interest Group.

WESTON -- Mr. Charles K. Cummings Jr., director of guidance at Weston High School, was scheduled to be a member of a panel discussing emotional disturbances, sponsored by the Massachusetts Conference for School Health, at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Boston on March 18.
WAYLAND -- Karl B. Schneider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin G. Schneider of 53 Old Sudbury Road, has been pledged to Alpha Sigma Psi fraternity at Middlebury College, where he is a freshman.

TOWN MEETING

the shopping center opens.

Paul J. Pontecorvo moved an amendment to the motion, to have the first work done on the westerly section of the project. Chairman Robert M. Morgan of the Finance Committee objected that no engineering work had yet been done on that section. The amendment carried 150 to 125. Mr. Morgan then moved to adjourn, and this motion was defeated. Then he moved another amendment, that no money at all should be spent on the project until after the engineering had been completed. This amendment carried, and then the whole motion was voted down.

Roger P. Stokey. New Moderator.

Then the meeting adjourned until the following Wednesday, with 15 Articles yet to be acted on.

Some notes on the meeting: The weather was crisp and good. Next day came a foot of snow. . . In the hall was a guest from Costa Rica. . . It was moved that the Bypass Committee be continued. Turned out that only one member had been appointed anyway, but that seemed to be enough to constitute a committee. So voted. . . Pay increases for town employees went through. . . Commonwealth Road East will be rebuilt as a Chapter 90 project, to eliminate a bad curve at the Natick line. The town puts up $6,000 this year, the County $6000 and the Commonwealth $12,000. A two-year project. . . The town voted to take leftover school building money and use it to install sprinklers in the part of the High School which doesn't yet have them. . . The town voted $7000 for the acquisition of nine substandard lots, involving a total of 62,770 square feet. . . O. H. Somers of Three Ponds Road moved to pass over the Article for outside reappraisal of town real estate. Said he and others had looked into the matter and had come to the conclusion it wasn't such a good idea after all. So voted. . . The town voted to sell the front lawn of the Legion Hall in Cochituate to the Legion for $1. . . Voted to allow Donald K. Ide to use the Water Department's road to the standpipes on Reeves Hill as a driveway, under a license. . . Voted to ask the Legislature to transfer ownership of 14,689 square feet of land back of the Congregational Church, where the tennis courts are, to the Selectmen, so that the town may eventually sell the land to the church for needed parking space. Before the town can sell park land, the Legislature had to act. . . Voted to finish reconstructing Moore Road. . .

MORE ON VETERANS

WAYLAND -- A card signed by R. J. Van Wart, Commander of Charles H. Alward Post 133, American Legion, mailed out to town residents after the town meeting, said that, were the appropriation for veterans' quarters included in the budget, it would amount to four cents on the tax rate.

TOULOUSE GOOSE

of Wayland unaccompanied is a most unusual sight, captured him and put him in a pen with a duck and a rabbit. It was supposed an owner might appear.

He stayed in the pen Sunday night and Monday, but sometime Monday night he vanished. Mrs. Woodman says a gray goose can sort of walk up a wall. He uses his feet, but also uses his wings for lifting himself. Since March 9, he hasn't been reported. He could live off the ground, says Mrs. Woodman, but the snowstorm of March 12 covered up everything edible and she's afraid he's hungry.

The missing Toulouse goose has no name. But Mrs. Woodman says that when her flock strays, she calls "Goosie loosie" and they come running, or goose-stepping, back home.

Freshmen Are Bursting With Brains, PTA Told

WAYLAND -- An evaluation of the recent Iowa Test scores made by members of the four Senior High School classes was presented to the High School P.T.A. on March 16 by Mr. William Stimson of the U. of Iowa Science Research Associates.

The composite scores for each class, all ranging well into the top quarter on a nationwide basis, showed progressively greater excellence from the senior to the freshman class where average scores for freshmen rated around 99 percentile on a majority of the 9 fields in which tests were given. Slides showing individual placement of students on an I.Q. rating correlated with the Iowa scores and classroom grades were displayed for analysis with each child in the school given a number by which his parents could locate his position both in his class and in relation to the national average. The present freshman class is extremely well situated, Mr. Stimson pointed out, with a very large number having not only the basic ability but the skills with which to do well in any four-year college. At least one member of that class, he said, is capable right now of making the grade in the National Merit Scholarship program for Juniors and Seniors. Mr. Louis Oxford, guidance teacher at the High School, helped compile the charts and answered questions asked by parents after the meeting.

Science TV Series
Allen H. Morgan of Wayland, Executive Vice-President of the Massachusetts Audubon Society, announced on March 13 that a natural science TV series for 5th and 6th grade children is being planned by the Children's Museum, the Massachusetts Audubon Society and the Eastern Massachusetts TV Council. Stateion WGBH-TV will present this day-time program especially for "in-school" use, and it will be patterned along the general lines of the award-winning "Discovery" series shown by this same station. Special material will be available to teachers for class-room use.

Dr. Lombard Beats World's Records In Sled Dog Races

Dr. Lombard and Chuck, 60-pound Siberian husky, one of his lead dogs. (McCann Photo)

WAYLAND -- Dr. Roland A. Lombard of Stonebridge Road, veterinarian and well-known sled-dog enthusiast, returned home on March 20 after smashing two world's records and winning the North American sled-dog racing championship in Fairbanks, Alaska, on March 15.

Dr. Lombard, who raced the 70-mile course in three heats for a total time of 4 hours, 47 minutes, and 18 seconds, broke the world's record for the first 20-mile heat, came in second on the next 20-mile heat, and finished the last, 30-mile heat, out in front to rack up the fastest time ever recorded for the 70-mile run.

The race, which was held over a three-day period in temperatures ranging from 10 to 20 degrees below zero, netted Dr. Lombard a $2500 prize and the first championship to go to a non-Alaskan in the 15-year history of the event. He placed second in the event. (Please turn to Page 8)

Weston Tax Rate Of $53 Is Predicted At Hearing

WESTON -- The 150 persons who attended the budget hearing at the Town Hall on March 23 heard that the tax rate is going up $6, to $53, and that Wellesley Street has had the worst accident rate in town.

In three years, it was said, there have been 13 accidents on this street, with 11 persons injured. In slippery weather, it was said, the fire apparatus can't get up the hill by Regis College, and has to go around by way of Newton Street.

The Selectmen presided and John G. Brooks 2d answered questions about the school budget. Items about schools:

It was said that there will probably be a new principal for The Country School, Mr. Thomas H. McFarlin, now elementary school principal, will be in charge of the new elementary school and Buildings A and B.

There is an item of $4000 for research and development. This may mean half the annual salary of a man for research and development, half the salary of a business manager and assistant superintendent, or an outside consultant.

Next year the bus schedules will be rearranged to get all the elementary school children to school first and then the high school students.

Gravel Removal Hearing Lasts 3 Days In Court

WAYLAND -- A hearing lasting three days, from March 16 through March 18, was held at the Middlesex Superior Court in Cambridge on the appeal of Mr. Louis Dean of Weston from the Zoning Board's denial of a permit for Mr. Dean to remove 800,000 cubic yards of gravel from 30 acres of his land in the Blossom Lane, Mainstone section of town.

The main issue was whether removal of the gravel would cause depreciation of property values as well as increased flooding in Blossom Lane properties. Among those testifying for Mr. Dean were Alton Stearn, a land surveyor, and Sidney Shurcliff, a landscape architect who had formerly been employed by the town of Wayland for work on the Loker and Claypit Hill Schools. They asserted that the land was not only good for farming - a corn crop had failed in the 1947 drought year - but that even grass will not grow on it now because of the way the water leaches through.

WESTON -- For the last four weeks the Weston Youth Council has been meeting at the Unitarian Church to plan the Easter sunrise service at the top of Cat Rock. President Steve Richardson of St. Peter's, under the guidance of Rev. Alan Moore, has been leading the group in planning the service. John Reissner will speak on a subject related to "How does the Resurrection affect us today."

The service will be held at 5:30 followed by a breakfast at 6:30 at the Weston Methodist Church Parish House on North Avenue. For reservations call TW 3-0298 or TW 3-6655 before Friday, March 27. The price of the breakfast is 75¢.

Jane Wypler Wins First Prize At Science Fair

WESTON -- Five hundred parents and friends visited the 9th annual Science Fair at Weston High School on March 21, to marvel at the 89 exhibits and congratulate the winners. There were entries in all grades from 4 through 12, and all the projects were done on a volunteer basis. The winners:

Local Atomic Fallout Is Measured For First Time By Scientist's Daughter

WESTON -- Margaret Martell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Martell of 6 October Lane, a freshman at Weston High School, won an honorable mention at the recent Weston Science Fair by being probably the first person ever to measure radioactive fallout over the town.

Her subject was "Analysis of Radioactive Content of Weston Fallout", and in doing her project she used the Geiger counter recently acquired by the High School.

She chose the subject was "Analysis of Radioactive Content of Weston Fallout". She chose the subject herself, her parents say, but she came to it naturally. Her father, a graduate of West Point who has a Ph. D. from the University of Chicago, directs research in atmospheric radioactivity at the Air Force Cambridge Research Center.

How is Weston fixed for fallout? Dr. Martell reports:

"The experiment was planned to demonstrate a simple procedure for measuring radioactive fallout in rain. Results, for the first week of March, were about 70 millicuries of fission product beta activity per square mile.

"This is a high result, considering the last Russian atomic tests were in October, 1958. It's about average compared with New England fallout during 1958.

"New England receives several times as much fallout as Southern United States and is one of the heaviest fallout areas of the world."

Dr. Martell was quoted on this subject in a recent issue of Time Magazine.

$1200 For Veterans' Posts Voted Back Into Budget

WAYLAND -- Having labored on March 11 to cut from the budget $1200 for veterans' quarters, the town meeting on March 18 labored equally hard and put the money back in.

The third session finally ended the 1959 regular meeting. After all the serious business had been handled, the gathering wound up in a blaze of semantics, trying to phrase a rule that all chimneys in town must be built reasonably straight.

The town also took a different action on the proposition to rebuild Pelham Island Road. Defeated at the March 11 meeting, the matter was brought up again and settled this way:

The town voted $15,000, of which $2000 is to be spent for plans for reconstructing the road from State Road West to a distance beyond the bridge. But none of the remaining $13,000 is to be spent for actual work until voted, Chairman Robert M. Morgan of the Finance Committee said this agreement seemed satisfactory to all, and that the reason for voting the money now, but not spending it, is to get it in this year's tax rate. Next year, he said, there will be a big school appropriation.

The town also voted to set a 10-miles-per-hour speed limit for motor boats on the Sudbury River. This proposition sounded funny to some, until it was explained that Concord has enacted rules for motorboat driving, so that the speeders come down to Wayland to open up their throttles. The vote on this measure was 170 to 30, and it was said that the Selectmen will

Wellesley Street Widening Will Be Issue In Weston

WESTON -- An article calling for relocation and rebuilding of 1800 to 2000 feet of Wellesley Street, from the Regis College driveway entrance to a point 100 feet north of Chestnut Street, looks like one of the most interesting in the short warrant -- only 14 articles -- to be acted on at the Weston town meeting of March 30.

Considerable opposition to the proposed road job has been voiced. Wellesley Street is a sort of narrow roller coaster thoroughfare, lined with ancient trees and stone walls, but many like it just the way it is.

Also up for consideration will be a budget of $1,535,477, biggest ever, including $924,661 for schools. The total budget is up 13.2 per cent over that for 1958, with much of the increase attributed to the increase in (Please turn to Page 9)

On Plumb Chimneys

To the Editor:

There is a man in our town
Whose brain was on the bum.
He built himself a chimney
That was too far out of plumb.

He reckoned not, however,
With the power of town meeting.
And very soon he will receive
A most unpleasant greeting.

For the folks in Wayland rose In wrath and legislated newly That chimney builders at their Worst shall never be unruly.

The width and height and area
On top or in the middle May vary from the vertical
By only just a liddle.

And so town meeting ended
And our tails were mighty numb.
But tonight there's joy in Wayland
No more chimneys out of Plumb!

National 4-H Center

To the Editor:

Near Washington D.C., is the new National 4-H Center. It will be used by 4-H Club members and leaders from all over the country for national conferences.

4-H Club members and former members in Massachusetts have been selected to furnish the lobby of the main building, which everyone who attends the Center will see and use. Our job is to supply the furniture for the Lobby. This will be done in memory of our former State 4-H Club Leader, George L. Farley, who made such a big contribution to 4-H Club work not only in Massachusetts but nationally.

The amount needed from the entire State is $3,500. Middlesex County has offered to raise $500.

We are calling this project to the attention of all former 4-H Club members who may want to participate in the new National 4-H Center.
Present 4-H Club members are contributing to the project through the local 4-H Town Committee or 4-H Club.

Checks may be made payable to the Massachusetts 4-H Foundation and mailed to either John F.
Sanders, Westford, or George E.
Erickson, former 4-H County Club Agent, at Concord, Massachusetts.
Sincerely yours,
Elmer W. Bigwood

For Edward Langenbach

To the Editor:

The approaching Weston town election of March 30 presents an outstanding candidate for the office of Selectman who well deserves the town's approval.

Edward Langenbach, who was nominated by the Citizens' Caucus, has experience and accomplishments in major town positions to confirm his readiness for service as a Selectman. He has been a member and chairman of the Finance Committee for a total of six years. During that time, intelligent economy was achieved and a valuable long-range capital expenditure plan was developed for the town. He served the town as a member of the Veterans' Housing Board which planned and carried out a most successful and unique program.
He has given much of his time to the town in many public issues. He helped bring about equalization of real estate assessments, assisted in establishing a mental health program in the public schools and has served frequently as advisor to various town committees. He has shown attention to the needs of our youngsters by serving as an executive leader in the Scout program in the Weston area. He is a graduate of Dartmouth College and the Harvard Law School and is a practicing attorney in Boston.

We recommend Edward Langenbach for election to the office of Selectman. We urge his election by a large vote in recognition of his able service and to encourage other worthy candidates to serve the town. The polls will be open at the Town Hall from 12 noon to 7 p.m.

From John Underhill

To the Editor:

As many of the people of Weston know, I am a candidate for the Recreation Commission and would like to briefly state some facts and beliefs which should be of interest to the voters.

By way of personal biography, I am married, have two young boys, and live at 67 Wellesley Street. I am 34 years old, graduated from Wesleyan University in 1947, have lived in Weston for 6 1/2 years and I am a life insurance salesman.

Recreation in Weston is a big thing and will get bigger as the town grows and we acquire more land for playgrounds. I believe that the Recreation Commission has functioned well in the past and has a fine group.
I personally know most of the members and feel that I could work well with them.
I have always been active and interested in all sports during my school years and since, I have spent a good deal of time as a camp counselor in charge of athletic programs and have continued some of this type of activity in recent years.
I definitely feel that Weston should maintain sufficient facilities for all types of recreational activities for all ages.

I shall represent the desires of people of Weston to the best of my ability and conscience. I believe that I can do the job well.
If you do, I hope that you will give me your support.

Anti Street Widening

To the Editor:

All Weston residents who value deeply the rural charm of their community will resist actively every move to sacrifice it to the twin evils of greater speed and heavier traffic.

We are now faced with the proposal that one more section of Wellesley Street, one of Weston's most scenic thoroughfares, be widened and straightened. If this is done it is inevitable that traffic, speed, and danger to homeowners and their children along its length will increase (even now many refer to it as the #128 by-pass for trucks and transients).

Traffic conditions on Wellesley Street at present are not ideal and the new High School will impose new considerations which will not be known for a year or more after the opening of the school. We do not believe, however, that widening and straightening Wellesley Street is the answer. We do believe that rigid policing and the establishment and enforcement of a speed code for Weston will minimize our traffic problems and reduce the great menace to the safety of our children.

Although all of us regret the taking of tall trees and the encroachment on homesites it is of even greater concern to us that the fate of Wellesley Street may prove to be the handwriting on the wall for other Weston streets.

In past years Weston residents in other areas have faced the threat of relocation and by concerted effort have succeeded in preventing it. We urge all interested in preserving the character, dignity and safety of our town to stand solidly with us at Town Meeting in voting against the relocation of Wellesley Street.

Very sincerely yours,
Mr. and Mrs. Austin J. Cribben Jr.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schlosberg
Mr. and Mrs. John H. Underhill Jr.
Mr. and Mrs. Chester E. Blackey
Mr. and Mrs. Stephen T. Riley

On Weston Recreation

To the Editor:

We earnestly hope that every Weston voter will take the time to read Urbanity and the Wilderness, Sports Illustrated, March 16, in relation to the contest for the Recreation Commission. It is an eloquent plea for urgent re-examination of our outdoor recreation resources and for new appraisal of our requirements.

Dr. Robert J. MacMillan has had a dedicated interest in these matters for many years, recognized most recently by his election to a vice-presidency of Wildlife Conservation, Incorporated.

We think that his election to the Commission would insure conscientious representation of those among us uneasy about the future of outdoor recreation in this rapidly expanding community.

Dick Crouch Writes

WESTON — Through the letters to the editor column, Herbert (Dick) Crouch of Weston addresses the following message to Weston voters:

To the Voters of the Town of Weston:

On Monday, March 30, from 12 noon until 7 p.m., yours is the privilege of voicing your opinion in the true American and Democratic way, whom you desire to represent you in various town offices for the next 3 years.

For the Board of Public Welfare,
I the undersigned earnestly request your consideration to re-elect me to office for another 3-year term. I have served the Town of Weston for the past 16 years as a member of the Board, 6 years as its chairman, with this experience and knowledge of welfare problems,
I feel well qualified to continue in this capacity, more especially in the light of the Town's growth and the increase in welfare cases that unfortunately but naturally will accrue.

During any years in office I participated in obtaining a dignified setting for the welfare office and was responsible for obtaining a person with a high merit rating to administer the welfare program.

The duties of the Board are governed by very rigid laws, rules and regulations as set forth by the Massachusetts Dept. of Public Welfare and these laws are constantly changing to meet the needs as they arise. We of the Board make every effort to further assist the aged, sick and needy and rehabilitate those recipients

One Of These Days People Will Re-Discover Walking

And Scratch
That "Little Car
To Run Around In"

It was some years ago when the first suburban housewife said, "I wish I had just a little inexpensive car to run around in," and the trouble, which started then and there, has been getting worse ever since.

The catch is that there's no such thing as an inexpensive little car, either to run around in or to raise petunias in.

The sensible enough idea is that Mother will use the little car to take children to dancing school, dentist, Scouts, store, Little League or swimming pool, and herself to League of Women Voters, package store for a quart of sherry, obstetrician, church and rug-hooking class.

It is understood that Father will have the use of the new car, the one with 27 payments left on it. This is the only remaining vestige, in modern society, of man's former position of ascendancy. Since women got the vote he hasn't amounted to a row of filled shark's teeth, but he still gets use of the better automobile so that he can make an impression in the economic world on those who are only six payments from outright ownership of a motor vehicle.

There is even a story that one local resident actually owned a car long enough to complete the payments on it, and that when it finally became his it had sprouted moss, for all the world like a gray beard, on its front bumper.

But since that first woman opened her mouth the universal experience has been that the second car costs as much to operate as the first one, and the third jalopy as much as the other two put together. Save on first cost and the later costs multiply. Nowhere is there a vehicle exempt from insurance, flat tires, excise tax, registration, gas tax, fluttering voltage, abrasions and contusions and drooping upholstery.

The plain truth is that nobody yet has figured out how to beat the automobile rap. Whether to turn in the heap every year, every two years. . . or to keep it until, like the wonderful one-hoss shay, it just disintegrates. . . Not even the faculty at the Harvard Business School knows the true word.

The problem is complicated by the fact that a boy or girl aged 16 years and 3 months who lacks a driver's license and a motor vehicle considers himself as much a social outcast as though he had leprosy blossoms on his nose.

In one local home, well blessed with adolescents, there was a morning last Winter when six jalopies in the dooryard all refused to start at once, and while the man from the garage was working on them out in the cold, a 17-year-old girl inside, only member of the family who didn't own a heap, sat crying bitterly because she was excluded from the fun.

Time was when one automobile in a chicken coop garage was considered a big deal, and just riding around was thought to be a sport.

Now, no two members of a family want to go to any place at the same time and nobody rides for pleasure except a few j.d.'s out looking for girls or other trouble.

The difference between an M.T.A. deficit, where there is public transportation, and the automobile deficit, where there is private transportation, is that the automobile deficit is heavier and is assessed on the individual.

One fellow in town insists that a modern measure of social standing is the number of car pools children belong to.

But this automobile business is harder to beat than the opium habit. The newer the car, the more it costs. The older it is, the less it costs to buy and the more it costs to keep it alive. One of these days somebody will come home on the bus with a new pair of walking shoes, and perhaps start a new fad in transportation. -- D.B.W.

change with the times!

FOR DECADES IN OUR EARLY HISTORY, the dependable, accurate Kentucky rifle guarded the American home. It helped keep order, remedied injustices, protected the family against constant danger.

In this modern age, the Kentucky rifle is a museum piece, but its place has been filled by modern economic weapons.

One of these is the cooperative.

It helps bring healthy competition into the market place, assuring just prices for what you sell, and fair prices for what you buy.

Co-ops are a powerful means of protecting the American home and family, and they strengthen our American free enterprise system.

Claypit Science Fair

WAYLAND--One hundred twenty fifth and sixth grade children of Claypit Hill School held their annual science fair from Tuesday, March 17, to Friday, March 20, in the foyer of the school building.

Looking at some of the exhibits, above, left to right are Joan Maguire, Peter Dicks, Heather Caraker and Anthony Linn. (McCann Photo)

This year's fair was directed by Francis J. White and Robert B. Desrosiers, faculty advisors.

At the conclusion of the fair, the following grand prize winners were announced:

In first place, a tie developed between Jeffrey Bush, Grade 6, who presented a functioning electric arc furnace consisting of a flower pot, common garden rocks, a pie plate, salt water, curtain rods, carbon rods, wire and a switch, and Arthur Waldron, Grade 5, who explained the fundamentals of atomic energy and demonstrated atom trails with the help of a home-made cloud chamber.

In second place, David Gardner, Grade 5, illustrated lines of force on common types of magnets, practical application of magnets in motors, and the difference between magnetic and non-magnetic metals.

Dolores Amidon's third place grand prize resulted from a three-dimensional depiction of the human eye and its focusing components.

Partners Tommy Chamberlin and Richard Chaisson, fourth-place winners, presented a demonstrator board of electric circuits showing lights in series and in parallel, an alternating current generator, a direct current motor, and an electromagnet.

Square Dance Will Feature Ralph Page And "Charlie"

WESTON -- Caller at the square dance for the Women's Community League scholarship fund, to be held at the Weston High School gym on April 3, will be Ralph Page of Keene, N. H., who started calling square dances in 1930 and has been a full-time professional caller since 1938.

As an expert in his field, he has toured Japan for the State Department, giving lessons, and he has taught in California, Canada, West Virginia and Florida, as well as in many New England areas. He guesses he has probably taught at least 75,000 persons.

In addition, he is editor of "Northern Junket", a dance and folklore magazine of wide circulation.

Another character being featured in connection with this dance is "Charlie", not so distinguished as Mr. Page but one who has been leaving a trail around town lately as a promoter for the party.

WESTON -- The Red Barn School, 724 Boston Post Road, announces that afternoon kindergarten sessions will be held in the school, beginning next fall. The new classes for kindergarten children will be in addition to the school's regular nursery school program. Red Barn is a cooperative school, owned and operated by parents, and administered by a staff of professional teachers.

have the job of enforcing the new by-law.

The most earnest debate, however, was on the two items of $600 each towards maintaining the quarters of the Legion and the V.F.W.

The subject came up again when
Mr. Morgan moved to reconsider Article 4, the budget, so that an additional appropriation for snow removal could be put in, on account of the March 12 storm. John W.
Leavitt, former Selectman promptly moved an amendment, to put the veterans' money back in.
Henry G. Pearson Jr. moved another amendment, to reconsider also the proposition to buy and move the house near the Congregational Church for a school administration building.

All of this led to a complicated parliamentary proceeding, with votes to reconsider, to vote whether to vote on the particular motions and amendments, and finally to vote on the propositions themselves.

Mr. Leavitt presented the case for the veterans. One citizen, on the other side, said it wasn't the money (which Mr. Leavitt pointed out would amount to less than the price of a pack of cigarettes for each taxpayer) but that the veterans' organizations were receiving public money while trying to influence legislation.

Howard S. Russell, former Moderator, noted the difference of opinion, and remarked that some, veterans included, might have disagreed with some of the actions of the national organizations. Archibald Cox, Selectman, said the action in cutting the items from the budget looked like a slap in the face for the local Posts, and that he was in favor of putting the items back in.

Several standing votes were taken at the various points in the parliamentary process. One of them was 166 to 109, another 171 to 116, and the money went back in,
as did the additional snow removal
money, $3000.

The amendment about the school administration house was dropped when it was announced that School Committee and Selectmen had chewed the matter over and decided that use of space in the Town Building was a temporary solution.

At the end came the somewhat hilarious argument over when is a chimney plumb. Prominent legal lights in the town huddled over it, with suggestions from engineers, and out of all the amendments and suggestions came this wording

(Ed. note: We think):

"No chimney shall be built out of plumb more than one-third of its width and depth at its narrowest point unless it is built into masonry or concrete wall. If a chimney is dangerous from any cause, it shall be repaired and made safe or taken down."

Fire Chief Francis J. Hartin said it wasn't so funny, really, because a new house in town has been built with a chimney so crooked it's a menace, and there was no law on the books to prevent it.

Some notes: The article calling for municipal rubbish collection was passed over. . . . Apropos the chimney article, Frederick Walther recalled seeing an old cartoon, a workman atop a brick wall holding a plumb line and saying: "What do you mean, it's not plumb? It's more than plumb." . . . A number of drainage easements were voted and some streets were accepted . . .
The zoning by-laws pertaining to the removal of gravel were tightened up . . . An article for amending the zoning requirements for house lots in an area of Cochituate was passed over, on motion of Dominic Anzivino .

WAYLAND -- A second child, second daughter, Allison Woods
Durant, was born to Mr. and Mrs.
Richard Durant of Woodridge Road on March 4, at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

GRAVEL REMOVAL

Zoning Board of Appeals, was the first witness for the town and gave the Board's reasons for denying the permit. L. William Bertelsen, chairman of the Planning Board, testified that the lowering of the land which would result from gravel removal would isolate the property in the Mainstone area and make access to it from the Wayland side of the State Road almost impossible. George K. Lewis, Water Commissioner, testified in his professional capacity as geographer. He offered the opinion that bed rock would be struck at the bottom of the pit. This would result in a faster run-off of water and increased flooding of Blossom Lane properties in times of heavy rain. Allan Finlay testified as a real estate developer in Wayland that the gravel removal operation would have a depreciating effect on the value of properties now built or to be built in the future in that area. He doubted that the operation would be completed in the five years asked for by Mr. Dean and suggested that the size of the operation and the length of time it would consume would result in present owners selling and in prospective buyers "shying away" thus bringing down the prices of all properties. He also commented that the operation, just at the entrance to Wayland, would create an unfavorable impression of the whole town.

Robert M. Morgan and Archibald Cox both spoke in confirmation of the previous testimony. Mr. William Queen, a Weston resident of Blossom Lane, and Mr. Robert Sennott, a Wayland resident of Blossom Lane, also spoke against the granting of the permit.

Robert Meserve, of the firm of Nutter, McClennen, and Fish, attorney for Mr. Dean, said that two of the witnesses had made previous offers to buy the Dean property. William McCloskey, acting as attorney for the town, said these were attempts to protect adjacent property from the depreciating effect which a gravel removing operation would have.

Judge DeSaulnier, who presided at the hearing, asked both parties to prepare briefs and to appear again to present oral arguments.

WAYLAND--Mrs. Frank Cooper of Concord Road is spending the winter with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Laura Cooper Rendina, at Mrs. Rendina's home in Sarasota, Florida.

Dr. Lombard took 13 dogs with him although he raced only 12 of them on his 12-dog team. However, he arrived back home with 21 dogs having picked up eight more Alaskan huskies during his trip. They all flew back together on the Flying Tigers Airline, new dogs and old dogs getting along "fine."

Dr. Lombard is looking forward to defending his title in the North American Championships next year.

whose usefulness can be restored and more normal living again made possible. If rehabilitation cannot be accomplished within the scope of this Board or local agencies it is referred to outside agencies for guidance, such as the Massachusetts Rehabilitation Commission.

I mention this because there may be a wrong impression as to what the Board has or has not done to give further assistance to those unfortunate enough to require our aid. The Board has been commended by many other agencies for the social services rendered to the welfare recipients.

May I suggest you refer to the Board of Public Welfare's annual reports in the Town's annual reports of 1957 and 1958. This in itself should clarify any misunderstanding that might exist.

Thanking you for your indulgence in the above and once again

WELLESLEY STREET

butable to a general pay rise of about 5 per cent for all town employees, and added personnel and higher pay in the schools.

One article calls for taking $50,000 from the surplus account and applying it against the proposed increase in expenses. Another calls for a special committee to study the Public Library's needs. The Finance Committee and the Selectmen do not recommend certain small amounts proposed for Town Forest acquisitions. It is proposed to accept as town ways parts of Radcliffe Road and Wildwood Lane.

No question of money for veterans' posts is involved in Weston, says J. Ward Carter, executive secretary. The town votes no money, but does provide free quarters in either the Jones House or Town Hall for the Legion Post.

The rebuilding of Wellesley Street would involve a total relocation, 150 to 200 feet east of the present way. No trees would come down and the present road would be reseeded to grass. Much of the land affected belongs to Regis College and the College, says Mr. Carter, has been cooperative.

The whole project calls for fixing the street all the way from near Chestnut Street to South Avenue, a distance of about a mile.

The part proposed for this year would be a Chapter 90 job and it wouldn't cost the town much, because it has $28,400 from the Commonwealth's 1956 highway fund which it hasn't used yet and can apply for this purpose. On a Chapter 90 job, the town puts up a quarter, the county a quarter and the Commonwealth a half of the total needed.

At a hearing held recently on the matter, says Mr. Carter, most who appeared, were against the project. Some were afraid of high speed traffic which might be engendered on other sections of Wellesley Street by a piece of inviting highway in the middle of it.

Approximately 11,000 men, women and children in Weston and Wayland attended church services during Easter Sunday. First service of the day was the Midnight Mass attended by 200 at St. Julia's Church in Weston.

Next came the Sunrise Service held at Cat Rock at 5:30 a.m. on a chilly, snow-covered Easter morn. Approximately a hundred people - largely young folks but including a few hardy adults - took part in the community service which was planned and carried out by the Weston Youth Council under the guidance of Reverend Alan H. Moore of the Weston Methodist Church. (The Youth Council is made up of youths from among all the Protestant churches in Wes-

"Merry Christmas"

WESTON -- St. Peter's Episcopal Church was jammed to the doors on Easter Sunday. Rev. Philip S. Krug noted the fact and said some of those present wouldn't be on hand next Sunday. In fact, he said, he might never see them again, so he wished them a Merry Christmas.

"The Bulletin Board" To Be Experimental Feature

Beginning with this issue, the Crier is experimenting with a new inside-the-paper feature, a concentration of notices of coming events, in an effort to solve what has become a serious editorial problem.

Between September and May, each year, the dozens of organizations in these two towns, which have a total population of around 16,000, schedule innumerable meetings, parties, shows, sales and dances.

Giving fair notice of such impending events is one of the real services which the Crier can give to the community.

On the other hand, there are getting to be so many such advance notices that they tend to swallow up space which might otherwise be available for stories, features and

Wayland High School Bids Opened-Committee Thinks Deadline Will Be Met

WAYLAND -- Sealed bids for construction of the new High School were opened at the 8 p.m. deadline at the High School on March 30 before an audience of contractors, school building committee members, town officials, wives, husbands, friends and interested citizens.

The bids were for all exterior and interior construction, plumbing and wiring installations in all the buildings, roads and site development, and included the sub-contractors' figures which had been opened a week earlier, on March 23.

Although actual school equipment such as furniture, kitchen and gym equipment, must still be purchased, the School Building Committee is now confident that the whole job can be done comfortably within the town's appropriation. The name of the contracting firm will be announced as soon as Town Counsel Frank Kilburn has verified the details of the bid.

An artist's conception of the new school, done in full color, is now on display at the High School library and will be moved to various locations throughout town so that residents may have a chance to see what the finished High School will look like.

WESTON -- The town approved a 14-article warrant, including the relocation of Wellesley Street, in a one-and-a-half-hour annual Town Meeting on March 30, with Glenn N. Lempereur as moderator. William R. Dewey, Selectman for 13 years, received a standing ovation as he made his final speech as Selectman at the end of the meeting.

WAYLAND -- Norman E. Taylor, town executive secretary, announces that beginning Monday, April 20, all offices in the Town Building will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., instead of from 9 to 5 as at present.

On Weston School Budget

WESTON -- Although the Weston School Committee's budget went through in town meeting, Mr. Leonard A. Dowse of the Finance Committee made a statement at the meeting which looks to the future. He said:

We have met with the school committee many times during the last few months for the purpose of discussing their budget. We discussed the many items which cover some forth pages in great detail and very thoroughly. Occasionally, here and there in the budget we reached an agreement in reducing expenditures. Our approach to the budget has not been merely to see if we could reduce the number of dollars spent but rather our approach has been - in the face of ever rising costs - to determine the necessity of a given item regardless of its size. In other words we have taken a dim view of justifying an item merely because it is small and therefore has little effect on the tax rate. (The budget is indeed made up of thousand of relatively minute items which by themselves have little effect on the tax rate.)

In spite of the reductions which we suggested and which the school committee accepted, it is the unanimous opinion of the finance committee that the school budget is higher than it need be. By give and take we hammered out an agreement. In spite of this it is our feeling that the budgetary methods should be improved. There seems to be no one at the throttle to control the over-all expenditures. As stated in our annual report we intend to study this matter of account control with the school committee later this spring when neither committee is under the pressure of the annual budget preparation.

There have been three (3) areas in which our committees have disagreed. These three are: 1) The number of additional teachers requested in the Junior High School. 2) The area of a research and development man. (The school committee has made the suggestion that they confer with us before taking final action.) The third area of disagreement is in the school committee's newly announced policy in regard to teacher's salaries. They now state that our salary schedule will be second to none in the neighborhood of metropolitan Boston. This is a change from previous years when their policy was to have a salary schedule near the highest in greater Boston. We feel that their new policy is unnecessary, that it is wasteful and that it will not necessarily attract better teachers than their previously announced policy.

The relationship between the finance committee and the school committee has been the most cooperative in recent years. We have worked out many problems satisfactorily, but we still have the unanimous feeling that the school committee could attain the same goals with less money. We cannot, of course, speak for future finance committees. It is fairly certain, however, that unless a new approach is made to the budget and that unless there is a greater firmness in its control a future finance committee might very likely openly disagree with the school committee and propose to amend their budget.

Hidden behind Bruce is Steve Green, John Zorn was in charge.

Bermuda Shorts Arrived After The Bustle Faded

And Nobody Has His Hard

Straw Hat Batted Down

Over His Ears Nowadays

Grandpa was sitting mewling in the Spring sun the other afternoon when it came to him that before long it would be straw hat time, which, by iron custom, used to run from May 15 to September 15.

Then he had a second thought, which used up his thoughts for that day, and it was that the old hard straw hat has gone, vanished with the buffalo, the vest, high button shoes and the bustle. And he was pretty sorry to reflect on the passing of the bustle, because he had been hoping somebody would manage to combine the bustle with Bermuda shorts, which would certainly provide a new and different silhouette.

In those bad old straw hat days, one of the best baseball games of the season was always the one on Sept. 16. On that afternoon, somebody would wear a straw hat to the park and sit in the bleachers, and a mob would gather and pound it down over his ears. That's what a fellow got for flouting custom in those days. It was like a modern woman showing up for a League of Women Voters meeting without her reading glasses and a copy of the Rules of Order.

And it's not only the straw hat which has gone.

The ash barrel has changed its function.

Once no cellar was complete without half a dozen such barrels, each one full of coal ashes and clinkers, so heavy it took two men to carry it out, in those days the rite was known as "emptying the ashes", and it was generally performed in costume, with gloves, because the moment the barrels were agitated clouds of dust would arise through the solid floor and come to rest on the parlor curtains. In the city, the barrels would be carried to the sidewalk, whence characters known as "city men" would lift them up and dump the contents into carts, from the top of which the barrels would be dropped to the sidewalk, to see how high they'd bounce.

In the country, the ashes were generally dumped at some convenient corner in the back yard, in heaps which archaeologists will yet delve into.

Nowadays, no coal, no ashes. The film on today's curtains comes from the oil burner.

Gone, too, is the practice of carrying rugs out of the house, draping them over the clothesline and having man or boy beat the dust out of them. The efficacy of this cleaning method was always doubted by those who had to do the beating, because the dust would fly at every blow and half of it would settle back on the rug. There used to be a special bat, or racket, for this purpose, made of whorls of bamboo, like a tennis racket. Nobody has seen one of these for years. Not even the historical society has one.

They do it better now. The vacuum cleaner by an ingenious arrangement, blows the dirt right through the rug to the floor beneath where it belongs. They don't sweep the dirt under the rug. They blow it under. That's science.

Gone is the mandolin, which used to be as necessary to the canoe ride as the cushions. Even the canoe ride is gone, because the place is built up so there's no place along the bank left to park and who wants to paddle a canoe all night and get tired.

Nobody ever used "sleeve garters", or, as some called them, "armlets". The term "conniption fit" isn't even in the dictionaries, nobody ever cuts himself with a straight razor, not one man in 100,000 would know how to hitch old Dobbin to the chaise and DDT has almost made screens obsolete.

But some things remain. We still have the common cold, dandruff, bad weather in Spring and what Grandpa never dreamed of in his worst nightmare, the triple indemnity income tax. — D.B.W.

Meadowlarks Sing

The two warm days recently started Meadowlarks singing; and brought Bluebirds (Brooke, Cummings, Janeway), Woodcock (Pooler, Lombard, Derby), migrant robins, a tremendous influx of Fox Sparrows, and a Mourning Cloak Butterfly (Smith). A Water Pipit was seen in South Lincoln by Dr. Drury, Drumlin Farm, on Mar. 23. Phoebe's were reported from the Sudbury Valley and South Lincoln, but none yet in Weston. We are anxious to know if these birds have made a comeback from the low numbers of last year. Please call Charlotte Smith, TW 4-1114, when you see or hear one. (Don't let the Chickadees' "fee-bee" whistle fool you, though!)

A male Cardinal was seen twice (Mar. 20) by Mrs. Gruener, Merriam Street, and also by Mrs. Fiske, Boston Post Road, on Mar. 22. Is this the same bird (moving south) that was seen by Mrs. Sberman, Conant Road, on Mar. 9, 10, and 11? — C.E.S.

Forest & Trail Sponsors Purchase Of 6-Acre Area

WESTON — The Weston Forest and Trail Association is sponsoring a project for establishing a greenbelt strip along Stony Brook located about half way between Church Street and Viles Street. This would consist initially of the old meadow pasture of between five and six acres in extent contained within a loop made by the brook, and bounded to the north by the railroad. The brook encircles almost two thirds of this area which has thus become a favorite locality for wildlife, a fact well known to local fishermen. Access by foot would follow the fishermen's path from the site of the old shoddy mill on Church Street and thence along the southern bank of the brook.

The opportunity for this proposal has been made possible by the cooperation of members of the Coburn family, and has been taken up with enthusiasm by a number of nearby residents, and others.

The plan calls for raising of the funds required for the most part as a neighborhood project, though several pledges of help have been received from further afield, as well as a contribution from the general funds of the Forest and Trail Association.

The experience of the Association indicates that there is a large amount of latent neighborhood support for such an enterprise, due partly perhaps to the success achieved by the Hubbard Nature Trail (with the help of the New England Wildflower Protection Society), in the southern part of the town, and partly to the opportunity provided by the Association for neighborhood members to have representation on any committee formed for management of the area. The enhancement of neighboring land and property values, due to such permanent green areas, is an additional favorable factor.

Contributions to the Association for this project are eligible as a deduction for income tax purposes; and in the expectation that the funds needed will be oversubscribed, the Directors of the Association have decided that pledges of $50 or more will be prorated and called on only so far as is needed.

The success of this project should go a long way to indicate to residents in other parts of the town how much response might be expected to proposals for some similar project in their own neighborhood.

An appeal for funds has been mailed to some 150 residents in the Webster Hill, Church Street, North Avenue, Viles Street area. However the Directors of the Forest and Trail Association will welcome very warmly any contributions from other residents who may wish to take part. Such contributions (or pledges) should be mailed c/o Mrs. James E. Fraser, Asst. Treasurer, 24 Oak Street, Weston.

Dog Licenses

WAYLAND—April 1 is the deadline for renewing dog licenses. Dog owners may apply for licenses either in person at the Town Clerk's office or by mail through enclosing the fee and basic information concerning the dog's name, sex, breed, color and age. Fees are $2.00 for males and spayed females, $5.00 for unsprayed females.

WESTON — A class of Weston High pupils was chosen to demonstrate a Channel 2 trial course in literature, to be broadcast for Greater Boston teachers on April 7 and 9. In the class were Read Langenbach, Fred Crawford, Karen Beamish, Nancy Locke and Alex Corman, with Paul Mitchell, teacher. The Weston group was picked to show others how it's done.

WESTON TOWN MEETING

The only opposition to it came from Leonard H. Dowse, Chairman of the Finance Committee. The only wrangle during the meeting was over the relocation of Wellesley Street, Douglas Mercer, Selectman, described the short six-curve strip to be straightened and said that the Selectmen had no present intention of widening Wellesley Street. He said that last year residents petitioned against speeding, asking for better patrolling, and that among the first few stopped were two of the petitioners. He said that there had been no accidents since last summer on the relocated section of Wellesley Street between South Avenue and the Turnpike, which used to have the worst accident record in town.

Grant M. Palmer Jr.

Several Wellesley Street residents spoke against the measure, mentioning speeding on the street, the large commuter traffic the street already gets as a north-south route through town, and the destruction of rural atmosphere by road straightening.

Police Chief Frank O. Shaw answered the objectors by saying that there had been 26 accidents on the 400-foot section of Wellesley Street since 1956, and that it takes an awful lot of country atmosphere to cover up the shock and pain of an accident. He said that if residents are going to take the attitude that streets are playgrounds, they should remember that a car going 30 miles per hour takes approximately 101 feet to come to a full stop, which no amount of policing can change.

John F. G. Eichorn Jr.

Grant M. Palmer explained the Library Trustees' reasons for requesting a Special Library Plant Committee, to be appointed by the Moderator, with $500 for expenses, to study an addition to the 60-year old Public Library. He said that there is not enough room to store the books the Library should have, that it cannot expand its services to school children and that it lacks space for private offices.

BULLETIN BOARD

pictures of more general interest. There are 50 members, perhaps, of the Hovemy Club. That leaves 15,950 persons who take only a mild interest in the Hovemy Club. The 50 are entitled to their share of space, but so are the 15,950. So the editors are trying to put the advance notices in one place, separated as to towns, with headings and appropriate pictures arranged as attractively as possible. If the idea works out, the advance notices will be easier to find and the publicity should be just as efficacious, if not more so. The editors indeed appreciate the fact that so many people want to get their notices into the Crier. Such an attitude is most gratifying, and it has been reflected in circulation figures. Three years ago the printing order was for 2200 copies per issue. Today it is 3200, and it looks as though it would have to be increased again soon. As weekly papers go, this makes the Crier a pretty fair-sized baby.

But there are many improvements we would like to make. We'd like to do more for local school sports. We'd like more features about interesting local persons. We'd like to pay more attention to residents of new developments. We'd like to use more and more pictures. In short, with more space we think we could make the Crier more interesting to more people.

So this new feature, And one rule has to go with it. Because the advance notice page needs special mechanical handling, material for it will have to be in the Crier office by 12 noon on Monday for that week's issue. Some deadlines are of rubber, but this one will have to be of iron.

And while we're on the subject of space, we must ask writers of letters to the editor to keep themselves down to 200 words. The letters are valued and valuable, but again, space.

The Editors

YOUTH CENTER

They also drew up rules of conduct for the Center as follows:

1. Member and guest member cards will be obtainable at 25¢ per card for town residents. (Members are classified as High School students; guest members as residents of the town attending private schools.) Guests may be admitted at a charge of 25¢ per meeting.
 2. Any infringement of the rules will be enforced by suspension of membership privileges for one month after the first offense. Rules will be set up at the discretion of the chaperones.
 3. Casual dress is permitted but please be neat.
 4. Absolutely no litter-bugging. Offenders will remain as clean-up committee.
 5. No Bermudas or slacks permitted.
 6. Safety rules are strictly enforced. Drive Carefully.
 7. No admittance without a membership card.
- Committee assignments have been apportioned with duties going to the following members: Sally Barrett, permanent record contributions; Tony Bova, coke distribution; Kathy Carr, game donations; Elizabeth Woodsum, treasurer and juke box; Jerry Joyce, publicity and refreshments; Dick Brewer, music, and Charlie Roehrig, lighting for the membership dance.
- On March 31, the Student Committee members met with the School Committee to discuss plans for future activities. Among problems yet to be met are those of a permanent meeting place, storage space for equipment, the variety of activities, and refreshments. So far, a ping pong and billiard table as well as checker and chess equipment have been donated but storage is a problem.

The Center is planned to serve as a meeting place for many groups with special interests although, obviously, some activities such as ice hockey and hot rod clubs will have to be conducted outside the Center.

The Junior Town House, sponsor of the Youth Center, will be acting in a purely parental capacity and is assuming responsibility only for the Director's salary and for help in securing needed equipment. The activities program will be entirely in the hands of the Student Committee under the guidance of Director Raymond, physical education major at Boston University.

The casting is in charge of the Play Committee which is headed by Harry Barrett, Chairman, and includes Joyce Bertelsen, Win Naylor and Aline Hulbert, all of Wayland, and Phil Bassett of Weston.

elementary pupils next, dismissing in the same order.

The purpose is more effective use of teacher time and the school day, says the School Committee. At present all children in one neighborhood from kindergarten to 12th grade are picked up on the same bus, and the buses make several trips to cover the town. Children on the early trip wait half an hour or more before formal school begins, and children leaving on the final afternoon trip wait an equal time after classes. The teachers, on duty during these two "dead" periods, cannot use the time for formal instruction.

WESTON -- Evon Z. Vogt of 79 Spruce Hill Road, who has been on the Harvard University faculty for 10 years, will become professor of social anthropology at Harvard on July 1, it has been announced. He is an authority on the Indians of the Southwest and Mexico.

Prof. Evon Z. Vogt

Prof. Vogt, author of several books, has written one on location of underground water, entitled "Water Witching, U.S.A.", to be published this month. He is assistant curator of American ethnology in the Peabody Museum and a member of the executive board of the American Anthropological Association.

Mrs. Vogt is the former Naneen Hiller of Salina, Kansas.

Weston Public Library
Has Excellent Records

WESTON -- Whether you are looking for a record album of bagpipe music, bird calls or ballet, the Weston Public Library probably has it in its collection of 500 classical and semi-classical albums. This record library was begun in 1951 and last year circulated 3127 albums.

The new additions this month include Bach's "Magnificat in D"; a chorus of sacred music by the Mormon Tabernacle Choir of Salt Lake City; a Requiem mass by Victoria; and "Great Sacred Songs" sung by Kirsten Flagstad.

In recognition of the forthcoming opera season, the Library purchased "Vanessa" by Barber and "La Traviata", both full recordings. Of special interest: De Banfield's "Lord Byron's Love Letter", libretto by Tennessee Williams. The Library had built up a good core collection of opera for home listening.

Lovers of organ music will want to hear Albert Schweitzer's recording of Widor's "Organ Symphony No. 6 in G Minor," and Mendelssohn's "Organ Sonata No. 4 in B Flat Major." Another valuable addition is Haydn's "Salmon Symphonies, Vol. 1." Ballets: Copland's "Billy the Kid", "Rodeo"; Bernstein's "Fancy Free"; Debussy's children's ballet "La Boite a Joujoux".

Two vocal selections: "A Brahms-Schumann Recital" by the young Canadian contralto, Maureen Forrester; "Presenting Tozzi", a concert of operatic arias, by the basso who appears most likely to take Pinza's place.

In a lighter vein: Boston Pops "Boston Tea Party", "Marches in Hi-Fi"; Rogers and Hammerstein's "Flower Drum Song"; "Tribute to Glenn Miller"; and two outstanding folk song albums "The Weavers at Home" and "On Tour".

WESTON -- Among those taking part in the Massachusetts Conference on School Health at the Hotel Statler on March 18 were Mr. Charles K. Cummings, director of guidance; Dr. John A. V. Davies, pediatrician well known in Weston, and Dr. Richmond Holder, psychiatrist who works with the local High School staff under the Human Relations Advisory Service.

Artist Offers To Paint $400 Picture Of Town Dump

For $400, the artist says, he'll do the Wayland dump, above, in oil.

He didn't mention the Weston dump, above, which no doubt would be an equally challenging subject for the painter's brush.

(McCann Photos)

WAYLAND -- The fame of the local town dump has spread so far that an artist in Kansas City has sent to the "Mayor" a written offer to execute a painting of it for $400.

So far, the Mayor has taken no action on the offer.

The letter:

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I was interested to read in the March 30th issue of TIME your town's great interest in the city dump and I have an interesting object to offer you that will permit your town to give expression to its aesthetic appreciation of dumps.

The object I have to offer is a painting, beautifully executed by me in 1952, of the Minot, North Dakota, city dump. The painting is 18 x 13, framed, and would be an appropriate acquisition for your municipal building, etc.

I offer this painting for the sum of $75; however, if you are not interested in outright purchase, I would be happy to arrange for you to rent the painting.

Dumps are much alike; however, if you would rather commission a painting of your particular town dump, I would be willing to execute one for $400.

Sincerely yours,
Michael Callaghan

April 1, New Style

WESTON -- Weston High School students observed April 1 by coming to school all dressed up, with smiling faces and their best manners showing. It was part of a conspiracy, a switch from the horribles-parade kind of costumes which have been worn on April 1 in some years.

Anti-Litter Drive Is Proclaimed In Weston

WESTON--Partly because some residents have been careless about letting rubbish blow away as they are transporting it to the dump, the Weston Selectmen have issued a proclamation, first of its kind in town, designating a period later this month for an anti-litter drive.

The proclamation:

Whereas, the littered appearance of any area of our Town seriously detracts from its beauty and attractiveness to residents and visitors and consequently affects property values; and

Whereas, the Rotary Club of Weston, Weston Post 214 American Legion, and the garden clubs of Weston are uniting in a town-wide campaign to inform the public of the damage done by litter and to encourage its proper disposal; and

Whereas, this program is associated with a state-wide campaign inaugurated by the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts,

Now Therefore We, Edward M. Dickson, Edward R. Langenbach and Douglas Mercer, Selectmen of the Town of Weston, do hereby proclaim the period of April 18, 1959, through April 30, 1959, The Weston

Anti-Litter Drive and urge all of our citizens and representatives of education and civic groups to cooperate in the Anti-Litter Drive for the promotion of tidiness and beauty in our Town.

In Witness Whereof, We have hereunto set our hands this 31st day of March 1959.

Committee OK's By-Pass

WAYLAND -- The proposed Route 20 By-Pass has been given a favorable report by the Legislative Committee on Highways and Motor Vehicles. The bill, Senate 137, which authorized the State Department of Public Works to lay out and construct a highway and overpass in the towns of Wayland and Sudbury, now goes to the Ways and Means Committee for debate on costs and appropriations.

WAYLAND -- The town's first armed holdup in more than 40 years took place last week in Cochituate, when Bath's Package Store at Memorial Square was robbed of $232.07 by two men, one of them carrying a 32-calibre revolver. The men entered the store shortly after 9:30 p.m., locked the manager, Robert Campana, and a clerk, Robert Duffy, both of Cochituate, and an anonymous customer, in the walk-in refrigerator, and left with the money, thoughtfully switching off the fan that cools the refrigerator.

Another customer, coming along about 10 minutes later, freed the men and police were called.

The holdup men were described as being about 5 feet, 8 inches tall and about 35 years old. One, weighing about 170 pounds, wore a gray top coat, his hair in a crew cut, and carried the gun; the other weighting 10 pounds less, with long black hair, combed straight back, wore a blue top-coat. Mr. Campana and Mr. Duffy were taken into Boston to look at mug-shots of known hold-up men.

Weston Dog Licenses

WESTON -- All dogs which have not been licensed for the period April 1, 1959, to March 31, 1960, should be licensed immediately. Licenses and tags are available at the Office of Town Clerk in the Weston Town Hall.

Unlicensed dogs may be picked up by the dog officers and impounded until the 1959 license is obtained. Owners will be liable for charges for care of the dog during the period until it is licensed.

Letters to the EDITOR

To Mr. DeNormandie

To the Editor:

In a recent Boston Globe Page One story referring to the attempt of 45 legislators to circumvent the intent of our Civil Service system, the following paragraphs appear.

"An abortive attempt by Rep. James DeNormandie (R-Lincoln) to challenge the action by moving reconsideration was quickly thwarted.

"A group of colleagues descended on DeNormandie and after a hurried conference in hushed tones he was granted unanimous consent to withdraw his motion."

Perhaps Rep. DeNormandie would care to explain to his constituents why he did not press his original opposition to this obvious job steal?

R.G.B. Wallace
State Road East
Wayland, Mass.

From Mr. DeNormandie

To the Editor:

There has been some confusion over the bill to "freeze in" five former legislators which came up without warning at an informal Thursday session of the House. Such sessions are held on Thursdays when there are no controversial issues on that calendar. It is agreed by the leadership of both parties that only routine matters will be considered at these sessions. However, before leaving the State House on Wednesday, I found that a long calendar of some 20 pages was in prospect, which was unusual, so I went in on Thursday, which I might not have ordinarily done.

The "freeze bill" was not included in the calendar but read in under suspension of the rules and quickly given all its readings by the acting speaker of the House. When it was appreciated what had taken place I made the motion to reconsider at the next session; this being the only way to call attention to the violation of the informal session rules.

The motion was subsequently withdrawn by unanimous consent of the House, in order to get the bill to the Senate where the leadership of both parties had previously expressed their opposition to such legislation and where it most certainly would be killed. This avoided the necessity of the House voting on the qualifications of several of its own former members yet called attention to a highly controversial issue which had no place in an informal session.

This episode has seriously undermined the confidence of the House membership in its reliance on long established and respected policies for the conduct of informal sessions. Much closer attention to these sessions is the result and there is little possibility that a similar situation would ever be able to develop.

Sincerely yours,
James DeNormandie

On Weston Schools

To the Editor:

Recently the Weston School Committee was critically quoted as stating that their objective was "a salary schedule second to none" in Massachusetts.

As chairman of the Weston Committee on Education I have been in close touch with the School Committee and heard what they had to say at the Budget Hearing. Their stated objective is "a school system second to none" in Massachusetts. They also stated that our salary range is now on a par with Lexington, and is competitive with the best public school systems in Eastern Massachusetts.

In my opinion this is what the great majority in Weston expect. We all know how slow teachers' salaries have been to respond to our inflationary economy.

The Education Committee, and, I am sure, the School Committee, recognize that the time has now come when we must make every effort to see that we get full value for our school dollar. We have been studying this matter and have urged that we keep fully abreast of the best methods of increasing teacher efficiency and of making education effective. Let us all cooperate to that end.

Sincerely,
Victor C. Harnish
Weston

Thank You Note

To the Editor:

To my many friends old and new I humbly say thank you for the wonderful support you gave me at the recent town elections. My only regret is that I cannot express my appreciation to each of you in person, but so many of you rallied to my cause it just has to be this way. So please know I do most sincerely appreciate all that you did for me.

My opponent I thank also, for his gentlemanly understanding and good sportsmanship and to him and his family I extend my best wishes for future health and happiness.

Again thanking you all,
Very Sincerely yours,
Dick Crouch

Miss Honora Haynes Was 4-H Horse Club Founder

Honora Haynes

SUDBURY — Miss Honora Haynes of Broadacres Farm, formerly of Weston, has just returned from a week of intensive teaching of riding and the schooling of horses at the Oswego Hunt Club in Portland, Oregon. The schooling is her especial interest. This was her second trip. She was so successful last year she was urged to repeat her course of instruction. She had been royally treated and accepted with pleasure. As she is not a professional only her expenses are paid.

Honora Haynes was one of the originators of the Weston-Wayland 4-H Horse Club, the first in the country. This has developed to such an extent it has been divided into two clubs, the Weston one under Mrs. Edward Rayner and the Wayland one under Mrs. Archibald Cox.

In addition to running her farm she is still very active in the programs of the clubs. She has recently initiated a project for training the seniors of the two clubs in judging horses for soundness and conformation.

Barker Wins Praise

WAYLAND — Allen Barker of Draper Road, pianist, appeared recently with the Florida Philharmonic in Clearwater and St. Petersburg.

From the St. Petersburg Times: "Barker in the Beethoven Concerto No. 3 in C Minor was magnificent . . ." From the St. Petersburg Independent: ". . . Achieves clarity, virility, and also singing delicacy of tone with an admirable technique."

Librarians Have A License To Collect From Chiselers

And They Do More
Bending And Stretching Than A Girdle Model

Some people still read books, even if it does make them different from those who absorb only from jumping pictures, and this brings to mind National Library Week, otherwise known as Culture's Game Try.

Of course, books aren't as dull as they used to be, when censorship was in flower. The best guide to books is still the jacket. Sometimes the picture on the cover promises a little more than the contents deliver, but modern authors know what they're doing and they seldom disappoint their fans. While there's a limit to the flesh-colored picture on the outside, there's none to what's inside.

And take the librarian, victim of as infamous a stereotype as was ever inflicted on a woman able to read and write.

The librarian is always depicted as a mousy little character with gray hair in a bun, thick glasses and the Dewey Decimal System where her brains ought to be. But know something?

There's practically no such thing as a fat librarian, and that's because there's more exercise in keeping a library than an illiterate would ever guess.

All day long the books come back to the desk from borrowers, half of them overdue. The librarian sits there and makes with the stamp, the slips and the petty cash when she can get it, and then comes the moment of reckoning. Those books, by the hundred, have to be put back on shelves, high, low and medium, and this gives the librarian more bending exercise than a shortstop.

If her hair is gray it's from climbing ladders.

She's quite a business woman, too. Not only does she purchase books, but, as noted above, she collects fines. In this she exercises the combined functions of judge and executioner. She's the only person in the community able to extort money without due process of law, and when you consider the habits of those who borrow the best seller and keep it for eight weeks, it seems she doesn't extort enough.

Know something else? When librarians get together, away from home, they don't sip weak tea. They always meet in safe surroundings, hidden from the public eye, with a line of retreat laid out, and the cocktails they drink are concocted with a trace of lightning for a base.

But did anybody ever see an inebriated librarian?

Moreover, the librarian has a frightening information service all her own.

She knows every bright child in town. She knows what the adults are reading, and that gives her a pretty good peek into their minds. She knows which people she never sees, too, and she has a private listing for them, too. She knows the considerate people, who bring books back promptly, and she knows the chiselers who come up with that story about losing the book. She knows more about her public than the F.B.I.

She doesn't squeal, though. Ever hear of a stool pigeon librarian?

And she's more helpful than a Boy Scout. She says, "What can I do for you?" where a lesser woman would snarl, and she puts up with idiots who walk in and say: "I'd like a book. What do you have?"

Nobody ever saw a rude librarian. But one of these days, 10,000 mousy but iron-muscled dolls have promised themselves, they're going to advance the cause of literature by whacking some pilfering customer on the head with a book end. -- D.B.W.

Stanley G. French Elected Forest & Trail President

WESTON -- At a recent election of officers of the Weston Forest and Trail Association, Mr. Stanley G. French of Ridgeway Road was elected president, and Mr. Harold B. Willis Jr. of Concord Road, vice-president. Treasurer is Mrs. E. K. Von Mertens, and clerk, Dr. Wm. A. Elliston. Mrs. Boardman Bump and Mr. Irving C. Keene of the High School, were elected to the Board of Directors.

The Directors have great pleasure in announcing a gift made to the Association by members of the Dickson family, comprising an easement for a trail from Concord Road near Merriam Street, leading to Cherry Brook to join up with the Farnsworth part of the Jericho Town Forest, thus providing a footpath access to this area from the east.

Another most welcome contribution, in the form of nesting boxes, has been made by the Garden Interest Group of the Women's Community League of Weston. These boxes have already been installed along the Hubbard Nature Trail, and it is hoped that the tenants will include bluebirds, whose New England population suffered such disastrous reduction last year.

Mrs. James E. Fraser, assistant treasurer, of 24 Oak Street, reports that contributions for the purchase of land for a nature trail along Stony Brook between Church Street and Viles Street have been coming in in a most encouraging manner. Contributions or pledges, are earnestly solicited up to April 20, when it is hoped to be able to close the list of subscribers for this project.

COCHITUATE -- St. Zepherin's Catholic Women's Club held its monthly meeting in the lower church on April 8, after benediction at 8 p.m. Mrs. Lee Dufresne and Mrs. Kay Shavor were in charge of the box social.

WESTON -- Edward M. Dickson was elected chairman of the Board of Selectmen at a meeting held Mar. 31 and Edward R. Langenbach was chosen clerk.

SWIMMING POOLS MORE FACT vs. FABLE

First off, do you like summer sun? If so let's continue. Now, do you like to swim? If you're still saying yes, you must love crowds of people, mad drivers and expensive summer beach or lake shore rentals. Boy! At this point you're probably saying, "what am I doing, listening to this guy sound off?"

Well, I'm sure I don't know unless maybe you don't like crowds of people, mad drivers and high summer rentals. If this is the case and you really like swimming under the summer sun without the headache of getting to the beach you'll probably, sooner or later, contemplate a pool in your own backyard. Why not start looking around now? Aw, come on! Don't be a scaredy cat. Our pools don't cost that much! Sure they cost something, but what doesn't?

Our pool, the Lancer Lifetime Fiberglass pool, is maintenance free*. No painting, cracks to repair, buckling or what have you. Backed up with a 10-year guarantee. These thoughts coupled with a minimum down payment and no payment for a month and a half and five years to pay. How can you go wrong? A 'phone call now will start the ball rolling and remember, now's the time to talk and next month's the time to swim.

Wayland LWV Members Get Golden Harp From Senator

WAYLAND -- An elegant gold harp, festooned with tiny bells and yards of emerald green ribbon, was presented to the League of Women Voters by Senate President John Powers when a number of local League members visited him in his office on March 16, the day before St. Patrick's Day.

The group, led by Mrs. Gregory Wolfe, the League legislative chairman, took a four-hour tour of the State House under the guidance of Representative James DeNormandie. As a climax to the visit, Mr. DeNormandie escorted them to Senator Powers' office where they interviewed the Senator and some of his confreres and were presented with the unusual gift.

No harpist has yet been located in the local membership but the strings make an interesting sound even when plucked by amateurs.

Public Library. Members of the Benevolent Alliance, First Parish Church, under the direction of Mrs. Olney Washburn, will serve refreshments.

During the week an exhibit of "paperbacks" will be displayed by the Village Book Stall in the library. Also on view will be recent photographs by Mr. S. Howe Derbyshire.

Not to be missed will be the window of the Weston Branch of the Newton-Waltham Bank. Mrs. Alvin S. Whitmore and Mrs. Harry S. Ferries, both members of the staff of the Weston Public Library, have arranged an exhibit which centers attention on local church libraries.

Time-Honored System Of Garbage Collection In Wayland Will Continue

WAYLAND -- Biggest laugh at the first session of the Wayland Town Meeting came when a citizen moved to strike from the budget an item of $14,300 for garbage collection.

The man said that those with garbage grinders shouldn't be assessed for this collection, but that those who used the service should pay for it.

Norman Fair of the Board of Health announced, "Garbage grinders in Wayland are outlawed without special permission."

"I have that special permission," said the proud owner of the grinder.

But the great majority, not possessors of grinders, voted down the motion. As somebody put it, "It will go to regular pigs, not electric pigs."

Bray-Houghton

WAYLAND -- Mr. and Mrs. George C. Bray of Short Hills, New Jersey, formerly of Piedmont, California, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Barbara Helen Bray, to Charles Bennett Houghton of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. A June 6 wedding is planned. The prospective bride is a graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles, where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma and Prytanean honor society. She was also affiliated with Birch Branch of the Children's Hospital of Oakland, California. Currently, she is an executive secretary with the United States Steel Corporation.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thomas Bray of San Francisco.

Mr. Houghton was graduated from Clark University at Worcester, Massachusetts, and was affiliated with Kappa Phi Fraternity. He is now with the Aero Service Corporation of Philadelphia.

WAYLAND -- Richard Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Gardner of Sears Road, a junior at the Holderness School in Plymouth, New Hampshire, won his letter as a member of the J. V. ski team this winter.

His brother, Jim, a freshman, also won his letter as a member of the J.V. ski team.

More than 404-H Clubs throughout Middlesex County competed in the setting up of exhibits in store windows, libraries, and schools in observance of National Exhibit Week, February 28 through March 7. Every member of the Club participated in creating the exhibit, under the leadership of Mrs. John P. Sibley and Mrs. Archibald Cox.

On March 27 the Wayland Horse Club entertained the Weston Horse Club at the home of Mrs. Richard Foster of Glezen Lane.

Rodenhizer--Howell

Mrs. William E. Rodenhizer

(Charles Young)

WESTON — Miss Frances Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Howell of 326 Highland Street, was married at the First Baptist Church on March 28 to Mr. William Edward Rodenhizer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Rodenhizer of 105 Warwick Road, West Newton. Rev. Joseph E. O'Donnell performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Rodenhizer was graduated from Lasell Junior College in 1957 and Mr. Rodenhizer attended Stockbridge School.

Maid of honor was Miss Barbara Howell, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Mills of Wellesley Farms and Miss Elya Rodenhizer, sister of the groom.

Best man was Mr. Robert Mills of Wellesley Farms. Ushers were Charles M. Howell and William Howell, brothers of the bride, and Philip Burke and Willard Fraize of Waltham.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodenhizer will make their home in Auburndale.

Waltham Man Dies On Sandy Burr 16th Tee

WAYLAND — A Waltham man dropped dead on the 16th tee at the Sandy Burr golf course Sunday morning shortly after 11 o'clock. Charles Nasco of 30 Central Street, Waltham, a painter, was going around the course with a nephew when he was stricken. Medical Examiner J. Harry McCann of Framingham said death was due to a coronary seizure.

Wayland fire and police department personnel under the direction of Chiefs Francis J. Hartin and Ernest H. Damon responded to the call for assistance with the resuscitator and ambulance. The fire truck got mired in the soft ground and had to be towed out by a wrecker. Considerable churning up of the course was necessary in order to reach the scene. Dr. McCann later authorized removal of the body.

of Cochituate Road, owner of the N.D.C. Construction Company Inc., of 124 Shawmut Avenue, Boston, general contractor for the job, and by the entire School Building Committee and Frank Kilburn, Town Counsel.

The cost of construction, to include everything but the furnishings, equipment and architects' fees, will total $1,754,187. This is approximately $45,000 lower than the $1,800,000 figure quoted to the town as the estimated cost for the building and site development. Because the base bid of $1,619,699 (lowest of the 7 bids submitted), came through at such a reasonable figure, the School Building Committee found it would be possible to go ahead with all the outside construction it had hoped to complete at this time.

This means that there will be finished playing fields instead of the rough grading and seeding which would have been necessary had the bid for basic construction not been so low. The playing field area will include a football field, baseball and softball diamonds with backstops, a track and four tennis courts. There will also be finished roads and parking areas.

It is also expected that a sprinkler system can be installed in the field house. The bid is being checked against the lowering of fire insurance rates which would result from such an installation — the theory being that if the cost can be paid off in 10 to 12 years through a lowered rate, it would be sensible to install sprinklers.

Besides Mr. Cazanar, general contractor for the project, at least one other local man will have a part in the building of the new school. The bid of Post Products, Inc., the firm of Mr. J. O. Post of Old Sudbury Road, has been accepted for the supplying of acoustical tile.

Ground-breaking ceremonies are scheduled to be held at the site at 12 noon on Saturday, April 25.

Senior members elected in 1958 were Arsine Avakian, Sally Ayers, Susan Bump, Ann Kellogg, John Reissner, Alan Scott and Ann Wolff.

An address for the occasion was delivered by Mr. William Alexander McEachern, minister of the First Unitarian Society of Hudson, Mass. Selections were played and sung by the high school orchestra and choir under the direction of Mr. Robert Corley. Mrs. Theresa M. Zamprognio, High School Sponsor for the National Honor Society, led the pledge, and Mr. Willard H. Smith, Principal, presented the members with pins and certificates.

says I'm worth $100,000...alive!

Many men are worth considerable amounts to their heirs. But many more men are worth even greater amounts to themselves and their families right now. A $7500 a year man, for example, will earn $100,000 in a little over 13 years! Whether you have any of it left at that time is of course your business... and mine.

How It Happened That The Revolutionary War Did Not Start In Weston

*"One if by land, and two if by sea;
And I on the opposite shore will be,
Ready to ride and spread the alarm
Through every Middlesex village and farm..."*

"One if by land," meant that the British troops would march overland, by way of Roxbury Crossing to Watertown Square and then over the Post Road to Worcester; "two if by sea," that that they would be ferried to the Charlestown Shore, (there were no bridges from Boston over the Charles until after the Revolution) then march over the old Concord Turnpike to Arlington, Lexington, and Concord.

The part that Weston played in this exciting drama is dated April 5th, 1775, when Sgt. John Howe was sent by Gen. Gage, commanding officer of the British (Please turn to Page 11)

Educational Areas At New High School Show On Plan

WAYLAND -- The diagram above, furnished by The Architects Collaborative of Cambridge, gives an idea of the modern approach to education which the new Wayland High School building will provide.

Say the architects:

"Blocks of buildings show four academic centers and administration center at new Wayland Senior High School. . .

"Structures are closely knit together to form series of carefully landscaped courtyards where students can congregate between classes. Entire school campus is built on raised plaza. Circular field house, left, is separated from rest of school, and is lighted by translucent sky domes."

Earliest Scarlet Tanager

A pair of Ring-necked Ducks and a flock of 8 Common Mergansers were seen on the Norumbega Reservoir (Smith); Osprey at Wayland and South Lincoln (Stackpole and Drury); first Field Sparrow (Cribben); first Savannah Sparrow (Drury); flock of 45 migrating Canada Geese (Drury); and first Wood Frog heard (Smith). Reports of Tree Swallows would be appreciated because they seem scarce again this year. The Weston Cardinal was seen again on April 5 (Ulm). The "bird of the week," if not of the year, was a Scarlet Tanager seen on the earliest date ever recorded for Weston (Apr. 10-11) at -- of all places! -- the Country School Auditorium (Harrington).

Co-Op Lists 5005 Members, Yearly Sales Of $2,500,000

WAYLAND -- The Village Shopper buildings in Wayland Center are rapidly taking shape and the latest word is that the store of The Co-Op Inc. will be in operation before Fall.

The Co-Op was started less than 10 years ago with a handful of members and a small store on North Avenue, Natick. At first its annual sales were $400,000. Sales are now nearly $2,500,000 a year and the membership is 5005.

In the picture above are Mr. and Mrs. William Myrick of 4 Beaconsfield Drive, Natick, who recently became the 5000th members. They have a daughter, Sandra, a year and a half old. Mr. Myrick works in the Wayland Raytheon plant and Mrs. Myrick is active in the Natick Woman's Club.

The original store in Natick has been enlarged several times, and the new Wayland store will be 2 1/2 times as big as the parent store is now. Besides being the biggest store in the town's history, the Wayland establishment will also, of course, be the town's first cooperative.

Construction of a third Co-Op, in Framingham, is scheduled to begin about the time the Wayland store is opened.

Two Weston Officers Win Graduation Certificates

WESTON -- Patrolmen Lawrence Cugini and Robert C. Millen of the Weston Police Department have received graduation certificates after attending classes two hours a week for 20 weeks in a course in handling problems relating to adolescents.

The course was arranged through the Judge Baker Clinic. In giving the certificates, Dist. Attorney James L. O'Dea Jr. said:

"You officers have given your own time and money to equip yourselves for improved handling of the pressing juvenile problem. The citizens of your community and of the Commonwealth are indebted to you for devotion beyond the ordinary scope of your work."

Marks 30th Anniversary

WAYLAND -- The Reverend Otis F. Kelly, P.P., pastor of St. Zephirin's Church, celebrated the 30th anniversary of his ordination on Sunday, April 4. Father Kelly is now busily engaged in plans for the site-clearing work and the building of a new church for St. Zephirin's parish.

The Community Chorus Is Offering A Scholarship

The Scholarship Committee of the Community Chorus has announced that it is now accepting applicants for the scholarship fund being offered by the Chorus to a local student of music. This scholarship, instigated under the guidance of Chester W. Williams, Dean of the New England Conservatory and recent director of the Chorus, has been one of the chief objectives of the Chorus during its present year.

The Scholarship Committee, headed by William Moyer of Wayland, also includes Mrs. George Clark of Sudbury and Mr. Edwin Richmond of Weston. The members of this committee are not members of the Chorus, but were chosen by the directors for their prominence in musical circles.

The scholarship is being offered to high school seniors of Lincoln, Sudbury, Wayland and Weston who (Please turn to Page 11)

Fuzzie, Cat, Leaped From Auto On The Mass. Pike

Mrs. Emily Burke of 146 Academy Street, Braintree, reports that her cat, Fuzzie, leaped from her automobile on the night of April 4 on the Massachusetts Turnpike and landed safely but hasn't been seen since.

Mrs. Burke says she was going east on the pike, somewhere between Mile 118 and Mile 119, at 45 or 50 miles an hour, when Fuzzie jumped. The cat is white underneath and on the legs, so she saw her land. But by the time she could pull over and stop Fuzzie was nowhere around.

Fuzzie's back is brown and black and she was wearing a collar with one bell attached to it. Another bell had fallen off. Fuzzie is a pet of the three Burke children, so Mrs. Burke came to Wayland on April 12 and scouted around in Damon Farms.

Mrs. Burke's phone number is Victor 3-7631.

Austin Hale Dinner

Austin S. Hale, long noted for his interest in local school sports and for his correspondence with local young men in military service, gave his annual turkey dinner for the Wayland and Weston basketball teams and coaches at the Colonial Inn, Concord, on April 9.

Michael Burke
(McCann Photo)

"This scholarship is worth up to $1250 a year for four years" says Robert J. Norwine, Director of the University. Michael participated in the Our Times current affairs program and on the "basis of his significant achievement," became eligible for such a scholarship.

Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Burke of 30 Snake Brook Road, Cochituate. This is his first year at Marian High. (Please turn to Page 11)

Letters to the EDITOR

Drive Raised $1700.00

To the Editor:

May 1, through your paper, express sincere appreciation to those folks who contributed towards the success of the annual drive of the Wayland High Association on Sunday, April 5.

First, to the Townspeople and the merchants for their generosity which made this drive the most successful, wherein a total of nearly $1700 has insured the continued participation of our Association in the encouragement of Inter-scholastic sports at Wayland High School.

Second, to the students who did such an excellent job of canvassing throughout the Town so willingly and so effectively.

Third, to the several members of the staff of the High School for their assistance both in organizing and supervising the many details of such an activity.

Fourth, to the active members of the Association who gave so freely of their time and talents with a very special note of thanks to Secretary Prentice Richardson for another great effort in the capacity of Director of the Annual Drive.

The Annual sports banquet will be held on Saturday, May 2 at the High School with the Association honoring 165 students who have participated in interscholastic sports this year. In addition to the already established sports programs for both boys and girls we are proud to add recognition of a new activity in the form of the Rifle Team.

The Association has asked me to remind the Townspeople that their donation has qualified them to become active in our organization and its activities. Those desiring to do so will be welcomed at our regular meetings held at the High School, on the second Wednesday evening of each month.

With sincere thanks, both for the Association and myself,

Gratefully yours,
John W. Arnold

About Wayland Dump

To the Editor:

The subject of the Wayland Town Dump appears in the Town Crier about every issue, so I would like to say a few words.

Article 23 at the Wayland Town Meeting, which had to do with collecting rubbish, was brushed off by the Finance Committee in a statement to the effect that no figures were available on what the cost would be, so they did not favor the collection of rubbish.

In making this statement the Finance Committee admitted that they cannot do as good a job for the same money as other cities and towns do.

There is no question that there is less service to the tax payer in Wayland than in the towns where rubbish is collected for no higher tax rate.

Rubbish collection figures were readily available if the Finance Committee had done any work on the matter. Actually there is a rubbish packer truck stored about 2 1/2 miles from the Wayland Dump and a firm which can collect all the rubbish in Wayland, but the Finance Committee must have felt that there is considerable nostalgia about the stinking, unhealthy Wayland Dump.

People I have talked to at the dump favor the collection of rubbish by a packer truck and would vote for it.

Evidently the Finance Committee is prejudiced and does not want to have the residents of Wayland get the same services as other communities do.

I know of two firms who were perfectly willing to do this work in Wayland and I would be glad to give their names to the Finance Committee.

Very truly yours,
Robert C. Codman

Red Barn Invitation

To the Editor:

The Red Barn School of Weston extends a cordial invitation to all interested persons in Weston and Wayland to attend an open meeting on the subject, "The Kindergarten Program - what does it really mean to you, to your child, and to his future education?" This is the topic to be discussed Tuesday, April 28, at 8 p.m. at the Red Barn School, 724 Boston Post Road, Weston.

Because of the eminence of the speaker, it has been recognized that many members of the community will want to attend. Miss Theresa M. Dowd is well qualified by education and experience to discuss her subject. For nine years she has been a staff member of the Eliot-Pearson School of Tufts University where she instructs teachers in "Program Planning for the Kindergarten." Not How Early The Ground Can Be Worked, But How

Why Dig Up Real Estate
Worth $2000 To Plant
Seeds Costing 30 Cents?

Now that Spring is here and oceans of dirt become visible, once more arises the question of how early the ground can be worked and what's the easiest way to do it, a problem which many have solved by sowing cheap grass seed and forgetting about gardening and even, in some cases, about lawn mowing.

Once upon a time was a man who wrote a book about "stone gardening". He covered his plot with flat rocks, leaving openings at appropriate places in which he dropped seeds, probably putting them into holes poked with a dibble, modern man's answer to the pointed stick of Stone Age man, who saw all the rocks he wanted to without placing them in a garden.

The hard way to prepare the soil is to dig it all up with a short-handled shovel. A long-handled shovel helps some but not much.

The trouble with this method is that it digs up more dirt than will ever be used. It stands to reason there's no need to agitate an area 50 feet wide for the benefit of carrots, which will grow only straight down except when they wind themselves around the carrots adjacent. This doesn't change the flavor any, but it's probably where the first barber got the inspiration for the design on his pole.

One theory is that there's no point in digging up any more dirt than is involved in rows. Why not just dig the area where the seeds are to be planted, and leave the rest of the ground for weeds, as usual?

The only trouble with this idea is that it upsets the conservative, who knows that all the dirt in gardens has always been turned over and that that must be the right way, else why would Grandpa have always done it and died broke? Those who feel like this may take the easy way out and hire a man with a machine to come and churn the garden into the consistency of face powder, which he can then tramp solid again with his feet.

In fact, there's a question as to whether the garden really needs to be dug up at all. Some heretics keep writing letters to the papers insisting that they never dig at all, just stick seeds in thumbholes and leave the rest to Nature, whose job it is anyway.

Maybe the idea of digging is that it will then be easier for the roots to grow. On the other hand, there is the famous Big Tree of California, which wouldn't know a dibble from a three-tined fork, yet has roots which reach halfway down to China, it is estimated.

If it's true that plowing, digging, harrowing and churning are unnecessary, it's a pretty big joke on farmers, with the tractor taking up the game where the ox left off.

Another little problem for the gardener is how to cultivate the flower bed, which has bulb plants here, a rose bush there and perennials scattered around in such position that there's no room to swing a shovel without getting thorns in the seat of the Bermuda shorts, which are no fit garb for gardening anyway unless one likes scratches and dirty knees. Ever see a farmer's wife wearing them?

Another question is whether there's really any efficiency in getting down on the knees to do garden work. It's true, anybody on his knees looks hard working, or else pious, and maybe it's worthwhile to assume this posture for the sake of impressing family and neighbors.

But the invention of the hoe was supposed to make faking of this kind unnecessary. -- D.B.W.

On Sabbatical Leaves

WESTON -- Miss Barbara Mitchell and Mr. Paul Mitchell are the first two teachers to benefit from the sabbatical leave plan which was voted last fall. Both teachers are going to the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

Miss Mitchell, 4th grade teacher who came to Weston in 1948, will take a half year with full salary to work towards her Master's degree.

Mr. Mitchell, high school English teacher in Weston since 1952, will take a full year at half pay to work towards a PhD.

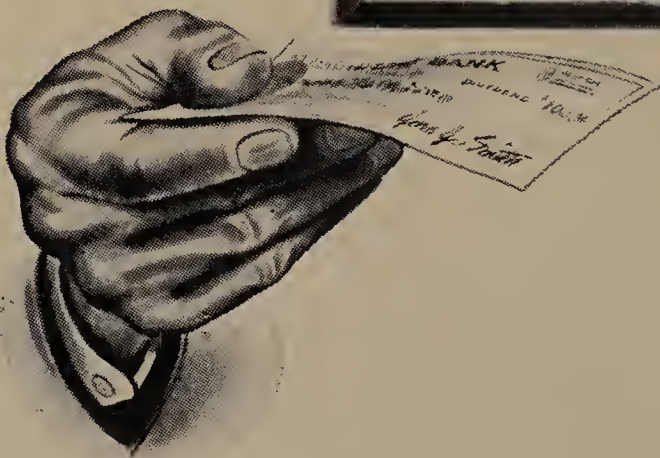

The sabbatical plan gives teachers who have been with the school system for seven years or more a chance to improve professionally during the time away and the town benefits from their study.

The business started by dealing in hay and grain only but has gradually increased so that at the present time the company deals in lumber, building materials, coal, coke, oil, hardware, garden tools and other items.

At present Harold Ogilvie is president and Ray is treasurer. Mrs. MacLeod, a alster, is clerk of the corporation. With the help of 2 nephews, Alden Whittemore and Wilbur Upham, (Directors of the Corporation) the company is continuing.

In 1953 a new modern office was completed and an open house was held to celebrate the event.

This month two new warehouses have just been completed, and to celebrate the completion and the 40th anniversary of the concern a "gala opening" is being held April 19 and 20. Door prizes will be given out, plus a prize every 20 minutes. Guests will receive gifts and refreshments.

WAYLAND — Uniforms of 20 years ago went back into service this Spring when the Way-Co Jets, a hockey team of Wayland boys, entered a junior league playing games at the Worcester Arena and ended with a record of three won, two lost. It was the first time in many years that Wayland had been represented by an organized hockey team.

The uniforms were bought back in 1938 for a Cochituate hockey team which played on an outdoor rink built where there is now a block of stores near Memorial Square. The rink, the size of the Boston Garden rink, was built and tended by volunteers. Its materials, especially the timber, were also, it is said, obtained by volunteers.

The Cochituate Hockey Club played a good many games before World War II and then in 1946 and 1947, and drew big crowds. When it finally disbanded, the uniforms were taken in charge and stored by Alton Flanders, who distributed 14 of the original 17 jerseys, still in good condition, to the 1959 boys' team.

The scorers:

Early American Projects

WESTON -- Recently Room 14, Grade 5 at the Country School, devoted a day to a Social Studies unit on Early American life. The class previously planned projects and divided into activity groups according to interests. The idea of the day was to depict the everyday work and studies of early American girls and boys.

During the day the following projects were going on: dyeing yarn, making soap, making cornbread, making butter, weaving, knitting, making samplers, making pottery, quilting, making quill pens and WESTON -- The United States State Department sent photographers to spend the day on April 7th filming high school physics teacher Irving Marsden in action with his class. The film is to be circulated in foreign countries to demonstrate the new methods used in teaching physics.

Weston is one of the 300 schools throughout the country which is sponsored by the National Science Foundation in this new approach to physics teaching, and Weston High was the one school picked to be photographed.

WESTON -- Vincent DeForest Hoagland Jr. and Henry Theodore Lehne both made the freshman honor roll at Wesleyan. Hoagland and Lehne are graduates of Weston High School in the class of 1958.

Historical Society Hears About 1676 Indian Fight

WAYLAND -- Forrest D. Bradshaw of Sudbury was the guest of the Wayland Historical Society's meeting on April 2, bringing along maps and a fund of information about a decisive battle in King Philip's wars against the white man, fought in Sudbury and Wayland on April 21, 1676.

The wily warrior, with a force of between 1200 and 1500 Indians, hoped to cross the Sudbury river here and establish a base from which he could drive the white man out of Massachusetts. The settlers, warned of impending trouble by burning and pillaging in the neighborhood, moved into the garrison houses in the town and stood off the attack successfully.

King Philip finally withdrew his forces to headquarters at Princeton and the white man stayed.

Indian losses were so heavy, Mr. Bradshaw said, that the usual victory dance was not held. The white man's losses were figured by the Indians at 72 dead. As they rode by the block-house in Marlboro they raised their arms above their heads that many times to show how many they had killed. A few months later King Philip himself, discredited and in hiding, was killed by one of his own men near Mt. Hope, Rhode Island.

J. Sidney Stone of Wayland, left, with Forrest D. Bradshaw of Sudbury, checking King Philip's course on the map. (McCann Photo)

Several things about the fight in Sudbury are puzzling, Mr. Bradshaw said. One mystery is why a force of 50 men under the leadership of Captain Wadsworth came up from Watertown and went right through Sudbury to Marlboro without stopping to find out what was going on. King Philip saw them go and had them ambushed and massacred. The ambush took place near Goodnow's hill. The victims were buried in a mass grave which, when opened in 1870, contained 20 bodies.

The Haynes garrison house, which was located on Water Street not far from the old stone-arch bridge, is of particular interest to Wayland people. Traces of it can be seen on its location, which was a poor one from the standpoint of defending it from attack. A hill rises up rather steeply in back of it, and during this battle the Indians set fire to a cart of flax and rolled it, blazing, down the hill toward the garrison.

Fortunately it overturned before it smashed into the wooden structure and set fire to it. An old barn near the spot provided good cover for the attacking Indians, but they burned it down, too. Twelve young men came down from Concord to help in the fighting. On their way to the Haynes garrison house 10 of them were killed. Five bodies were recovered and buried at or near the site of the monument at the old bridge in Wayland, just beyond the golf course.

None of the garrison houses are standing now, but arrowheads and artifacts may still be found by lucky searchers. --Jane McCann.

forces in Boston, "to spy out and report on conditions for sending troops to capture colonial arms and ammunition at Worcester."

The story of the British spy is well known, but, briefly:

Sgt. Howe made a mistake in stopping at Smith Tavern, a Patriot stronghold, for a "rum and molasses", and dinner. As he crossed the yard in front of the coach-house he was recognized by two hostlers as an officer whom they had seen in Boston, and while he entered the tap-room by the wide door on the east side, one of the men slipped into the kitchen to warn Joel Smith that the man was a spy.

Kind-hearted Joel, although a "Liberty man", gave Howe the drink, but sent him on for dinner to the Golden Ball, a Tory tavern, a short distance west on the Post Road.

So They Went By Sea

News traveled swiftly, and Howe escaped being tarred and feathered by 30 angry Liberty Men, who gathered at the Golden Ball at 11 o'clock that night, and escaped only by being smuggled over Jericho Road to the home of Dr. Wheaton, an ardent Tory. Here Howe spent an anxious night, in spite of the doctor's two pretty daughters who played cards with him to while away some of the hours. Before daylight, Howe was set on the road to Sudbury, but so difficult was his progress that he turned at Marlboro, and made his way back to Boston which he reached by April 12th.

Sgt. Howe's report on conditions was an adverse one; to quote from his journal: "The General asked me how large an army it would take to get to Worcester and return safe. I told him, if he should send 10,000 men and a train of artillery to Worcester, which is 48 miles, not one of them would get back alive."

And so the British troops set out from Boston on the night of April 18, "by sea" and not "by land".

plan to go on in further music study. Choice will be made by the committee based upon the degree of proficiency attained in music study, either instrumental or vocal, and upon the academic standing of the applicant.

Applications must be submitted by May 11 and application forms may be obtained from the guidance counselor in the Weston, Wayland and Lincoln-Sudbury Regional high schools. Mr. M. E. Berrett, President of the Community Chorus, will also have application forms available at his home on Concord Road, Wayland and may be reached by Informal and relaxed auditions will be held by the committee on May 11. Further information as to the time and place of the auditions will be given upon receipt of the applications.

The amount of the scholarship is $100 and the Chorus hopes to be able to offer a larger amount, but this will depend upon the ticket sales realized from its Spring Concert which will be held at the Wayland High School on Sunday, May 24, at 3 p.m.

Sleeping Sickness Warning

Each spring the danger of Equine Encephalitis looms ahead, and the United States Department of Agriculture sends out warnings and urges that all horses be immunized against this dread disease. This is "sleeping sickness," and both horses and humans are susceptible to the same organism. It is always fatal in horses and usually in humans.

Last year many horses in Massachusetts and more than a few humans died as a result of it. The important point to remember is that this disease is transmitted through horses, and the only way to insure complete safety in our community is to have 100% inoculation of the horses in this area. The serum is given in two shots, one week apart.

John E. Sullivan Becomes Ensign In Naval Aviation

COCHITUATE -- John E. Sullivan, 22, of Cochituate was one of 22 naval aviation cadets who received their commissions at Corpus Christi, Texas on April 10. His mother, Mrs. John C. Sullivan, flew down to Texas for the exercises and pinned her son's wings on in the traditional ceremony. Having successfully completed 19 months of training, Sullivan's rank now is that of Ensign. After a brief visit to Mexico, he and his mother drove home to Massachusetts, where he is spending a 15 days' leave before reassignment.

The new ensign, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Sullivan of Fairfield Road, attended Wayland schools and graduated from Wayland High School in the class of '54. He attended the University of Massachusetts for one year, and he served for two years on the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Lake Champlain prior to his training as an aviation cadet. A younger brother, Eddie, is a junior at Marian High School in Framingham and a sister, Mary, is an eighth grade student at Wayland. (Please turn to Page 10)

WESTON -- It is announced that $1089.00 was received in Weston during the January campaign of the Middlesex County Chapter March of Dimes.

"I was very much upset when I saw the plans for the new High School", says James Cazanas, general contractor for the job of building the new school. "The plans, for a series of single story buildings, seemed to contradict all the usual rules of economic construction. On top of this, a circular field house: circular on both horizontal and vertical planes!"

Mr. Cazanas, president of the N.D.C. Construction Co., had been general contractor for the Hartwell School in Lincoln and two schools in Framingham, had bid on the jobs of Claypit and Loker Schools, had finished the jobs of the High School addition and the Town Hall. He hoped very much to be able to build the school, to which he looks forward to having his sons attend.

"I knew how much time and effort in basic thinking had gone into these plans", he adds, "and when I got the final plans, I felt sick. I wondered what the Town would do. Even taking into account alternates such as not finishing the playing fields or the roads. It looked as if the Town would have to ask for an additional appropriation in order to build the building."

But after 300 pages of computation (Please turn to Page 10)

Geraldine Wins $300

WESTON -- Miss Geraldine Zorn, 12-year old daughter of the head of the Speech Department in the Weston schools, is the happy winner in the junior high division of the Boston Herald-Traveler's Canadian Friendship Essay Contest.

During her last vacation from Weston Junior High School, where she is a seventh grader, Miss Zorn saw the newspaper's announcement of its essay contest on the subject "The Benefits of Friendship with Canada," and because she had visited the country twice with her father and had grown fond of it, she decided to enter the contest. After four attempts she finally had an essay that satisfied her and she sent it in.

Last Sunday the Herald-Traveler announced that Geraldine had won first prize and $300.

Only Cellar Holes Mark Site Of Jericho, Strange Ghost Region In Weston

WESTON -- As strange a story as any in the history of Colonial New England is that of "Jericho", an area just North of the B. & M. tracks near the Wayland line, where was once a settlement which simply disappeared, leaving only cellar holes and ditches behind.

Who lived there and why they left isn't known. The area has recently been acquired by the town of Weston as a town forest. Further research may solve the mystery.

In the meantime, Brenton H. Dickson 3d, who is interested in local antiquities, has done some work on the problem, with help, and has been able to shed a little light on it. He writes:

"It seems that this area was formerly known as Cherry Meadows. It is drained by Cherry Brook to the east and Hayward Brook to the west. In the middle of the 17th century settlers were attracted by the open marsh and meadowlands, the cranberry bogs and peat de-

WESTON -- As part of the anti-litter campaign in Weston, eight girls of Mariner Ship 5, Mrs. Howard G. Rogers skipper, set up a coffee shop and propaganda center on the Weston dump on Saturday morning, April 18, and did a big business.

Every resident who drove with a cargo of odds and ends was immediately approached by one of the Mariners, who gave him a free cup of coffee and a short speech.

Paper bags, stamped in red, "Don't be a litterbug!", for use in automobiles, were also passed out.

The campaign, to run through April 30, is supported by the garden clubs, Women's Community League, the Rotary Club, the Legion Post, the Boosters Club, Boy and Girl Scouts and the Selectmen. In connection with the campaign,

Baby Rabbit Is Rescued By Weston FD At Grass Fire

WESTON -- A guest of the Weston Fire Department is "Smokey", a baby rabbit who was rescued on April 18 after a grass fire near the Fitchburg Division of the B. & M.

The firefighters had to contend with seven separate fires that day in the same general vicinity. After one of the blazes, Lieut. Albert J. White found two baby rabbits dead and one hopping around scared and lonesome.

Lieut. Charles E. MacLeod volunteered to take care of Smokey until he gets big enough to look out for himself. A doll's nursing bottle has taken care of the feeding problem satisfactorily.

The Weston Fire Department also has a pet parakeet, which came to the late Capt. John Compton during a fire on the town dump, and has been a mascot ever since.

Letters to the EDITOR

New Weston High School

To the Editor:
Since the selection of an architect last November, the High School Building Committee has completed the educational specifications for the new school, another important phase in its program.
On April 13 the School Building Assistance Commission gave approval to the educational specifications prepared by the Building Committee, the School Committee and the Administration. These specifications set forth the course offerings and space allocations in the new school. The High School Survey report was carefully considered at this time.
A detailed report of these educational specifications will be published in the "Our Schools" publication of the School Liaison Committee. The Building Committee is also meeting with any Town organizations or individual citizens who wish to hear more details. The Committee is now proceeding with the architect in preparing detailed preliminary plans and estimates with the intention of presenting the results to a Town Meeting in the early fall. With the maintenance of this schedule the new high school will be ready for occupancy in September of 1961.

The High School Building Committee

Thank You Note

To the Editor:
As we prepare to leave for Washington, we would like to take time to thank all the people who made it possible for us to go.
To all the other Wayland girl scout troops and leaders who worked for the success of the Children's Fair - to all the people who patronized our birthday party service - to the Wayland Junior Town House Association for its support - and to the Town Crier for its kind publicity, our heartfelt thanks.
We will try to be good representatives of our town, our school and our families.

Sincerely,
Sharon Shepard

58 Will Leave, 100 Enter
Fast Growing Loker School

WAYLAND--Seventy-two pupils were registered at the Loker School on Wednesday, April 15. These 72, plus 20 more who were not able to come to the school, will be in the first grade next year. There will no doubt be more than 100 pupils in the Loker first grade this coming year.
This figure contrasts with 58, the number leaving Loker School to attend seventh grade. All 72 pupils visited a first-grade classroom and were screened by a speech therapist. In addition to completing the school registration each parent spoke with a classroom teacher and Mrs. Drew, the school nurse.

According to Royal Graves, the principal, registering, screening and talking to so many children and parents in one morning would not have been possible without the additional aid of six parents. Those who gave Mrs. Lorentzen, Mr. Turner and the teachers this valuable help were Mrs. George Beverly, Mrs. Robert Dietrich, Mrs. George Dresser, Mrs. George R. Johnson, Mrs. Henry Pearson and Mrs. Ernest Schaefer.

WAYLAND -- Mr. John S. Kell of Glezen Lane is a member of the committee studying the long-range development program of Wilbraham Academy.

WESTON -- At the National Science Teachers Association National Convention held in Atlantic City on March 31 through April 4, Mr. Wallace W. Sawyer served as recorder of a discussion group devoted to the topic, "Responsibilities, Opportunities, and Difficulties of the Science Department Head." On April 11, at the spring meeting of the Tufts Educational Association, Mr. Sawyer spoke on "Modern Trends in Science Education."

Old Red School Graduates Made Only Small Mistakes

We Need Better Education
Today, So Tomorrow's Leaders
- Can Goof In Really Big Way

Old Furboots, who says that what was good enough for his father, who voted for Chester A. Arthur, is good enough for anybody nowadays, even if contemporary people do tend to sleep with their windows open, blows his stack when he hears about the varied excellences of Post World War II schools. He is strictly an old red school house man, and he is not alone in his views.

The attitude is that there's something character building in primitive conditions. The idea is that boys and girls in those old red schools lived in a state of Nature, where they soaked up virtue along with Latin and Greek while bringing in their own wood for the smoky stove, which provided inadequate heat when the temperature dropped to 10 below zero, which it would do long ago as well as now, or even more so, in the opinion of those who think the Ice Age still lingers in the interior suburbs.

Much as one dislikes to disagree with Old Roughhackle, whose voice has been raised in town meeting in favor of economy in education since 1650, it has to be pointed out that this kind of rural education led to the Civil War.

People in the North, from 1800 to 1860, got what learning they had in the little red school. People in the South didn't have that much. Of course, here and there was a Southerner who had had a few semesters at Princeton, but a community full of Harvard men knows what that amounts to. So there was a divided nation with only the wisdom developed in the little red school to guide it, and it wasn't enough wisdom to prevent a war.

The same may be said of subsequent wars, crazes and disasters.

Now these fancy new schools offer a real promise. Along with sunlight, plumbing, ventilation and hot lunches, today's pupils get to study digital computers and cloud chambers and astrophysics, and it stands to reason the world will be different when they get old enough to take charge.

Why, with all this increased knowledge, brought about by better schools, the possibilities for future human catastrophes are practically unlimited.

The statesman of yesteryear, who barely finished the 8th grade and figured that was plenty for anybody, could make only minor, unimaginative errors, in comparison with tomorrow's big wheel, who will know more at the age of 17 than Newton, Galileo and Copernicus combined, not to mention his father, mother and uncles, and will thus be able to goof on a cosmic scale.

Old Crustypuss learned in school that it was impossible to get to the moon.

Now every 10-year-old boy, taught in schools of brick, glass and tile, understands perfectly well that man proposes to explore outer space and take it over. And if the two-headed men on Betelgeuse, known as Beteljuice to the inhabitants of certain tropical countries, refuse to cooperate by dropping dead, it will be the worse for them.

They'd better not forget what happened to the Indians.

So that's why, no matter what old Onegallus says, these high-powered new schools are necessary. It's understood that the human race is going to commit monumental blunders. Those little old mistakes, involving only 10 or 20 million lives, won't do any more. What we must have are trained leaders who understand the situation and the needs of a new age and can make miscalculations leading, maybe, to the disintegration of North America.

The juvenile delinquent is no problem. The boy we should fear and respect is the one who's monkeying with the slide rule, electronics and brain waves right this minute, preparing himself for world leadership in the wrong direction about the year 1985 or sooner. And maybe his little sister, too. — D.B.W.

Appointed Midshipman

WESTON -- Philip F. Mueller of 32 Willard Road was recently appointed by the State of Massachusetts as Midshipman, Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps, in the regular program at Harvard University. He has been a contract student under the Navy program during the present year at Harvard. He expects to go on a six weeks' training cruise this Summer.

Here's why cooperatives support better community services

Owned lock, stock and barrel by people in the town and surrounding rural area, cooperatives are greatly concerned with local community development.

In helping to build a progressive town or city, with its better schools, better roads, better police and fire protection . . . cooperatives are leading supporters.

The principal purpose of a cooperative is to serve the citizens of the community. That naturally includes shouldering its full share of civic responsibilities and duties.

In paying for these community-building services, cooperatives are often the leaders. In both public services rendered and taxes paid, cooperatives rank at or near the top in their communities.

posits. "When the Ripleys bought their house they found the arch under the chimney filled with peat which had been left there to dry; and within my memory the B & M steam engines periodically set fires to the peat bogs along the tracks and they'd smoulder for weeks. The meadowlands when drained became fertile and were farmed extensively. You can still find the piles of rocks left there from clearing the fields.

"There are many cellar holes throughout the region, long drainage ditches, causeways with stone bridges and three mill sites, one of them complete with dam and raceway. The territory is by no means a dismal swamp, as many have been led to believe. There are several high (by comparison) hills that command a pretty good view of the surrounding countryside.

"The old Jericho Road, which was abandoned in 1785, intersects the Boston Post Road just west of Raynor's and it can still be traced through to Sudbury Road. John Howe, the notorious Tory spy who was hidden in the Elwell house, made his escape along this road. Probably growing out of his escape was the legend of the late 1700s that Jericho Road was haunted. Slaves and other superstitious people were afraid to travel it after dark. There is another legend that during Washington's siege of Boston 1775-6 the women of Jericho baked bread for the troops and sent it to them by oxcart.

"Presumably by 1785, the year the Jericho Road was discontinued, all the outlying farms had been abandoned and what houses were left in the village were reached from Draper Road, Wayland, a much easier access as no swamp-land had to be crossed. The village consists of about a dozen foundations but the place is so overgrown that an accurate count would take considerable time. Although I'm neither archeologist nor architect I would say from what I've seen that the houses are mostly the salt-box type with central chimney. The location of the village was well chosen. It is on the banks of a stream and has a southern exposure. Grouts Head rises to the north and must have afforded shelter from the winter winds.

"In 1809 Mr. James Draper bought the tract of land on which the village stood. According to the historian, A. S. Hudson, one way in which Mr. Draper's energy spent its force was in purchasing estates in order to demolish the old buildings and erect new ones or remodel or renovate others. So in pursuit of his hobby he razed what was left of the village, and it has since sunk into oblivion."

Bruce Hamill On Committee

WESTON -- Bruce Hamill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Hamill of 25 Old Road, is one of 39 high school students selected to be members of the executive committee for the Governor's Council On Youth scheduled to be held in Boston next month.

The executive group will make final plans for the all-day conference which will include workshop sessions on educational and vocational opportunities and the development of a Youth Code of Conduct. The students will have full responsibility for the running of the conference although there is an adult advisory committee headed by Judge David A. Rose of the Dorchester District Court.

WAYLAND -- Mrs. Ralph Field of Concord Road was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Lincoln Garden Club. Her topic was "How I Grow Orchids in My Home."

WAYLAND -- Peter Riggs of State Road East won the $10 prize and Harriet Colby of Happy Hollow Road won the $5.00 prize given by the Wayland Kiwanis Club for the best essays on "The Importance of Planting Shade Trees in Our Community."

The contest was open to 10th and 11th grade students and was judged by members of the High School English Department and by Mr. Fern A. Taylor, local tree surgeon, representing the Kiwanis Club. Both winners are 11th grade students.

Those who don't care what happens burn leaves on windy days.

Trip To Washington

WAYLAND -- Thirty members of the Youth Fellowship of the Cochituate Community Methodist Church left for a four-day trip to Washington, D.C., on April 18 at 5 o'clock in the dawning. Traveling with them on the chartered school bus were Mr. and Mrs. William E. Irwin of 15 Centre Street, Mrs. Ruben H. Guenther of 128 West Plain Street and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Finaly, Boston University students who have been serving as Youth Directors for the Church.

A Report to Our Customers

THE NEW RATES WE NEED WILL COST THE AVERAGE FAMILY ABOUT 1 1/4 CENTS MORE A DAY

In accordance with the law regulating our operations, Boston Edison Company has filed new rate schedules with the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities.

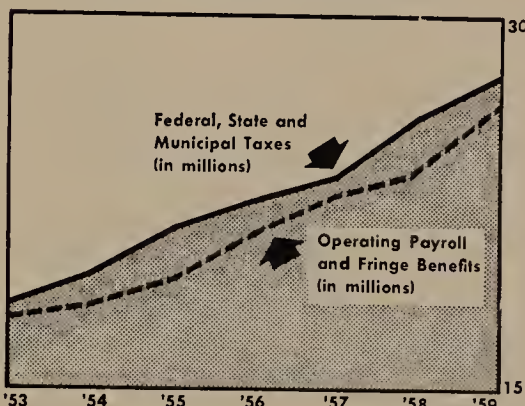

These new rate schedules provide for increases amounting to approximately $4,521,500 a year or about 4.4 per cent.

Based on average use (173 kwh a month) the proposed increase amounts to one and twenty-seven hundredths cents a day for the residential customer.

The accompanying charts and related facts show how inflationary pressures have increased our costs of providing service. Taxes now take more than 25¢ out of every dollar you pay us.

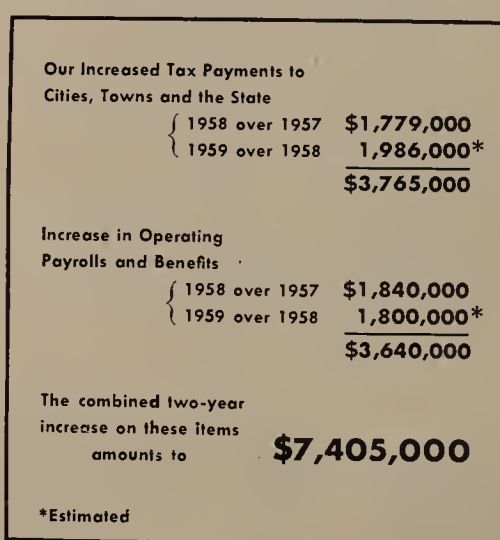

And yet, as shown in the chart at lower right, the average price our residential customer pays for a unit of electricity has gone down steadily.

TOTAL TAXES AND WAGES
UP $17 MILLION SINCE 1953

You can see how these two largest expense items have risen in six years. Last year our total tax bill was more than $27,000,000, over half of which went to the towns and cities we serve. Operating payrolls and benefits were just under $25,000,000. Both these items will be higher this year.

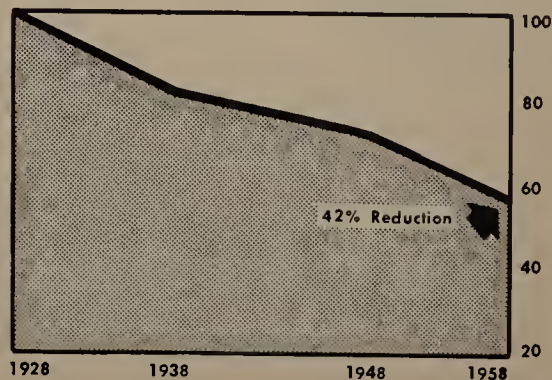

TOTAL WAGES AND LOCAL TAXES
UP OVER $7 MILLION SINCE 1957

QUARTER BILLION 7-YEAR PLANT DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

AVERAGE PRICE PER KWH FOR HOMES DOWN 42% IN 30 YEARS

Since 1928 residence use of electricity has increased more than 400%, but our home customer has paid less and less for a kilowatthour.

The new rate schedules, as filed on April 16, 1959, will provide needed additional revenues for meeting the very substantial rising costs of maintaining the high standard of electrical service to which our 475,000 customers are accustomed.

Hospital Help Wanted

WAYLAND -- More women are wanted to serve with the Wayland Unit of the Emerson Hospital (Concord) Auxiliary for the coming year. For the past year, 12 local women have been volunteering their services for about three hours a month each. This has supplied the Hospital with much-needed assistance on eight nights and three days out of each month.

There are a variety of jobs to be filled by volunteers including work in Central Supply which provides nursing equipment for the floors, folding bandages, setting up trays, etc.

Volunteers may prefer to work as receptionists, helpers in the coffee shop, hospitality and gift shop, or as operators of the magazine and gift carts from which patients may buy small items.

The Wayland unit will be making up its summer schedule shortly so interested women are asked to call Mrs. Robert Evans, Sherman Bridge Road, at EL 8-2056, before May 10.

Big Business Deal

WESTON -- Mr. Richard S. Leghorn of 226 Winter Street, president of the Itek Corporation, announces the purchase by his firm of the $4 million Photostat Corporation of Rochester, N.Y., to be operated as a wholly-owned subsidiary.

Litterbugs Clean Up

WESTON -- Three young men from Wellesley, one of them a juvenile, who had strewn rubbish along Wellesley Street one Sunday afternoon, cleaned up the whole street, from Route 30 to the Wellesley line, on April 11, Police Chief Frank O. Shaw reports.

The boys were caught after their litterbug spree and taken to Waltham court, where their sentence was to clean up everything on Wellesley Street under police supervision. That they did, with three hours of work apiece.

BOSTON -- Wayland third grader Daniel Engberg was to appear every day in the week of April 20-24 on Channel 2's "Ruth Anne's Camp", from 5 to 6 p.m. Daniel lives at 26 Spring Hill Road. This week the program is about birds.

tion involved in the estimate were added up, the total was so low that the new Wayland High School will be the cheapest per square foot building his company has built since the war.

An indication of good plans and specifications, he states, is a reasonably close variance in bids. In this case, the seven contractors who submitted bids varied only $100,000, unusually close in a job of this size.

Mr. Cazanas says the reasons why the High School buildings will be inexpensive while appearing the reverse are: elimination of moulds and scaffolding which are not a part of the finished building; use of materials which in themselves provide the finish, avoiding cover-up materials; and large areas requiring similar labor such as unbroken wall space or window walls. In addition, because there are a series of buildings, crews can use mass production techniques and avoid delays caused by having to wait, for concrete to harden, for instance, before the next stage of building.

The construction as a whole doesn't present any problems, Mr. Cazanas figures, because the firm (Architects Collaborative) who designed the future High School had taken construction problems into account. This, he says "is a tribute not only to the architectural firm but also to the School Building Committee, particularly Allan Finlay, who put so much advance thought on this."

Sidewalk superintendents will be able to watch new methods of construction. Floors for the buildings will be poured concrete. Next, a "breaking agent", or separating membrane, will be put on the floors, and roofs will be poured on top of the floors, encasing steel reinforcements. Then the roofs will be jacked up. The concrete will provide an adequate ceiling surface.

The dome for the field house will be constructed of prefabricated wooden "spherical trapezoids" on the keystone principal. Scaffolding will have to be used to support these until the dome is put together but this is cheaper than making a mould, says Mr. Cazanas. "We eliminate a forest of scaffolding by putting up the finished product."

He says:

"This site is a contractor's dream. I don't expect to see another like it." No clearing, no ledge, no swamp and a "gold mine" of loam. Mr. Cazanas likes living in Wayland. One reason, he says, is: "I've been dealing with fellows who've got millions of dollars worth of brains looking out for our town interests the way businessmen must look after company interests. I wonder if a lot of people appreciate what we've got here."

Mr. and Mrs. Cazanas have lived on Cochituate Road for seven years. They have two sons, James M. Jr. 7, and Nicholas, nearly 3. Summer is Mr. Cazanas' busy season and for this reason he is looking forward to those four tennis courts which will be a part of the new High School facilities. Golf takes too long, he says, and he does like to get more exercise than one gets driving a car.

Winters he has played badminton at Happy Hollow and Loker schools. One winter vacation in Florida the Cazanas won a ticket for dance lessons which proved so much fun that they continued. Recently they gave Cha-Cha lessons at a St. Ann's Church Couples Club party.

Mr. Cazanas grew up in this part of the country, and Mrs. Cazanas is a native of St. Louis. After graduating from Brookline High School he spent three years in the Air Force, 3,000 hours of which were spent flying the Hump. With the Air Transport Command he flew all over the world. After the war he took his engineering degree at Washington University, St. Louis, and then joined his father in the construction business. He became president of their company, which specializes in public and industrial buildings, three years ago, at age 30.

For two years Mr. Cazanas has been Chairman of the Contractors Association of Waltham and vicinity. Last year he was elected the youngest director of the Associated General Contractors of America. He was also a member of the Massachusetts Labor Policy Committee. He is a member of the State and National Boards of Arbitration, (serving on the latter with Archibald Cox, Wayland Selectman). Mr. Cazanas is also Chairman of the Massachusetts Legislative Committee for the construction industry.

"There won't be another school anywhere around like this one", declares Mr. Cazanas. "The town as a whole will be able to benefit from its facilities. There is so much there to interest everyone that it will be a center of activities in Wayland as well as a High School. I've seen it all from the beginning. Now I hope to be able to see the kids make it work."

—Carol Foster.

Comes Garden Time, Also Comes Time For Cutworms

Charles H. Wilton.

Garden time is also, by a traditional arrangement, insect time, when the bugs and hungry crawling things come up from the ground from maybe China and hit the fresh air just in time to bite at the first green leaves from the first seeds.

Above, illustrating this unhappy association of events, is the artist's conception of a cutworm going to work on a tomato plant.

The artist says he knows his picture contains a few variations from what the expert gardener would call accuracy. The cutworm, of course, does not wear a napkin, nor does he use knife and fork. He doesn't even have teeth, as far as anybody ever could see, yet somehow he manages to chew stalks.

Nor does the cutworm attack tomato plants after the fruit has formed. The cutworm, for whom no words of reprobation are too severe, wreaks his havoc early in Spring, after which he vanishes. Where he goes no one cares, as long as he goes. Perhaps he turns into a butterfly, which would be the least he could do, thus adding a bit of beauty to compensate for the damage he does.

Why, it is estimated that unless the stalks of baby tomato plants are wrapped in collars of newspaper, cutworms may cost the gardener as much as 30 or 40 cents in money and 90 points in high blood pressure induced by fury.

But while gardening has its delights for those who like it (so does opium smoking, some say) it must be admitted that it has a seamy side, and that's what the picture represents. There are cutworms, aphids, beetles, worms, parasites, borers, chewers, gnawers, tunnelers and weevils (raising the old gardening issue, which is the lesser of two weevils?) and they'll be here again next year, too.

Some say the insects are going to inherit the earth, after World War III. But don't believe it. When man goes the garden will go, and the bugs will all starve to death.

Sudbury Valley Trustees Have Acquired 400 Acres

WAYLAND -- Large tracts, small tracts, bits and pieces of ponds and wooded areas, comprise the approximately 400 acres of land acquired by the Sudbury Valley Trustees in the last few years. There is even a recently donated "mystery parcel" located on Water Row near Broadmeadow, in Sudbury, the exact location of which has not yet been determined but which, from the names of its boundaries, can be assumed to be something of a wetland.

Some of the holdings have been purchased through funds built up by citizens interested in preserving natural areas for walking, riding, camping, and nature study. Others have been outright gifts.

Large areas owned by the Trustees include the 150 acres in the Concord Road - Glezen Lane section where the enterprise began. There is another 150 acres around Heard's Pond and a fairly long section of about 100 acres in Woodridge which is excellent for walking or riding but is one of the few pieces with a restriction on picknicking.

In addition, there are about 25 acres in the Sherman Bridge-Concord Road area and two pieces in Sudbury totalling about 25 acres.

The Trustees are interested in getting all kinds and all sizes of land throughout the Sudbury Valley, believing that there is no type of land which is not worth having either as a wild-life refuge or as available space for the more sophisticated pursuits of Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and nature lovers. The Scouts have made use of these areas for hikes, camping and work on nature study badges. Last fall, a number of Scouts planted several hundred pine seedlings in the Heard Pond tract.

A hoped-for project, still in the planning stage, is a demonstration of a wild-life marsh which the Sudbury Valley Trustees hope to build, complete with dam and small pond, on the Millbrook tract.

WESTON -- The Massachusetts Republican Finance Committee announces the appointment of John H. Underhill Jr. of 67 Wellesley Street as town GOP finance chairman for Weston.

Quality Products Put The Market Out Of Business

WESTON -- Building a better mousetrap may have its points but the Garden Interest Group of the Women's Community League has found out that it really doesn't pay to make better Christmas wreaths and table decorations.

For the last few years, members have been making such holiday decorations for the Group's Yuletide Market but all of them were so well-constructed that purchasers have tended to go on using the same ones year after year and the Market has just about reached its saturation point.

Now that the durability of product has eliminated the Market (a mistake that car manufacturers never seem to make) they are looking about for a new fund-raising project for next year.

Eric Von Hippel Named National Merit Scholar

WESTON -- Eric von Hippel, a senior at the Cambridge School of Weston, has been named a Merit Scholar by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. The son of Prof. Arthur von Hippel of M.I.T. and Mrs. von Hippel, Glen Road, Weston, Eric is one of some 850 winners of the competition which 480,000 high school seniors from every State entered.

Eric von Hippel is currently president of the Cambridge School Town Meeting, has been chief justice of the court, and was president of his class in his junior year.

Eric von Hippel

Eric is the fourth von Hippel to attend the Cambridge School. The fifth, his sister Marianne, is now in the 8th grade. "Strings" Editor Needed

WESTON -- A big civic job in Weston still has no taker.

Somebody is needed to take over the job of compiling "Strings Around The Finger", the calendar of coming events in Weston, published once a month in the Crier.

The job involves communication with many people, a chance to keep in touch with local events, no fixed hours and no pay.

Anybody interested may call Mrs. A. A. Nichols, president of the Women's Community League, at TW 3-0913.

Nearly 500 Local Women Belong To Garden Clubs

Nearly 500 women belong to garden clubs in Wayland and Weston, either as active, honorary, associate, or provisional members. The interest in gardening evidenced by the club membership of people in the area is only one indication of the wide-spread enthusiasm for home horticulture shared by Wayland and Weston residents.

An informal survey points to fewer than 5% of the homes in the two towns lacking in plantings, gardens or landscape activity of some sort.

Forest & Trail 6-Acre Purchase Big Success

WESTON -- In a letter dated April 23, to residents in the Church Street - Viles Street neighborhood, Mr. Stanley G. French, President of the Weston Forest and Trail Association, announces the outstanding success of the appeal for funds for the purchase of some six acres of meadowland for a nature sanctuary bordering Stony Brook south of the Boston and Main railroad.

The appeal (Town Crier, April 2) received such an encouraging response from residents in the near neighborhood, as well as from persons further afield, that those pledging $50 or more will be called on only to the extent of one-half of their pledge. This opens up the possibility that should additional adjacent land become available in the future, that there is good prospect of obtaining additional funds for this purpose.

The following were among those contributing, in addition to a contribution of $150 from the general funds of the Forest and Trail Association.

WAYLAND -- Old 149, survivor of the Boston, Worcester & New York trolley line, was being moved last week from its resting place on State Road West to a permanent home at the Seashore Trolley Museum in Kennebunkport, Maine.

The car, covered with imitation brick shingles, has been in Wayland since 1931. For many years it was used as a home by the late Forrest Zoller, who died two months ago.

The trolley line between Boston and Worcester, double tracked, was built in 1903, following the course of what was even then known as the "Worcester Turnpike". This turnpike, dating from the early 1800s, was a dirt road but fairly straight, running through open country.

The cars ran from Park Square in Boston, out Boylston Street and Huntington Avenue to the route of the present turnpike. They were long cars, on high trucks, and they made speed out in the open country. They left Boston every hour on the hour for the 40-mile trip to Worcester.

In its prime, this line was considered pretty fancy. Some can remember that the Boston-to-Worcester journey took at least two hours, and seemed interminable. Framingham was a way station. In Natick, where Route 27 crosses Route 9, was a junction known as "Sunnyside", whence connecting

Peter Riggs Wins Contest

WAYLAND -- Peter Riggs of State Road East, an 11th grade student at Wayland High School, was the winner of the state-wide essay contest conducted by the Massachusetts Arborists' Association for 10th and 11th grade students.

His award, a $25 war bond, was presented to him by Mr. Joseph Brine, president of the Association, at a student assembly outside the High School before morning classes on April 28. The Association also presented the School with a sugar maple tree ready for planting.

Peter's essay on "The Importance of Planting Shade Trees in Our Community," won the $10 first prize sponsored by the Wayland Kiwanis Club and was entered in the state-wide competition. Dr. M. A. McKenzie, director of Shade Tree Laboratories at the University of Massachusetts, was in charge of the judging.

WAYLAND -- Chairman Allan Finlay and all the members of the School Building Committee took a turn at the shovel in the groundbreaking ceremony held at the new High School site on April 25.

Mr. Finlay described the building as "a tool for education" and said that its construction could not have come about without the efforts of all the committees and interested groups in town, the tireless devotion of the architects, and the support of the community as a whole.

General contractor James Cazanias presented each of the committee members with a full-sized chrome-trimmed, black-handled shovel.

By 1969, almost 7,000 more radiological-safety specialists will be needed.

Alliance Calico Tea

WESTON -- Wednesday, April 29 from 3-5 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Arthur L. Coburn Sr., 153 Church Street, Weston - members of The Benevolent-Alliance of the First Parish in Weston and their friends were invited to a "Calico Tea".

This tea is an annual event of The Benevolent-Alliance with a twofold purpose, to bring members together and to supply the Service Committee with the material needed to make garments for boys and girls in Children's Medical Center, New England Home for Little Wanderers and The Metropolitan Hospital.

Mrs. A. L. Coburn Sr. and Miss Charlotte Perkins were co-hostesses.

No Litter Bugs Wanted

One of the winners in the poster contest run in connection with the anti-litter campaign was Jean Mercalfe, 6th grade, whose litterbug picture is shown above.

WESTON -- A feature of the anti-litter campaign was the discovery that part of the business section is so congested there's no place to locate trash barrels.

On the South side of the Post Road the sidewalk is wide enough and there's no problem. But on the North side, where there is angle parking and a narrow sidewalk, there's no room for barrels. Some suggested long, narrow, rectangular receptacles, but the mathematical problem hasn't been solved. Anybody interested is invited to put his mind to work on it. More than 3000 litter bags were passed out in the stores, and prize-winning posters made by school pupils were exhibited in stores and public buildings.

Although this was the first such campaign in town, the response was such that it may be made an annual affair. And those who helped to run the campaign wish to thank all citizens for their cooperation.

WESTON -- Harold Downing of 24 Meadowbrook Road, Scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 51 in Weston, was recently graduated from the Tantamous Training Troop #10 of Norumbega Council Inc., Boy Scouts of America. Mr. Downing took part in a seven-week course that covered troop organization, leadership, meetings, hiking, camping, advancement, troop committees, individual boy growth, the patrol method and troop operation. A distinctive red tantamous neckerchief and certificate were presented in a ceremony on April 21 at the Norumbega Council Office in Newtonville.

Ways To Take Monotony Out Of Spading The Garden

Wear a costume.

Use bottle opener. Pretend

one is widening Route 128

There's no getting away from the fact that digging up a garden with spade or shovel, be the patch big or little, is one of the duller tasks, the monotony of which is usually broken only by conflicts with large stones and roots.

Not yet has man or woman devised any sure way to make this job seem gay and mentally stimulating. Yet there must be a method, just as there must be a loophole in the income tax laws or else not so many would be buying $6000 automobiles, and if we apply as much imagination as muscle to the work we may hit on an idea.

Of course, if a man has done something on Friday evening which his wife wishes to discuss on Saturday morning, silent toil in the quiet suburban air will have charm enough.

Those who have bad habits also have ways to kill the pain of the job. One trick is to dig a hole in the cold, cold ground and bury a couple of beer bottles up to their necks in it. This requires a certain amount of slyness, in sneaking the bottles out of the house and also in remembering to sneak out the bottle opener. If the latter is carried in the hip pocket, the digger has to be careful not to fall over backwards.

This system really does tend to promote happiness in the home. Let the husband dig dirt and drink anaesthetic all Saturday morning and he'll sleep all Saturday afternoon, and his wife won't have to listen to the baseball game.

Costume may serve to lighten the chore, too. No reason why man shouldn't adorn himself in some rig slightly on the picturesque side. Such as:

Old straw hat, perhaps once stolen from a donkey, with ear holes useful for ventilation. Short sleeved shirt in bright color, or perhaps no shirt, to facilitate sunburn. Shorts, or perhaps dungarees trimmed off at the knee with scissors, to give an interesting scalloped effect. Low shoes with city socks, to accentuate the ugliness of hairy shins.

Connaisseurs of dress say that in this costume it's the socks which make the difference. They so obviously belong to some other outfit that they make the gardener look like a real slob.

Tending still further to eliminate monotony is the presence of small children. The alert mother, on seeing fatherhood at work, will instantly send all the children out of doors, to be in his care for a change. Thus the labor of spading will alternate with quick dashes after small fry, to keep them from running into the street or falling into the rain barrel, which is a reminder that alas, there are no more rain barrels, once such interesting dooryard appurtenances.

Another way to lighten the task is not to dig in straight lines, but in odd topographical shapes, just as the small boy used to like to dig canals and peninsulas in his oatmeal, back in the days when oatmeal was an article of diet under its own name. Heaven only knows what oatmeal breakfast food is now called, and good riddance.

Time is another element to be considered in this job. Enough digging at once is enough, and one must beware lest the simple act of sticking a shovel in the ground and taking it out again become habit-forming. The whole job is not to be done in one day, any more than the widening of Route 128, which is going to take all Summer at least, to the great discomfort of those who ask why they didn't build it wide enough in the first place if they were so smart. If the digging job is paced properly, the last of it will be done around May 30, just in time for the setting out of tomato plants.

Better still, pay a man $5 and have him dig up the whole patch with a machine in an hour. Then a rainy spell will set in and before one gets around to plant the garden it will be covered with weeds a foot deep, necessitating use of the hoe, which brings up another subject entirely. — D.B.W.

WESTON -- The Country Garden Club of Weston was founded in 1954 with a membership limited to 50. The object of the Club "shall be to encourage an active interest in horticulture and conservation among the amateur gardeners in the community and to further the knowledge of beautifying town and home."

The members have been especially active over the past several years in conserving and beautifying the banking opposite the Memorial

Pool. A good deal of money has been spent by the Club in controlling the erosion to which the bank is subject. Grass has been planted as well as honeysuckle and other ground covers. This year, they hope to establish trailing roses which will not only add beauty but protection.

The Nature Trail is another of the Club's interests and this year a contribution of $35 was made to the Weston High School Biology Club to help in doing planting along the trail.

Members take care of providing decorations and flowers for the elderly men's and women's wards at the Waltham Hospital. Four or more times a year, plants and appropriate holiday decorations are arranged in the wards.

The Club has joined with the other Weston Garden Clubs and civic groups to help promote the current "anti-litter" campaign and is helping with preparations for the May 20 "Weston Promenade" tour of houses and gardens. They also have representatives on the joint garden club committee which is making a survey of the overall conservation and improvement needs of the town.

The Club meets on the second Wednesday morning of each month. Board members include: president, Mrs. Howard M. Spicker; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Lewis W. Mustard III; recording secretary, Mrs. Charles H. Abbott; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Donald M. King; treasurer, Mrs. Arthur S. Reid; conservation chairman, Mrs. Chester H. Graves; publicity chairman, Mrs. John M. Cole; and nominating committee chairman, Mrs. Edgar M. Brister.

Weston Garden Club Has Unique Provisional Group

WESTON -- The Weston Garden Club has recently made formal the organization of a group of provisional members which may be the only organization of this sort in garden club history.

Limited to 20, the group consists primarily of daughters and daughters-in-law of regular members and it has as its purpose "to further educate members in the field of gardening and arranging and to prepare them for future membership in the Weston Garden Club."

The provisional period is two years at the end of which time the members, either individually or as a group, may apply for full membership.

The Weston Garden Club helps the provisional group and supervises its meetings. In turn, the younger set has been helpful in such projects as the bulb-planting on the Green where they bring their babies to romp as they dig.

in new homes who are interested in learning ways in which to landscape and beautify their residences. They consider themselves "real dirt gardeners."

Much of their skill has been developed on a self-taught, learning-through-doing basis although, now that the Club has been able to build up its funds through projects like the Yuletide Market, they are able to afford professional help occasionally.

The Group is working jointly with the other two Weston clubs on the "anti-litter" campaign, the Weston Promenade project, and the joint survey of Weston's conservation and improvement needs. They are also interested, along with the other clubs, in a project which is still in its infancy, the stimulating of a planting program around the Children's Unit of the Waltham Hospital.

Meetings have been held on the second Monday of the month although the schedule is expected to be changed after the May 18 Annual Meeting.

Mrs. Arthur A. Nichols is president of the Women's Community League under which the Garden Interest Group operates. Board members of the Group include: chairman, Mrs. William G. Karal; vice-chairman, Mrs. Carl G. Bergstedt, who is also in charge of program and program-planning; treasurer, Mrs. Thomas D. Dennehy; secretary, Mrs. Ford R. Waugh; horticulture and conservation chairman, Mrs. C. Grover Smith; publicity chairman, Mrs. Jerome J. Oleksiw; civic chairman, Mrs. Joseph Antell, and membership chairman, Mrs. Asa B. Foster.

WESTON -- The Weston Garden Club, oldest garden club in the town, was founded in 1941 and federated in 1948. Its purpose is "to stimulate the knowledge and love of gardening, to aid in the protection of native trees, plants, and birds, and to beautify Weston."

The Club has 70 members and 15 associate members as well as a provisional group of 20 members. Besides being active in the joint "anti-litter" campaign, the "Weston Promenade" and the joint Survey Committee, the Club has, over the years, taken on a number of projects which keeps its members busy year round. They supply the Library with flowers all through the year and set up holiday decorations in all public buildings, the fire station, the library, the Jones House, and in all the schools with the exception of The Country School.

The Club has also devoted much time to making the old horse trough in front of the Unitarian Church a small beauty spot, keeping it neat and attractively-planted. Every fall, the Club plants new bulbs on the Green, hoping eventually to make it a complete mass of colorful blooms. They have also done the permanent planting at the Weston Town House and engage in a yearly roadside campaign.

Members have been doing some work at the Metropolitan State Hospital ever since the Veteran's Hospital in Waltham was discontinued and it is hoped that some larger project may be organized in connection with the hospital in the future.

The Club meets on the fourth Thursday of every month. The Board members, including those just elected at the April 23 Annual Meeting, are: president, Mrs. Eben T. Lufkin; vice-president, Mrs. Erlund Field; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Charles E. Mead, recording secretary, Mrs. Charles G. Ball; treasurer, Mrs. Harold Alcaide; and the following chairman: conservation, Mrs. William

Green Thumbers Started With Landscaping Study

WAYLAND -- The Green Thumb Garden Club of Wayland is a small unfederated garden club which was started in 1954 "to stimulate the knowledge of home-gardening and to share gardening experiences through discussion and workshop."

There are 22 members, all in the North Wayland area, most of them fairly recent newcomers to the town. They are admittedly beginners in gardening, with enthusiasm and a desire to learn. The Club was started by a group of young women, mothers of small children, who found they had common problems in landscaping their new homes. Through the Club, they pool experiences and knowledge of gardening techniques, study varieties of shrubs and plants and the elements of landscape design.

Many of the members' homes have land area which are both shady and sandy, requiring special solutions for the creation of attractive gardens. In the beginning, the members concentrated primarily on landscaping problems and the growing of shrubs and flowers. More recently they have progressed to the more advanced techniques of arranging what they grow in their gardens. The Club's Food Sale on May 2 at Collins Market is for the purpose of raising funds for the next year's program.

It is the members' belief that "when we beautify our own homes, it helps to make the neighborhood and, thereby, the whole town more attractive."

The Club meets on the second Monday evening of each month. All the members serve on one or more of the following committees: conservation, program, ways and means, membership, hospitality, publicity, and nominating.

The officers are: president, Mrs. Robert Evans; vice-president, Mrs. Mark Marbet; treasurer, Mrs. Frank A. Libby Jr. and secretary, Mrs. Robert E. Hozier.

There are more than 50 million home gardeners in the U. S. today.

Society Seeks Funds To Move Heard House Again

The Heard House on its original site, where the old Town Hall later stood. Picture, taken about 1868, shows Mrs. John Heard in doorway and "Uncle Billy" Grout at right. Child under tree is Miss Blanche Heard.

WAYLAND -- On May 1, the Historical Society will send out a town-wide mailing acquainting townspeople with the history of "The Heard House" and asking for funds to help in moving it back to its former site, the recent site of the old Town Hall.

The Heard House, one of Wayland's oldest houses, was built around 1800, one of approximately 100 dwellings in the town at that time. It was located opposite another old landmark, Collins Market, until the town, which had been incorporated in 1835, purchased the property for a Town Hall in the 1870s. The house was then moved to Old Sudbury Road.

At present, the Historical Society is engaged in a number of projects to raise the several thousand dollars necessary for building a new foundation and returning the House, in proper repair, to its original site. With the restoration of the Heard House, the vicinity of Wayland Center will again look approximately as it did during the Civil War.

Formerly a double house, the Heard House was occupied by descendants of some of the earliest settlers of Wayland; by Newell Heard and his family and by William (Uncle Billy) Grout and his sister Susan. It is now the headquarters of the Historical Society and houses many pieces of furniture and relics of the era, some of which have been donated by interested residents of the town.

The Society stresses that it does not plan to create a museum of the House although it is even now open, at regular hours, for inspection of its many exhibits. The real purpose is to preserve as much as possible of the history of the town and to recreate, for the benefit of all the inhabitants, the Wayland of the earlier years.

Kiwanis Club Dinner

WAYLAND -- Wednesday, May 6, 1959, at Robinhood's Ten Acres, is the date for the annual combined Fifth Division party and ladies night to honor New England Governor Soren "Jeff" Jaffarian. The giant interclub affair, as in the past years is expected to bring close to 400 Kiwanians and wives from many clubs in Massachusetts and New England.

As in the past, the Kiwanis Club of Wayland will be the host, with arrangements being made by Past President Joseph M. Kelly of Weston and Secretary Joseph "Joe" Hallenbrook, both members of the Wayland Kiwanis Club.

Wayland Senior Play

WAYLAND -- "Mother Is A Freshman", three-act Senior play, will be presented at Wayland High School on May 7 and 8 at 8 p.m. "Mother" will be played by Carolyn Rydberg, "Susan" by Ann Marie Cassella and "Prof. Michaels" by Clayton Boyd.

WAYLAND -- The annual meeting of the Wayland Historical Society will be held Thursday evening, May 7, at 8 o'clock at the Heard House. This meeting, for members only, will include a showing of selected slides of old Wayland houses by Mrs. Kenneth Morrell.

Crew Sets Up Hotel Scene For New Vokes Production

WAYLAND -- Engaged in the building, designing, and furnishing of the Vokes Players' replica of a middle class Bournemouth hotel is a large crew of workers under the direction of Earl Bourne, production manager. The setting, locale of "Separate Tables" which will be produced at the Theatre on May 15, 16, 22 and 23, is being constructed by Jim Richardson, Monty Stedfast, Doc Hills, Dean Hocking, Bob Sander, Don Jones and Doug Dickey. Walter Derron and Huddy Cray are in charge of scene design.

Jane Hodgkinson is handling stage props, assisted by Fran Sandford, Mary Griffin and Shirley Lewis. Assisting Millie Eckler with band props are Nancy Perry, Fran Hill, Kay Bourne, Judy Wiley and Betsy Swedler. Fran Fisher is stage manager and Whit Hall is in charge of lighting and sound effects. Costumes are under the direction of Doris Crowell and make-up is under Ruth Bandelin.

Woman's Club, May 5

WAYLAND -- The annual luncheon and business meeting of the Wayland Woman's Club will be held at "Armand's Terrace" on Tuesday, May 5, at 1 o'clock.

Following the election of officers, Louis Thackeray, handwriting expert, will talk on "What your Handwriting Reveals."

Every member will be contacted in regard to tickets, and transportation will be provided on request.

Kiwanis Trout Derby

WAYLAND -- The seventh annual trout derby of the Kiwanis Club of Wayland will be held at the pond on Old Connecticut Path from 8 to 10 a.m. on Saturday, May 9. Boys and girls up to the age of 15 are eligible to compete for the prizes.

Red Cross Swim Classes--

Will Begin On June 22

WAYLAND -- The Red Cross Swimming Program, which begins on June 22 at Lake Cochituate, will, as usual, be offered free of charge. However, Mrs. Seth Johnson, in charge of the program, announces that this year it will be necessary to limit the enrollment to those who have registered before the opening day. The new policy, which will have to be a firm one, is the result of the large increase in the number of those interested in the classes and the lack of needed facilities.

Last year, a total of 900 registered and 647 showed up every day of the season for the various classes. The program, supported entirely by Red Cross funds, will have the services of two full-time instructors and two aides. Registration slips will be sent home with public school pupils the third week in May. Students at school out of town may obtain registration blanks from Mrs. Johnson, Sears Road, EL 8-2527.

Weston Bird Walk, May 9

WESTON -- The seventeenth annual Weston Bird Walk, sponsored by the Massachusetts Audubon Society, will take place on Saturday, May 9, from 8:30 a.m. to about noon, led by Mrs. Charles L. Smith. This is the date designated as Audubon Day by the Society, and on which many similar walks are held throughout the state.

Meet at Gun Club Lane near the entrance to the Jericho Town Forest. We will walk through part of the Forest to Concord Road and the Weston College Pond, returning by the same route -- about two miles round trip. We can expect to see between 40 and 50 different species of birds at this time of year, depending on weather conditions. In case of heavy rain, the walk will be cancelled. -- C.E.S.

Music Groups At Festival

Upon completion of his doctorate in clinical psychology, Father McCall was a staff advisor in many retarded children's clinics, reform schools and mental hospitals.

After the meeting, refreshments will be served by the Sodality hospitality committee; Mrs. Homer Myers, chairman, Mrs. Anthony Cappocci, Mrs. Thomas Kelly and Mrs. Hugh McGerrigan.

Aircraft On Display At

Hanscom Field On May 16

L. G. HANSCOM FIELD, BEDFORD -- Aircraft of the Air Force Cambridge Research Center will go through their paces for the public Saturday, May 16, at the annual observance of Armed Forces Day.

Fighter planes to be shown on the ground and in the air range from the new F106 "Delta Dart" to the F-86 "Sabre Jet" of Korean combat fame. Cargo aircraft run the gamut from the huge KC-135, four-jet record-busting "Strato-tanker", to the reliable C-47 "Gooney Bird", workhorse of the Air Force.

A wide variety of other aircraft will also be parked on the Hanscom Field "apron" for inspection throughout the day. Several airlines are planning to fly in some of their newer planes for the exhibition.

The flying show is scheduled to start at 2 p.m., but official opening of Armed Forces Day is 10 a.m., when the gates of this Air Research and Development Command installation will be thrown open. The "open house" will end at 4 p.m., shortly after the flying part of the program.

Hanscom Field, identified as Bedford Airport on many maps and road signs, is easily reached via Route 2-A. Visitors coming along Route 128 should take Exit 38, which leads into 2-A. Special traffic patterns will be in effect this day only to speed the flow of cars on and off Hanscom Field.

Children's Exchange

WESTON -- The Children's Exchange is still getting attractive, good used spring and summer clothing each week, including camp uniforms. Open Tuesdays, from 10 to 4 at the Jones House.

Also delicious home-cooked food for sale, cakes, pastries, cookies, bread, etc., all made by Weston people.

The program is open to all who are interested.

Wayland Garden Club Was Organized Back In 1922

WAYLAND -- The Wayland Garden Club, oldest of the local garden clubs, was organized in 1922 by Mrs. Hazen Clement. Since then, the membership has grown to 100 active and 25 associate members. Mrs. Henry Holmes of Bennett Road is the only one of the original members still residing in the town.

The Club, a member of the Massachusetts Federation of Garden Clubs, has as its object "to coordinate the interests of its members by furthering the knowledge and advancement of gardening and conservation."

Over the years, the Club has done much to beautify the grounds around various town buildings. Members have done plantings around the High School, contributed to the planting at the new Town Building and to the Library and Fire Station in Cochituate. The tulips and dogwood trees which had been planted on land now occupied by the Town Building had to be removed when it was constructed but those which have not been moved to permanent quarters are being saved for future landscape purposes.

Members of the Club, many of whom are talented flower arrangers and experienced in horticulture and landscape design, participate in many of the flower shows in Boston and surrounding communities. They also contribute plants and decorations to the Home for the Aged at Cushing Hospital, helping to keep a cheerful, colorful atmosphere not only on holidays but throughout the year.

The Club's long-range project is the proposed creation of a wetlands arboretum in the boggy area in front of the High School. This is an ambitious undertaking which will require several years and thousands of dollars to accomplish. Mrs. William A. Tolman is chairman of the project.

Meetings are held on the fourth Tuesday of each month from October through May. Members of the Board of Directors, including those elected at the Annual Meeting on April 28, are: president, Mrs. Robert N. Elwell; vice-president, Mrs. George K. Lewis; recording secretary, Mrs. Frederick G. Perry; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Robert H. Charnock; treasurer, Mrs. Willard C. Wolff; directors, Mrs. C. William Cheney, Mrs. William A. Tolman, Mrs. Edwin G. Schneider, Mrs. Ralph A. Parker, Mrs. Nevin E. Kather and Mrs. W. Floyd Wilkinson.

Cochituate Club Members Emphasize Horticulture

COCHITUATE -- The Cochituate Garden Club was organized in 1934 and federated in 1938. It is the mother club of its more recent neighbor, the Natick Garden Club.

The Club, which numbers 80 members with Mrs. Alexander Lizotte and Mrs. Louis Hornow as honorary members, has as its object "to encourage an interest in horticulture and conservation among the amateur gardeners in the community."

Many of the members are talented arrangers who have received numerous awards in flower shows over the years. Being especially interested in horticulture, they tend to use their own flowers if at all possible. The Club also holds its own judgments for members as it will do in June at the all-day Old Fashioned Garden Club Meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. William Hall.

Every September, the Club holds a Fall Flower Show which is a community event. The coming show, scheduled for Sept. 15 and 16 at the Cochituate Methodist Church, will feature children's exhibits which all children in the community are invited to enter. The general horticulture exhibit is also open to all residents.

Community projects also include annual plantings and decorations at the corner of Commonwealth Road and Plain Street and at the Cochituate Fire Station for the Memorial Day observances. Members also take plants and decorations to rest homes in the area.

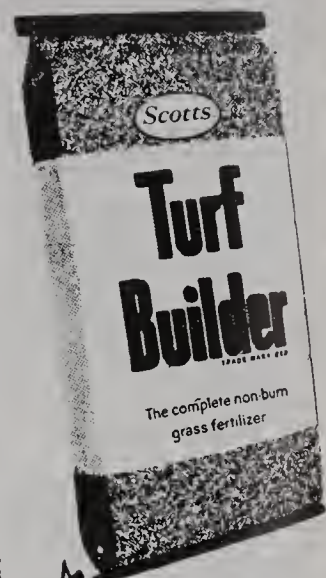

A future project, not yet determined, is the possible planting of the strip of town land near Damon Farms which is at present under consideration as to its future use.

The Club meets at 1:15 p.m. on the second Thursday of every month. Board members are: president, Mrs. William E. Irwin; 1st vice-president, Mrs. James Warwick; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Arne Furst; recording secretary, Mrs. John Burke; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Benjamin Johnson; treasurer, Mrs. John McEnroy; chaplain, Mrs. Dana Elkins; historian, Mrs. Helene Landon; auditor, Mrs. Alfred Gelinas; executive board members, Mrs. Alexander Lizotte and Mrs. Richard Johnson (Natick). The executive board includes all of the above plus the past presidents and chairmen of committees.

Wayland Garden Club Plans First Wetlands Arboretum

WAYLAND -- Within the next few years, the Wayland Garden Club hopes to have completed the first wetlands arboretum in the state in the area bounded by the State Road, Pelham Island Road, and the High School access roads. An engineering project comes first and final plans will depend on plans for the raising of Pelham Island Road.

The ultimate effect will be to create a small area, requiring only minimum maintenance, which will be a tangible model of good conservation practices of interest both to the townspeople and the students at what will then be the adjacent Junior High School. Plantings will be of the type which grow naturally in a boggy setting and are indigenous to the area. The development will also be done with an eye to encouraging small wild-life.

Chairman of the project is Mrs. William Tolman of Millbrook Road and proceeds of the Club's "Little Bit of France" afternoon on June 4 will go to building up the large fund which will be needed for expenses.

WESTON -- William Melia of 55 Oakdale Avenue was inducted into membership in Alpha Sigma Nu, Jesuit Honor Society, at Boston College on April 23.

Three Clubs Cooperate

WESTON -- The three local garden clubs have set up a special committee, with representatives from each club, to make a survey on conservation and improvement within the town. The purpose is two-fold: to provide an overall picture of the needs of the town so that the clubs can coordinate their efforts rather than using their energies on small, unrelated projects and to find some way in which to combine conservation and progress.

The Committee is working with town officials and other local groups interested in making Weston a progressive but still attractive town.

Fresh Savings Stamps

WAYLAND -- Herbie Marshall, 8, at the right, above, and his brother, Clark, 11, both sons of Mr. and Mrs. Roger G. Marshall of Marshall Terrace, recently visited Washington with their parents and stopped in at the Treasury's Bureau of Engraving and Printing. Herbie is shown pasting United States Savings Stamps, which he bought in the building where they were printed, into a new album.

Pack 1 Visits Visits Warship

COCHRUTATE -- Thirty-one boys of Pack 1, Cochrutuate, thrilled to a tour of the USS Boston, first guided missile cruiser of the U.S. Navy, highlighted by a simulated operational exercise with the aft Terrier Missiles staged for the boys' benefit. The boys then went aboard the historic USS Constitution, "Old Ironsides", completing a tour arranged by Mr. Timothy J. Mahoney.

This week the boys held a nautical Pack Meeting with the theme "Down On The Dock". Cub Scouts having a recent ship model of their own construction displayed them before the meeting. Rope toss games added to the sea flavor as Cubs tried to "Get a line aboard". Den 5, under Mrs. Theodore R. Magoun, presented two short sea skits.

Under nautical flags spelling out the Cub Scout Motto, "Do Your Best", Cubmaster George S. Brown was piped aboard and he then presented the following awards: Wolf: Kenneth Barnett, Donald Helling, Robert Murphy, Paul Russell and Stephen Crowley; Wolf Arrows: Stephen Crowley, Gold: Christopher Batts, Gold and Silver; Walter Short, Silver; Bear: Kevin Woods.

Cooperatives are the balance wheel that strengthens our free economy...

HOW? Because co-ops are always locally owned and controlled.

The savings they return to their patrons, stay in the community to help build all kinds of business.

In a single year, co-op savings returned to patrons in just one state, totalled $17,500,000. This meant additional buying power for automobiles, clothing, appliances, furniture, groceries, insurance, and scores of other needed commodities and services.

OLD TROLLEY CAR

trolleys ran to Natick and Cohituate.

Car 149 was built in 1915, one of the last made by Osgood Bradley car company of Worcester. In 1926 it was rebuilt as a deluxe one-man car, with a large smoking compartment at the rear end. Construction of the part of the present Worcester Turnpike between Worcester and Framingham put that end of the trolley line out of business. There was no loop at Framingham to turn 149 around on and so, as a one-man, one-direction car it was useless.

It was sold, and became "Frank's Diner", on Route 20 in Wayland. War-time gas rationing put the diner out of business, and for the past years the car has been used as a dwelling.

The gift of old 149 to the museum comes about as the result of a Wayland business enterprise. William Curley and William Bolton, both Wayland men, recently acquired the property and have started to build an Esso service station, which they think will be open for business around June 1.

They proposed to destroy the old relic. But Homer L. MacDonald, who had visited the museum at Kennebunkport, suggested they turn it over to it. Correspondence was begun, and the museum was happy to acquire the car.

The museum has a special trailer for transporting old trolley cars. This was sent to Wayland, but it broke down on the way. Finally it arrived, and there was a brief ceremony on April 26 in which old 149 was presented to the museum. Work of jacking it up and loading it on the trailer was begun.

Among those present was H. Stephan Spacil, general manager of the museum, a professor at M.I.T.

All the missing equipment needed to put 149 back in running order was located some time ago in the hands of the M.T.A. in Boston. The front end and the rear end are practically complete, even to the headlight with its reflector. Trucks, motors, compressor and appropriate side windows will be installed, and one of these days 149, completely rehabilitated, will be running on rails again at Kennebunkport.

Ted Santarelli of Boston, president of the museum, recalls that 149 was the favorite of George Brown, senior motorman of the road in the 1920s, a giant of a man who, in winter, wore a raccoon coat.

Seeks Stocking Money

WAYLAND -- The Lake Cochituate Trout Fund is seeking contributions from interested sportsmen in its annual drive for funds to use in stocking the Lake with trout. Now in its fifth year, the Fund is responsible for the releasing of more than 13,500 trout in the Lake over the last four years.

Don Lincoln of Old Connecticut Path, Framingham, chairman of the Fund, reports that the past success of the trout-stocking program was instrumental in interesting the State Division of Fisheries and Game in putting Lake Cochituate on the preferred stocking list this spring.

A Derby Day will be held as a climax to the drive, with many prizes for lucky fishermen and fund badge-holders.

400 Attend Debut Of Youth Symphony In Wayland

Local young people performing in the Greater Boston Youth Symphony Concert. Seated, Alan Zagoren and Harriet Colby of Wayland; standing, Johanna Hoagland, Priscilla and Carol McFarlin, and Armine Avakian of Weston.

WAYLAND -- An audience of around 400 heard the Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestra in its first public concert at the Wayland High School auditorium Friday evening, May 1. Conducted by Marvin Rabin, also conductor of the Boston University Symphony Orchestra, the group of 85 High School musicians from schools all over eastern Massachusetts, presented a program of varied music ranging from J. S. Bach to Alan Hovhannes and Morton Gould, contemporary composers.

The new orchestra was organized last fall by Mr. Rabin, working with school music directors who sought a high degree of musical excellence for their most talented students. The first rehearsals were called in November, at the Boston University School of Fine and Applied Arts. In January auditions were held, and the final selection of permanent orchestra members took place.

Six students from Weston and two from Wayland came through the selections: Armine Avakian, Carol and Priscilla McFarlin, and Elizabeth Parsons, violins, all of Weston; Diane Dolan and Johanna Hoagland, violas, both Weston; Harriet Colby, Wayland, flute; and Alan Zagoren, Wayland, trumpet. Diane Dolan has since dropped out, and Elizabeth Parsons was unable to play.

Instead of an intermission, Mr. Rabin and Edmund Wright, music director of Wayland schools, had arranged for an interlude of music by young string pupils of the Wayland elementary schools who played violins, violas and cellos accompanied by the string sections of the Youth Symphony.

The orchestra will give another

Odd Pot Found In Wayland

WAYLAND -- Last week, when the Douglas Surgenors were Spring cleaning their back yard on Millbrook Road, their son, Peter, unearthed an ancient iron pot which he gave to the Wayland Historical Society. Mrs. Mabel S. Draper, curator, says she's never seen a pot like it and is doing some research to determine its age. The pot has a long iron handle, like a frying pan, as well as a loop handle on top.

Memorial Day Committee

WESTON -- The Selectmen announce the appointment of the Memorial Day Committee appointed by Mr. Glenn Lempereur, Town Moderator. The committee which will be in charge of the traditional Memorial Day ceremonies on May 30, includes: John S. Myers Jr., Commander, Weston Post 214, American Legion; Willard H. Smith, principal, Weston High School; Rudolph L. Helgeson, Weston Cub Scouts; Mrs. Herman Koester, Weston Girl Scouts; and Gerard R. DeNapoli, Weston Boy Scout Commissioner.

Arnold B. Cranston

WAYLAND -- Funeral services were held on April 28 at the First Parish Church for Mr. Arnold B. Cranston of Training Field Road. Reverend Dan Huntington Fenn officiated.

A resident of Wayland for 20 years, Mr. Cranston was a native of Weston where he was born in 1896. He leaves a sister, Mrs. Arthur C. K. Hallock, with whom he made his home.

WAYLAND -- Dick Brewer and Betsy Lundy won the Babe Ruth Good Sportsmanship medals and Joe Devine was awarded the Wayland High Association trophy at the Association's annual dinner, held

May 2 at the High School gym. Jack Arnold presided and the chief speaker was John Yovicsin, Harvard football coach, whose home is in Saxonville.

Eighty-seven boys and 69 girls were given letters, certificates or jackets. This year, for the first time, some jackets were given to juniors.

Dick Morris, a junior, received a "most valuable player" award from the Suburban Free Press.

Presentation of a Paul Revere bowl to G. P. Richardson, secretary of the W. H. A. for many years, was a surprise event. It was given by Joe Devine on behalf of the High School students.

Among those at the head table were Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Anderson, principal William M. Griffin, coaches Ralph Salvati and Charles Bowers, Rev. Frederick Hobbs of St. Zepherin's Church and Rev. George Gutekunst of the Cochituate Methodist Church.

Letters to the EDITOR

For Town House

To the Editor:

Once again the Wayland Junior Town House is soliciting support from the people of Wayland through the annual membership drive.

Town House is a unique community organization whose sole function is the sponsorship of a varied activities program for the youth of Wayland. This includes support of such firmly established programs as the Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Camp Fire Girls. Town House sponsors Junior High School dancing classes, Saturday morning recreation programs for elementary school children, and a kindergarten for pre-school children.

Town House tries to keep pace with community needs by fostering new programs. Last summer's "July Adventure" in arts and crafts and the Wayland Youth Center, a teen age recreation program just launched in April, are examples of Town House endeavors in this direction.

Although the Town House is basically a volunteer organization composed of many public spirited citizens, the financial sponsorship it provides is of great importance to the success of the various activities in its program. This year the budget is $19,800, of which approximately $900 is received from the United Fund. The remainder must be secured from

Doorbells Don't Work And Lovable Dogs Bite Guests

Plenty Of Hospitality,
But Getting Into Local Homes Isn't Easy

Hospitality is rife around here, but how is the guest going to get into the house?

In the city one can walk into an apartment house lobby and press bell buttons until some trusting tenant upstairs pokes the buzzer and unlocks the door. Then the burglar or bill collector can roam the halls at will. It's all simple.

Out in the suburbs it's more complicated.

In the first place, many guests are invited to show up at 8 p.m., which is a time when, for half the year, the region is darker than the sole of a rubber boot. Street lights are not numerous. Many of the houses are hidden behind stone walls, hedges, real estate developments, mortgages and hairpin turns. Many aren't even listed with street numbers in the telephone book, and those that do have numbers have them posted in invisible locations.

In some places a motorist seeking a house can ask directions of a pedestrian. Not here. No pedestrians.

But after the visitor finds the place his troubles are just beginning.

There is generally a dog, much loved by members of the family, who are blind to his faults.

Of these faults only one concerns the visitor. That's the dog's fondness for human flesh.

Let a guest, no doubt the host's boss, arrive after dark and step out of his automobile. Whoosh! He's attacked by a savage beast and he doesn't get his first cocktail until after he has been to the hospital for treatment.

Another hazard is the doorbell which doesn't work. Of 5000 homes in this area, 4000 have no doorbells and 990 have bells which don't work.

One guest, last Winter, stood on a porch punching a dead doorbell button for two hours. From inside he could hear music.

laughter, the tinkling of glass and voices, one of them saying, "What do you suppose is keeping the big bum?" But nobody heard the doorbell and nobody let the guest in and he died there of exposure.

The family was pretty embarrassed, because the incident left them with 13 for dinner.

Tricycles and skis left in the driveway to be run over are too common a hazard to mention.

Close friends, of course, come in the back way, generally without knocking. Etiquette requires only that the woman walking in the door shall cry "Yoohoo!" as she crosses the threshold.

And this matter of visiting brings to mind the odd custom by which all women around here, from the cradle to the grave, are known by their first names. The dialogue goes like this:

"Let's call up Dorothy and see if she'll go over to Deborah's house where we'll get together with Nancy and Pat and figure out what to say to Florence and Alice about what Molly and Polly are up to."

This all makes sense, especially to Fran and Lucy, who know Dolly and Mabel.

In some places married women are known by their husbands' first names, but not here. Mrs. John Smith? Oh, you mean Betsy Smith.

This is probably to be expected in a community where men are allowed to shake ice but not to cut any. Some say it was a black day when women got the vote, but others say it was commuting which put town government in the hands of women. In a man's world political deals are cooked in a smoke filled room

Fred Crawford Elected

WESTON -- Fred Crawford, above, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Crawford Jr. of 111 Summer Street, was elected president of the Massachusetts Association of Student Councils for 1959-1960 at the group's annual convention at Framingham on May 2. More than 300 delegates attended. Fred is president of the Junior class at Weston High School.

WAYLAND -- Mr. and Mrs. John Hallowell Minot of Davelin Road announce the birth of a daughter, Nancy Ellen, on April 15 at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

WAYLAND -- Sally Powers of Wayland won a recent competition of the 35 mm. Slide Club of Framingham with a slide entitled "Serenity".

at 4 in the morning, but in this world the decisions are made at 11 a.m. over coffee. Town meetings are held only for purposes of formal ratification of what was agreed on while the children were at school and husbands were in the city.

This is why newcomers have to get acquainted with their neighbors quickly. They can't afford to waste their lives standing on doorsteps waiting for somebody to answer a dead doorbell, while Henrietta and Sue and Mary Jane are inside living it up with coffee or maybe, if they're in the fast set, sherry. -- D.B.W.

WESTON -- Mrs. Thomas D. Cabot of 31 Farm Road served as hostess at two open house celebrations for Friends of The Opera Group, Inc., at the group's own Little Opera House, Norway Street, Boston, on April 29 and 30. Mrs. Cabot is chairman of the Friends of The Opera Group.

George L. White, president of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, has been elected to the Board of Governors of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, it has been announced. Mr. White has been serving and will continue to serve as a member of the Board of Trustees.

Emerys, "it was all hard work but a lot of fun."

Mr. Emery, who had once built a 45-foot boat, designed the cruiser himself and constructed a scale model from which to work. The model only a little over a foot long, is made of sections of mahogany in the shape of half a hull and is scaled to 3/8 of an inch to the foot. From this small, decorative object, the Emerys perfected the satiny, efficient cruiser which they use for motoring, water-skiing and fishing.

The timbers from which it is made had first to be steamed on a steaming machine in the Emery back yard, then spiled - or shaped - onto hand-made forms. It took 4400 silicon screws to put it together and the screws were then covered with small hand-made mahogany pegs. "This was a real job," says Mrs. Emery, "because they couldn't be put in just any old way. The grain of each peg had to match the grain of the wood into which it went."

The basement in which the boat gradually took shape was often, according to Mr. Emery, the gathering place for a lot of "kibitzers." Both the hull and the cabin section were constructed in the basement but they were assembled last Spring under the appleblossoms in the yard. Even getting the boat out of the basement was a project. It necessitated the removal of two windows and sections of the wall near the bulkhead to allow room for passage.

Now, chrome-trimmed and sporting aluminum camp chairs and foam rubber mattresses (it sleeps two), the cruiser is a gleaming example of do-it-yourself boat-building.

Not only is the boat itself a family project. The dock at Sachem Cove, Winnepesaukee, is also of Emery construction. Before the boat arrived, the family cut down pine trees from its property, had them sawed into planks at a nearby mill, and then built themselves a dock in the lake.

The Sachem I came back to Wayland by trailer last fall and has been resting in the back yard, covered with tarpaulin, until this spring when Mr. Emery got out his sanders again and refurbished it for another summer of boating.

Beauty And History In Six Of Oldest Wayland Homes

(above)

Reeves Tavern, used as a tavern on the stage coach line from 1740 to 1820. This house on Old Connecticut Path is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hubbard, who feel its unique features are walls which can be folded up and hooked to the ceiling on the second floor to make a ballroom. As far as they know, theirs is the only house with this arrangement outside of Connecticut.

(below)

Heard House, built in 1800, now headquarters of the Wayland Historical Society on Old Sudbury Road. The Lydia Maria Child collection will be on display as well as the manuscript of "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear."

(above)

Benjamin Adams house, known to have been standing in 1775. Mr. J. Sidney Stone says the front four rooms of his house on Lincoln Road are the old ones. The addition, which he put on several years ago, contains panelling from the old Pequot Inn which used to be where the Town Building is.

(left)

James Sumner Draper house, built in 1834, former home of Wayland 19th century historian. Mr. and Mrs. George Emery own this house on Plain Road. Mrs. Emery believes the grounds of her house are of special interest because the garden and trees were planned and planted by Mr. Draper in the 1830s.

(right)

House built from the framework of the fourth meeting house, used as a store, a dwelling, and a place for holding town meetings from 1815 to 1841, located next to the First Parish Church, owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Vinsonhaler. The Zuber wallpaper in the dining room and large upstairs room, which was put on in 1888, is an outstanding feature of this house, says Mrs. Vinsonhaler. Also the front door was the door for a Wayland meeting house built in 1687.

(above)

Samuel Parris house, only 17th century house in its original form now standing in Wayland, was occupied sometime after 1692 by the Rev. Samuel Parris of the Salem witch trials. Owned by Mrs. Frank C. Paine, the house is used as a Summer home by Mr. and Mrs. William W. Dunnell Jr. of Boston. Mrs. Dunnell says they are especially proud of the original panelling on the second floor which they discovered under plaster.

Weston Scouts' Spring Trip

Girl Scouts on the platform at Route 128 station, waiting for the train to Washington.

WESTON -- As the above picture shows, Weston Girl Scouts of Troop 8 got off to a cheerful start on their spring vacation trip to Washington via New York. They say the New York skyline and the famous Statue of Liberty from the water side while they cruised around Manhattan Island's tip. They slipped out of the United Nations Building just as Fidel Castro arrived and finished off their New York stay with a visit to Radio City.

In Washington they visited the White House, the Capitol and the Washington Monument, with a side trip to Mount Vernon. One of the high lights of the trip was an invitation from an Arlington, Virginia, Girl Scout troop for a cook-out in the best Scout tradition. Not the least of their pleasures was the honor of having Francette Cilly accompany the troop and add much to the enjoyment of the group with her fun. The troop leaders who chaperoned the trip, Mrs. Alden Henderson and Mrs. Palmer Derby, report that they too were able to relax and enjoy the trip with the girls.

Troop 27 Had Fine 5-Day Bus Trip To Washington

WAYLAND -- The 19 members of Girl Scout Troop 27 who, with five mothers, took a five-day chartered bus trip to Washington during the Spring vacation, saw more than the usual sights on their busy trip. Fidel Castro and his entourage were just leaving Mount Vernon as their group was going in. A few minutes later, they were delighted to bump into someone from home, Mrs. Lucille Champagne, social studies teacher at the High School, who was visiting Washington with her daughter.

The girls were guests of Congressman Philip J. Philbin, who arranged for them to visit the House and Senate, take an early-morning tour of the White House, inspect the Voice of America and F.B.I. headquarters, and then make a tour of the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

At a pre-trip tea, arranged by the girls' mothers, the leaders who were escorting them were presented with fitted toilet cases as a tribute to their work with the girls during six years of scouting. Making the trip were Nancy Bakura, Diane Capello, Lindalu Cotney, Judy Gerrie, Karen Heald, Patty Jenks, Margie Johnson, Cheryl Lorentzen, Joan Lucey, Betty Marsh, Karen McEwan, Karen Merrell, Dorothy Paradis, Lyn Parker, Diane Purdy, Sharon Shepard, Betsy Sullivan, Susan Wells and Linda Weiss. Accompanying them were Mrs. Lee Johnson, Mrs. Robert Lorentzen, Mrs. Joseph Paradis, Mrs. James Sullivan and Mrs. Arthur Weiss.

Many chemicals are now available to control lawn pests.

Trains Forget To Run

Local commuters who have been wondering what it would be like to be without Boston and Maine train service were given demi-tasses of non-service twice last week, on May 5 and 8.

On the balmy May 5 evening, wives who were waiting for the first outcoming train teamed into spontaneous carpools - those who had hungry children or a pot about to burn leaving the collecting to be done by less harrassed neighbors. Everything worked out fine because the late train picked up the passengers from the early train - which had got stuck in Waltham - thus leaving more than enough wives to go around.

On the morning of May 8, the same thing happened except in reverse. This time the train didn't get stuck. It just forgot to run. However, the later train again picked up the earlier commuters and everyone arrived safely.

Weston Firefighters Lost A Night's Sleep

A Deluge Of Fish On Road Added Fragrance To Fire

The fire was totally destructive. Two buildings, both condemned anyway, were destroyed. (Forman Photo)

WESTON -- As though the Recreation Area fire at Riverside on the evening of May 10 weren't enough - it was the worst fire the Weston Department has had to cope with in a dozen years - Route 128, near the scene, was deluged with dead fish.

When the spectacular blaze was sighted, motorists on 128 abandoned their vehicles to go watch it. Along came a truck from New Bedford, with high sides and an open top, laden with very dead fish in some liquid, believed to be on their way to a fertilizer factory somewhere.

The driver of the fish truck had to stop suddenly. When he did, says Police Chief Frank O. Shaw, the fish, in obedience to one of Newton's laws of motion, kept going. They rose right up over the front of the truck and spread for 60 to 75 feet down the highway, covering two lanes.

It was fragrant, says Chief Shaw. Nothing could move on that section of road until men came to shovel up the debris and spread sand.

The fire itself, which was described at length in the Boston papers, cost the entire Weston Fire Department a night's sleep. Lieut. Daniel Compton, thrown to the ground when a hose line burst, received bruises and a concussion, and was out of action for several days.

Chief Maurice L. Upham and 26 men, including 17 call men, were on the job all night.

On May 10, in the daytime, there were three grass and brush fires in Weston. Then the Riverside alarm came in at 7:12, and the all out didn't sound until 7:51 next morning. Then on Monday afternoon, from 4 to 7:30, there was another brush fire at Beaver Road.

Trout Derby Winners

WAYLAND -- Fifty out of 85 trout put into the pond on Old Connecticut Path were captured by the 100 youngsters who took part in the annual Kiwanis Club Trout Derby, held May 9. Top winner in the older boys' division was George Scanlan, whose fish measured just a little more than 13 inches.

In the photo, left to right, are Ned and David Veno and George Taylor. Ned was first in the smaller boys' division and David was second, while George was second in the older boys' competition. The camera failed to catch George Scanlan.

Mrs. St. John Will Not Entertain Garden Club

WESTON -- A social catastrophe involving the Country Garden Club has been averted, fortunately by a wide margin.

Mrs. George St. John Jr., formerly of 5 Page Road, was perturbed the other day, when she read in "Strings Around The Finger", in the Crier, that the Country Garden Club would hold its annual meeting and plant sale at the home of Mrs. Ransom U. Rowe, 21 Fairhope Road, on May 27.

Mrs. St. John's concern was caused by the fact that she now lives at 21 Fairhope Road. Mrs. Rowe, well known horticulturalist, used to live there, but she has recently moved to Dover.

Mrs. St. John didn't know just what she'd do if 50 members of the Country Garden Club should arrive and start having an annual meeting and plant sale on the premises.

However, it's all straightened out. The Country Garden Club will have its annual meeting and plant sale at the home of Mrs. B. Howard Spicker, 15 Pinecroft Road, on the date originally set. It was just a slight case of confusion, of the kind which can happen to anybody.

Nearly $2,000,000 Now On Deposit In Wayland Bank

WAYLAND -- In announcing a major expansion plan for its home quarters, the West Newton Savings Bank announces that deposits at its Wayland Branch, which was opened in 1956, are now nearly $2,000,000.

The expansion at the home office, made necessary by increased business, will add 42 per cent more space. The parking space will also be greatly enlarged, announces Kenneth W. Rogers, president.

Chief Shaw Asks Citizens To Report Idle Strangers

WESTON -- Police Chief Frank O. Shaw says he wishes people who see strangers parked near where children are playing, or otherwise idling where they don't belong, would communicate with the police at once.

The warning comes partly as the result of an incident off Concord Road at 9:30 a.m. May 9, when an 11-year-old Weston girl was followed into a field by a man and grabbed. She kicked, scratched and

Wreck On Rolling Lane

WESTON -- Returning home from work about 10 p.m. May 9, Harrison Hunt, of 70 Willow Street, Cambridge, lost control of his car on Rolling Lane. It came to rest firmly wedged among three trees on the front lawn of Victor A. Noel at 42 Rolling Lane.

Mr. Hunt escaped without injuries, although the vehicle was a wreck. The combined efforts of the Weston Police and Fire Departments, as well as a tow truck, required more than an hour to extricate the car. Mr. and Mrs. Noel were called home from the Country Club to observe the damage. Above, a minute after the accident, Mr. Hunt surveys the damage. He climbed out the right hand door. About Riverside

To the Editor:

Since the MDC is doing so little with the Riverside recreational grounds it would seem well to turn them over to the town of Weston, its recreation commission, the Forest and Trail Association, or a similar town group which would have more interest and better utilize it. Weston is able to operate its recreation centers without having them so large that a concessionaire finds them profitable.

Blame It On Mysterious Stranger With Overcoat

How To Brazen It Out After Causing A Grass Fire

Every once in a while somebody around here starts out to do a little innocent trash burning and winds up by setting the grass afire and having to call the fire department. This always results in a certain amount of embarrassment, just as does getting caught with an eye as a keyhole. Somehow the etiquette books don't tell a householder in this fix how to carry off the thing with an air.

But as with everything, there must be a way out. Listed below are a few suggestions as to what to tell the fire department when the engines arrive.

"I have a low IQ anyway. They always said it was a miracle I got through fourth grade."

"I know everything is dry and there's a high wind. But this is my day off."

"I can't understand it. Once I took the guided tour through a gasoline refinery smoking a cigar, and nothing happened."

"It's my wife's fault. She said she was sick of having the premises look like the town dump, and if I didn't burn the stuff up she'd touch off the rubbish piece by piece, starting with the trash basket in the kitchen."

"There was a stranger lurking around. He had a big black beard and he wore a long overcoat, a black hat and dark glasses, and there was a blowtorch sticking out of his pocket. I think that's your man."

"It was careless smoking by the neighbors. They smoke too much, anyway."

One may, of course, try the aggressive approach.

"See here, Chief, I put in this call three minutes ago and you're just now putting in an appearance. What did you do, stop to pick violets? I'll have you know I'm a taxpayer in this town . . . Did I have a permit? Say, the Constitution gives an American citizen the right to bear arms, and if I can carry a gun I guess I can fool with matches. Now squirt a little over by that corner . . ."

This approach will give the firefighters something to chat about when they get back to the station, and make them wonder why they don't take up some other line of work. But generally a more diplomatic line should be taken, as in all cases where one is proved wrong. Such as:

"It's the fault of the anti-litter campaign. I was just trying to clean up. I hated the thought of all those papers blowing around."

"A magnifying glass happened to be lying out in the back yard and it must have focussed on a back number of Reader's Digest."

"There was a troop of Boy Scouts out here and I saw them rubbing sticks together."

(The only person known to have started a fire by rubbing sticks together was an Indian chief named Ignitius, who had a tepee by the Sudbury River in 1625, and they say he had an assist from a bolt of lightning. But don't let that spoil your story.)

"It was spontaneous combustion. Your Honor."

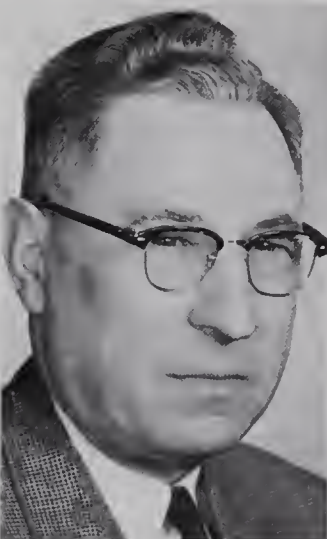

"It was just a small grass fire. It probably didn't cover more than 40 acres."

In cases of extreme flagrancy, one might as well fall back on an unanswerable excuse:

"The matches bifocus over the garden house but swivved upright the whatnick." -- D.B.W.

THIS IS WHY CO-OPS GROW!

Here's another of the basic principles behind co-op progress

EACH

VOTE

Co-ops are organized to serve; not to make a profit. Control should, therefore, remain in the hands of all those who need and use the co-op's goods and services.

Each member has an equal voice in co-op affairs regardless of how many shares he owns.

There is no method of owning and operating a business that is more democratic than co-op organization.

May, 1959

Hil Thel

One of the coldest winters we have had in many years has passed into history. We are proud to announce that once again we have made thousands of deliveries to Wayland and surrounding towns and all deliveries were made on time. Our Socony Vacuum Degree Day System is second to none and when properly administered no oil tank should be without oil.

With our Mobilheat Balanced Payment Plan no bills are sent. Your Mobilheat is delivered as needed, as always, and with each delivery you are given a certified receipt with the number of gallons delivered and the cost. You eliminate high mid-winter fuel costs. Each year more Mobilheat fuel oil customers pay for their fuel, as they are paid, in predictable, equal monthly amounts. Why pay for fuel in the old fashioned way. Our new way is the easiest and most convenient in town. You pay in any number of months you choose, up to twelve. Why don't you try this way next season? We're sure you will like it.

We are most grateful to our Wayland Mobilheat customers for their loyalty to us. The foundation stones of our business are: Dignity, Respect, Loyalty, Service and Goodwill. We want our customers to respect our business practices and our business will continue to grow as long as we continue to spread goodwill and give the best fuel oil service in town.

EVENTS AND PEOPLE TO BE FEATURED IN THE NEAR FUTURE

"The Mikado" At First Parish

WAYLAND — The Children's Choirs of the First Parish Church will give two performances of The Mikado in the vestry of the Church, 4:30 p.m., Friday, May 15, for the children; and at 7 p.m., Saturday, May 16, (children should be accompanied by adults).

There will be an opportunity at both performances to contribute to the Church's organ fund. Public invited. No admission charge.

10th Anniversary Strawberry Festival To Be Biggest, Best

1959 Wayland Strawberry Festival Committee chairmen, left to right: Mrs. Charles J. Owen Jr., Mrs. Wesley W. Teich, Mrs. Herbert Lipton, Mrs. Henry J. Muller, Mrs. Daniel H. Rossborough Jr., Mrs. Luther Davis Jr., Mr. Daniel H. Rossborough Jr., Mrs. George R. Johnson, Mrs. Albert E. Slade, Mrs. John R. Breckenridge. Not present were Mrs. L. H. Raymond, Mrs. Gerard M. Houghton, Mr. John R. Breckenridge, Mr. M. E. Berrett, Mr. Malcolm K. White. (McCann Photo)

WAYLAND — A greatly expanded 10th Anniversary Strawberry Festival will be held June 20 at the Wayland High School Green.

Plans for Wayland's big annual event were announced at a dinner held at the home of Chairman Mrs. Luther Davis Jr., who promises an especially exciting festival.

"Last year," reports Mrs. Davis, "this popular townwide event blossomed into such mammoth proportions that we are inspired to carry it much further. This year it will be even more of a family fun festival, starting at 3 p.m., rather than 6:30 or 7:30 p.m., as before."

"In addition to the 2000 tickets sold locally last year, considerable outside interest was displayed. One sailor whose ship was docked in Boston showed up. A Boston student wrote requesting directions on how to get to Wayland. One poetic Bostonian even composed a lengthy verse dedicated to the "Queen of the Strawberry Festival." The event was well covered by Boston television and newspapermen on the scene."

The new starting time of 3 p.m. will give the children more opportunity to enjoy the many games that will be featured this year. There will be the usual colorfully decorated booths selling everything from hot dogs and hamburgers to the traditional strawberry sun-dae.

Square dancing for children will be featured from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. with Wayland's Beth and Dick Best calling. Adults square dance from 9 p.m. until midnight with calling by Boxford's Joe Perkins, the "Kuntry Kaller."

A gorgeous June night has been ordered for the event.

High spot of the evening is the coronation of the "Queen of the Strawberry Festival" at 8:30 p.m., an event that last year stirred up more commotion than a loose tiger.

The Festival is sponsored by the Wayland Junior Town House, a United Fund Organization that provides educational, social and recreational activities for the youngsters of Cochrutuate and Wayland.

Tickets are 75¢ and it is hoped that those unable to attend will still donate the price of one or more tickets for this very worthy cause. Children under 6 are admitted free.

St. Ann's "Yard Party"

WAYLAND — St. Ann's Kouples Klub will hold a "yard party" and "Yankee swap" at 8:15 Friday, March 13, at the Claypit Hill School. Each person is asked to bring a yard of something — a yard long — a yard around or a yard square, with the price marked on it. New members welcome.

Q.M. OPEN HOUSE

NATICK — Open House will be held at the Quartermaster Research & Engineering Center here Saturday, May 16, marking the annual observance of Armed Forces Day. The Center will welcome visitors from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Woman's Club Scholarship Dance

WAYLAND — The Wayland Woman's Club will sponsor a scholarship fund dance at the Marlboro Country Club on Friday, June 5, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Tickets available at $3.00 per couple from Mrs. Horace Megathlin Jr. or Mrs. Ronald Sharpe.

WAYLAND — The regular visit of the Red Cross bloodmobile for Wayland and Sudbury will be made on June 4, from 3 to 7 p.m. Babysitting and transportation will be provided. For appointments, call Mrs. Robert D. Emmons, EL 8-7476.

WAYLAND — The Canadian Club of Framingham will hold a public whist party at Odd Fellows Hall, Route 27, at 8 p.m., May 16.

Extra Performance, "Separate Tables", On Thursday, May 21

WAYLAND — Because all tickets for scheduled performances have been sold, the Vokes Players announce that an extra performance of "Separate Tables" will be given on Thursday, May 21. For tickets, call Mrs. Gray, EL 8-4884.

Final P.T.A. Meeting

WAYLAND — The Important last High School PTA meeting of the year will be held Monday, May 18, High School cafeteria, 7:30 p.m. The speaker of the evening will be Prof. Paul Chalmers, Associate Director of Admissions at M.I.T., who will discuss what changes lie ahead for colleges and their prospective students, in view of the present crowded conditions. There will be a question and answer period.

Also on the agenda will be the annual election of officers.

Annual Spring Fair Of The Happy Hollow School P.T.A.

WAYLAND — "Under the Big Top" is the three-ring theme of the annual spring fair sponsored by the Happy Hollow PTA on Saturday, May 16.

The school's doors will open at 10 a.m. on a circus-y setting now being devised by Marge Furrer and her committee. Hot dogs, barbecue buns and other luncheon components will be provided by a group of volunteers headed by Nancy Porter and Joan Vokeman.

Some of last year's most popular attractions are to be repeated, including the game tables, organized by Alice Rossborough, and the children's movie which Penny Lazarian will present.

William Lewis will be in charge of pony rides, new this year for the cowpoke set. Meanwhile, back at the reservation, Indians will have their war paint applied by Marge Furrer and Mary Shaklik.

A number of sale tables and booths are planned particularly for parents. Presiding over them will be: bakery, Dot Paradis and Jean Rooney; plants, Camille Fox and Yvonne Preston; books and records, Sally Billig, and pink elephant (used toys and games), Marion Houghton.

Also to be featured are fortune-telling by Mary Roeve; grabs, in charge of Bart Doerr, and door prizes, distributed by George Douglas.

Jane Lewis, Bart Doerr and Betty Breckenridge are co-chairmen. In addition to those previously mentioned, Jan Frye and Joan and Robert Mills are members of the committee.

"Spontaneous Creativity" In July Adventure Course

WAYLAND — "July Adventure," the summer program sponsored by the Junior Town House for boys and girls in grades 1 through 6, is adding a new field of creative activity to its summer program.

Mrs. Robert J. Greenberg, a graduate of Northwestern University and the Children's Theatre Workshop in Evanston, Illinois, will introduce a new craft, "Creative Dramatics" to the already varied fields encompassed in the "Adventure" program.

Bettylee M. Greenberg

Mrs. Greenberg, who has been teaching in the Brookline public schools, will guide the children in the creation of "on-the-spot" dramatic presentations, depending on the ages and moods of the groups. This kind of "children's theatre," differs from the usual dramatic training in that it involves spontaneous creativity rather than the learning of parts, make-up and costumes.

The "Adventure" program includes, besides that of the dramatics activity, a wide range of other interests: outdoor sports, handicrafts, painting, square dancing and ballet, and natural science studies and expeditions.

Green fliers, describing the full Program, were in the hands of all elementary school children during the week of May 10. Parents should note that the program, which begins on July 29 and continues through August 7, is for only three mornings a week, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, thus allowing time for the Red Cross beginners' swimming lessons.

For further information, call Mrs. John Gregory, at ELmwood 8-4596.

Ballet Group At Claypit

WAYLAND — The advanced ballet group which will perform in the Claypit Hill School PTA dance recital on May 16, Kneeling, front, Martha Caraker and Laurie Smith. Standing, Kathleen Maguire, Diane Christensen and Georgia Pryor. (McCann Photo)

The Claypit Hill Parent-Teachers Association Dance Class under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Gill-Bresnahan will present a dance recital on Saturday, May 16, at 3 p.m. in the Claypit Hill School Little Theatre. Children ranging from 4 to 10 years will perform ballet, tap and square dancing. The public is invited.

Girls Softball Championships At Cochrutuate Field, Aug. 21

COCHRUTUATE — The New England girls' softball championship tournament will be played at the Cochrutuate baseball field on Aug. 21, 22 and 23. It has been announced, under the sponsorship of the Way-Co Recreation Commission.

The schedule for the Cochrutuate Motors Corvettes, girls' softball team, has also been announced. All the home games listed are to be played at 8 p.m. Saturdays at Cochrutuate.

WESTON -- Two areas of town government were approved for local study by the League of Women Voters at their annual meeting May 6 at the Jones House. The members at the luncheon unanimously approved the items: I. Study of Fiscal Structure and Procedures of Town Government and II. A Study of Town Planning, Past and Future.

The newly elected president, Mrs. Hoyt Ecker, spoke on the opportunities for creative study in the League and the importance of League services to the community, such as the recent report on the School Committee mailed to all registered voters. The fiscal study in the coming year would concern itself with how each town department makes out its budget, the role of the Selectmen and the Town Clerk and Town Accountant, the function of the Finance Committee, the overlay reserve and how the town finances its borrowing.

The town planning item would be closely related, but would focus more on the need for expansion of town services with town growth, and the problems of land use and traffic control. The nature of the studies would be determined in part by the interests of the members working on the resource committees.

The new officers elected for two year terms, in addition to Mrs. Ecker, are Mrs. Eric Reissner as first vice president and Mrs. Frank O. Shaw as secretary. Elected as directors were Mrs. William A. Elliston, Mrs. Florence E. Freeman, Mrs. Harold Downing, Mrs. A. Paul Hare, Mrs. Victor C. Harnish and Mrs. Campbell Searle. Mrs. Francis G. Goodale will be chairman of the new Nominating Committee, which includes Mrs. Putnam Flint and Mrs. Stuart Shotwell.

Weston Committee Reports On Recent School Studies

WESTON -- A proposal for a Director of Educational Development, to travel and learn the new ideas in education which can be adapted in the Weston schools, is related in the annual report of the Weston Committee on Education.

"This proposal," says the report, "was cautiously received by the School Committee. However, they added $5,000 to the school budget, representing a half year's salary and expenses of an additional staff member, but so far they have not defined the specifications of the job."

Other items:

A permanent Teachers' Housing Committee is now functioning, to help teachers and other town employees to find housing in Weston.

Consideration was given to lessening the non-teaching work load of teachers, increasing their pay and cutting their assigned classes from five to three or four a day, so they could have more time for preparation and individual work with students.

Allan R. Finlay, chairman of the Wayland School Building Committee:

"Gave us a most interesting account of their (Wayland's) approach to new teaching techniques. They have developed the accordion plan of small, medium and large classroom areas."

Leo F. Glynn, chairman of the Weston High School Building Committee, said his committee "is endeavoring to plan the new building so as to accommodate present educational methods and also to provide a maximum degree of flexibility, 'surprise proof' to new educational developments."

The committee lists many of the new developments in sight in education, and says, "It is the firm conviction of this Committee that in achieving Weston's goal of effective education, nothing will ever take the place of creative teaching and close personal teacher-pupil relationships."

And it concludes with a statement of satisfaction that steps have been taken to "keep Weston in the forefront as one of the best public school systems in the state."

The report is signed by the chairman, Victor C. Harnish, and members of the committee: Dr. Evan Calkins, Thomas H. McFarlin, Mrs. James Robbins, David G. Greenlie, Charles Cummings, Joseph A. Markel, Robert G. Guest, Robert Haydock Jr.,

Eric Reissner, Mrs. Earl M. Harvey, Mrs. Robert Townsend, Ronald S. Beamish, Mrs. Putnam Fling, Dr. A. Bertram Warren, Mrs. Thomas S. Barrows, Laurence Locke and Robert H. Marden.

WESTON -- Nancy Foster, daughter of Mrs. Asa B. Foster and the late Mr. Asa B. Foster of 8 Old Coach Road, has been elected a Junior Dean at Westbrook Junior College in Portland, Maine. She is also Treasurer of the freshman class.

WESTON -- Miss Dolores C. Alcaide of 4 Newton Street is one of 304 candidates for the bachelor of arts degree at Mount Holyoke College. The 122nd commencement exercises will take place on Sunday, June 7.

Miss Alcaide, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Alcaide, has majored in zoology at Mount Holyoke. Above, Miss Alcaide.

Chief Hartin Speaks On Wayland Civil Defense

WAYLAND -- The Brookdale Improvement Association sponsored a Civil Defense meeting at the Loker Street School on Tuesday, May 5. Col. John Devlin, director of Civil Defense in Massachusetts was guest speaker. He gave the group an interesting insight into what Massachusetts is doing for our protection in case of an enemy attack. Included in the program was a movie entitled "A Day Called X" which theorized an actual attack on Portland, Oregon, and showed how the people of Portland are prepared to meet such an emergency.

Police Chief Francis J. Hartin, director of Civil Defense in Wayland, spoke on the local preparedness program. Chief Hartin stressed the importance of a well ordered Civil Defense plan in Wayland and the necessity for the people of Wayland to take a more active interest in Civil Defense.

He is in the process of preparing Wayland's Survival Plan and will eventually need volunteers for its many phases.

Mrs. Edna Ludden of the Civil Defense Program in Massachusetts was in charge of the arrangements for the program and Mr. Robert Fleuriot was chairman of the meeting.

Motor Corps Needs Drivers

WESTON -- The Red Cross Motor Corps, it is announced, could use more drivers in town. It involves making a trip perhaps once or twice a month to a clinic or hospital. Those able to help may call Mrs. Stewart Leach, TW 3-7349.

Beware Of "Fire Inspectors"

WESTON -- Fire Chief Maurice L. Upham warns local residents to beware of sharp characters who may come around to homes or business places posing as "fire inspectors", offering to check and overhaul heating units. Known local service men are one thing, he says, but these other fellows are strictly in a racket. They've even been known, he says, to set off a cherry bomb in a heater and then tell the housewife, "See, we just happened to get here in time."

Their service is worthless and their charges exorbitant, he says. Such characters have operated at various times in Boston and Waltham, and he has a report that they've been trying to operate recently in Framingham.

Space And Dignity Mark Notable Weston Homes

"HOUSE ON THE MILL STREAM, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Scott, 49 Crescent Street, formerly Post Road. When this house was remodeled, a broad living room was located across the back to overlook the site of an early grist mill. Mrs. Scott has a fine collection of old pewter and amethyst glass."

"RIDGEHURST, Mr. and Mrs. George N. Chamberlain Jr., 80 Orchard Avenue. This English Victorian built in 1883, with its beautiful Italian garden, is an example of living on a grand scale. The expert use of color and interest furnishings result in the feeling of a most gracious welcome."

(ALL PHOTOS BY JOHN MC CANN)

"DOGWOOD, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic C. Dumaine Jr., 201 Newton Street. On a narrow lane leading to a charming colonial house and greenhouse, this home creates an ideal setting for its beautiful antique furnishings. A walk through the garden leads to a view of the reservoir."

"THE FORGE, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley G. French, 136 Ridgeway Road. The Forge is one of the original buildings on the estate when it was purchased in 1870, by Charles W. Hubbard, grandfather of the present owner. Today it is used as a family gathering place."

"HIDDEN HOUSE, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Manice Jr., 92 Orchard Avenue. Well named, here you will find an L-shaped contemporary colonial. It was planned with imagination to ensure a view of the beautiful Charles River Valley from the living room and terrace."

"DOUBLET HILL, Dr. and Mrs. Sheldon C. Sommers, 25 Doublet Hill Road. This spacious modern home makes a perfect background for an outstanding collection of Calder mobiles. There is also a greenhouse which is an integral part of their gardening program."

Wayland Couple Runs Into Warm Southern Hospitality

WAYLAND -- Mrs. Robert M. Page of Jeffrey Road was snoozing her way across the State of Louisiana at 10 o'clock on the morning of May 5 when she woke up to find the car stopped and a police chief wearing a 10-gallon hat and a huge revolver looking in the window. "What have you done?" she asked her husband.

He hadn't done anything. They were in the town of Delhi, population 2500, and it was Tourist Appreciation Day in Louisiana. The committee had spotted the vehicle with Massachusetts registration plates, rare indeed in Delhi, Louisiana, and Mr. and Mrs. Page had been elected guests of the community for the day.

First thing they did was take the automobile away from the Pages, to bring it back later gassed, oiled, greased, washed and polished. They took them to the Mayor's house, they interviewed them on the radio, they (Please turn to page 6)

Local Scientists Had Roles In "Sky Station" Project

Dr. Harry Letaw Jr.

William C. Brown
(Fabian Bachrach)

Two local scientists, Dr. Harry Letaw Jr., of 7 Winthrop Road, Wayland, and Mr. William C. Brown of 9 Perry Street, Weston, are credited by the Raytheon Company with being largely responsible for the development of the new sky station concept, recently reported. Microwave and Power Tube Division's Advanced Development Laboratory, is the inventor of the Amplatron, the high-power microwave tube which has been in use for the last couple of years in other applications but which is the key factor in making the new sky station project feasible.

A resident of Weston since 1947, Mr. Brown has been with Raytheon since 1940. He is a graduate of Iowa State College in Ames, Iowa, where his wife, Marjorie, was also a student. He received his B. S. from Iowa in 1937 and his master's degree from M.I.T. in 1941.

The Browns have five children, all in the Weston Schools. They are: Linda, a High School senior; Donna, a sophomore; Elizabeth, in the seventh grade; William Jr., in the third grade; and Barbara, the youngest, in kindergarten.

There is a workshop in the Brown home where Mr. Brown enjoys spending some of his leisure hours in building all kinds of models. He also sings baritone in the Weston Methodist Church choir.

A creative scientist, Mr. Brown has more than 20 issued patents and was active a few years ago in the development of the Radarange - the split-second electronic oven originally used primarily in restaurants and institutions and now available for home use. The Browns have their own Radarange which broils perfectly done bacon in a few seconds or cooks a whole roast in the matter of minutes.

Mr. Brown was recently made a Fellow in the Institute of Radio Engineers, a top honor in the field.

Dr. Harry Letaw Jr., who, with Harold Hart of Wellesley, director of the Government Equipment Division's Advanced Development Laboratory, headed the team of scientists and engineers in de-

Letters to the EDITOR

Plea For Scout Leaders

To the Editor:

On every page of the Crier, every issue, every week, there is at least one article that indicates that the talents and the capabilities of the adults in this town are truly amazing. But we say to you: Thesians, gardeners, master cooks, efficient organizers, scientific personnel, musicians, composers, political experts, authors, naturalists, etc., and we could go on! Do you intend to take you skills and talents to your graves??

We urge you, share them! Offer to serve as working consultants with our young people by joining with our Girl Scout Leaders (and Boy Scout leaders, too) in educating, extending and enriching the lives of, not someone else's children, but our own.

Weston has a potential of 80 new first year Brownies coming up next fall. Not only do we need capable leaders to guide them each week but we need you, specialized consultants, to conduct our badge work for a series of perhaps three to four consecutive weeks. It totals perhaps six to eight hours. It isn't much in time but the variation and spice that work with a specialist give to the routine of weekly meetings will pay both you and the girls in a way that can't be said; you must do it to know what we mean.

The loyal Scout leaders who take their troops, week in and week out, need you, others in Weston, to make their program really mean something. Come give us a hand. Please call Lynn Vinal, TW 4-4895, Alice Farrell, TW 4-1072 or Jeanne Saunders, TW 4-4748.

War Memorial Fund Will Offer Third Scholarship

WESTON -- Chairman Raymond W. Coburn of the Weston War Memorial Education Fund Committee has announced that a scholarship not exceeding $150 will be offered to a graduate of Weston High School. This is the third scholarship award to be made from the Fund, which was established by a vote of the Town at the annual Town Meeting of March 23, 1953, as a memorial to the citizens of Weston who served in the Armed Forces in all wars.

The purpose of the Fund is to assist and advance the post-secondary education of graduates of Weston High School. Only the income from the fund may be used for this purpose. Since its establishment in 1953 by an initial gift from an interested group of Weston High School alumni and others, the fund has been growing by gifts from many individuals, recent graduating classes of the High School, several interested community organizations, and by special projects undertaken by the Weston High School Alumni Association. In 1958 the Class of 1933 presented a gift of $50.00 and the Class of 1958 contributed $497.28.

The 1958 scholarship award was given to Thomas N. Clarke, '58, now a student at Emerson College in Boston. As the fund grows it is hoped that more than one scholarship award may be made each year.

Members of the present graduating class and former graduates now in college who wish to be considered for this award may secure application blanks at the High School. Applications from post-graduates must be received by May 28, 1959.

The Weston War Memorial Educational Fund Committee is composed of five citizens of the town, appointed by the Moderator. Present members are Mr. Coburn, Mr. Anthony Brayton, Mrs. Alice Fraser, Mr. Harry B. Jones and Mr. Almo H. Teittinen. At a recent meeting of the committee Mr. Coburn resigned as chairman and Mrs. Fraser was elected to succeed him. Mr. Teittinen was elected secretary of the committee.

WESTON -- A third child, third daughter, Elizabeth Jane, was born to Dr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Guise Jr. of 271 Merriam Street on May 13 at the Waltham Hospital. The Guises' other daughters are Susan, 4, and Ellen, 3.

Rain Has Become The Best Friend Of The Picnicker

It Means He Can Stay Home And Enjoy Nature In Comfort

The institution of the picnic, now in season, was founded, it is said, by somebody who happened to be crazy about olives, pickles, ham sandwiches and Nature. Since that time it has undergone several transformations, in the latest of which it has become the scourge of Suburbia, dedicated to the demoralization of children and the discomfort of adults. In fact, it goes to prove that it's practically impossible to combine a desert isle and a smorgasbord successfully.

The reason it continues in popularity is that parents have a sense of duty. Despite experience, "a picnic", in our language, signifies fun. Therefore parents still insist on taking the children on picnics, as a means of bringing joy into their lives.

The idea of a picnic is a simple but delicious meal eaten on a beach beside the ocean or in a pine grove beside a lake, either place located at the end of a hot and tiring drive over crowded roads.

that the children will forgive their parents for the whole obnoxious deal, and will even, along about the year 1990, consider it their duty to pass along the Nature Boy routine to another generation.

WESTON -- Three hundred and fifty Boy Scouts from Newton, Wellesley and Weston took part in the annual Spring Camporee of Norumbega Council Boy Scouts on Saturday and Sunday, May 16 and 17. A people speak louder than money!

That's the way it should be here, because this is the annual meeting of a cooperative.

Every patron of the cooperative can and should be present. Each shareholder who attends has just one vote . . . whether he owns a single share or many. Everyone has an equal voice in the affairs of the business.

But a voice they all have . . . and they make use of the privilege. Everybody has a chance to be heard. Any changes in business policy are made at the meeting . . . any problems of management are openly discussed.

There's a point to think about. A cooperative business is directly accountable to the people it serves. Because it is . . . it is more sensitive to the people's needs . . . serves them and the community better.

Waltham Summer Program May Do

Much To Help Retarded Children

Those interested in having their children attend this camp may call Mr. A. E. Callinaro, 107 Colonial Avenue, Waltham, TW 3-5678. No cost is involved.

A weekly check is a welcome sight when you're flat on your back and can't earn a nickel!

Like most men, I guess, I often wondered how we'd get along if something happened and I couldn't work. I finally decided that "income protection insurance" would be a worthwhile investment.

What's more, the Hartford people were really interested in my welfare. They even put me in touch with medical facilities I didn't know existed and that I never could have found myself!

It was! Less than three months after I had taken out my policy with the Hartford, I was in an auto accident. My injuries kept me in the hospital six weeks.

The most important thing in life is the uncertainty of what tomorrow may bring. But you can remove some of that uncertainty - and safeguard yourself and your family - with a Hartford disability income plan.

I had lost completely the use of my right arm, and suffered continuous pains in my shoulder. I couldn't return to work.

With this protection, you need not fear financial disaster because of sickness or accident. You have 24-hour-a-day protection. You do not have to be confined to a hospital or even to your home to collect. And your benefits are paid directly to you.

My disability lasted several years. We'd never have managed if it hadn't been for the insurance checks. The Hartford Accident and Indemnity Company paid me $50 a week the whole time. All told, their payments under my policy, including medical expense benefits, came to $26,000.

Whatever your family responsibilities . . . whatever your budget . . . our agency can prepare a Hartford income disability plan to fit your needs. We will be glad to give you full details - without any obligation, CALL OR VISIT US NOW.

Hil There!

Watch for our announcement date of our own Burner Service Department, which will be in operation about June 1st. In the meantime our burner service will be taken care of by an expert licensed burner man.

The personal care a small boy gives his dog and the watchful hand of an officer at the crossing is a duty happily assumed. As your local Mobilheat Fuel Oil Distributor, we're proud to announce an additional service, "Automatic Personal Care". First there was automatic burning of fuel oil. When automatic deliveries of fuel supplies began the bother of ordering fuel was ended. Now comes "Automatic Personal Care".

Our "Automatic Personal Care" consists of records through which we keep a close vigil over your individual heating requirements. When we detect any sign of an unfavorable condition or trend, we immediately call it to your attention.

Mobilheat fuel oil customers are provided with the finest fuel oil service in town. With our automatic delivery system a delivery is made, not when you need it, but before you need it.

Mobilheat is the first fuel oil brand to warm a million homes, a distinction which makes us prouder than ever to announce our new "Automatic Personal Care".

We suggest you try our Balanced Payment Plan....

RONALD WOOD

Mr. Wood, who has been particularly active in Cub scouting for the last 14 years, was Cubmaster of Pack 1 in Cochituate from 1945 to 1955 when he retired to serve as Leadership Training Chairman of the Council. Under his direction, a number of new packs were created throughout the 18 towns comprising the Council. The membership of his own Pack 1 increased so much under his leadership that it had to be divided and a new pack, Pack 55, created. Pack 1, now in its 29th year, is one of only three in the country which was sponsored, not by a formal organization but by a group of interested citizens, and has had continual registration for the whole period.

The latest tribute to Mr. Wood is one of a long series of awards which he has been given. He is the recipient of the Silver Beaver, the highest award given in Scouting, based on national standards for evaluating outstanding overall contributions to Scouting. He has received the Scouters' Key, a recognition of his work by the 18 towns on the Council level. He was given the Appreciation Trophy by the Cochituate Scouts and was the second recipient of the Town Boy Scouts' Oscar, the first recipient being Mr. Charles "Pop" Fullick.

A few years ago, Mr. Wood was one of a group of 40 Scoutmasters selected from all over the country to do original research which led to the creation of the Webelos Den for boys ages 10 1/2 to 11 and also set the pattern for the Den Mothers system. He has organized more training schools for leadership personnel than anyone else in the state and has put on several Pow-Wows for the Algonquin Council. He and Mr. Fullick devised and instituted the advancement award ceremony board and he is currently the treasurer of Pack 1.

Mr. Wood's interest in Scouting has carried over to the rest of his family, all of whom have participated in Scout activities. His two sons and a daughter were Scouts and the tradition is still being carried on by his daughter, who is now a Den Mother, and by a grandson who has entered Cubbing.

Mr. Wood's youngest son, Kenneth advanced to Explorer and, a few years ago, was sent to the Philmont Scout Reservation in Cimarron, New Mexico, a reservation of 390,000 acres on which Kit Carson's home stands as a monument.

Despite the many hours Mr. Wood has devoted to the furthering of Scouting, he has still found time to serve in other civic capacities. He is a member of the Republican Town Committee and has been a member of the Town's Welfare Board for many years.

Present at the May 9 Pow-Wow to see Mr. Wood receive his plaque were: Mr. George Brown, present Cubmaster of Pack 1, who acted as toastmaster; Mrs. Wood; and Gladys Widdis and Ethel Brown of Pack 1, both of whom received Den Mother's Training Awards.

veloping the sky station, moved to Concord Road in August of 1955 and joined Raytheon a few weeks later. The family moved to their Winthrop Road home last fall, where they now have a large house for their family of seven children. The children, whose ages range from 9 years down to 6 months, are: Anne, the oldest; Kaye Lynn, just 7; John, almost 5; Charles and David, 3-year-old twins; Mary Jane, who was 2 on May 15, and Amy, the baby, 6 months.

Dr. Letaw, who is a native of Coral Gables, Florida, met his wife, Joyce, a native of Atlanta, Georgia, when they were students together at Emory University in Atlanta. He took time out from college to serve with the Army in 1945 and 1946, then attended the University of Florida where he and his wife both received their bachelor's degrees in 1949. Dr. Letaw then went on to get his master's degree and received his Doctorate in Physical Chemistry from the University in 1952.

He was assistant professor of electrical engineering at the University of Illinois from 1952 to 1955, doing research in solid state physics and directing the research of graduate students.

During his first two years with Raytheon, Dr. Letaw was in the Research Division but for the past year or so his major preoccupation has been the exploring and developing of the sky station concept. He says he found it an extremely interesting project and that although, as in any project, engineering studies will continue to be made, the fact of its feasibility is definitely proven.

Dr. Letaw claims that he has no real hobbies or community enterprises other than the ones "normally encountered" in raising a family of seven children in a suburban environment. He was Chairman of Raytheon's United Fund Drive last fall.

Dr. Surgenor Speaks

WAYLAND -- Dr. Douglas Surgenor of Millbrook Road was a guest lecturer at the two-day convention of the Massachusetts Association of Medical Technologists held at the Sheraton Plaza, Boston on May 15 and 16.

Dr. Surgenor, who is connected with the Harvard Medical School, spoke on "abnormal hemoglobins," the red blood cells.

Money Needed For Boy Scout "Dishwashing Machine Fund"

WAYLAND -- Contributions are being solicited to help in the purchase of a badly-needed dishwashing machine for the Resolute Scout Reservation, in Bolton. According to Mr. Theodore R. Magoun, who is in charge of raising the funds, about $1000 has already been received but at least $1500 more will be needed for the purchase and installation of the machine, which must be ready for use when Camp opens on June 29.

Last year, 1187 Boy Scouts from the 18 towns in the Algonquin Council area attended the summer session of the Reservation but the place is actually in use all year round as a Scout training area, for camping trips and overnights. Even in Winter, the Scouts use it for a survival training program called "Operation Cold Toes." It is also used occasionally by other community organizations.

The great increase in the numbers of Scouts using the Reservation, from 695 in 1951 to 1187 last year in the summer season alone, makes this piece of equipment essential. (Boy Scouts do use paper plates and even jackknives and tin cups on picnic expeditions but most camp meals are served regulation style.)

Anyone who can contribute is asked to send a check, made out to the Algonquin Council, Boy Scouts of America, and marked for the "dishwashing fund" to Mr. Theodore Magoun, 8 Eden Road, Cochituate.

WAYLAND -- Mrs. Walter B. Parker Jr. of Old Connecticut Path attended a two-day meeting of the Smith College Music Advisory Committee on April 29 and 30 in Northampton.

Members of the Committee are Smith graduates who act as an informal liaison between the College and secondary schools with the hope of bettering the information exchange on the kinds of secondary school music preparation which are valuable for college, the "extra" qualification which secondary school music training may give to a girl applying for admission to Smith, and the need for parents to realize early in their children's school careers the importance that such courses have when overall qualifications are being considered for college admission.

A former music instructor for the Junior Town House and former part-time music teacher for the Wayland Schools, Mrs. Parker has taught at St. Mark's School and is now teaching violin and chamber music ensemble work

WESTON -- Mrs. Catherine L. Devereaux, a first grade teacher in the Country School, spoke to 50 parents of kindergarten children on May 7, explaining the work of the first grade. WAYLAND -- Mrs. Barbara R. Adams of 11 Bayfield Road has been elected president of the Suburban Club of Waltham which comprises a number of towns in the surrounding area of Waltham. Wayland High Delegates To Girls' And Boys' State

WAYLAND -- Marion Bova, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Bova of Glezen Lane, and Jimmy Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Sullivan of Orchard Lane, were elected to be the Wayland High School delegates to Girls' and Boys' State by a vote of their fellow Junlor classmates on May 13. Penny Prinsteiner and Bruce Waldman were elected alternates.

The selection of delegates is made on the basis of character and leadership potential of students completing their third year in high school. Both Marlon and Jimmy are members of the National Honor Society and active in various extra-curriculum programs.

Girls' State will be held this year from June 12 through 19 at the Bridgewater State Teachers College. Boys' State will be at the University of Massachusetts in Amherst and will run from June 19 through 27. At both sessions, the delegates will be given courses and training in political science and will take part in running a model state government. At the conclusion of the sessions, two citizens of Girls' State and two of Boys' State will be selected as Massachusetts' representatives to attend the Girls' and Boys' Nation to be held in Washington D. C. in July. Both the local and national programs are sponsored by the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Quo V. Heggen of 201 West Plain Street is in charge of arrangements for the girls and Mr. Robert G. Lewis is handling the details for the boys.
